Senator Blaine, his wife and two daughters had a narrow escape from severe injury at Mont Vernor, Me., Monday. They were driving out with a span of horses, when the animals were frightened by a heavy thunder and hail-storm, became unmanageable and ran the carriage against a tree, wrecking the vehicle and throwing out the occupants. The ladies escaped injury; Mr. Blaine was slightly bruised, and his back was strained, but no serious injury will result.

A letter from Barrorquilla, Colombia, dated 20th ult., states that the schooner A. J. Fabens of Newburyport, from Port-au-Prince, when off Port Liberty, July 16, bore to for a pilot. The Haytien man-of-war St. Michael came out, fired two blank cartridges, and then came head on towards the Fabens, but when a short distance away sheered slightly, but collided with the schooner, tearing the latter's foretopsail, disabling her mainsail and staving her stern badly. The black commander then sent a boat with officers, who overhauled the schooner's papers in an offensive manner, and then steamed away, refusing to tow the disabled schooner into port. She finally drifted into Cape Haytien to repair. The details have been forwarded by the American consul and American minister at Port-au-Prince to the authorities at Washington.

The report of the Direct United States Cable Company for the six months ending June 30, 1878, just issued, shows a revenue, after deducting payments to associated companies, amounting to £79,832. The expenses were £29,725, leaving a balance of £50,126 profits. During the year three quarterly interim dividends of 1 1-4 per cent. each have been paid, amounting to £45,532. A final dividend is now proposed by the directors, making (including the three quarterly dividends above mentioned) five per cent. for the year, or a total of £60,710. The reserve fund now amounts to £40,000, while to the revenue account there is a balance of £2933. The cost of the late expedition by the steamship Minia to repair the break to the cable caused by the fouling of an anchor of a Gloucester fishing vessel with the same, was £9659.

Sloop William P. Hunt of Boston was raided by a gang of robbers on Friday night, while lying at a pier in New York, and all valuables, including the clothing of Capt. Derry and crew, carried off. The captain and crew were asleep in their bunks and were awakened after midnight by the thieves, who held revolvers to their heads and twice fired at them because they moved, one of the crew, named Carr, being wounded in the leg. The value of the property stolen was not over $200, but the affair was one of the boldest ever made by even New York river pirates, as the vessel was at a pier in Corliss slip. No arrests by the police.

Among the officers of the Russian ship Cimbria are several noblemen, one being the son of an admiral of high rank, and another the son of a noble, who, while having 10,000 serfs, was one of the thirteen who first petitioned for the abolishment of serfdom. For his magnanimity he was imprisoned and his property confiscated till a change of sentiment restored him.

A letter has just been published written by Gen. Robert E. Lee during the war, in which he advocates the employment of negroes in the Confederate service. General Lee was in favor of thus employing them, even at the risk of destroying slavery, for he had the foresight to see that they would gain their freedom in consequence. The letter pays a high compliment to the negro's qualifications, physical and moral, as a soldier.

G. A. Mansfield, claiming to be a Boston medium, who advertised a wonderful exhibition of spirit power in the light, was rotten-egged by a disgusted Nantucket audience on the evening of the 15th.

New Hampshire Items.

John E. Pelkay, the Keene youngster who tried to wreck several trains recently, has been sent to the reform school for eleven years.

The first tramp in Nashua was arrested Sunday evening. His trial took place Monday morning, and he was sent to jail until the next term of the Supreme Court, which is to be held there in September. The penalty for being a tramp in this State is fifteen months' imprisonment in the State prison. His name is John Roach; age thirty-one; hails from Lowell.

A "spotter" from Augusta, Me., is in Nashua, and the sellers of intoxicating fluids are excited over the fact. He got drunk Sunday night, and showed a book to one of his convivial friends, which contained the names of nearly all the liquor dealers in the city. He boasts he owns three rum shops doing a good business in Maine, and expects to leave Nashua as a "lecherous bondholder."

A little son of S. A. Howard, of Franklin, swallowed a bean on the 10th of June, which passed into his windpipe, causing strangulation, which convulsed him for hours; medical skill was powerless to relieve him, and the bean soon passed through the bronchial tubes and lay upon the lungs, rising into the trachea upon the least effort. After about two weeks, one-half of the bean was coughed up, after which the boy had a long run of fever in consequence of the congestion produced, and three weeks later, the other half of the bean came up. He is now rapidly recovering.

Charles White, a liquor "spotter," was recently fined in the Manchester police court for being drunk. The next day he attempted to commit a rape on a little girl eleven year old, and has been held in $500 bonds to appear at the next term of Court.

Miss Lizzie Flagg of Nashua has committed suicide. She was last seen walking on the banks of the canal, near Gilman Riding Park. Frank Marden, on returning from the park, where he had been delivering goods, found part of her clothing and a hair switch on the bank near where he had last seen her. Her footsteps were traced from where the clothing was found some distance into the water. She had been an invalid for a few years, and probably had not the courage to suffer longer. She was an amiable young lady and of high character. The body was found and an inquest deemed unnecessary.

On the 6th inst., as Mrs. Alfred Marble, of Hinsdale, was stepping from her house, a cow guarding her young in the yard became suddenly and intensely infuriated at the presence of Mrs. Marble, attacked, prostrated, and tossed her about, inflicting injuries upon her body, wounding her head and tearing from it a tuft of hair. Her husband seized the mad creature by the horns, and, after a hard contest, succeeded in rescuing Mrs. Marble from her perilous situation. Fears, at the time, were entertained that her injuries would prove fatal, but she is rapidly recovering from them.

The barn of Wm. Johnson of Gilford, containing thirty tons of hay, one horse and cow and twelve hogs, was destroyed by fire Monday night. Supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

E. G. PIERCE, JR., P. M.

THE CITY.

Hon. Frank Jones will soon put up a fine building on the site of the old National house. An architect from Boston was in the city Tuesday, looking over the ground preparatory to drawing the plans.

Samuel Gray, Esq., one of the founders of the CHRONICLE and a former proprietor of the NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE, favored us with a brief call on Monday. He manages to get away from his business in Pennsylvania about once a year, to make a visit to his former home.

Schooner Jesse Williamson, Jr., which has been laid up at this port for some time past, is on Neal's railway at Kittery, being overhauled, preparatory to again going into the coasting trade. The sloop yacht Una it is reported will go on the railway when the schooner comes off.

At a meeting of the Board of Engineers, Thursday evening, the following assignments of Assistant Engineers were made: Thornton Betton, Sagamore No 2; Willard Sears, Kearsarge No. 3; J. Frank Shannon, Moses H. Goodrich No. 4; John S. Whidden, Hook and Ladder.

The mail for Boston which closes at 2:35 o'clock P. M., goes to that city direct over the Eastern railroad; the 4:50 P. M. mail goes to Newmarket Junction via Concord & Portsmouth railroad, and thence to Boston on the Boston & Maine; the 6:30 P. M. mail goes to Portland, returning on the Pullman train and arriving in Boston next morning.

The first regular tramp of which we have any authentic record was named Satan, who replied to the question "Whence cometh thou?" put to him by high authority, "From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it." Whether this original sinner will be reached by Gen. Marston's tramp law, it is, of course, difficult to predict.

Fire engine company Gen. Berry, of Rockland, will arrive here by steamer at about seven o'clock Friday evening, landing at Rollins' wharf. Meetings of the different local fire companies are called for this evening to make arrangements to give them a proper reception. The programme will probably be a torchlight escort by the department, and a dance at Franklin Hall in the evening.

The Eldredge Brewing Co. on Tuesday awarded to Mr. Enoch J. Conner of this city the contract for the mason work on their new lager-beer ice-house. The iron work was awarded to G. W. H. Smith, of Boston, and the other work to New York contractors, as follows: carpenter work, F. Schawb & Bro.; galvanized iron work, J. M. Otto; concrete, Isidore Mock; felting, George Mooney.

At the competitive examination of candidates for the position of principal of the Jones school and master in the second district, held on Tuesday, thirteen gentlemen presented themselves, viz.: Charles A. Shannon, Edward Carrington Stimson, Moses Yeaton, Jr., Portsmouth; John J. Holbrook, Keene; Frank M. Hoyt, Newington; Nathaniel R. Goss, Rye; Jewett Swasey, Charles H. Knight, Exeter; George F. Wingate, Stratham; D. J. Bakie, Kingston; A. W. Townsend, Springfield, Vt.; J. Marshal Hawkes, Portland, Me.

THE VICINITY.

Bald Head Cliff, Cape Neddick, and Thunder Cave, Kennebunk, are among the latest sketches of Hilliard, a Boston artist.

Hampton Academy is to re-open in September with Prof. G. H. Ricker as Principal. He has taught three previous terms.

A young man named John Cooke has suddenly disappeared from Greenland, nothing having been heard from him since the 13th inst.

The rate of taxation in Portsmouth this year is $2 on $100; Greenland, $1.60; North Hampton, $1.10; Hampton, $0.98; Hampton Falls, $2.14; Seabrook, $1.87.

Charles Fowler, of Seabrook, thirty years old, a fisherman, was found dead in the street at Salisbury on Monday evening. He had been running for a physician for his father, Richard Fowler, who was suddenly taken sick at the beach. Cause, apoplexy.

The democratic State committee have changed the time and place of holding the Congressional convention in this district from Sept. 18th, at Dover, to Oct. 1st, at Rochester. This is in accordance with the vote of the last convention, that the next one should be in Rochester.

The following provision in relation to the taking of oysters in Great Bay became a law at the late session of the Legislature: "No person shall take oysters from Great Bay, in the county of Rockingham, or any of its tributaries, during the months of June, July, and August, nor shall any person take or dredge for oysters through holes cut in the ice on said Great Bay or any of its tributaries during any month in the year, unless said oysters have been bedded there by the person so taking or dredging for them."

BASE BALL.

A game of base ball was played at the Plains, Tuesday afternoon, between the Rockingham nine of this city and the Farragut nine of Rye beach, but was not reckoned as the third game in the series between the two nines, as at the time set for the game to commence the rain came down in torrents and made the field unfit for playing, and the captains of both nines agreed to postpone the match to Saturday, and play a "scrub game" immediately for the pleasure of the spectators who stuck to their ground throughout the shower. The game played was a good one, the nines being about equally matched, but the batting of the "blues" was weak, they failing to hit Peabody of the Farraguts for more than three bases. The playing of Dorr at first base and Harding at third, for the "whites," was fine, as was that of Pfeiffer at first base and Whittem at right field for the Rockinghams, Whittem making one of the handsomest catches of the game, for which he was well applauded; and considering the bad state of the field, the game was well played all through. Shapleigh, the catcher of the Farraguts, had his lip split with a "foul tip," but pluckily played to the end. The Farraguts led at the end of the ninth inning, eleven to four.

MONEY THAT GROWS.

A paragraph going the rounds of the State press and recently copied by us, mentions the increase of a savings bank book in Concord. Two books which have been brought into the Portsmouth Savings Bank with a week, show at least as good a record.

N. M—— deposited $617 at different times between 1834 and 1842; has drawn out $406; and her balance now is $3802.

C. D—— deposited $250 in December, 1840, and has not been at the bank since; his account now foots up $2311.

RUNAWAYS.

On Sunday evening about half-past ten o'clock a runaway took place on Pleasant street, a horse starting from opposite Mr. Benjamin F. Mugridge's store and going up Richmond street. In turning the corner of Richmond street he ran the carriage to which he was harnessed against a stone post, badly wrecking the vehicle and clearing himself from it. He was soon after stopped, and was found to be uninjured. The team belonged to the Marshall house, York harbor, and was in charge of a young man who had been taking a lady friend out for a ride; the horse was frightened by the creaking of the front gate as the lady passed through it. The driver was unhurt.

At an early hour Tuesday morning two horses belonging to and driven by Mr. Alfred Pickering of Newington ran away with a load of hay, starting from near Union street and going down Middle street to Haymarket square. In crossing the square they hit the gas-post in the middle, near the reservoir, and knocked it over, breaking it into three pieces, the lantern—or what was left of it—flying in one direction and the middle of the post in another, while a short stub was left sticking up out of the ground. Keeping on, the horses attempted to run down State street, but were unable to turn the corner short enough and ran into the fence of the Lord estate, damaging it somewhat and stopping their career. One horse cleared himself from the cart and started off on a little runaway all by himself, but was captured at the Rockingham house by the porter; the other horse fell when the fence was struck, and was run over by the cart, his head being doubled under him in such a manner that all the spectators supposed he was killed. The loaded cart was pulled back clear of the dead animal, which laid still for perhaps a dozen seconds and then suddenly arose after the style of jack-in-the-box, to the great astonishment of the lookers-on. The damage done to the team was very slight.

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, Aug. 20; Batchelder, J.

Michael Welsh was arraigned for drunkenness. He admitted the offence, but asked the clemency of the court, promising that if let off he would sign the pledge and keep it; he made a similar promise about a year ago, and seems to have kept it faithfully until he "broke out" on this occasion, and in consideration of his evident intention to do about right the magistrate permitted him to go on probation.

THE CAUTIONARY SIGNALS.

This port having been created a signal station for the display of the "cautionary signals" and "cautionary off-shore signals" of the United States signal service, a brief explanation of what these signal are, and their significations, may be of use.

The "cautionary signal" by day is a red flag with a black square in the centre; by night, a red lantern; and it signifies that a storm may be expected, the direction from which the wind will probably blow not being indicated.

The "cautionary off-shore signal" is by day a white flag with a black square in the centre, displayed above a red flag with a black square in the centre; by night, a white light shown above a red light; and it indicates "that while the storm disturbance is considered, at the office of the chief signal officer, as not yet passed for the port or place at which the signal is displayed, and the winds may yet be high, and there may be danger, the winds are expected to blow from a northern or western direction, or 'off-shore,' at or near the port or place where the signal may be."

The display of the "cautionary off-shore signal" will often follow, and must be distinguished from, the ordinary "cautionary signal;" the display of either is always cautionary. In brief, a red flag or lantern at the masthead says "look out for a blow from some point of the compass;" when a white flag or lantern is hoisted above the red one, the warning is "look out for a blow off the shore."

A Healthy Body and a Clear Head.

If indigestion, constipation and biliousness torment the body, the head cannot be clear. These disorders react upon the brain most hurtfully, and produce a cloudiness in the organ of thought not experienced by a healthy man. Happily these brain-oppressing maladies may be entirely expelled by that peerless alterative, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which cheers, refreshes and invigorates the brain and nerves, while it regulates the organs of digestion, assimilation and bilious secretion. It expels the morbid humors which poison the system through the bowels and urinary passages, and exerts a powerfully invigorating influence as well. Its cathartic action is never irritating, violent or painful, but even, natural and progressive. As an appetizer and sleep promoter the Bitters is unrivalled; it mitigates the infirmities of age, relieves the ailments peculiar to the gentler sex, arrests premature decay, and builds up an enfeebled physique.

"Laugh and Grow Fat."

The ancient bit of advice is well enough for "spare" people, but how about those that are already too fat? What is to become of them? Sit still, and I'll tell you. After many experiments, extending through months of patient investigation and toil, the celebrated analytical chemist, J. C. Allan, has perfected and given to the World Allan's Anti-Fat. Thus far in several hundred cases this great remedy has never failed to reduce a corpulent person from three to six pounds per week. It is perfectly harmless and positively efficient. Sold by druggists.

Adamson's Botanic Balsam has gained a reputation which places it in the front ranks of curative agents. It has been in the market about four years. It is now recommended by the best physicians because it cures every time. Price 35 cts.

The fact of the Business is that Sulphur Baths have become unnecessary since the introduction of GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, because that article answers the same purpose, viz., the removal of eruptions, rheumatism and gout. Sold by all Druggists.

HILL'S HAIR & WHISKER DYE, Black or Brown, 40 cents.

HOW FORTUNE FAVORED A DESERVING POOR YOUNG MAN.—The Marion (Indiana) Chronicle of July 11th gives a lengthy description of the good fortune attending the sending by mail of two dollars to M. A. Dauphin, P. O. 692, New Orleans, La., by Mr. J. M. Hill, the Western Union Telegraph Operator and newsdealer in that town. He had never before invested in such an institution, and was agreeably surprised to find himself by his bold venture lifted above want for the rest of his life by the immediate payment on the spot of the famous Louisiana State Lottery Company of $20,000. Reader, this has a moral for you. May you not be equally as fortunate?

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French or English. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers' Block, Rochester, New York. 1sept19

Conveniently near the prominent business houses, all places of public interest and resort, and in the very heart of the most resident portion of the city, for good living, good treatment, and quiet comfort, the Colonnade Hotel, on Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, can be conscientiously recommended.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE

GAZETTE

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday, and sent to Subscribers at the low price of

$1.50 per year, paid in advance, or

$2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or offered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

Political.

One of Dennis Kearney's former associates in San Francisco exposes him as a base counterfeit, an impudent falsifier, a braying ass, and a blatant blatherskite. The former associate puts himself to a deal of needless trouble; the people of the east found Kearney out when he made his first speech.

The Okolona (Miss.) Southern States gives the following interpretation of southern sentiment of to-day: "The black has no right under the sun to vote. He has never had the right. The ballot came into his possession by illegal means, and it must be taken from him. This is southern sentiment to-day."

Leading democrats in Ohio have just discovered that the O'Connor law, as to the Soldiers' Home, is unjust, indefensible, ruinous. The bill was framed by ddmocrats, and on its passage every democratic member voted for it; and it was engineered through the Legislature by a thief, bounty-jumper, deserter and State's prison bird—O'Connor, the democratic chairman of the House military committee, who was expelled from the Legislature five minutes before it adjourned, and six weeks after his crimes had been made notorious all over the country!

The Tennessee democrats, like their Bourbon brethren in Texas, favor the substitution of the old "wild-cat" system of State banks for the national banks, whose issues are good all over the country. Business men who remember the losses and inconvenience suffered under the old system, will understand by this something of what would follow the restoration of the democrats to power, at Washington.

DOCTOR PIERCE'S ALL REL OF

Golden Medical Discovery

CURES DISEASES OF THE

THROAT, LUNGS, LIVER & BLOOD.

In the wonderful medicine to which the afflicted are above directed for relief, the discoverer believes he has combined in harmony more of Nature's sovereign curative properties, which God has instilled into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick, than were ever before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the great variety of most obstinate diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, it cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimples, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all the numerous diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, and taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In the many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

PENNSYLVANIA

RAILROAD.

GREAT THROUGH LINE

AND

UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE

The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In

Construction AND Equipment

THE

stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

The Safety Appliances

in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,

JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,

THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,

AND THE

WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,

forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and roadbed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

Pullman Palace Cars

Are run on all Express Trains

From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,

To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,

WITHOUT CHANGE,

and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.

The Scenery

OF THE

is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form

BLUE ARMY BLOUSES.

WE have just received a few more of those BLUE ARMY BLOUSES, which have been in such demand for the last twelve months.

C. E. MYERS & CO.,

No. 3 BOW STREET.

Daily Chronicle.

—A Westfield firm has begun the manufacture of circular cigar boxes, each holding fifty cigars. Advantage—superior cheapness

— A Japanese student, newly arrived in America, thought the people here were all doctors, because everybody took his hand and asked after his health.

— Miss Harriet Hosmer is an inventor as well as a sculptor. She is said to have discovered a new motive power which she will shortly present to the world. She is now exhibiting in London her fine statue of the "Pompeian Sentinel."

— The world is in danger of losing one of its wonders, for the six remaining columns of the great Temple of the Sun at Baalbec are nodding to their fall. The Turks have already sapped them in seeking for the metal cores run into the joints

—A man fishing near the mouth of the Housatonic river hooked a fine striped bass, and as he was hauling in the prize what was his astonishment to behold a large shark make a dash for it and take it tackle and all. The shark was eight or nine feet long.

— A Washington girl last week missed her pocket-book while returning from an entertainment with a gentleman friend of the highest respectability, and had him arrested. He was locked up for three hours, and then she found the pocket-book in the lining of her dress.

— The editor of the New York Sun exclaims in a double-leaded editorial, "We are standing near a precipice!" Mr. Dana, no doubt, has many enemies; but it is hoped no one will sneak up behind him and give him a push. He's not good enough to die.—Norristown Herald.

— Mlle. Dodu, a young telegraph operator who distinguished herself during the Franco-German war by an act of courage and devotion, has been decorated with the Cross of the Legion of Honor. Shut up in a chamber through which the telegraph wires conveying dispatches to the German army passed, she destroyed the connection at the risk of her life.

— A recent advertisement contains the following: "If the gentleman who keeps the shoe store with a red head will return the umbrella of a young lady with whalebone ribs and an iron handle to the slate-roofed grocer's shop, he will hear of something to his advantage, as the same is the gift of a deceased mother now no more with the name engraved upon it."

— "Do you wish for a jury trial?" said the urbane judge of the police court to Mr. Fogarty, yesterday morning. "I'm not hankering after it," he said, sadly, "just at present; but if your Honor has any decent Bourbon handy behind the desk—" "Thirty days!" shouted His Honor, and Mr. Fogarty went below smiling pleasantly and murmuring that he had got his regular "bitters," sure enough.

—The San Francisco News Letter says: "When Theodore Tilton was here he got up one night at the Palace in great trepidation and violently rang for a waiter. The servant found the long-haired lecturer standing outside of the door in his night-gown. 'I want assistance immediately. There is a man under my bed.' 'Oh, that's all right,' replied the man cheerfully; 'it's only the Chronicle reporter.' And so it proved."

— A rich joke was developed the other day in connection with the complaints against the management of the New York Post Office, showing how absurdly malicious and futile some of them are. The postmaster received a written charge that the writer, a boy, had been kicked by one of the men who run the elevator. It was discovered, first, no such person existed at the address given; second, that all the men who run the elevator have but one leg apiece.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 22, 1878.

[Communicated.]

Affairs on the Rio Grande.

The writer of this is not a friend of President Hayes. In a humble way he did all in his power to prevent his election to the presidency, and like many others he believes that he was surreptitiously declared elected to the great office which he now fills. Neither] now does he support him in many of the measures of his administration. But let us give him credit for whatever measures he may pursue for the honor of his country. The following, clipped from the Boston Post, furnishes the text of the present remarks:

It is now believed that the efforts of the Administration to precipitate a war with Mexico may not succeed to the satisfaction of the schemers and the hopes of Sec. Evarts and those who have long been conspiring with him to offer indignities to Mexico which she could not but resent will be blasted. It is stated the Mexican plan is not to engage the United States soldiers in a pitched battle, but to harass and guerilla them by irresponsible bands, whose doings the Mexican Government will profess not to know anything of except by report. Diaz may thus thwart the desperate political leaders who hope to save their party from extinction by provoking a war that would distract the public mind from the wickedness of the Republican Administration.

This paragraph is all the more remarkable, as coming from a prominent democratic journal, the annexation of Texas having been (and very properly too) a pet democratic measure. What must the confreres of the Post in Texas say, when they read this and other similar articles, which have from time to time appeared in its columns? Nothing can show more clearly the entire demoralization of the democratic party.

The whole of western Texas is a delightful region, capable of sustaining an immense population by the cultivation of its soil, and perhaps even more by pastoral pursuits. Yet its settlement has been constantly retarded by the very raids which the Post affects to consider as nothing. The valley lying between the Neuces and the Rio Grande has been kept a howling wilderness; and not satisfied with this, the marauders have extended their depredations hundreds of miles to the eastward, plundering and murdering the settlers. I bear in mind now a certain raid made by them, when an intimate friend of mine coming to visit his friends, on the 4th of July, with his wife and child, and a boy, his brother-in-law, was surprised nearly at the end of his journey by a band of Mexican marauders. Not putting in an appearance in course of time his friends started out in quest of him, and attracted by the buzzards they found the putrid corpses of the husband, the wife and the child, the latter with its head off and lying a short distance from the body. The boy has never been heard of, and is supposed to have been carried into Mexico. By the same raid an industrious German lost his caballado, which he had spent twenty years in raising; as he related the story to me tears stood in his eyes, for Germans do not bear losses with American equanimity. Who can wonder at Texan indignation, when he is made acquainted with such a state of affairs? I cite this massacre as only one instance, for there are many other such cases, too numerous to mention.

Public meetings holden at Corpus Christi lately, and attended by prominent State and local officials of all parties, take notice of many such occurrences, the relation of which is supported by proper affidavits; and an address has been forwarded to the Sec'y of State of the United States, members of Congress, and to the leading journals of the country.

It is sometimes alleged that an army should be maintained along the frontier to prevent all invasions, but it must be understood that Texas frontiers are long, and it would require a larger army than what the United States possesses, or would wish to possess, for this purpose.

There never has been a people more maligned and misrepresented than have been the people of Texas. Ever since the first settlement of that country, the inhabitants have been forced to contend against great odds. At the breaking out of the rebellion they were commencing to prosper, but that calamity diminished their good prospects very essentially. The great majority of the people, of western Texas in particular, were entirely opposed to secession, but were overcome by a concerted combination against them. If Sam Houston, at that time governor and unceremoniously ejected from his office, had been twenty years younger, it is in the range of probabilities that secession would have been quashed, and the attention of the United States authorities would have been more directed to the protection of the State; as it is now, however, so far as my observation extended, all those who by force, cajolery or ignorance were led into taking up arms against the government profess the greatest loyalty, and the great crowd of immigrants from all the other States now pressing down into Texas attracts the attention of the general government to her necessities, and to the suppression of Mexican demonstrations against American people, which have continued in fact ever since the Mexican war.

England has long been noted for the protection which she accords to her citizens all over the world. How long will it be before the United States also, like ancient Rome at the time of her power, shall protect all who can truly say "I am an American citizen?" If Texas had been an English province these depredations would have been prevented long ago.

The Post article quoted above throws out threats of guerilla warfare on the part of Mexico. The same fulminations were made at the time of the breaking out of the former Mexican war, but they did not seem to have caused any hindrance to General Scott in his march to the City of Mexico with only 10,000 men. Guerilla warfare was attempted somewhat during the late Confederate war, but with doubtful effect. The utility of it has always been very debatable. It is "a game at which two can play." If Texas guerillas ever get into Mexico, the poor Mexicans will have to be pitied. Apropos of this, General McKenzie is an officer of great caution, and great experience on the Rio Grande, and has evidently been kept there for that reason during several years. Upon the occasion of similar raids five years ago the Texan Rangers begged him to allow them to accompany him, and promised all the men the United States would need. But for obvious reasons he felt obliged to decline their offers, at the same time stating that if ever occasion required he would call upon them. Perhaps the occasion may yet arise.

Now probably the end of these Mexican complications will be the establishment of a protectorate by this country over Mexico, agreeably to a favorite plan of Sam. Houston's; some of the leading Mexicans are supposed to be men of information, while the great mass of the Mexican populace are steeped in the grossest ignorance; and it is sometimes asserted that the former are working to that end. There is at present no other apparent means of removing so foul a blot upon the civilization of the world as is the Mexican government. VIATOR.

The Yellow Fever.

The reports from the stricken districts in the south and southwest are increasingly distressing. The disease is extraordinarily virulent; it is spreading; the precautions taken against it are extending, and there are already, and will doubtless soon be still more, urgent appeals to the north and east for material aid. Towns disolated, families flying, they hardly know whither, and living as they can; all confidence in the maintenance of health lost; the anxious waiting for frost, the knowledge that a return home will be only to find a general destitution and misery. Such is now the case; what it will be it is impossible to foretell. The infected districts in New Orleans and Grenada, Miss., are said to be filthy almost beyond the conception of northern people—and to this reckless and criminal disregard of sanitary laws and common decency the outbreak of the pestilence is largely due.

From Grenada, on the evening of the 20th inst., came the report that three of the brave nurses sent by the Howard association of New Orleans had gone down before the terrible disease, though they were supposed to be fever-proof, having once before had it; the total deaths up to that time numbered over seventy, and there were no hopeful cases in the city. Twelve deaths from fever occurred at Memphis on the 20th; Vicksburg had 200 cases of fever, and twelve deaths, the disease being malignant beyond any previous experience, and rapidly spreading; Port Gibson, Miss., had fifty cases, and two deaths; Ocean Springs, Miss., nine cases, seven fatal—and the town was virtually abandoned; in New Orleans the new cases numbered 136, deaths forty-one, the total cases since the fever appeared being 1355, deaths 396; the people of Jackson, Miss., were fleeing, having been advised to leave by the board of health, though the city was not yet stricken with the disease; several steamers from the south, with crews and passengers infected, were quarantined at points along the rivers, and the distress and terror all along the probable course of the pestilence are appalling.

On Wednesday, the 21st, it was reported from Grenada that three full-blooded negroes died that day with the fever, something unknown before, and that many others were attacked. Mr. Sheater, of the New Orleans Times, was down with the fever, and 50,000 people had left the city. One case of the fever was reported near Wheeling, West Virginia.

News and Notes.

Two horses owned by Moses Hulet were stung to death by bees at Shaftsbury, Vt., on a recent Sunday. The horses were hitched in front of the village church, and a swarm of bees completely covered them.

Hassan Salih, a corporal in the Turkish army, who was in Providence inspecting guns made for the Ottoman Empire by the Providence Tool Company, committed suicide in that city Monday morning, 19th inst., by shooting himself in the abdomen with a revolver. Salih was, with five others, to leave Monday night for New York, and thence to Turkey. It was this same Hassen who some four months ago quarrelled with his paramour, stabbed her, and then jumped from a third-story window to a brick pavement below, but escaped serious injury, and was not punished by the law on account of the woman's refusal to testify against her. It was sorrow at the prospective final parting with this woman that led to his self-destruction.

Schooner San Diego, of San Francisco, supposed to have been lost in Behring's sea last fall, arrived at San Francisco on the 20th inst. The vessel was blown ashore in the sea and much damaged. The crew wintered there, repaired the schooner and returned with but three men on board, the chief mate, Robertson, one white man and one Indian. Capt. Bishop, second mate Carr and five of the crew, Indians, were drowned by the capsizing of a boat.

Farrall, a clerk of Paymaster Rand of the navy, was horsewhipped at the Washington navy yard Tuesday, by a girl whom he had ruined and deserted. She wanted money, but he refused to give it so her. The affair created a great sensation.

Information has been received by the Post Office Department that within the last two weeks the stages carrying mails in Arizona have been stopped by highwaymen and the mails robbed six times.

The Birmingham, Conn., greenbackers tried to shut up Judge Thomas Welch of New Haven when he preached unpleasant doctrines to them the other evening, but he laid a revolver on the table before him and finished his speech.

Miss Mary L. Sanford, the New York girl who was reported as having eloped from Newport, R. I., with Seth Bateman Dodge, added to the sensation she had already raised among the visitors to that noted watering-place by returning thither, with her husband, four days after their unceremonious departure.

W. V. Goodwin of Savannah, Ga., accused W. D. R. Millar of seducing his daughter, and threatened to kill him. The two men met in a store in Savannah on the 20th inst., when Millar shot Goodwin dead. The murderer gave himself up.

Tom Boyd, confined in the Ripley county, Indiana, jail, on a charge of attempting to outrage a young lady of Moore's Hill, was killed by a band of vigilants, eighty in number, who broke into the jail and fired seventeen balls into his body. Boyd had previously served a term in the penitentiary for a similar offence.

There was a carrier-pigeon race from Tobyhanna, Pa., to New York city recently. Twenty-six birds started at nine o'clock in the morning, and twenty-three arrived in a flock at 10:50, thus covering ninety miles in one hour and fifty minutes. The rest of the birds arrived soon after. There will be another race by the birds, from Scranton, Pa., to New York.

Chief Engineer Lackey of the steamer Wyoming arrived in Washington on the 20th inst., having left the steamer twenty-five miles off Cape Henry the previous afternoon, with despatches for the Department. The Wyoming lost her screw two days out from Southampton; all well on board. Lackey came ashore in a pilot boat.

New Hampshire Items.

A special meeting of the Manchester city government has been called to devise means to purify the Hanover street pond, which has become very offensive by reason of a large number of drains from private houses. It is understood that Mayor Kelly will ask an appropriation to fill up the pond, with the sewer underneath, with fresh water. It is an ornament to the city, but at present is only a breeder of disease to the surrounding inhabitants.

Charles W. Whitton of Laconia was arraigned on the 20th inst., for firing Mr. Johnson's property at Gilford on the previous Monday night. He pleaded guilty, and was committed in default of bonds. Whitton is a brother-in-law of Johnson's and is not considered of sound mind. Cause, spite.

It is said that since the recent fires in Suncook other parties owning buildings there have been threatened with the burning of their property.

N. H. Cahill's barn at Fitzwilliam was burned on the night of the 19th by an incendiary. A tramp was put in jail on suspicion. Loss $3000; insured $2000 in the New Hampshire Mutual.

—Twenty thousand cabin passengers have left New York for Europe this summer—the largest number during any single season on record.

—A mortal combat between a humming-bird and a bumble-bee in a flower garden was witnessed recently. The bird was busily gathering its breakfast of honey from a bunch of lilies, when it dipped its long bill into a blossom which had been pre-empted by a bumble-bee, and the enraged insect immediately flew out to battle. Two or three slight collisions, hardly occupying as many seconds, followed, and then the humming-bird, with the tiniest note of pain, darted off and dropped dead in the grass not five feet away. It had evidently been stung to death.

THE CITY.

The committee of the City Councils having such matters in charge are having the Jones school building thoroughly repaired and repainted preparatory to the reopening of the schools Sept. 1st.

Miss M. Parloa, the former chef at the Appledore house, author of the popular "Appledore Cook Book," and later noted as a most sensible and therefore successful lecturer on the science of cooking, has prepared a little book, "Camp Cookery," intended, as its name implies, for the use of camping out parties, and giving plain directions for the preparation of such dishes as campers are likely to have materials for making. The book is of a size to be handily carried in the pocket, and is for sale by H. B. Buzzell & Son.

At meetings of the several engine companies, held Wednesday evening, it was unanimously voted to tender a reception to Gen. Berry engine company of Rockland, Me., and a committee was appointed from each company to make arrangements for the reception, as follows: No. 2, John D. Randall, Willard Gray, Daniel M. Cox; No. 3, Ira C. Seymour, William S. Hazel, John Harmon, Fred B. Folsom; No. 4, Wm. E. Pinder, John S. Webber. The committee met at house of Sagamore Engine No. 2, and appointed the following committees: on torches and oil, Harmon and Pinder; on music, Webber, Hazel and Cox; on hall and printing, Seymour and Randall; on route of procession, Gray and Folsom. The programme will probably include a reception of the visitors at the wharf by the department accompanied by the Dover Cornet Band; a march directly to the Kearsarge House, where the visitors will take supper; after which a torch-light procession will take place over a short route to Franklin Hall, where a promenade concert and hop will be given. The order of procession will be: Platoon of police; Chief Engineer and Assistants; invited guests; Dover Cornet Band; Engine Co.'s 2, 3 and 4, in order of numbers; Rockland Band; Gen. Berry Engine Company.

After the organization of the Board of Engineers on Tuesday evening last, and the disposal of the other business, Chief Engineer Fletcher invited the assistant engineers, foremen of engine and extinguisher companies, engineers of steamers, fire department committee of the City Councils, and others, to an oyster supper, the occasion being Mr. Fletcher's second election as head of the fire department of the city. Mr. Fletcher has been connected with the department over twenty years, serving in various positions and always with credit; of late years he has been a member of the hook and ladder company, as clerk and then foreman. Last year he was elected chief engineer, a position he has filled with ability and to the satisfaction of the city government, as was shown by the fact that he received the unanimous vote of his party friends for re-election. With the prejudices—favorable or otherwise—of members of the fire department the public have no concern, so long as the efficiency of the department is not impaired thereby; but we believe Mr. Fletcher is as popular with the firemen as other chiefs have been. Several of the older and more experienced of the firemen have expressed to us decided opinions that no one could look after the interests of the department and the city more carefully than the present chief engineer, who does all in his power to keep the department in a state of efficiency without a needless expenditure of money. As to his ability as chief engineer in case of fire, he has handled well all that have taken place during his incumbency, and has been careful not to do any needless damage by water.

POLICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY, Aug. 21; Batchelder J.

John Murphy was brought up for aggravated assault on Eugene Coffey, (continued case,) but Coffey not being yet able to appear the case was again continued to Monday, 26th inst., bonds and bondsmen being the same as before.

A BOVINE PEACE-MAKER.

On Tuesday, the 20th inst., while a misunderstanding was in progress between two dogs near the bay-scales at Christian shore, in which the wrath of both waxed exceedingly hot, a cow belonging to the same family as the dog that was getting the worst of the combat, seeing them both from a distance, rushed to the aid of her canine companion, and placing her horns beneath the pair threw them both into the air, one alighting in his descent crosswise upon her back; thus giving neither of them a chance, in sporting phrase, to "throw up the sponge" in acknowledgement of defeat. This cow is deserving of immortality in a new Mother Goose melody.

THE VICINITY.

John G. Gould, a well-known citizen of Exeter, aged about 80 years, died suddenly Tuesday, 20th inst. He has been feeble a few years past, but was around and in his usual health on the morning of the day of his death.

Saville, of the Dover Point house, gives one of his popular clam-bakes at the point to-day. Railroad fare to the point from this city, and back, including the "bake," seventy-five cents; trains leave for the point at 12:30 and three o'clock P. M. Dancing on the lawn to the music of Reinewald & Taylor's orchestra.

At Newmarket, Sunday afternoon, Bishop Healey of Portland administered the rite of confirmation to 102 subjects, at the Catholic church, assisted by Rev. Fathers O'Callaghan of Portsmouth, Murphy of Haverhill, and Rev. J. McDonald, resident father at Newmarket. The Sabbath School has added ninety members in six months through the efforts of Father McDonald, and now numbers 140 members.

Political.

The Portland Press says that the greenback and democratic managers in Cumberland county have made an arrangement to unite on the greenback candidate for Sheriff and the democratic candidate for Clerk of Courts. This scheme is undertaken to help Gen. Anderson for Congress in the 1st Maine district; Mr. Gove, the greenback candidate for Congress, who is a Biddeford man, is to be entirely ignored. "Anything to beat Reed," is the word.

Postmaster General Key is of the opinion that the national success of the democratic party "would result in a repeal of the resumption act, and a general demoralization of the financial situation." Mr. Key is a competent and credible witness. A southern man, and a democrat, he understands fully the tone and temper of his former political coadjutors. His testimony is corroborated by all that we can see and hear from that section of the country. Another era of exclusive greenback currency would lead not merely to the unsettlement of all sound bases of business, but to repudiation. That is, general bankruptcy and commercial distress.

The New York Tribune says: "A striking illustration of the popular contempt felt for the last Congress is shown by the number of new men who are receiving the nominations. Up to the present time there have been about 278 candidates nominated, and all but 57 of these are new men. Of the present incumbents who have been renominated 32 are republicans and 25 democrats. This slaughter of statesmen is sufficient proof that the people are thinking and acting for themselves."

The President has never followed my advice or recommendations to office. He always seemed to want to go against my recommendations. Garfield the same way. Garfield and I were talking one day about the strange conduct of Hayes in never doing anything we wanted, and we were both speaking of Matthews as being fortunate in getting everything he wanted. While we were talking up comes Matthews, and his first words were: "Here, gentlemen, I wish you would go to the President about this matter, for I can do nothing with him," and then Matthews took out a lot of papers, and we broke out in a laugh.—Congressman Foster.

—A Southern woman visiting at Nantucket, considering herself insulted by a resident, drew a revolver and made him go down on his knees and apologize.

—A Scotch minister was riding on horseback, one stormy day, enveloped in a loose cloak of large proportions, and having a broad scarlet neck. By the strong action of the wind, the cloak was tossed about in all directions, when an English gentleman rode up on a spirited charger. The gentlemen's horse shied and almost threw his rider. "That cloak of yours would frighten the devil," said the Englishman. "Man," replied the minister, "that's just my beeziness."

—A New Orleans gentleman tells the following curious anecdote: In Natchitoches parish a pedestrian noticed on a lonely road a frog fighting desperately with a tarantula, and the tarantula returned the compliment by stinging the frog. Every time the frog got stung he would hop to the side of the road, where some green plaintain was growing, and nibble off a piece, after swallowing which he would hop back to the fight. This being repeated about half a dozen times, the human spectator resolved to satisfy his curiosity, took out a jack-knife and lopped off the plantain close to the roots, while the frog and the tarantula were carrying on their duel. When the frog got stung for the seventh time, he leaped back to where the plantain had been, and not finding it, uttered a peculiar helpless cry, staggered a little, vainly tried to hop into the high grass, shuddered, fell over on his side, and gave up the ghost.

—A German father at McMurrich, Ontario, had six very handsome daughters. He educated them to chop wood and underbrush, and last winter and this spring they cleared ten acres in a workmanlike manner. Three of them are now married, and the other three are engaged.

"Laugh and Grow Fat."

The ancient bit of advice is well enough for "spare" people, but how about those that are already too fat? What is to become of them? Sit still, and I'll tell you. After many experiments, extending through months of patient investigation and toil, the celebrated analytical chemist, J. C. Allan, has perfected and given to the World Allan's Anti-Fat. Thus far in several hundred cases this great remedy has never failed to reduce a corpulent person from three to six pounds per week. It is perfectly harmless and positively efficient. Sold by druggists.

A Healthy Body and a Clear Head.

If indigestion, constipation and biliousness torment the body, the head cannot be clear. These disorders react upon the brain most hurtfully, and produce a cloudiness in the organ of thought not experienced by a healthy man. Happily these brain-oppressing maladies may be entirely expelled by that peerless alterative, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which cheers, refreshes and invigorates the brain and nerves, while it regulates the organs of digestion, assimilation and bilious secretion. It expels the morbid humors which poison the system through the bowels and urinary passages, and exerts a powerfully invigorating influence as well. Its cathartic action is never irritating, violent or painful, but even, natural and progressive. As an appetizer and sleep promoter the Bitters is unrivalled; it mitigates the infirmities of age, relieves the ailments peculiar to the gentler sex, arrests premature decay, and builds up an enfeebled physique.

Adamson's Botanic Balsam has gained a reputation which places it in the front ranks of curative agents. It has been in the market about four years. It is now recommended by the best physicians because it cures every time. Price 35 cts.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French or English. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers' Block, Rochester, New York. tsept10

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or offered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—In the troubles that followed the railroad strikes last year, the chief robbers and promoters of disorder were tramps and communists; and here let it be noted that all the genuine communists in this country are foreign-born, and so are most of the tramps, or at any rate, a very large portion of them.—Worcester Spy.

—The coroner of Kildare, Ireland, when a few days ago the jury found that the deceased came to his death through being gored by a bull, called up the owner of the animal and said to him sternly: "I must ask you to part with the animal. Ship him. He is not fit to have about this place. If you sell him here you will likely have some more Irishmen killed. Ship him, and if he is to kill any person let it be an Englishman."

—When a man enters the post office and sees a woman standing at the delivery, he braces up, smiles and concludes to wait patiently a few moments. If there are two women there he sneaks up behind them and tries to wink to the clerk to get his mail. But when one of the women enters into conversation with the official as to the reasons why her magazine has not come, and how long before it will be here, and if he is sure he looked in the right box, the citizen jams his hat down over his eyes and strides out of the post office lobby in a way that would credit a professional pedestrian. The next day he negotiates for a lock-box.

—A certain school-teacher was in the habit of making collections in the juvenile department of the school for missionary purposes. He was not a little surprised one day to find a counterfeit coin among the pennies, and on asking the class who put it there, the youthful donor was pointed out to him by one who saw him deposit it. "Did you know that this was good for nothing?" inquired the teacher. "Yes, sir," answered the boy. "Then why did you put in the box?" "I didn't s'pose," coolly replied the boy, "that the little heathens would know the difference, so I thought it would be just as good for them as a real one."

DOCTOR PIERCE'S ALT. EXT. OR

CURES DISEASES OF THE

THROAT, LUNGS, LIVER & BLOOD.

In the wonderful medicine to which the afflicted are now directed for relief, the discoverer believes he has combined in harmony more of Nature's sovereign curative properties, which God has implanted into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick, than were ever before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the great variety of most obstinate diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the Blood. By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, it cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all the numerous diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with flushes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

PENNSYLVANIA

RAILROAD.

GREAT THROUGH LINE

AND

UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE

The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is made the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

Construction AND Equipment

THE

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

The Safety Appliances

in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,

JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,

THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,

AND THE

WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,

forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,

To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,

WITHOUT CHANGE,

and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.

The Scenery

OF THE

PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE

is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form

An Elephant and Alligator Fight.

F. T. Howe has charge of the aquarium at Coney Island. Recently he appeared there with his hand bandaged, and told the following elephant-alligator story: "On Tuesday night a week ago the employees of the place were awakened by the screaming of the monkeys, the bellowing of the sea-lions, the loud hissing of the alligators, and the unearthly trumpeting of the elephants. I hastened to the place and found one of the elephants in the alligator's tank. They were engaged in combat. The elephant had his trunk under and about the huge body of the alligator, which was making desperate and vicious snaps at his assailant. With the assistance of the men I succeeded in separating the combatants and driving the elephant back to his quarters. Just as I was about to spring from the tank, which contained three feet of water, the alligator caught me by the hand. The men beat him off." Mr. Howe says that the elephant, wanting water and seeing it in the alligator's tank, broke his fastenings and went there to quench his thirst.

Jerusalem! What a Cat!

A few evenings ago Alva Moody was paying a visit to his dulcinea. She had smuggled him into the parlor, and the darkness only served to conceal her blushes while Alvy told his story of love. The muttered words reached the parent's ear and coming suddenly into the room he demanded to know of Mary who it was that she had with her.

"It's the cat, sir," was the mumbling reply.

"Drive it out of here;" thundered pater-familias.

"Scat!" screeched Mary; and then, sotto voce:

"Alvy, meow a little."

Alvy set up a woful yell.

"Confound it! bring a light and scare the thing out."

This was too much, and Alvy made a leap for the window, carrying the glass and frame with him.

"Jerusalem!" exclaimed the parent, contemplating the ruin after the light was brought. "I have never seen anything like it. And, confound it! its tail is made of brondcloth!" he viewed a fluttering remnant hanging from the window.

—They tell of a minister in Western Massachusetts who, when his father became old and infirm, "threw him on the town." When the pauper died the son made the request to conduct the funeral service, and it was granted. Subsequently, the story goes, he asked payment of the town authorities for his services on that occasion, and the accustomed fee was paid him.

—The late Michael Reese of California was an old Forty-niner and in his young days was a pedler, with his pack on his back. He left a fortune estimated at $10,000,000, being one of the largest real estate owners in San Francisco. He was noted during his life for his extreme penuriousness, denying himself the slightest luxury of any kind. In connection with this fact, the following story is told him: "In the early days of California he fell a victim to one of Cupid's darts. After worshipping at the shrine of love for a time, he grew weary of his devotions, deserted the object of his affections, and was sued in the courts of justice for breach of promise. At the trial of the case it was shown that during their many excursions, he was in the habit of treating her exclusively to gingerbread—that being the cheapest luxury. The jury, from the fact and his well-known penurious habits, rendered a verdict in favor of the injured plaintiff. She went on her way rejoicing, and he vowed everlasting hatred toward the sex." Mr. Reese died a bachelor.

Chronicle Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 27th.

War with Mexico and yellow-jack, "the pestilence that skulketh in darkness and wasteth in the noon-day," are oftenest heard canvassed, while matters financial, political, social and moral all contribute to relieve the dulness of the mid-summer season here. McKenzie's rumored invasion of Mexico with a considerable force had not been confirmed this morning; but the report obtains general credence even among officials about the War Department, who have the best of data upon which to base the probabilities. While cabinet officials are bound by international etiquette to keep up the appearance of believing in the assurance of co-operation on the part of Diaz, their private opinion seems to lean decidedly in the other direction; and the prevalent opinion is that public sentiment across the line will force Diaz into a fight with us on this matter. Whatever his personal inclinations, it is doubted here whether he could retain his present position any length of time should he seem to approve our invasion of Mexican territory. His representatives here affect to believe that nothing serious will grow out of the present complications, even should McKenzie's crossing be confirmed; but it is evident that they are uneasy over the situation, and all are looking to the developments of the next few days on the Rio Grande with ill-concealed anxiety.

The yellow fever ravages have been frequently discussed in cabinet meetings, and the law of humanity will be followed in rendering such aid as can be given. While there is no excitement, everybody seems to think it a good time to clean up and keep clean, at least till the frost comes.

Louisiana hasn't improved the reputation acquired a few months ago through Anderson, Weber, Mrs. Jenks and so on to the end of the witnesses she contributed to Potter's committee, by the performances of Leete. As before stated, it seems the general sentiment that any official, high or low, reduced to the alternative of being vindicated by any of the disreputable crowd, might as well go into bankruptcy at once. As to the managers of this mud-machine, it seems the impression that they can't hurt themselves whatever they may do, and if they must keep up the farce through the season, Leete answers as well as anybody else.

Intelligent men who personally observed the antics of the apology for a House of Representatives that was here last winter, hear of the defeat of a large number of its members with a good deal of composure. While, as a whole, it may not have earned as bad a reputation as some of its predecessors, it contained a good number of the most mischievous demagogues that it was ever the country's misfortune to have to tolerate as its law-makers; and they were so numerous as to have kept it in a constant state of dread by the ill-advised, crude, and often ridiculous and absurd legislation with which they constantly threatened it, and would have perpetrated but for the superior skill of the minority as tacticians. But its power was limited to defeating (sometimes) that class of legislation; and hence the last House came the meanest to nothing of any within the memory of the "Oldest Inhabitant." ENOX.

News of Note.

An unknown three-masted schooner, coal laden and abandoned, was on fire off Atlantic City, N. J., Wednesday.

Mrs. Shelley, of Chicago, desired her husband to go into court and swear that she had a peaceful disposition, and when he refused she vindicated her meekness of temper by beating him over the head with a flat-iron until his life nearly departed.

At Newburyport Wednesday, in a melee with a gang of boys who were intoxicated and disturbing the peace, the officers were saluted with a shower of brickbats and the exhibition of a revolver. One of the officers shot James Toomey, sixteen years old, in the foot, but not seriously. The boys were arrested.

Rev. James T. Canavan, the successor in the Milford, Mass., Catholic church over Father Cuddihy, the famous Hibernian fighter, has altogether changed the order of things. The church is getting up a picnic, and Father Canavan has placed on the committee nineteen Hibernians, upon some of whom Father Cuddihy heaped the most bitter vituperation!

Dr. W. F. Carver, of San Francisco, Cal., the famous rifle-shot, was married on the 20th inst. at New Haven, Conn., to Miss Caroline J. Dailey.

Cadet James Todd, of Indiana county, Penn., drowned himself at West Point on the night of the 20th inst. He had been ill in the hospital for about two months.

William T. Van Zandt of New York, president of the Asbestos Roofing Company, and agent for the Van Zandt estate, is under arrest on the charge of burning one of the houses on Staten Island some time ago to secure the insurance.

Half a million gross of screws were sold at auction in New York, Wednesday, at rates 72 1-2 per cent below the regular prices.

Two boys and two girls, children of Jacob Steffie and Fred Schawnk, were drowned while bathing in Lake Michigan, near Michigan City, on the 20th.

Marx Eishler shot at some boys who trespassed upon his employer's premises in Newburgh, N. Y., wounding one. Fishler was arrested, and on the way to jail, in charge of the sheriff, was unmercifully beaten by a crowd of men, including the wounded boy's brother. Peace was restored by a priest.

Capt. Jacob P. Holm, who was put into an insane asylum by his wife and son, was on Wednesday released by Judge Morton of the Massachusetts Supreme Court.

"It is a case of robbery, not a defalcation," says Mr. Pullman, concerning the Angell delinquency. Pullman thinks that Angell has at least $90,000 of the company's property with him.

Judge Clifford adjourned the U. S. Circuit Court in Boston, Wednesday, having heard but one of the series of cases expected to come before him—the cases heard but not decided by the late Judge Shepley. These cases must now stand over to the regular session of the Court.

Mary McCarthy, of Danvers, Mass., eighteen years old, was burned to death Thursday morning by using kerosene to kindle a fire.

The U. S. S. Wyoming passed by Fortress Monroe for Norfolk, Thursday, in tow of U. S. steamtug Fortune.

Jesse Pomeroy, the boy murderer, has made another attempt to escape from his prison cell in the night time, and had he not been discovered, would probably have got out before morning. He made a saw from some article in his cell, and had commenced to cut through the bar or sill when discovered by an officer.

Professor Watson, of the University of Michigan, and Mr. Lewis Swift, of Rochester, who were supposed to have made simultaneous discoveries of an intra-mercurial planet during the recent eclipse, have reported their observations to the Naval Observatory at Washington. Professor Watson considers the existence of one new star near the sun as established, and thinks there may be two; while Mr. Swift is quite clear in the opinion that there are two.

Among the awards of the department of education at the Paris Exposition is a bronze medal to the "New England Journal of Education." It is gratifying to note that the highest award gives to the educational journalism of any country comes to our American publication.

The Boston Post says: "An iconoclastic delver in ancient lore has learned that Beatrice Cenci was not pure and saintly, but wicked and dissolute. Another original investigator has found out that Mary Magdalene was a first-class woman in every respect. We would like to know what history will do with Mrs. Jenks two thousand years from now."

David M. Cook, a gray-haired electrician past sixty, residing near Mansfield, O., has the fullest faith in the ultimate ability of man to navigate the air at will. He has himself constructed an egg shaped flying machine of sheet iron, eight by five feet in diameter, which he proposes to propel by electricity. He is now constructing a generator of 200 horse power to carry out his ideas, and claims to be able to generate electricity to an incalculable amount and also to govern it as he pleases. The enthusiastic inventor has boundless confidence that steam and boiler explosions will soon be things of the past, and that electricity will send the traveler from New York to San Francisco in ten minutes and drive the world's machinery.

New Hampshire Items.

A crowd of young men from Lawrence, Mass., connected with the "best families," visited Messer's Crossing and Salem in this State, on the night of the 20th inst., committing depredations at both places. They amused themselves by shooting pistols, breaking windows in houses, and tearing away blinds. The authorities are investigating the matter.

High Sheriff Cox of Enfield has received a letter from a constable in Essex county, N. Y., claiming for himself and another constable the reward of $200 offered for Dickey's capture, saying that they arrested him and handed him over to Sheriff Brown of Plymouth, but were not aware of any reward till after he was taken away.

The democratic Cheshire Republican does not take kindly to the idea of having Col. Kent renominated for Congress by the democrats of the third district, and serves notice upon him to go to the rear and make room for a Cheshire county man. The Republicans' article is a strong and sensible one, but Mr. Kent will be the nominee for all that.

The farmers of New Hampshire have secured an immense crop of hay this season, and the late rains have caused a large second crop to grow, which is now being cut. Corn, though a little late, is of heavy growth and fast getting ripe. Oats, wheat and other small grains are heavy and nearly secured. Potatoes are looking well and promise a good yield, but "eternal vigilance" as to the potato-bug only warrants a full crop. The apple yield in central and eastern New Hampshire will be immense, many trees being so heavily loaded as to break down unless propped up. Blackberries are brought in as never before, and sell for four to five cents per quart.

The Executive Committee of the New Hampshire Sunday School Association has voted that the usual custom of inviting Unitarians and Universalists to unite and co-operate in the Sabbath school work be abandoned, and that hereafter the operations of the society be conducted on an evangelical basis.

Political.

Manton Marble's recent manifesto in regard to the electoral count has gotten him into a tight place. The New York Tribune publishes a lot of telegrams never before given to the public, which seem to prove conclusively that Marble was the "Gobble" of the infamous Oregon despatches, and Tilden's chief engineer in the shameful attempt to buy the electoral vote of that State.

Kearney, the California "sand-lots" blatherskite and communist, is about played out; the workingmen of the east are not of the same material to work on as the hoodlums of the Pacific coast. Butler has been compelled to partially dissolve his partnership with Kearney, and now Kearney partially repudiates Butler. Kearney spouted in Chicago on the evening of the 20th ult., and the New York Herald's correspondent says his speech was "a conglomeration of vituperation, bravado, profanity, and ready use of compound adjectives of a low plane of intellectuality, broken and fairly incoherent in argument. He was repeatedly urged to tell the crowd about his friend Butler, but he spoke quite gingerly about him, and remarked that Butler was no friend of his."

The Bounding Banning will not be chairman of the House committee on military affairs in the next Congress. His pardoned penitentiary birds will not even have the opportunity of stuffing ballot-boxes for him again.

Mr. Secretary Duff, of the "national" committee of the State of Pennsylvania, has been arrested for burglaries committed in Ohio. It now seems that he had a habit of committing such acts, for several other complaints are brought against him, based upon the fact that he had carried his war upon the "bloated bondholder" to the full extent of criminal agrarianism. It is hardly probable that these facts were known when he was chosen to be secretary; but now that they are made public he should not be disturbed in his official position. He is simply a little in advance of the masses of his party.

The Boston Post and its Washington correspondent have apparently given up trying to make political capital against the Hayes administration out of its determined and proper attempt to do its duty in protecting the citizens of democratic Texas from outrage and murder by Mexican banditti.

A southern raid on the United States treasury for $350,000,000 is to be voted for, or against, at the next election. There will be no danger of bankrupting the treasury by the payment of southern claims should there be a republican majority in Congress.

It is said of the chief of the Chinese embassy that when he was asked how all the Chinese in America would get back to China, he replied: "They will all go to Ireland; that is the only country that the Irish do not rule."—N. Y. Herald.

Butler's faint effort to get away from Kearney reminds us of Smith and Jones, who went home so tight that they didn't know which was which, and arriving at Smith's door, called upon Mrs. Smith to come down and pick out Smith.—Boston Herald.

The Times says: "Hon. Frank Jones has purchased some superior working cattle at Rochester. One pair of oxen measure about seven and a half feet in height." Those are very tall cattle, for sure.

A valuable banjo stolen from the saloon of Heaher, on Bridge street, some time ago, by Taylor, one of the two tramping thieves now in jail in this city awaiting trial for numerous burglaries, has been recovered through the instrumentality of Col. Kent, who traced it to a man named Conlard, working at Rye beach, who bought it of Taylor, and on being told that it was stolen, immediately informed the Sheriff where it could be found at his home in Cambridge, Mass. The Massachusetts officers, at Col. Kent's request, secured the banjo and returned it to its owner.

Richard Daley, the tramp arrested for shooting Mrs. Benucit at Newmarket Junction, and tried at the April term of court held in Exeter, has been discharged from jail, having served out his sentence. His fines and costs were remitted by order of the court.

The steamer Empire State made another excursion trip from Boston to the Isles of Shoals on Thursday. The Shoals trips of this steamer have proved the most attractive to the Bostonians of any she has made this season. She is to make another one on Saturday.

Senator Blaine addressed a crowded audience in Biddeford city hall on the evening of the 21st inst. Though still suffering from the effects of his recent accident, he spoke clearly and logically for an hour and a half, holding the closest attention of the audience to the end. It is hardly necessary to say that he spoke plainly and unmistakably in favor of honest money and national good faith.

The real estate valuation of Saco this year is $2,626,740, an increase over last year of $37,465; personal estate, $859,200, a decrease of $77,005 from last year; decrease in total valuation, $39,540. The number of polls has decreased from 1567 in 1877, to 1497; increase of State tax, $3100; decrease in tax for city expenses, $1000. The rate of taxation this year is $1.70 on $100 against $1.64 last year.

A LIVE MAN.

Among the recently added portraits in the Senate chamber at Concord is one of Col. John W. Sanborn of Wakefield, an ex-President of the Senate, and during some of the years in which the rebellion was enacted a prominent member of the Governor's Council. Col. Sanborn is a democrat of pronounced stamp, and is a kind of man whose ability and large common sense tells wherever he is found. He is a popular man, although he has in his own party here and there a jealous enemy. His portrait is finely executed by Tenney, and indeed the artist had a fine subject for his brush.

The Colonel has of late devoted almost his entire time to the interests of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway railroad, of which division of the Eastern road he is superintendent. He knows everybody all up and down this line, as he in former days drove all over Carroll county as a cattle buyer. His acquaintance is very large, and he has probably done more than any other man to develope the freight traffic of this road, which under his supervision has largely increased.

Many democrats regard Mr. Sanborn as the strongest man that can be run on their ticket as candidate for Congress in this district. If he is nominated he will be an active canvasser, and shrewd in his maneuvres, and any republican who should propose to run against him would have to make a business of securing a majority of votes in the district.

A Healthy Body and a Clear Head.

If indigestion, constipation and biliousness torment the body, the head cannot be clear. These disorders react upon the brain most hurtfully, and produce a cloudiness in the organ of thought not experienced by a healthy man. Happily these brain-oppressing maladies may be entirely expelled by that peerless alterative, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which cheers, refreshes and invigorates the brain and nerves, while it regulates the organs of digestion, the liver and bilious secretion. It expels the morbid humors which poison the system through the bowels and urinary passages, and exerts a powerfully invigorating influence as well. Its cathartic action is never irritating, violent or painful, but even, natural and progressive. As an appetizer and sleep promoter the Bitters is unrivalled; it mitigates the infirmities of age, relieves the ailments peculiar to the gentler sex, arrests premature decay, and builds up an enfeebled physique.

"Laugh and Grow Fat."

The ancient bit of advice is well enough for "spare" people, but how about those that are already too fat? What is to become of them? Sit still, and I'll tell you. After many experiments, extending through months of patient investigation and toil, the celebrated analytical chemist, J. C. Allan, has perfected and gives to the World Allan's Anti-Fat. Thus far in several hundred cases this great remedy has never failed to reduce a corpulent person from three to six pounds per week. It is perfectly harmless and positively efficient. Sold by druggists.

Adamson's Botanic Balsam has gained a reputation which places it in the front ranks of curative agents. It has been in the market about four years. It is now recommended by the best physicians because it cures every time. Price 35 cts.

The fact of the business is that Sulphur Baths have become unnecessary since the introduction of GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, because that article answers the same purpose, viz., the removal of eruptions, rheumatism and gout. Sold by all Druggists.

HILL'S HAIR & WHISKER DYE, Black or Brown, 50 cents.

The majority of Wall street houses and men are as honest as their neighbors, and many of them have a world wide reputation for soundness and honesty. The old house of Alex. Frothingham & Co., Brokers, 12 Wall st., N. Y., is entitled to absolute confidence. They state that an investment of about $100 made recently returned over $1,000 in less than 60 days. Send for their circular, free. 13

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French or English. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers' Block, Rochester, New York. 18eop13

Conveniently near the prominent business houses, all places of public interest and resort, and in the very heart of the best resident portion of the city, for good living, good treatment, and quiet comfort, the Colonnade Hotel, on Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, can be conscientiously recommended.

The Bayonet and Sabre.

Lieut. F. V. Greene, an officer of our regular army, now in Russia, has made a report to Gen. Sherman on the question of equipment, with special reference to the bayonet and the sabre. Gen. Benet has proposed to dispense with both, but Lieut. Greene say of the former: "Although I have conversed with nearly every prominent General and with many inferior officers in the Russian army on the subject of the bayonet, I have never found one who was not an ardent admirer of that weapon, and I doubt if a single favoring opinion upon Benet's proposition could be obtained from any man in the Russian military service." Of the 90,000 men killed and wounded during the war, it is estimated that between 700 and 1000 were hurt with the bayonet. But the Russians take the ground that the number of killed and wounded by the bayonet is by no means a just measure of the utility of that weapon. Hand-to-hand fights are not a thing of the past, and notwithstanding breech-loaders and trenches, no infantry weapon has been invented superior to the bayonet for that purpose. Using the gun as a club is apt to break the stock, and, besides, it takes more time than a simple lunge with the bayonet. The sabre for cavalry purposes has not had much of a trial in the conflict recently ended, some of the most desperate of the cavalry combats being with the lance. The balance of testimony, however, appears opposed to the proposition to dispense with either of these long-tried and formidable weapons.

DOCTOR PIERCE'S
ALT. EXT. OR
CURES DISEASES OF THE
THROAT, LUNGS, LIVER & BLOOD.
In the wonderful medicine to which the afflicted are above directed for relief, the discoverer believes he has combined to harmony more of Nature's sovereign curative properties, which God has instituted into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick, than were ever before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the great variety of most obstinate diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, it cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all the numerous diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.
If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headaches or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular pulse, and you think you have, or are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

PENNSYLVANIA
RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction AND Equipment
THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

INVALIDS' HOTEL.
The very large number of invalid people who daily visit Buffalo, from every quarter of the United States and Canada, that they may consult Dr. R. V. PIERCE, and the widely celebrated Faculty of Specialists in Medicine and Surgery associated with him, rendered it necessary that the founder of this institution should provide a place on a grand and commodious scale for their entertainment and comfort.
ADVANTAGES OFFERED.—The Invalids' Hotel is more complete in its appointments than any similar institution in the world. The building is located in one of the most healthful and desirable portions of the City of Buffalo, and commands a fine view of Lake Erie, Niagara River, and the surrounding country, being situated in the midst of an extensive system of beautiful parks. The Hotel is furnished with a patent safety passenger elevator, to convey patients to and from the different floors; it is provided with all kinds of approved baths, and has also connected with it a well-appointed gymnasium and bowling alley to afford proper means of exercise.
CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms, whether requiring medical, surgical, or mechanical treatment, come within the province of our several specialties.
DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are the facilities of this infirmary of a superior order as regards the remedial means and appliances for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females. The employment, in moderation, of tonic, chemical, electro-thermal, and other approved baths, is in many cases an invaluable auxiliary to the remedial means to which we resort in such cases. Dry friction to the surface, general shampooing, Swedish movements, and light calisthenic exercises, to evolve and equalize the circulation of the blood in the system, relieve congested parts, improve digestion, and strengthen the muscles, produce important beneficial results in all cases to which these means are applicable. No experimenting is resorted to in the treatment. The most approved medicines are carefully employed, and the judicious regulation of the diet, to suit the condition of the patient, the thorough ventilation of the sleeping apartment, the cheering influence of music, social intercourse, innocent games for amusement, and all those agencies which tend to arouse the mind of the patient from despondency, and thus promote recovery, are not neglected.
NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty, by which the greatest skill is attained and the most happy results secured.
LUNG DISEASES.—This division of the practice in the Invalids' Hotel is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases are very largely treated in this department, and with results which have been highly gratifying to both physician and patients.
EYE AND EAR.—Special attention is given to the delicate operations on the eye and ear, a distinguished oculist and aurist being under engagement to conduct this branch of the practice.
Invalids arriving in the city and desiring to consult us, should come directly to the Hotel. It is easily accessible by carriage, omnibus, or street cars. MILLER'S Omnibus Agents, on all incoming trains, can be relied upon to deliver passengers and baggage with security and dispatch.

Portsmouth Chronicle

SATURDAY, AUGUST 24, 1878.

News and Notes.

In Brooklyn, Thursday, Anthony Kennedy, while intoxicated, assaulted his wife with a knife, and was nearly killed by a blow on the head with a shovel by a stepson, John Maroney, who is not yet in custody. Kennedy will probably die.

The little Son of A. O. Staples, of Levant, Me., was killed in a very singular manner last week. His mother permitted him to amuse himself in the yard for half an hour, and when she went to him he was dead, having tipped a wheelbarrow across his neck, and strangled.

In England, there is one man in every five who spends all he gets, but in France there is not one in forty who spends his income.

A horse knocked a locomotive and twenty-eight cars from the track near Chillicothe, Ohio, Wednesday night, killing two men and wounding a third.

Col. John S. Mosby has been tendered and has accepted the position of Consul at Canton, China.

Southern dispatches state that the yellow fever has caused a complete stampede of tramps, who previously had become exceedingly troublesome.

His Royal Highness Albert Edward, the Prince of Wales, has accepted an honorary membership in the Boston Ancient and Honorable Artillery.

A grand firemen's muster was held at Mystic Park, Medford, Mass., Thursday afternoon, at which some thirty-six hand engines and crews were entered and competed. Butcher Boy, No. 2, of South Braintree won the first prize of $400.

Alice Trevylain, the young woman who was arrested in New York on the 18th of July for dressing in male attire, who represented herself to be a Rhode Island detective in the service of the governor, and who was committed to the care of the Commissioners of Charities and Correction for examination as to her sanity, took up her quarters on Saturday at the Ashland House, New York, but not having money to pay her bill, was obliged to leave the hotel.

The Boston Herald of Thursday evening publishes an interview with General Joe Hooker at Martha's Vineyard, in which he is reported to have said relative to the disputed battle of Lookout Mountain: "When Grant affirms that there was no battle on Lookout Mountain, or when he otherwise detracts from the successes of my battles, he either must have been deep in the cup to which he is addicted, or else the desire for a third term must have crazed his brain. In no other way can I account for the Commanding General going back on himself and going back on the army which made him. General Grant's opinions in regard to the war are far from being infallible, the same as when he administered the affairs of the national government. My battles was not so bloody as his, hence I suppose he is not able to appreciate them. As to the battle of Lookout Mountain, report me as saying that there are too many witnesses to that battle to have it ignored at this late date, and the friends of the fallen will not be likely to accept General Grant's verdict in regard to that fight. I need say no more."

A Florida scientist named Hardee proposes to kill the yellow fever by atmospheric concussion, to be produced by a succession of gunpowder explosions. He says the experiment was attended with entire success last year at Jacksonville, and instances the disappearance of the plague from places liable to it in the south during the war and in Mexico before the American troops.

Gen. Sherman's determination to visit New Mexico is said to be due to his grief on account of his eldest son's having determined to enter the order of Jesuits. The disappointment is aging him terribly. It was all due to Mrs. Sherman, who seems to be not only a Catholic, but an intensely fanatical one.

Mrs. Cline, of Dexter, Texas, was a bride of a month. One night last week two men crept to the window of the room where she slept and placing the muzzle of a shot gun against her husband's head, blew it off. His young wife sprang up to find her husband a corpse, and by the light of the moon saw Lucius Northsinger, a former suitor, with another assassin, running off.

A son of John Maloy, about eight years old, was drowned at Gorham, Tuesday afternoon, while fishing on the Androscoggin.

The wheat crop of the State of California is the largest ever grown, and it is estimated that 200 British ships of large tonnage will be freighted for England before the close of the year, there being a large fleet already at San Francisco awaiting the crop.

William H. McFadden, Chief of the Water Department of Philadelphia, on the 22d inst. made an affidavit charging six of the clerks of that department with systematic robbery of the city by making false entries upon the cash books. Fifteen thousand dollars was traced so as to be ready for evidence, but the Chief Engineer says it will probably reach hundreds of thousands, and has extended over ten years. The six clerks were arrested.

In the Provincial Parliament of Columbia, at Victoria, V. I., on Thursday, the Attorney General introduced a memorial to the Queen setting forth the grievances of the province against the Dominion, and praying that in case the terms of the Union are not carried out by the first of May next, the British Columbias may then be allowed to withdraw from the Union. There is no excitement, and the memorial will be adopted by a large majority.

A little dog belonging to a gentleman of New Bedford, who was walking on the beach at the cove Sunday afternoon, persisted in barking at a carriage, and the owner after calling him several times, struck the dog lightly with a small cane. The animal looked up into his master's face, and then started and threw himself into a pool of water. Not finding the water there deep enough the dog then plunged into the bay and swam off. The owner whistled several times, and the dog each time responded by barking, but would not turn back, and kept on swimming out until he sank and was drowned.

New Hampshire Items.

The lightning recently struck and knocked off both horns of a nice five-year-old steer, without other injury to him, during a severe storm. He was the property of D. F. Tillotson of Orford.

Ex-Gov. Harriman has been invited to take a hand in the Maine campaign.

Hon. Charles H. Bell of Exeter has consented to the use of his name as a republican candidate for governor.

The Merrimac county legislative delegation met at the county farm Thursday and voted an appropriation of $8000 to rebuild the buildings burned last year. It was also voted to raise $70,000 for the running expenses of the county.

Edward H. Leroy was killed in Judge Bedel's saw-mill at Columbia Valley, Tuesday, by a piece of board thrown from the saw.

A boy named Annis, at west Concord, went to a barn remote from the street, Wednesday, and found a tramp, who attacked him and cut his arm and hand badly with a knife. The boy escaped from him and ran home. The tramp was not captured.

At a meeting of the Governor and Council, Thursday, George Lewis was pardoned from the Strafford county jail. Several agents were appointed to expend the appropriations of the Legislature for the repair of roads in the White Mountains, as follows: Francis A Cushman, for roads from Dummer to Erroll, and from Bartlett to Fabyan's; Charles H. Greenleaf and John W. E. Tuttle, for roads in Lincoln; Joseph W. Cooper, roads in Dixville; Charles E. Low, roads in Randolph. John B. Jenkins of Alton was pardoned from the State Prison. The Council, by a vote of four to one, advised the removal of Timothy B. Crowley, Register of Probate of Hillsboro county. Elbridge J. Copp of Nashua was nominated to fill the vacancy. Hazen B. Adell of Keene and G. L. Demorest of Manchester were appointed Trustees of the Normal School. A pardon was denied John E. Sargent of Sutton, now in prison for burglary.

Political.

Kearney is reported as saying in a speech at Bloomington, Ill., that the red flag of the Commune is the emblem of order and peace. His speech was his usual profane highfalutin.

The New Orleans Times (democratic) says of the present democratic management of that city that "an Administration that paved the way for the advent of yellow fever and the immense losses and sufferings it entails, and can only be aroused to a tardy and feeble performance of duty by the lashings of the press and the indignation of the people, is an evil to be eliminated by heroic remedies when others fail."

It is reported that ex-Attorney-General Akerman is to be associated with ex-Secretary Bristow in the conduct of the South Carolina revenue case. It is the intention of the Government to make this case one that, from the character of the court and the legal talent employed, will entitle it to be looked on as a precedent that cannot be disregarded hereafter under any of the makeshift pleas new resorted to. While the case is pending it is not, however, the intention to relax any effort to suppress illicit distillation, and the recent amnesty to those who have surrendered only holds good so long as they refrain from further evil-doing.

The most extraordinary example of straddling on record is found in Mr. Hendricks' late speech. Here it it: "Gold and silver are the real standard of values, and our national currency will not be a perfect medium of exchange until it shall be convertible at the pleasure of the holder. As I have heretofore said, no one desires a return to specie payment more than I do." * * * "In my belief the resumption law has been the source of the greatest calamity to the business interest and property of the country."

The Portland Advertiser, which is making a good square fight for honest money, says: "This is not to be a campaign of apologies and excuses. The party which has paid off 721 millions of the principal of the public debt, and reduced the annual interest charge from 148 millions in 1865 to ninety-four millions now, can safely appeal to the country on that statement, and has no need to explain that the greenback dollar has at the same time advanced from 37 1-2 cents to 99 1-2."

—The Hearts of Oak, a London benevolent society, stood it when Charles Gaylor, a printer, obtained sick pay for a long period during which he was at work, and when he got thirty shillings on a forged certificate that his wife had presented him with a baby, but when it came to his bringing in a bogus certificate proving that he was dead, and calling for £20, the society rebelled and had him sent to prison for eighteen months.

THE CITY.

Col. Jerome C. Butler of this city will be a candidate for the democratic nomination for Senator from the 22d (or Newmarket) district, which includes a portion of this city.

The third game between the Rockingham base ball nine of this city and Farragut nine of Rye Beach will be played at the Plains this afternoon, at three o'clock. Barges will leave Market square at two o'clock for the grounds.

A New York dispatch of Friday says: "Schooner Nellie Carr, of Bangor, Capt. Morrisey, from Curacoa for Portsmouth, N. H., foundered Aug. 3d, off Catalina island, between Saona and St. Domingo city. The crew were taken off by a coasting schooner, landed at St. Domingo city, and brought to this port by the steamer Tybee to-day."

On Friday evening the leakage from a can of inflammable oil in Herman W. Oxford's store on Middle street was set on fire by a blazing match and for a few minutes it appeared likely that the fire department would have a job, but by hard work the fire was put out without an alarm being given and without any serious damage being done.

THE VICINITY.

Georgie Pray of Malden, Mass., has created quite a sensation at the Atlantic house, Wells beach, by her remarkable skill with the violin. She is but twelve years of age.

The Grange gathering at the Weirs next week, 27th to 29th inst., will afford good opportunity for a cheap excursion to that beautiful locality—the Concord railroad issuing half-rate tickets for the occasion, good from Aug. 26th to Sept. 2nd.

The drug store of Dr. S. C. Libbey in Saco was broken into Wednesday night, and fifteen dollars in money, a quantity of lead pencils, pocket-books, about four dollars' worth of perfumery, a quantity of cigars and other small articles stolen, the whole amounting in value to about sixty dollars.

Epping has elected the following named gentlemen as delegates to the Republican County Convention: George W. Tilton, Joseph C. Burley, William L. Plummer and William H. Tilton, said to be favorable to Col. Kent for sheriff. Greenland has elected William Brackett and Theodore F. Lowd as delegates to the same convention.

It is gratifying in these days of intimidation, bulldozing, buying votes, etc., to know that our early fathers experienced like troubles. The following entry is copied from the town records of Greenland, bearing date of December, 1778: "N. B. No person will be allowed a seat in the Council or Assembly who previous to the choice or afterwards treat with Liquor to gain votes."

THE FIREMEN'S RECEPTION.

Steamer Hercules, Capt. Oscar Crockett, of Rockland, Me., having on board Gen. Berry hand fire engine of Rockland, Me., and her company of sixty men, Foreman Sidney McIntosh, arrived here from Boston at about seven o'clock Friday evening, the company being on their way home from the firemen's muster at Medford, Mass., which took place on Thursday. Chief Engineer M. P. Smith, of Rockland, Ex-Assist. Engineer W. W. Eimer, and several members of the City Council, and the Singhi Cornet Band, G. T. Meserve leader, were with the company. The Hercules is a new boat, (this being her first trip,) and is apparently a fine one; she came down from Boston in about six hours.

The boat made a landing at Rollins' wharf, where the visiting firemen were received by engine companies number two, three and four of this city in full uniform, accompanied by the Dover Cornet Band and the Board of Engineers, with Chief Engineer Fletcher in charge of the procession, and were escorted to the Kearsarge house, where they took supper. After supper the procession was again formed, the local firemen bearing torches, and marched over the pre-arranged route to the residence of Mayor Sise, when the firemen halted to pay their respects to his honor, who was addressed in behalf of the department by Mr. I. Nelson Goodrich, as follows:

Mr. Mayor: I am requested by the Chief Engineer, officers and members of the fire department to tender you their regards. Knowing the lively interest taken by you in the fire department in former years when connected with the city government, we are assured that we shall receive at your hands all assistance to keep up the department's favorable record; and we assure you that nothing shall be left undone on our part to merit your confidence as executive officer of the city. And now, your honor, allow me to introduce to you Chief Engineer Smith and the members of Gen. Berry fire engine company of Rockland, Me., who are our guests this evening.

Mayor Sise responded briefly and appropriately, complimenting the department on its high state of efficiency, and promising all the aid he could properly render toward its continued improvement, as he considered it an important branch of the public service, and its efforts worthy of generous recognition by the citizens and the authorities. The visiting firemen and officials were then personally introduced to his honor.

The march was then resumed and the rest of the route passed over, the firemen being well received everywhere by the numerous spectators. The procession was headed by a platoon of police, and the arrangements made were carried out to the letter, without a hitch anywhere; as a show the procession was first-rate, and the stalwart State of Maine men attracted marked notice. The visitors did not anticipate any such reception as they received, and very plainly expressed their pleasure at being so agreeably surprised; and at the close of the march Foreman McIntosh in a few well chosen words returned the thanks of himself and his companions to the firemen and citizens of Portsmouth for their unlooked for kindness and attention.

A promenade concert and dance at Franklin hall wound up the evening, and was continued until some time after midnight.

The Gen. Berry's and their band and guests left for home early Saturday morning in the Hercules, proposing to stop at at Portland for dinner, and expecting to reach home home at about eight o'clock in the evening.

MR. GOVE'S PLAN.

Mr. Gove, the greenback candidate for Congress in the 1st Maine district, said at Saco, Tuesday evening, the 20th inst., that the old State banks suspended specie payments ten times. To prevent a recurrence of this misfortune, he proposed to abandon specie payments altogether. The Boston Herald publishes a rhymed parable, illustrating this wise scheme:

LUNATIC LOGIC.

"I have studied this moon question," said a lunatic one day,
"And to make a steadier moonshine I have hit upon a way.
Tis the sun that makes the changes from the big moon to the small,
And sometimes we are forced to go without a moon at all.
Well, then, what can be plainer?—not the nose upon your face!
That the sun should be abolished and a cheese that will make our moonshine steady, with a full moon every night—
I defy the irredeemable currency lunatics of all sorts and kinds wherever found, to prove I am not right!"

"Laugh and Grow Fat."

The ancient bit of advice is well enough for "spare" people, but how about those that are already too fat? What is to become of them? Sit still, and I'll tell you. After many experiments, extending through months of patient investigation and toil, the celebrated analytical chemist, J. C. Allan, has perfected and gives to the World Allan's Anti-Fat. Thus far in several hundred cases this great remedy has never failed to reduce a corpulent person from three to six pounds per week. It is perfectly harmless and positively efficient. Sold by druggists.

The fact of the Business is that Sulphur Baths have become unnecessary since the introduction of GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, because that article answers the same purpose, viz., the removal of eruptions, rheumatism and gout. Sold by all Druggists.

HILL'S HAIR & WHISKER DYE, Black or Brown, 40 cents.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French or English. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers' Block, Rochester, New York. tsept16

Hydrophobia.

A New York physician has said that he would rather be bitten by twenty dogs than by one man, especially when the man was enraged. This he intended not as an expression of hyperbolical disgust, but as a physiological fact. We can hardly see the duty of our lawmakers clear on this point. The chances of being bitten by one enraged person are greater than the chances of being bitten by twenty mad dogs. Must humanity then go muzzled or be liable to a stray shot from a policeman's pistol when it loses its temper? That is the only consistent course, if we go by precedent or general policy. But the line must be drawn somewhere, and we suppose society will continue to show greater consideration for a mean man than for a good dog.—Boston Post.

—Some of the mermaids have had a good drink of tea. A British steamer which put into Singapore in distress recently, threw overboard 22,000 chests of tea, worth $300,000.

—The waiters here at the profile House are all students. College boys and seminary girls answer to the beck and nod in the dining room, and fine waiters they make. A number of the girls in seasons past have made a very strong impression on the hotel guests, and several matrimonial affairs have been the result. Excellent wives they have made, too. And why shouldn't they? A bashful young doctor fell head and ears over in love with the damsel who served his chops and omelettes. He watched her every movement, and looked jealous when another of his sex extracted a smile from her. After he left the hotel he sent a handsome diamond ring to her, and asked her if—if he might marry her. That was the long and short of the letter, and she—very wisely said he might. Charley Greenleaf, the jolly proprietor, says that he will attend their wedding and do the handsome, for the girl was one of his best waiters.—White Mountain letter.

DOCTOR PIERCE'S
ALT. EXT. OR
CURES DISEASES OF THE
THROAT, LUNGS, LIVER & BLOOD
In the wonderful medicine to which the affixed are some directed for relief, the discoverer believes he has combined in harmony more of Nature's sovereign curative properties, which God has bestowed into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick, than were ever before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the great variety of most obstinate diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the Blood. By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, it cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all the diseases caused by vitiated blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.
If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, but taste in the morning, alternate fever or chills attended with hot flushes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from the effects of your "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects permanent cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS AT $1 PER BOTTLE.

PENNSYLVANIA
RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident asserting and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction AND Equipment
THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

INVALIDS' HOTEL.
The very large number of invalid people who daily visit Buffalo, from every quarter of the United States and Canada, that they may consult Dr. R. V. PIERCE, and the widely celebrated Faculty of Specialists in Medicine and Surgery associated with him, rendered it necessary that the founder of this institution should provide a place on a great and commodious scale for their entertainment and comfort.
ADVANTAGES OFFERED.—The Invalids' Hotel is more complete in its appointments than any similar institution in the world. The building is located in one of the most healthful and desirable portions of the City of Buffalo, and commands a fine view of Lake Erie, Niagara River, and the surrounding country, being situated in the midst of an extensive system of beautiful parks. The Hotel is furnished with a patent safety passenger elevator, to convey patients to and from the different floors; it is provided with all kinds of approved baths, and has also connected with it a well-appointed gymnasium and bowling alley to afford proper means of exercise.
CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms, whether requiring medical, surgical, or mechanical treatment, come within the province of our several specialties.
DISEASES OF WOMEN—Especially are the facilities of this infirmary of a superior order as regards the remedial means and appliances for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females. The employment, in moderation, of tonic, chemical, electro-thermal, and other approved baths, is in many cases an invaluable auxiliary to the remedial means to which we rely in such cases. Its relation to the surface, general shampooing, Swedish movements, and light gymnastic exercises, to relieve and equalize the circulation of the blood in the system, relieve congested parts, improve digestion, and strengthen the muscles, produce important beneficial results in all cases to which these means are applicable. No experimenting is resorted to in the treatment. The most approved medicines are carefully employed, and the judicious regulation of the diet, to suit the condition of the patient, the thorough ventilation of the sleeping apartments, the cheering influence of music, social intercourse, innocent games for amusement, and all those agencies which tend to arouse the mind of the patient from despondency, and thus promote recovery, are not neglected.
NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty, by which the greatest skill is attained and the most happy results secured.
LUNG DISEASES.—This division of the practice in the Invalids' Hotel is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases are very largely treated in this department, and with results which have been highly gratifying to both physician and patients.
EYE AND EAR.—Special attention is given to the delicate operations on the eye and ear, a distinguished oculist and aurist being under engagement to conduct this branch of the practice.
Invalids arriving in the city and desiring to consult us, should come directly to the Hotel. It is easily accessible by carriage, omnibus, or street cars. MILLER'S Omnibus Agents, on all incoming trains, can be relied upon to deliver passengers and baggage with security and dispatch.

C. E. MYERS & CO.,

No. 3 BOW STREET.

Daily Chronicle.

A Woman's Folly.

Rumors have just reached Washington of a duel fought in Germany by the husband of a fair American wife and her infatuated lover, who is secretary of the German Legation to the United States. The romance dates back some years. During the war Major-General Lawrence of Rhode Island, an officer who gained some considerable distinction, had a Captain Kingsbury on his staff. This officer was married shortly before the close of the war to a beautiful lady of Chicago, possessed of considerable wealth and of high social position. The captain was killed at Antietam not long after his marriage. It was a piece of army scandal at the time that the general had a very kind eye on the captain's wife, and he married her within a year after her widowhood. The general's father was once Gov. of Rhode Island, and his wife's grandfather was once on the United States Supreme Bench. Some time ago the lady, who was the owner of Kingsbury Hall, Chicago, was notified that Victoria Woodhull was to lecture there. She went to the lessee and ordered the thing stopped. Mrs. Woodhull accordingly went to McCormick Hall and began her lecture on "Free Love," with a frightful personal tirade against Mrs. Lawrence, arraigning her on her ante-marital relations with the General, and snubbing her for her assumed gentility. This was all published at the time and caused great excitement in Chicago. The couple have been for some time in Europe. While there the lady became infatuated with the diplomat in question, and the General called him out. But one shot was fired. The German fired in the air, and the General missed his mark, for which piece of misfortune he was rewarded with the intelligence that Mrs. Lawrence had eloped with her foreign lover.—Baltimore Gazette.

Another account says Mrs. Lawrence is a niece of General Zachary Taylor; that she is a woman of unusual beauty and great wealth. Her husband, who is a son of Hon. Wm. Beach Lawrence, has filed a bill for divorce; his friends indignantly deny that there was any truth in the Woodhull's story of improper relations existing between him and his unfaithful wife previous to their marriage. The man she has gone off with is Von Dennest, formerly secretary of the Belgian Legation.

—A man who is out of town don't feel it half so much as the man who is out of money.

—Lieutenant Zubowich, who two or three years ago rode from Pesth to Paris in a fortnight, is going to England with the mare which he rode on that occasion, and is going to attempt to cross from Dover to Calais upon her back. He has invented an apparatus which will be fastened to the mare's chest, and by means of which he expects to be able to keep her afloat.

—The pigeon of M. Gaspard Hentz, of Aix-la-Chapelle, which won the great match from Rome for which over two thousand birds were tossed up, upon its return from Brussels, to which city it had been sent to be identified beyond dispute, received a reception that was perfectly royal. The whole town was afoot and met the distinguished conqueror at the railroad station. Two police officers in full uniform headed the triumphal procession; then came a rank of drummers and another of fifers, then the Pigeon Flying Society; then a band of music escorting a transparency presented by the colombophiles of Brussels; then a torch-light procession, and at last, in an open barouche, four gentlemen, one of whom bore on his knee a cage of carved wood, in which, calm and proud, was the winner—a superb gray bird.

WILLIAM H. HACKETT, Clerk.

PORTSMOUTH, August 14, 1878.

To the Hon. Judge of Probate

FOR THE COUNTY OF ROCKINGHAM.

RESPECTFULLY represents, Woodward Emery, administrator de bonis non with the will annexed of the estate of William B. Dodge, late of Hampton, in said County, deceased, that the Personal Estate of said deceased is not sufficient to pay the just demands against his estate by the sum of fifty thousand dollars, the petitioner's administration being ancillary to administration in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Wherefore he prays that he may be licensed to sell at public auction so much of the real estate of said deceased as may be sufficient for the payment of said demands.

The Yellow Fever.

There is no abatement in the yellow fever in the smitten cities, nor in the terror it has excited. A dispatch from Grenada, Saturday, says the negroes are falling like sheep; Dr. Veazie and the chairman of the relief committee, Judge Walton, were both prostrated that day, which has had a most disheartening effect on the few well ones left. Canton, Miss., is almost deserted, but 100 people being left out of a population of 2500. At Vicksburg there were 400 cases, with twenty deaths in twenty-four hours, and the disease spreading; both physicians of the Marine Hospital were reported to be dying. The disease was officially declared epidemic at Memphis. The Mayor of Paquemine, La., telegraphed urgently for physicians and nurses, as the fever was raging there. New Orleans reported no abatement of the pestilence.

Naval Affairs.

The U. S. S. Marion, Comdr. Bradford, has been at Villefranche undergoing repairs to her machinery. The repairs were completed about Aug. 15th.

Comdr. Charles C. Carpenter and Lieut. Comdr. Charles H. Rockwell are detached from torpedo instruction at Newport, R. I., Sept. 6th, and placed on waiting orders.

Chief Engineer Thom Williamson was president of the board of engineers appointed to witness the steam trial of the machinery of the U. S. S. Richmond, which took place at Boston Aug. 19th.

Capt. Clark H. Wells has been appointed a member of the board for witnessing the examination of the class of officers under instruction in the use and manufacture of torpedoes at Newport, R. I.

The Army and Navy Journal gives the following statement of the condition of the ships at this yard, as officially reported: "Ticonderoga, ready for sea in September; Kearsarge, ready in October; the Lancaster has been surveyed and recommended to be rebuilt; the Congress, Kansas and Sabine have been recommended to be broken up; the condition of the Omaha is such that it is doubtful if anything can be done with her."

Rear-Admiral John C. Howell has received orders to take command of the North Atlantic squadron on the 1st of September.

Leave of absence has been granted—to Commodore John Guest, commandant of Portsmouth navy-yard, for two weeks from Sept. 2d; to Medical Director S. F. Cones, from the Naval Hospital, New York, for two weeks from Aug. 22d; to Passed Asst. Engr. Charles F. Nagle, from Portsmouth navy-yard for thirty days from Aug. 18th.

By a regulation circular of the Navy Department, it is ordered that on all vessels of war the marine officer in command of the marine guard will occupy the fourth room from forward, on the port side of the ward room.

The Wyoming was towed to Norfolk navy-yard on Thursday. She will be fitted with a new propeller at once.

Scrs and Jerks.

One negro was hung for murder at Union Springs, Ala., Friday, and three more at Bennettsville, S. C. Two of the latter, brothers named Lockleac, were members of the infamous Henry Berry Lowery gang of North Carolina outlaws.

There was some fast trotting on the Charter Oak park at Hartford, Conn., last Friday. Rarus trotted the fastest three heats on record, in 2:15, 2:13 1-2, 2:13 3-4. Edwin Forrest trotted a mile in 2:14 1-2 and 2:16, doing a half-mile in 1:05 1-4, which is the quickest it was ever done; Forrest did not make a record, his trot being only an exhibition one. Hopeful trotted a half-mile in 1:06 1-2. Dexter, the wonderful horse that secured at least $200,000 of "India-rubber advertising" of Bonner's Ledger, is nowhere alongside of these flyers.

Nearly the whole town of Steubenville, Ohio, Thursday night, was out searching for tramps who had outraged an old lady of eighty years, and then partially beheaded her with a hatchet.

New Hampshire Items.

Abraham T. Prescott's carriage shop in Pittsfield was burned Friday night. Cause of fire accidental. Loss $500.

Mount Horeb Commandery of Knights Templar, of Concord, J. Frank Webster E. C., will make a pilgrimage to Boston, Abington and Plymouth on Tuesday, Sept. 3d, returning on Thursday, the 5th. Brown's Cornet Band will accompany them.

Political.

Considering the amazing performances of the democratic conventions in Maine, the Boston Herald says: "We should hardly think the Maine democrats would know where to find themselves when they get up in the morning. At the Congressional convention held in Lewiston, Dr. Garcelon, the candidate for governor, who was chairman, made a speech, pitching into the national banks the worst way. S. Clifford Belcher was then nominated for Congress, but declined, saying that his views were directly opposed to those of the chairman. Notwithstanding this, his nomination was made unanimous by acclamation. Now, the question is: What is democracy in that district?"

Mr. Hendricks takes up the long-ago-exploded democratic declaration that the fourteenth amendment is a complete bar to southern claims. At the same time Congressman John Goode, of Virginia, is assuring his constituents that the claim for William and Mary college will be passed at the next session of Congress; and every secesh paper in the south is busy declaring that the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments were adopted by fraud and are therefore null and void, and that one of the first acts of the democracy when they get full control of the national government will be to declare them so.

The Washington Republican says the democracy in the eighth district of Missouri have a candidate for Congress in the person of "Colonel" J. T. Crisp. It appears as if he was determined to carry his district, and to that end is lavish in promises. He has already declared he will secure $2,800,000 for the construction of four post-office buildings, one custom-house, and one mint, the latter to be constructed at Kansas City, and several river improvements. He has made other and as bounteous promises. It seems to us that this person is altogether too crisp in that line for a Congressman.

The Helena (Ark.) World, a Bourbon journal, holds the following language in relation to the military bull-dozing that is now going on in that State to overcome the acknowledged republican majority: "Helena should furnish to the righteous movements of the democracy now going on at least four companies of cavalry and the battery of artillery which is proposed. The countrymen, old and young, are immersed in the matter, and they are already beginning to ask, why should the city people stay back and leave the work to us? Surely they are equally interested." The Arkansas Staatszeitung says: "This paragraph can only mean that the democrats mean to carry the country by force."

Several years ago Senator Thurman made a speech extolling the democracy and its administration of the government, in which he said: "Then we had a currency of gold and silver, or their equivalent; now we have only rags." A change has occurred in his sentiments since then, which places him in the attitude of an inconsistent trifler, a weathercock, and the latest disciple of the "Ohio idee."

Sea-Monsters.

So many curious things turn up now-a-days, including the devil-fish that is so soon to pay us a visit, we can almost believe Sinbad's tale of the "Old Man of the Sea," especially when well-authenticated stories come to us of the devil-fish, if not so large as our anticipated visitor, mounting upon the backs of swimmers, and requiring to be cut in pieces before the unfortunate ones can be relieved from their hideous burden. The article in the CHRONICLE of Tuesday, referring to the devil-fish and other sea-monsters heretofore imagined to be wholly fabulous—especially that portion relating to a huge creature of a red color, over fifty feet long, seen from the deck of a French ship, when near Teneriffe, in 1861, reminded me of the following extract of a letter (lately received) from a friend, who had been reading upon a kindred subject. "A relative of mine, and one whom I have every reason to credit, once told me that when in the Straits of Malacca, he, and all on board, saw a monstrous fish, of a red color, as large as his ship, asleep on the water. They went within a ship's length of it. On another occasion he saw what seemed a huge turtle, as large as the red monster apparently, which came to the surface so near him that he could see its eyes but which very soon plunged out of sight." Whalemen have often testified to having found in the stomach of whales, portions, eight to ten feet in length, of the arms of the squid or devil-fish, and we shall soon have an opportunity of judging of the correctness of their statements, so far at least as the dimensions of these frightful appendages of the creature are concerned. B.

—He said he rather guessed he knew how to sail a boat, but the gentle zephyrs that kiss the wavelets over his watery grave mournfully whisper, "He luffed not wisely."

—A gambler from Buffalo, N. Y., had a memorable experience a few days ago. He went on board a schooner and shipped for Bay City, Mich., on condition that he should work his passage, but should not be called upon to go aloft. The weather was pleasant and work light, and the men began playing cards in the forecastle. They were soon cleaned out by the gambler. Soon a storm arose, and the captain, rigging a pump through the centre-board box, set the gambler at work pumping the lake up. They kept him at this till they reached Bay City, and then took from him all the money he had won and kicked him ashore.

A Healthy Body and a Clear Head.

If indigestion, constipation and biliousness torment the body, the head cannot be clear. These disorders react upon the brain most hurtfully, and produce a cloudiness in the organ of thought not experienced by a healthy man. Happily these brain-oppressing maladies may be entirely expelled by that peerless alterative, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which cheers, refreshes and invigorates the brain and nerves, while it regulates the organs of digestion, assimilation and bilious secretion. It expels the morbid humors which poison the system through the bowels and urinary passages, and exerts a powerfully invigorating influence as well. Its cathartic action is never irritating, violent or painful, but even, natural and progressive. As an appetizer and sleep promoter the Bitters is unrivalled; it mitigates the infirmities of age, relieves the ailments peculiar to the gentler sex, arrests premature decay, and builds up an enfeebled physique.

"Laugh and Grow Fat."

The ancient bit of advice is well enough for "spare" people, but how about those that are already too fat? What is to become of them? Sit still, and I'll tell you. After many experiments, extending through months of patient investigation and toil, the celebrated analytical chemist, J. C. Allan, has perfected and given to the World Allan's Anti-Fat. Thus far in several hundred cases this great remedy has never failed to reduce a corpulent person from three to six pounds per week. It is perfectly harmless and positively efficient. Sold by druggists.

The fact of the Business is that Sulphur Baths have become unnecessary since the introduction of GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, because that article answers the same purpose, viz., the removal of eruptions, rheumatism and gout. Sold by al Druggists.

THE CITY.

Rev. Charles A. Holbrook, rector of St. John's church, has returned home, and occupied his accustomed place on Sunday.

Mr. A. R. Dickinson, formerly master of the Jones grammar school in this city, has been engaged as principal of the high school at Wayne, Ill.

We have received Nos. 53 to 56, inclusive, of "Zell's Popular Encyclopedia." This new and revised edition will be completed in 64 numbers; price 50 cents per number.

The schooner Nellie Carr, Capt. Morrissey, before reported lost on the voyage from Curacoa for this port, belonged to Portland and was coming here with a cargo of guano.

The Portsmouth delegates to the republican county convention we understand are unanimous for the nomination of Col. Kent as the party's candidate for Sheriff. They should be, anyway, for no better man for the position can be found.

The Boston Post wants to see Hon. Frank Jones nominated for Governor of New Hampshire. If the Post will only wait patiently it will see it; and then, although he would unquestionably be a very strong candidate, it will see him beaten by a still stronger republican one. The republicans won't put up a dummy candidate to run against Frank Jones.

BOARD OF INSTRUCTION.

A special meeting of the Board of Instruction was held last Saturday at nine o'clock A. M.

Present, Mayor Sise, chairman, Mrs. Knight and Mrs. Wilson, Messrs. Locke, Knight, Gardner, May, Hackett, Hoyt, Sherburne, Wendell, Vaughan and Pender.

The committee on examination of teachers reported the result of the competitive examination for the position of master of the Jones grammar school, the two candidates of highest average being J. Marshall Hawkes of Portland, Maine, and Edward Carrington Stimson, of this city, whereupon a ballot was taken and J. Marshall Hawkes received nine votes and Edward C. Stimson three, and Mr. Hawkes was declared elected.

Several applications for schools were received and placed on file.

The resignation of Miss Whittem, teacher in the Jones school, was received and laid on the table, and Miss Whittem was unanimously requested to serve during the next term.

The committee on the subject of salaries recommended that the teachers be paid by the month, and for ten months in the year. The recommendation was adopted.

Miss Flora A. Ham, teacher in the Bartlett school, was transferred to the vacancy in the Franklin school caused by the resignation of Miss Helen L. Philbrook.

Miss Jeannette E. Hoyt, teacher at the Lafayette school, was transferred to fill the vacancy made by the promotion of Miss Ham.

DANIEL LIBBY.

Capt. Daniel Libby, a veteran shipmaster and one of our best known and most highly respected citizens, died Saturday morning at the age of seventy-seven years. He was born in Dover, but came to this city about 1816, when a mere lad, and has made Portsmouth his home ever since. In the days of his youth a large proportion of the young men of Portsmouth who wished to rise in the world by their own exertions aimed to become shipmasters, and he chose the profession of a seaman, following that avocation until compelled by physical infirmities to abandon it. Portsmouth at that time was noted for the number and worth of the master mariners she contributed to the merchant service, as well as for her superior ships, and Mr. Libby was not long in rising to the position of a successful shipmaster, at different times commanding the brig New Hampshire, and the ships Caroline Augusta, Fortitude, and others. He was genial and kind hearted, and from the paternal interest he ever evinced for the seamen under his command was known among them as "Father Libby." The Fortitude we believe was the last ship he ever sailed, and in her he made quite a number of yearly voyages between this city and "foreign ports;" and whenever the word was passed around town that Capt. Libby had got in again a large part of the male population would flock to the wharf to greet the Fortitude and her popular commander. For many years past he has been an invalid; but none the less will he be sadly missed by a circle of friends that includes all who knew the genuine worth of the man.

BASE BALL.

An assembly of some four hundred people, including a goodly sprinkling of ladies, made up a very fashionable and select audience at the Plains Saturday afternoon, it being the occasion of the third, last and "rubber" game between the Rockingham nine of this city and the Farragut nine of Rye beach. The weather was rather cool for spectators, but they maintained their ground with a tenacity that evinced a patriotic devotion to "our national game." The visitors made six runs in the first inning, taking a lead which they maintained up to the eighth inning, compelling the Rockinghams to play another up-hill game (for which Portsmouth clubs have already gained an enviable reputation) until that inning, when the "blues" tied the game amid the wildest delight and waving of their color by the many friends of the club.

As heretofore the colors of the two clubs were everywhere exhibited, the blue predominating, in all shapes from a simple blue ribbon to a full dress; the white, though also liberally shewn, was evidently not so much of a favorite as at the two previous games. There were on the Plains at one time during the game, by actual count, fifty-one carriages.

Of the individual playing for the home nine it may be said that all distinguished themselves either at the bat or in the field. Stimson took the palm in the field, capturing four flies, two of which were very difficult. Wallis' pitching was very effective; he went into the field to pitch on the second inning, which stopped the run-getting of the "whites" to any great extent. Pfeiffer played first without marring his good name as a baseman. Mack, Prescott and Whitcomb did good work, the latter making a splendid and very timely one-handed catch of a hot grounder. Randall made some good plays behind the bat, including a number of hard foul balls. At the bat Wallis, Mack, Whittem, Clough and Randall did good service.

For the visitors Harding, R. Shapleigh and Dorr excelled in the field, while A. Shapleigh, J. Shapleigh and Stevenson wielded the willow to good advantage.

The umpire had some hard decisions to make, but succeeded in filling his difficult position to the satisfaction of all. The following is the score:

THE VICINITY.

Benjamin Gerrish, American consul at Bordeaux, France, is spending a few weeks in Dover, his native place.

A house at Great Works, South Berwick, owned and occupied by Mr. John Wiggin, was burned Friday night. The cause was accidental.

Gen. Lafayette once stopped over night in Biddeford, and the people are so proud of it that they show you eleven different houses where he slept.

The Dover Democrat says "a project has been started to form a joint Agricultural and Mechanical Society, to comprise the counties of Strafford, Rockingham, Belknap and Carroll in New Hampshire, and York county in Maine, and there is excellent prospect of success. It is in the hands of active and energetic men, and the plan is to hold a joint fair of all these counties about the middle of October next for four days, probably in the city of Dover."

Mr. Herbert F. Norris, of Epping, at present representing that town in the Legislature, is spoken of as likely to contest the democratic nomination for Senator from the 22d (Newmarket) district, with Col. J. C. Butler of this city. Another formidable candidate for the democratic nomination is Col. Charles W. Pickering of Greenland. Hon. Emmons B. Philbrick, of Rye, the present Senator from the 1st district, will of course be nominated by the republicans, Rye being now in the 22d district.

C. W. Sanborn, J. M. Godfrey, H. F. Hoyt and George W. Tilton of Epping were elected delegates to the Republican State Convention.

Mr. Alanson Littlefield, of Wells, Me., was thrown from his carriage on Friday evening through the running away of his horse, and struck on his head and arms; both his arms were broken, and when picked up he was dead.

An unfinished house belonging to Mr. Charles W. Junkins, in the Scotland district of York, together with a store and stable, were burned Friday afternoon between two and three o'clock. Loss reported at $6000; partially insured. Cause of the fire unknown.

A man giving the name of Joseph Langdon and his residence as Kittery, was on Thursday evening knocked down and run over by a team driven by Mr. Wm. Chandler of this city, in Dover. Langdon was under the influence of liquor, and attempted to cross the street in the midst of a number of teams going in different directions; and in avoiding one he stepped right in front of Mr. Chandler's team, which was going seven or eight miles an hour. Mr. Chandler immediately stopped, assisted to take the man up, and employed a physician to attend him. Langdon was cared for at the police station during the night.

A SHOWY SHOW.

Van Amburgh's Menagerie in this city, A Successful Day.

At Portsmouth, Sept. 16.

Those old favorites of sixty years experience in the show business have come and gone. We refer to Van Amburgh & Co.'s Menagerie, Circus and Colosseum. Their show here was a decided success. The caged animals are all young, and full of the vigor incident to young blood and early training. The wearied, sleepy look attaching to the animals of most menageries is here wanting, and the low price of admission should attract all admirers of the wonerful, here displayed from all corners of the globe.

We cannot speak too highly of the ring performances, which for variety, extent and classic elegance are before anything of the kind we have ever seen. Signor Sebastian as a bareback rider won the admiration of four thousand spectators. His ease and grace compel the admission that he has never been equalled in shows visiting this city, and we award him the medal.

We have seen powerful men, but never one who, like Hercules Gaffeney, can handle 56-pound balls like marbles.

The womad with the "iron jaw," in the person of Mdlle. Lotta, is a powerful sample of what can be done in that line; we should decidedly object to have those batteries turned upon us in one broadside. The lady riders, Mlles. Lowande and Watson, were well educated in their daring riding, and will have plenty of admirers among the audiences that will visit this big show in other cities.

Mr. John Foster, the clown, entertains you with original witticisms, new and racy—you will miss in him the old stereotyped platitudes so common in the ring.

The wonders of the Egyptian jugglers, of which we read so much in history, are transferred to this arena, in the persons of the Langlois brothers; want of space prevents giving all the details of their amazing performances.

To sum up, it is a real, genuine, old-fashioned circus, where every one is pleased and the managers are gentlemanly to all; and from such observers of men and women and manners it is no small compliment to Watertown to have them say that this city turned out the most orderly, well-behaved audience they have ever met.—Watertown, N. Y., Despatch, Aug 2d, 1878.

The Most Poisonous Gas Known.

It is well known that suffocation by burning charcoal in a closed room is not produced by carbonic acid. Death is caused by the oxide of carbon, which is due to the incomplete oxidation of the charcoal. The oxide of carbon unites with the red globules of the blood, so that one volume of oxide of carbon takes the place of one volume of oxygen; the globules of blood cease to have the normal provision of oxygen, and suffocation ensues. Recent experiments have demonstrated that the poisonous effects of oxide of carbon are much more virulent than was supposed,—that is to say, that a much weaker dilution of this gas in air is fatal. Any man or animal that breathes during half an hour an atmosphere containing 1-779 part of oxide of carbon absorbs a sufficient quantity of this gas to make half the red globules of his blood incapable of absorbing oxygen. If the atmosphere contain merely 1-1449 part of oxide of carbon, one-quarter of the red globules of his blood become incapable of absorbing oxygen. Whenever there is an incomplete combustion oxide of carbon is invariably produced. All cigars, and especially all cigars that burn badly, all pipes, all cigarettes, produce oxide of carbon. The smoker absorbs it; it makes more or less of the red globules of his blood incapable of absorbing oxygen. Narcotic anemia, narcotic cardiacal diseases are probably caused by this absorption of the most poisonous gas known.—Paris Letter.

—Mary had a little lamp,
Twas filled with kerosene,
She blew right down the chimney,
And vanished from the scene.

—When you see a man come into a saloon, place the third button of his vest against the bar, and then turn to the admiring throng with a "Well, boys, what are you going to take? Come up, all of you!" you can bet that he either runs a brewery wagon or is after office.

Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS.
Or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated, Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Multum in Parvo Physic.
The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical, and Pharmaceutical Science. No use of any longer taking the nauseous, repulsive, and nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can, by a careful application of chemical science, extract all the cathartic and other medicinal properties from the most valuable roots and herbs, and concentrate them into a minute Granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes. Each little Purgative Pellet represents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills found for sale in drug-shops. From their wonderful cathartic power, in comparison to their size, people who have not tried these are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect: but such is not at all the case, the different active medicinal principles of which they are composed being so harmonized and modified, one by the others, as to produce a most searching and thorough, yet gently and kindly operating, cathartic.
$500 Reward is hereby offered by the proprietor of these Pellets, to any chemist who, upon analysis, will find in them any calomel or other forms of mercury, mineral poison, or injurious drug.
Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad taste in the mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, High-colored Urine, Unsociability and Gloomy Forebodings, take Dr Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of my Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, I wish to say that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping the sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. Recollect that for all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction to all who use them.
They are sold by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

PENNSYLVANIA
RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction AND Equipment
THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the safety only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,

and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form

WOMAN.
By an immense practice, extending through a period of years, having within that time cured many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and exactness.
To designate this natural specific compound, I have named it
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.
The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon my own personal observation. As a close observer, I have, while witnessing its positive results in the few special diseases incident to the separate organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female system, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, even more, so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not experienced by the time two-thirds of the contents of the bottle are used, I will, on return of the bottle, two-thirds of the medicine having been taken according to directions, and the case being one for which it is recommended, promptly refund the money paid for it. Had I not the most perfect confidence in its virtues, I could not offer it on so broad a condition; but having witnessed its truly miraculous cures in thousands of cases, I feel warranted and perfectly safe in so doing, for both my reputation and my money on its merits.
The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing Down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, Female Weakness, and very many other chronic diseases incident to woman not mentioned here. In all affections of this nature, my Favorite Prescription works cures—the marvel of the world. This medicine I do not extol as a cure-all, but it admirably fulfils a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.
Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, postpaid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

C. E. MYERS & CO.,

No. 3 BOW STREET.

Daily Chronicle.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 24th.

The National Republican of yesterday seems to speak ex cathedra of the Mexican business. It gives the following as the basis of the policy agreed on in cabinet meeting: All raiders are to be pursued till captured and punished, if that desideratum is possible to the small military force available for the protection of our southern frontier. Battle will neither be offered nor declined, and the right of self-defense is inculcated. Our soldiers will remain on Mexican soil no longer than is absolutely necessary to accomplish the one object of their invasion, to-wit: the suppression of further marauding. No collision with Mexican troops south of the Rio Grande in pursuance of this object will necessarily constitute a casus belli; but the crossing of that stream by the latter with hostile intent will very likely be deemed such. Any offense to the Mexican government in the conclusions arrived at as above enumerated, is disavowed, the only purpose being the protection of our citizens in their rights of life and property. Finally, the attention of Congress is to be called to the matter in all its bearings so soon as it shall have convened in December. Notwithstanding the reassuring words and manner of the Mexican minister, the prevalent feeling, unaccompanied by much excitement, is that long years of continued provocation on the one side and of remonstrance on the other, is about to eventuate in war or a strict observance of her international duties by Mexico toward us hereafter.

The occasional recurrence of pestilences like that now decimating southern cities and grimly stalking up the Mississippi to find new centres of radiation in the filthy towns along its bluffs has reduced us to the necessity of abandoning the old theory of retributive visitations of Providence in its most remorseless mood, if we would be consistent in the hygienic measures now almost exclusively relied on by intellectual communities to wholly prevent or largely mitigate their ravages. Modern research has been fatal to the supernatural origin to which all such natural phenomena were once—not very long ago, either—attributed. The priests and religious teachers who now rely on days of fasting and penance to stay the progress of such scourges as yellow fever, find the more intelligent of their flocks disposed to couple their recommendations with the use of the hoe and shovel, copious libations of water, and approved disinfectants. Very few believe that yellow fever would have been known in New Orleans this season had it been subjected to such a purgation as that by which Butler drove it from its lurking places in 1862 and 1863. The sense of comparative immunity and confidence now observed is in marked contrast with the apathetic dread and wide spread consternation that accompanied the invasion of epidemics when they were regarded as the ministers of divine wrath, that would search us out though we were to hide in the bowels of the earth or in the depths of the sea, and any means to check their course by agencies other than those mentioned were denounced as in the highest degree presumptious and impious, nothing short, indeed, of taking up arms against the Deity.

The crude, unassimilated stuff that invited "witnesses" have brought before Hewitt's committee to aid it in getting down to the causes underlying the five years of business prostration and financial distress from which the country is slowly emerging, isn't one whit ahead of that contributed by "Citizen Schwab" and those of that ilk who volunteered their invaluable advice without money or price. While Kearney's nasty billingsgate and ruffian nature, that would make him the vilest of criminals were his courage equal to the promptings of his beastly instincts, have proved so revolting that most of his hearers have turned from him with a feeling of positive abhorence and detestation, his success in getting himself before the public seems to have fired the ambition of thousands in the same direction. They seem about as competent to solve abstruse, social and economic problems as the crowd Thurman is pandering to is to mend our finances; so such an opportunity as will Hewitt has offered them to get into the papers has been seized with avidity.

So far Butler and Potter have the testimony of two of the most unscrupulous liars of the 19th century, and that of a lunatic, upon which to justify Hayes' forcible eviction from the White House and Tilden's installation. The most bitter enemy of that committee couldn't have invented a way more certain than that which has been pursued to sink it fathoms deep with the load of public contempt and derision its managers have earned. KNOX.

The Yellow Fever.

During the week ending Aug. 24th there were 771 cases of fever and 295 deaths, in New Orleans, making a total of 1673 cases and 534 deaths since the pestilence first appeared.

Vicksburg reported a total of 400 cases, with 69 deaths, 20 deaths occurring on Friday.

Memphis had 144 new cases and 53 deaths in six days ending Friday evening.

Affairs at Gronada were on Saturday reported frightful; the dead were being buried anywhere, in fields and even in the streets in front of their houses; the atmosphere was so foul that beef would rot on an hour's exposure to the air. Sunday night's report said 150 fever patients were suffering terribly for want of nursing; piteous appeals for aid were received at New Orleans and Memphis, but could not be granted; several of the Howard Association nurses were prostrated, also two doctors and the postmaster; six whites and four negroes died Saturday night.

At Vicksburg, Sunday, there were 50 new cases and 22 deaths; the city editor of the Herald, and his wife and son, were down with the fever, and his daughter dead. All railroad communication was cut off.

New Orleans had 193 new cases Saturday, and 42 deaths, among the latter being the chief operator of the Western Union Telegraph Company. On Sunday there were 163 new cases and 33 deaths.

Two cases of fever were discovered in Philadelphia Saturday night; both patients were fugitives from Vicksburg.

Jackson, Miss., was reported on Saturday to be still free of fever. The city was being rapidly deserted, however, and the authorities were working hard to keep out the pestilence. Several cases of fever have occurred among the refugees from the city.

News and Notes.

It is rumored that the wife and children of John E. Leete, the unfortunate witness before the Potter committee, and who is now in the Bloomingdale insane asylum, have died at New Orleans of yellow fever.

The Buffalo Express very pertinently asks: Can these be hard times—can a country be very "hard up"—which consumes 50,000,000 gallons of whiskey, 10,000,000 barrels of beer, and 2,000,000,000 cigars in a single year?

A New England firemen's muster will be held at Riverside Park, Hudson, Mass., on Friday, Sept. 13, open to all hand engines in the New England States.

They have had a great blast at Glendon furnace limestone quarries, near Easton, Pa., 12,000 pounds of powder, lightly tamped and covered with 6,000 kegs of sand and with blocks of limestone, being exploded. No more noise was heard than the noise a two-horse waggon would make running over a road. It had been estimated that if 60,000 tons were broken the effort would pay, but it is now thought that 100,000 tons of rock were moved.

A man named George Beele was taken from the officers at Shelbyville, Tenn., Thursday night, while on his way to jail, by about 200 ku-klux, carried three miles from town and hanged. He had ravished a woman.

We have received the September number of the Sanitarian, the organ of the American Medico-Legal Society, containing valuable articles on sanitary matters, as usual. Published by A. N. Bell, No. 48 Lafayette Place, New York; $3 per year; single number thirty cents.

The struggles of a lady who had been carried out by the undertow at Rockaway beach attracted the attention of J. H. Rapp on Thursday afternoon, and he went to her assistance. He had considerable difficulty in bringing the lady ashore, and when he had done so he learned that his own wife had also been carried out. Rapp plunged into the water again, and swimming to where his wife was he found that she was nearly unconscious. He succeeded in saving her also.

The effect of a balloon descent was tried on a camp meeting near Cincinnati lately. The balloon came sailing down in the middle of prayer, like an answer from above, but it effectually broke up the meeting. As the aeronaut had ballast left, some of the people wanted him to give an ascension exhibition; but the expostulations of the preacher to please not to turn the camp-meeting into a circus prevailed.

The coin balance in the Treasury at the close of business Saturday was $235,589,000, showing an increase of $28,382,000 since the close of business on the 31st of July. The currency balance was $4,539,000 an increase of nearly $3,000,000 during the same period.

A. S. Barnes & Co., of New York, are about to publish a little book on international exhibitions, uniform in style with Walker's "Our World's Fair, 1876," containing some valuable criticisms upon as well as interesting descriptions of the appearance, management, and probable success of the exhibition at Paris, by Charles Gindriez, a French architect of note. The value of the book will be increased by the addition of Prof. J. Morgan Hart's review of the Vienna Exhibition, and suggestions to the Centennial Commission, which appeared in the International Review, January, 1875.

Revenue officers Phillips, Pippin and Smith were wounded during a battle with Tennessee moonshiners Friday night.

A most complicated and curious question has been submitted to the First Comptroller for adjudication. It rises out of the payment of a claim to one of two persons of the same name, one an Alexander Anderson of Amelia county, Va., the other an Alexander Anderson of Augusta county, Va. Both claims were for about the same amounts and both for propery destroyed in the late war. The claim of one was disallowed, but by mistake he was paid instead of the other. The former went into bankruptcy before the mistake was discovered, and the question now is how to satisfy Anderson No. 2.

Dr. E. de Pressense, late member of the French Assembly at Versailles, will give the French view of the political, social, and ecclesiastical situation in Europe and the verdict of the Congress at Berlin, in the September-October number of the International Review. Aside from his personal qualification as a writer and student of political history, the view from this standpoint has not before been presented and possesses great general interest.

Mr. Philbrick's Record.

A casually expressed opinion in the Chronicle that the republicans of the 22d senatorial district will "of course" nominate the present senator from the 1st district, calls the following from a correspondent:

Mr. Editor: On looking over the proceedings of the legislature just closed we are somewhat surprised at the importance of the position filled by the senator from district No. 1. He being the only senator whose chief interest is in agriculture, it devolved on him to defend that interest, an interest which is really at the foundation of all success and prosperity in any State, but especially in New Hampshire. And on looking over the record we find that he was ever ready by word and vote to stand by the interests of the farmer and laborer, and that to his earnest efforts are they indebted for the defeat of several bills that would have borne with unjust weight upon their interest.

A strong determination was manifest on the part of the Senate to protect the interests of the various corporations, even to the detriment of individuals of moderate means. This will become apparent by inspecting some of the bills presented, with the vote thereon.

A bill came from the House to tax a part of the surplus of the N. H. Fire Ins. Co. Mr. Philbrick strongly favored this bill, but it was defeated in the Senate, he with one other senator being in favor of the bill. Now this company has been doing business eight years, and has paid its stockholders eight per cent or more all the time, and has made a surplus of more than $200,000; this is invested in good paying funds and is well able to bear a small tax, but must continue to be excused from all tax, although it has probably been earned with less labor than any similar sum in the State of New Hampshire.

Then on the other hand came a bill to tax wood, lumber, etc. Mr. Philbrick called the attention of the Senate to the fact that under our present statute wood and lumber in excess of $50 is now taxed, and that this act must necessarily tax the balance, which in most cases would be the fuel for one year and the little lumber needful to keep a set of buildings in repair.

Another bill passed the House, taxing household furniture in excess of $1000; this would bear directly on the laboring population in our manufacturing villages, as every person keeping a boarding house would be liable to an increased tax, and must therefore increase the price of board.

Another bill passed the Senate taxing hay and crops on hand the 1st day of April. Every farmer will see the bearing of this act without discussion. Mr. Philbrick stood almost alone in opposition to these obnoxious measures, and succeeded in defeating them.

This shows the importance of sending men to the legislature that are alive to the interests of their constituents, and that will stand for their rights against a strong opposition. It is not to be wondered at that when a majority of the senators are deeply interested in corporations that the interests of corporations should be carefully looked after.

In conversation with Mr. Philbrick I learn that there was one matter that gave him considerable anxiety; it was in regard to the ten-hour law for mill operatives. He has ever been of the opinion that ten hours was the proper time for a day's work, but when it came up for action it was shown that the manufacturing interest was greatly depressed, and as no indication reached him from any of his constituents that they desired a change, he reluctantly gave his consent for the matter to go over for a year. Political.

A New York paper says that Dana, of the New York Sun, declined accepting the so-called workingmen's nomination for mayor of that city on ascertaining that the chairman of the workingmen's committee lived on the top floor of a tenement house in two rooms; that he did no work, but read political newspapers, while his wife and daughter struggled with a sewing machine night and day to earn bread for themselves and this "workingman."

Attorney-General Woodford cautions the thousands of foreigners in New York city who have been voting on fraudulent naturalization papers that they must take out legitimate papers, or they will be arrested at the polls. The fraudulent papers referred to are the ones that were issued by tens of thousands by the democratic courts presided over by Barnard and McCunn, during the Grant-Seymour campaign.

THE CITY.

Mr. Gardner J. Greenleaf is spoken of as the probable greenback candidate for State senator in the Portsmouth senatorial district.

We regret to learn that the mother of Mr. L. V. Newell of this city died on Saturday, at her home in Gilmanton, at the advanced age of 88 years.

Vesper services re-commence at the Unitarian church next Sunday, and contributions will be taken up morning and evening in aid of the yellow fever sufferers of the south.

Howe Call, Esq., of this city, is stumping the first Congressional district of Maine in company with Mr. Gove, the greenback candidate for Congress, and spoke at York on Saturday evening.

Engineer William H. Warren of the U. S. Revenue Marine service, now stationed at Newport, R. I., is spending a few days in this city, accompanied by his wife, who is a native of Portsmouth.

The Heavy Artillery went into camp at Rye Beach Monday evening. They marched from their armory to Cass street, where they took carriages for the beach. They intend to spend a week in camp.

Among the foreign shipping items, brought by steamship Baltic, at New York last week from Liverpool, is the following despatch from Lloyd's agents at London under date of Aug. 13th, in answer to a dispatch from Liverpool asking if the London Lloyd's knew anything of the reported abandonment of ship Kate Kellock, Capt. Chas. C. Ricker: "Kate Kellock not abandoned. No further information has been received."

Mrs. George Everett Avery, of West Lynn, Mass., was taken to the insane asylum at Danvers last week. Mrs. Avery is a native of this city, her maiden name being Alice A. Stevens, and she was married to Avery in 1861. Her insanity is said to have been caused by the bad conduct of her husband, who has for several years been travelling about as an expounder of "Everettism," as he terms certain so-called spiritual manifestations; and as is alleged he entirely deserted his wife for the companionship of a woman who travelled with him to do the throwing of "spiritual bouquets" and other like business of the show, the wife living with Avery's father and mother. Recently Avery gave an exposition of "Everettism" in Lynn, and wrote to his parents to call on him; being told that his wife's mind was becoming unsettled he called at his home, and on her advancing to meet him rudely repulsed her, since which time she has become a hopeless maniac.

THE VICINITY.

Mr. Charles A. Grant, landlord of Sea Cottage at York beach, has been presented by his guests with a fine and complete set of silver table-ware, in token of their esteem for him.

The Atlantic house, Wells beach, was visited by Deputy Sheriffs Grant and Durgin of Saco, Friday, and a small quantity of lager seized. The proprietor was arraigned before Justice Hawley, of Kennebunk, found guilty, and fined.

The republicans of Greenland have chosen delegates to the various conventions, as follows: State, John E. Holmes, S. F. Loud; Senatorial, S. A. Hatch, John P. Weeks; Councillor, Herbert C. Taft, W. H. Brackett; County, S. F. Loud, W. H. Brackett; Congressional, to be filled.

In Greenland the heirs of Joshua W. Pierce head the tax list with a tax bill of $370.69; heirs of Dea. William Weeks, $174.46; heirs of William F. Parrott, $105.38; Nathaniel Wiggin (for March place) $132.02; heirs of John Weeks, $113.05; Edwin A. Peterson, $102.06; John S. H. Frink, $97.96; Moses Mann, $96.98; Edwin and John Pickering, $95.84; heirs of Thomas Pickering, $70.85. The rate of taxation, including the highway tax, is $1.60 on every hundred dollars.

A lad thirteen years old, named John P. Haven, who was boarding in Newington, created quite a stir in that usually quiet town on Saturday. He started out in the afternoon, ostensibly to pick berries; and not returning at the expected time search was made for him, and kept up throughout Saturday night and part of Sunday, a large number of men joining in the hunt. About noon on Sunday the search was given up, word having been received from Dover that the boy was there; he was found on the street there at eleven o'clock Saturday night, and cared for by the police, he having walked to that city from Newington. He arrived home Sunday evening, all right.

A correspondent of a New York paper, writing from the Isles of Shoals, says: "Casting all romance aside—for I never visited a place where there was less of it—there is much to be said in favor of this retreat. Were I to mention the names I find on the hotel register here, the list would include many of the oldest Boston families. Beacon street, Commonwealth avenue and Clarendon street are well represented, and while one hears now and then a little too much about self-proclaimed 'people of culture,' there is much real refinement among the guests of this place. It is certain that this is the last place in the world where the 'shoddy' element, which is so well known at many of our New York watering places, would come. Except in the parlors in the evenings there is no display of dress. A morning suit serves for breakfast and the forenoon. It is generally of some light colored woolen material, tightly fitting, but made without noticeable trimming. At dinner many of the ladies appear in silk costumes, but no one is overdressed, and jewels are worn with scrupulous moderation."

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, Aug. 26; Batchelder, J.

The continued case of John Murphy, charged with an aggravated assault on Eugene Coffey, was called up, and Coffey, who had been confined to his house since the assault, appeared and testified. The case was sent to the Supreme Court, and Murphy ordered to give bonds in $300 for his appearance at the term to be holden in this city in October. The defendant in this case is not the young man of the same name who lives with his father on Hunking street, and who we are assured has for a good while past conducted himself as becomes a good citizen; the one concerned in this case resides at the Creek.

Jennie Parks and George Elliott, drunks, $9.90 each.

TO-DAY'S SHOW.

Concerning Coup's Equescurriculum, which has been exhibiting in Portland, the Advertiser of that city says: "We might occupy a great deal of space in detailing the excellence of this entertainment but it would be unnecessary. The manager fully keeps the promises of his advertisements. Some of the features are unapproachable, as for instance, the Broncho horses, ten in number. This feature of the exhibition is alone worth the price of admission. Another matter that commends itself to all respectable people is the freedom from all annoyances like candy peddlers, gift-concert and clown's song-book agents. In a word it is a nice, clean show, deserving the patronaga of the ladies and gentlemen. The meteoric fire balloon is a very attractive close to the evening entertainment." The Equescurriculum exhibits in this city to-day.

VAN AMBURGH'S BIG SHOW.

At Portsmouth, Sept. 16.

In our last evening's issue, we briefly mentioned the grand entry and parade of Van Amburgh's big menagerie and circus which drew crowds of spectatoes, and the afternoon exhibition which drew an immense audience and gave universal satisfaction. We visited the show last evening, and under the escort of the genial and obliging press agent, Mr. W. C. Boyd, obtained all the information we required.

The canvas is immense, both for menagerie and circus, and including the boarding tents, stables and side-shows made a large-sized canvas village. The menagerie is composed of rare beasts and birds of a superior quality and in an excellent condition, and fully substantiate the statement of the management respecting them. Among them is the largest elephant we ever saw,—13 years old, nine feet ten inches in height, and weighs several thousand pounds; hippopotamus, lions, tigers, leopards, adox, zebra, kangaroo, rhinoceres, weighing 2,200 pounds, a cage of monkeys, rare birds and other novelties.

The great attraction, however, was the circus. The audience was nearly as large as in the afternoon. All the acts advertised were performed to the letter. After the usual grand entree, which made a brilliant spectacle, little Charlie Watson performed some difficult but graceful contortion feats. Then Fred Watson appeared in a principal equestrian act, which was especially fine. The iron-jaw act by Madame Lotta made a great sensation. In her jaw she lifted a barrel of water, and held a rope with her teeth which hoisted her form to the top of the tent; and performed other astonishing feats. The hurdle act by Wm. Ducrow—which was a fine exhibition of English jockey riding—surpassed anything of the kind ever attempted here, and received the enthusiastic applause of the audience. The Langlois Brothers performed some marvelous juggling feats, comical and wonderful. A principal riding act by M'lle Clarinda was excellent; and a hurdle act by the boy wonder, Charles Watson, was very fine. The cannon ball act by Hercules Gaffeney, who handles 56 lb. balls like marbles, was a thrilling feat of trained muscles. Signor Sebastian, the world-renowned bareback rider, performed a magnificent act, which won immense applause. A marvel of skill and patient training was shown in the act with magic barrel and table by Harry Lamkins. The performance of the trick mules also delighted the audience. There were other acts of merit, which we have not space to mention. Mr. John Foster, the clown, is a clever jester, and his witticisms are quite original. The managers claim the ring show to be superior, and this claim they made good. It is, without exception, the best circus that has exhibited here for three or four years; and the Van Amburgh show may be sure of large audiences every time it visits St. Albans, so long as it maintains its present high standard of excellence.—St. Albans (Vt.) Messenger.

"Laugh and Grow Fat."

The ancient bit of advice is well enough for "spare" people, but how about those that are already too fat? What is to become of them? Sit still, and I'll tell you. After many experiments, extending through months of patient investigation and toil, the celebrated analytical chemist, J. C. Allan, has perfected and given to the World Allan's Anti-Fat. Thus far in several hundred cases this great remedy has never failed to reduce a corpulent person from three to six pounds per week. It is perfectly harmless and positively efficient. Sold by druggists.

The fact of the Business is that Sulphur Baths have become unnecessary since the introduction of GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, because that article answers the same purpose, viz., the removal of eruptions, rheumatism and gout. Sold by al Druggists.

HILL'S HAIR & WHISKER DYE, Black or Brown, 50 cents.

Adamson's Botanic Balsam has gained a reputation which places it in the front ranks of curative agents. It has been in the market about four years. It is now recommended by the best physicians because it cures every time. Price 35 cts.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French or English. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers' Block, Rochester, New York. tsept16

Conveniently near the prominent business houses, all places of public interest and resort, and in the very heart of the best resident portion of the city, for good living, good treatment, and quiet comfort, the Colonnade Hotel, on Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, can be conscientiously recommended.

The majority of Wall street houses and men are as honest as their neighbors, and many of them have a world wide reputation for soundness and honesty. The old house of Alex. Frothingham & Co., Brokers, 12 Wall st., N.Y., is entitled to absolute confidence. They state that an investment of about $100 made recently returned over $1,000 in less than 60 days. Send for their circular, free. 13

More than Her Share.

A few years since, while a visitor at Dover was standing with a friend upon the piazza of his dwelling, the latter said to him, referring to his next-door neighbor who could be seen in her garden, "that lady has had four husbands;" and before the other could express his surprise, that, not having even reached middle age, she should have equalled the woman of Samaria in the number of her spouses, he added, "and they are all living and she lives with them all." The story was "a very pretty one as it stood," like the quarrel of Bob Acres in the play, so much so that the visitor, though fully understanding it, on his way to New York, at once set it afloat upon the ocean of newspaper literature, and it not only travelled the length and breadth of our own land, but crossed the ocean, and was cited abroad as a remarkable instance of matrimonial depravity in Yankee town. The subsequent explanation of the mystery was that the lady bore the name of Husband, and that besides being a wife, she was the mother of four children, and thus would truly be said to be the possessor of "five Husbands" and "living with them all at the same time." B.

—The Bishop of St. Albans in consecrating an addition to a churchyard recently, took occasion to condemn strongly the system of cremation. He believed that the religious feelings of the people of this country would be terribly shocked by the adoption of any other mode of disposing of the dead than that to which they had been so long accustomed. In this restless age nothing was considered sacred, but he trusted that the new-fangled doctrine of cremation would never be approved by a religious people.

Or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated, Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Multum in Parvo Physic.

The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical, and Pharmaceutical Science. No use of any longer taking the large, repulsive, and nauseous pills, composed of pulpy, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can, by a careful application of chemical science, extract all the cathartic and other medicinal properties from the most valuable roots and herbs, and concentrate them into a minute Granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes. Each little Purgative Pellet represents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills found for sale in drug-shops. From their wonderful cathartic power, in comparison to their size, people who have not tried them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect: but such is not at all the case, the different active medicinal principles of which they are composed being so harmonized and modified, one by the others, as to produce a most searching and thorough, yet gently and kindly operating, cathartic.

$500 Reward is hereby offered by the proprietor of these Pellets, to any chemist who, upon analysis, will find in them any calomel or other forms of mercury, mineral poison, or injurious drug.

Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulder, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad taste in the mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Blotted feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, High-colored Urine, Unsociability and Gloomy Forebodings, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of my Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, I wish to say that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sensitive impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh, and reliable. In regard to the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes, I recollect that for all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction to all who use them.

They are sold by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

Construction AND Equipment
THE

stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,

WOMAN.
By an immense practice, extending through a period of years, having within that time treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that never fails to accomplish the result for which it is intended, in the positive certainty and exactness.
To designate this natural specific compound, I have named it
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.
The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon my own personal observation. As a close observer, I have, while witnessing its positive results in the few special diseases incident to the separate organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female system, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, even more, so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not experienced by the time two-thirds of the contents of the bottle are used, I will, on return of the bottle, two-thirds of the medicine having been taken according to directions, and the case being one for which I recommend it, promptly refund the money paid for it. Had I not the most perfect confidence in its virtues, I could not offer it as I do under those conditions; but having witnessed its truly marvellous cures in thousands of cases, I feel warranted and perfectly safe in risking both my reputation and my money on its merits.
The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Menstrual Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing Down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, Female Weakness, and very many other chronic diseases incident to woman not mentioned here. In all affections of this nature, my Favorite Prescription works cures—the marvel of the world. This medicine I do not extol as a cure-all, but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.
Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

Boys Wanted in the Navy.

Secretary of the Navy Thompson has issued a circular relating to the enlistment of boys in the United States naval service. Boys between sixteen and seventeen years of age are wanted, and these boys will be sent on board of suitable vessels and trained for the naval service. It is expected that each applicant will be sound and healthy, and (unless particularly intelligent) able to read and write. Each boy presenting himself for enlistment must be accompanied by his father, mother or guardian when possible. The engagement to continue in service is to last until the boy is twenty-one years of age, and he will be allowed $10.50 per month and one ration. In enlisting, preference will be given the sons of old sailors and soldiers.

A Cure for Asthma.

Prof. See recently reada paper to the Paris Academy of Medicine, in which he expresses himself favorably concerning the efficacy of iodide of potassium and iodide ethyl in the treatment of asthma. He dissolves ten grammes of iodide of potassium in two hundred of wine or water, and gives before each meal, twice a day, a dessert-spoonful (eight or nine grammes), so that the patient takes daily sixteen or eighteen grammes of the solution, or 1.8 grammes of the iodide. After some days this quantity is gradually doubled. The same doses may be taken in syrup of orange peel. If the patient become disgusted with the taste, he may take the iodide in wafers.

There is no definite time for duration of the treatment, but generally at the end of two or three weeks, when the attacks are mitigated or abloished, the dose may be diminished to a gramme and a half per diem. From time to time the treatment may be interrupted for a day, but a longer interruption may cause a relapse. In one case a patient who had been cured for a year, having given up the iodide for four days was again attacked.

Any accompanying cough may be relieved by the addition of a little extract of opium or syrup of poppies; while, when there is not much cough or catarrh, two or three grammes of chloral given in the evening assist in diminishing the dyspnæ. The general result is a cure takes place in all cases, even when the patients placed amid atmospheric conditions which are habitually injurious. No precaution has to be taken as regards hygiene or regimen, and the use of coffee and tobacco has not seemed to be injurious.

—Somebody has discovered that whenever the grain is cut and hauled in, the tramp makes his appearance on the stubble and demands work or bread.

—"The man who laughs" strikes an upgrade when, upon escorting a charming young lady to a public entertainment, the crushing discovery pounces down upon him in front of the ticket window that he has left his pocket-book in his other pants.

—In 1850, when the tide of political passion was still running very high, Bismarck went one day into a tavern at Berlin to take a glass of beer. A man near him began to abuse a member of the royal family. Bismarck looked at him, and said quietly, "If you have not left this room before I have finished my beer I'll break this pot over your head." He then emptied his glass very deliberately, and as the man took no heed of the warning, he did as he had threatened. He walked away leisurely, without any one dared to molest him.

—The Hawkeye says: "Last week the proprietor of a soda fountain cancelled our annual pass. We do not regret it. On the contrary, we are rather glad of it, because a conscientious regard for the public safety and a fine sense of our duty in such matters was just impelling us to say that soda is composed of sawdust, gravel, old glue, aqua fortis, leather chips, tanbark, iron filings, marble dust, sand, river water, red ink, orange peel, yellow soap, syrup of rhubarb, ammonia, fusel oil, hoof paring, scrap iron, soot, lard oil, lamp black, boiled tallow and India turnip."

—An absent-minded farmer of Hyde Park, Vt., drove down to the village the other evening with his wife, and, leaving her at a neighbor's, discussed politics in one of the stores till ten o'clock. Then he drove home, put up his horse and went to bed, concluding, as his wife was not in her usual place, that she might have been called out to watch with a sick neighbor. Just as he was dropping off to sleep, however, he recollected where he had left her, and rising hastily, he harnessed the horse and started after her. She had got tired of waiting for him, however, and started to walk home, so that he did not have to drive far. He had no trouble to tell where she was for the rest of that night.

—Card playing has proved in the case of M. Jacotine, a French Senator and jurist, as in the case of so many others, a very terrible pastime. For the purpose no doubt of lending interest to the game, money was staked, and when he saw his partner turn up a winning card he dropped an addition to his original stake from money which he kept concealed in his sleeve. Somehow or other he was suspected of unfair dealing, and a major and two other officers appointed to watch him detected the trick and publicly denounced him. He prayed for mercy, but was expelled from the club, has now resigned his Senatorship, and a Disciplinary Committee is enquiring into his fitness to remain a judge.

The Yellow Fever.

Monday night's despatches from the infected region report the fever raging and spreading, the doctors and nurses worn out, and the terror increasing. Memphis had a hundred new cases and twenty-six deaths; two of the practising physicians were dead, and five sick, and the disease had broken out in two of the camps outside the city.

New Orleans reported 2159 cases up to Monday noon, and 653 deaths. City editor Shearer, of the Times, died Monday; new cases 125; deaths 44.

Grenada continued sending out urgent calls for more nurses; the Howard Association of New Orleans sent a doctor and four nurses, and authorized the authorities of Grenada to draw on the Association for all needed supplies.

One death occurred at Pittsburg, Pa., Monday evening, of a man from a southern city, and an unknown tramp died near Camden, N. J., Sunday, both of the yellow fever.

The Grand Dictator of the Knights of Honor of Ohio asks all subordinate lodges to at once render all possible aid to their suffering brethren in the yellow fever districts out of the general fund now in the treasuries.

Generous subscriptions in aid of the suffering districts are being made in all the large cities of the north and east; but vast sums are needed.

Tuesday night's despatches from Vicksburg announced 600 new cases under treatment, the plague spreading with fearful rapidity, and great suffering and destitution among the poor. Twenty-three deaths had occurred since the last previous report.

New Orleans reported 194 new cases and 49 deaths Tuesday.

News and Notes.

The fat men's clam-bake at South Norwalk, Conn., was attended by about 1500 persons, and the heaviest man present was Willard Perkins of Waterbury, who weighs 395 pounds.

Arthur Butler, four years old, was shot in the eye at Millbury, Mass., Saturday, by an older brother, who found an old pistol in a trunk. The child may die.

John H. Reilley has been arrested for forging names to his bond as tax collector of Cass township, Penn.

Horatio W. Tripp, a New Bedford carriage maker of respectable connections, has been arrested on the charge of having committed numerous robberies of horses, carriages, harnesses, etc., from stables in that vicinity since last February.

Frank Meeker, Frank Osden and Charles Tryon of Westfield, Mass., young sons of well-known citizens, and the latter a store clerk, left home secretly Sunday evening. Their object is unknown. All had good homes. Dime novels, or "The Boys of New York," is no doubt what's the matter with that crowd.

The Boston Post of Tuesday says: "There is no foundation for the despatch from Portsmouth to the effect that Dennis Kearney is expected to speak at the Salisbury beach gathering. He has not been and will not be invited."

Sloop yacht Zephyr capsized Sunday morning off Sheepshead bay, near New York, and the captain and four other persons were drowned. Two of the party escaped with their lives.

Henry McLean, a farmer of Sandlake, N. Y., was in Albany and saw a Miss Parker looking out of a window. Entering the house he told the lady, whom he had never seen before, that he was in search of a wife, and asked her if she would marry him. She said she would, and the two went off in a carriage and returned in twenty minutes with a marriage certificate. The groom is fifty years old, and the bride twenty-five.

A San Francisco special says: Beecher's first lecture here has drawn down the wrath of Kearney's sand-lot followers. They had a monster out-door meeting on Saturday in Oakland, and the sand-lot orators are loud in their denunciations against Brooklyn's divine. Their remarks were of the most violent character, and yesterday their speakers were equally fierce in their attacks. Beecher's lecturing tour on the Pacific coast will no doubt be a financial success.

The boiler on the sloop Northern Light, engaged in the sub-marine blasting of the Penobscot river, Me., burst Monday afternoon. George Matthews of Portland, the engineer, was thrown into a vessel a distance of thirty feet. He was badly burned over his entire person, and seriously bruised. His injuries are probably fatal.

Daniel Primus, who was indicted in 1867, with two others, for the murder of William Gardner, in Charlestown, Washington county, Pa., and was arrested in Middleboro, Mass., last June, has been convicted of manslaughter in Washington county, and sentenced to the State Prison for fifteen years.

Judge John A. Iuglis, Chief Judge of the Orphans' Court of Baltimore, died Monday morning, aged sixty-five years. He was a native of Baltimore, but removed to South Carolina and occupied important positions on the bench in that State. He was president of the State convention, and drafted the ordinance of secession. After the war he returned to his native city.

Gustavas S. Foss, of Springfield, Ohio, has failed; liabilities, $217,000; assets, nothing.

The trustees of Cooperstown, N. Y., have called a public meeting for the appointment of a vigilance committee to rid the place of the crowd of dangerous tramps.

At Princeton, Ky., Monday, J. W. Riggs and J. M. Luttrell were on trial for horse stealing. Making an attempt to escape from the court, they were both shot dead.

The Norwegian bark Constantia, from Hull, has landed at St. John, N. B., the officers and crew of the barque Neversink, of Newcastle, Me., which foundered at sea, August 20th. The Neversink was bound from Cow Bay to New York, coal-laden, and sailed on the morning of the 19th. That day a furious gale sprang up and the vessel began to leak. Early next morning the crew abandoned her and took to the boats, in which they drifted forty hours, suffering considerably from exposure and want of provisions. They were finally picked up by the Constantia. The Neversink sank five minutes after she was abandoned.

New Hampshire Items.

George H. Sanborn, who was arrested at Laconia Saturday night for stabbing E. J. Hurley, has confessed his guilt, and was on Monday sent to jail in default of bail, to await trial in September.

Edward P. Dyball, a notorious character at Canterbury, who escaped conviction some time ago for a murderous assault on his wife, has again been arrested on a similar charge and is likely to get his deserts. The accounts of his cruelty and ill-temper, both to his family and the domestic animals which served him, are incredible.

The following figures compiled from the recent report of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction will be of interest, as showing the educational facilities of the State provided at the public expense; Whole number of different public schools 2560; town and district high schools, 49; graded schools, 485; number of schoolhouses, 2251; number unfit for use, 300; total number of scholars enrolled, 66,083; average daily attendance, 47,884; value of school buildings, furniture and sites, $2,309,425; total annual expenditure for teachers, etc., $636,654.98.

Can the Truth Overtake a Lie?

Investigation discloses the fact that the lady reported in the Associated Press dispatches, about Aug. 10th, to have died in Chicago after two weeks' use of some reputed remedy for corpulency, had not taken Allan's Anti-Fat, but had used a preparation put up by a regular physician in Luzerne, Pa. Allan's Anti-Fat is manufactured in Buffalo, N. Y., by the undersigned. We have already sold over 100,000 bottles of it. It has therefore been taken by thousands, and we challenge proof that it has ever harmed anybody, unless the reduction of obese persons from twenty to sixty pounds, leaving them healthy and strong, is considered a misfortune. Furthermore, we hereby offer $5000 reward for evidence showing that it contains poisonous or injurious ingredients. We also offer $5000 if we cannot prove that it has reduced numbers of persons as stated herein, and always without injury. It is said a lie will outrevel the truth any time; but we trust that those newspapers that have misled the public by saying that physicians attributed the lady's death to the use of Anti-Fat (which is only put up by us, the term "Anti-Fat" being our trade-mark), will correct the false impression they have conveyed, by publishing this refutation. BOTANIC MEDICINE CO.,
Buffalo, N. Y.

The Hartford Courant has the following from Wallingford, Conn.: "Lamb & Conkling, undertakers of Middletown, presented a heavy bill to the selectmen for expenses incurred in burying the victims of the cyclone. Among the charges was one of $54 for eighteen business wagons used as hearses. As said wagons were furnished and driven by citizens, it was not thought best to pay the bill."

A Tried Remedy for Biliousness.

Those who suffer from disorder or inaction of the liver will never get the upper hand of the unruly organ so long as they use such irrational remedies as blue pill, calomel and podophyllin. But from the tried and popular medicine, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, they may expect relief with a certainty of obtaining it. The influence of the bitters upon the great biliary gland is direct, powerful and speedily felt. The relief afforded is not spasmodic, but complete and permanent. The sallowness of the skin, furred appearance of the tongue, indigestion, costiveness, headache, nausea, pains through the right side and shoulder, in fact every accompaniment of the obstinate complaint are entirely and promptly removed by a course of this inestimable medicine, in behalf of which testimony is constantly emanating from every quarter and from all classes of society.

Fat People Made Lean.

Physicians and physiologists have long "scratched their heads" and "burned the midnight oil," seeking to devise some means whereby excessive corpulency might be successfully reduced or controlled. Until recently all "theories," "special directions," and "remedies," have failed. But at last the problem is solved. Allan's Anti-Fat will surely and positively reduce flesh at from three to six pounds per week. No medicine or combination of medicines has ever been discovered that would produce such wonderful results, and at the same time improve the general health. Sold by druggists.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French or English. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers' Block, Rochester, New York. tsept16

The Charity Hospital at New Orleans enjoys deservedly a world-wide reputation as being one of the best managed institutions for the relief of the ills of suffering mankind. In the present afflicted condition of the Crescent City it seems providential that its existence has been maintained during many years of political and financial distress by the liberal gratuities received through the famous Louisiana State Lottery Company. The drawings of this institution take place monthly on the second Tuesday, and for information address M. A. Dauphin, P. O. Box 692, New Orleans, La.

Light, airy, and cheerful, centrally located, and carefully managed, the Colonnade Hotel offers unequalled inducements to Philadelphia visitors.

Without a shadow of doubt the best medicine in the world for coughs, colds, hoarseness, bronchitis, soreness of the throat, asthma, influenza, catarrh, whooping cough and lung disease, is Adamson's Botanic Balsam. Price 35 cts.

The fact of the business is that Sulphur Baths have become unnecessary since the introduction of GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, because that article answers the same purpose, viz., the removal of eruptions, rheumatism and gout. Sold by al Druggists.

THE CITY.

We are sorry to hear that Dr. J. F. Hall is seriously ill.

Miss Christie's school for Misses commences its fall term on Monday, Sept. 16th. See advertisement.

The annual meeting of the Portsmouth & Dover railroad will be held in the Common Council room to-day.

A special meeting of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway road will be held in the Elm street ward room to-day.

Four or five hay-rack loads of young ladies and gentlemen from the Rye beach hotels came to this city on Tuesday, to go to the circus. They saw a first-class show at the tent, and evidently enjoyed their ride in the hay-carts.

The schooner Champion, of St. John, N. B., lying at the Gas Co.'s wharf, took fire Tuesday afternoon from the boiling over of a kettle of tar that was being heated to tar the deck with. The forward part of the cabin, and the galley, were considerably charred, and a large hole burned in the mainsail. By the strenuous exertions of the crew and others the fire was put out without an alarm being given, though the spectators at one time thought the schooner must become a total loss.

An archery club has been formed in this city, and numbers eighteen enthusiastic members. The first field day for target practise was on Monday, when the club met in the beautiful little "Goodwin field," opposite Ex-Gov. Goodwin's mansion, and shot off lots of arrows according to the rules of the national archery association. The club has the usual officers, and also a Chief Bowman and a Patriarch—which the last is Mr. U. D. Tenney, and when he draws the long bow not only the birds and the target, but all the other members of the club, take cover with the most cheerful alacrity.

Col. J. C. Butler's first excursion to the Shoals for this season was made by the Appledore on Monday. The number of tickets for these excursions is limited to seventy-five, none being sold at the wharf or on board the boat; and on this occasion the full complement was taken up, as no doubt will be the case with the others. The excursionists had one of the smoothest days of the season, and enjoyed themselves thoroughly, part of them stopping at Appledore and the rest crossing to Star island. The next excursion party will go out on Friday. Tickets can be procured only of Col. Butler.

On Tuesday morning a horse attached to Scburman's milk-cart, which was standing in front of George Stott & Son's on the corner of Hanover and Bridge streets, took fright and ran up Hanover street, colliding with Mr. Payne's store wagon, breaking one of its shafts and doing other damage. The runaway horse kept on until he reached the junction of Brewster and McDonough streets, where he undertook to turn the milk-cart, and did turn it upside down, sending the milk and cans flying in all directions. Having done all the harm he could reasonably hope to do, and capsized himself, he then allowed himself to be caught.

On Tuesday evening, as the canvassmen of Coup's circus were preparing to remove the tent, one of them was found to be asleep, when he was struck by a man in the employ of Mr. Coup, cutting a deep gash in his head. Not liking such treatment he went in for a fight. Soon others were engaged in it, when police officer Moore, who was on the outside of the tent, rushed in and put a stop to it, barely escaping a broken head. We are informed by several gentlemen present, that had it not been for Mr. Moore some one would probably have been killed. It is but just to say that Mr. Coup does not allow any such demonstrations by men in his employ-ment, and reprimanded the assailant severely.

While the "Equesourriculum" procession was passing Market square, Tuesday forenoon, a horse belonging to Mr. Moses Mann of Greenland became frightened and would have run away but for the prompt action of the man who had him in charge, who stopped all chance for making an exciting item by throwing the horse down and holding him there until the procession was past. One shaft of the carriage was broken, the body of the carriage somewhat damaged, and the horse scarred; but it is more than probable that had the terrified animal gotten away just then a serious and possibly fatal accident would have resulted, as a large number of people, including many children, were on the streets. Those who saw the occurrence speak very commendingly of the man's presence of mind and decided action.

A double team loaded with shingles broke down on Market square, Tuesday forenoon, the crash sounding as if the bottom of the square had fallen out.

A boat club has been formed in this city, and we are informed that a good deal of interest is shown by the members. The club has already purchased two working boats and two sculls, in which they propose to practise this fall; in the spring they will add all other necessary boats and gear to make the organization a success. The management is in the hands of responsible persons.

THE EQUESCURRICULUM.

The excellent show with the terrible name was here on Tuesday. The street show, though not large, was good as far as it went; the horses were beautiful animals, the harnesses costly and the carriages unique; the principal attraction, however, at least to the small boy, was the cage containing a female lion-tamer, a lion, lioness and leopard, this carriage being flanked and followed by two or three hundred admiring urchins. As to the entertainment offered in the tent, it is enough to say that the promises of the advertisements were fully carried out; the broncho horses and the trained dogs are wonderful, the devil-fish hideous as Beelzebub himself, and the other features of the show just as represented. The universal verdict is that Coup gave the best tent show seen in this city for several years, if it ever was equalled.

CONSIDER, FOLKS, CONSIDER.

If the CHRONICLE subscribers do not at any time just now get their papers as early as usual in the morning, we hope they will do as we are having to—exercise Christian patience and forbearance—for it is neither the carriers' fault nor our own. The trouble is that Messrs. Brackett J. Trefethen, W. Dudley Varrell, Ozro J. Hobbs, N. D. Miller, et als., are engaged in enlarging, revising and correcting the entire building in which our office is situated, and they are worse than a herd of bulls in a China shop. They have knocked all the plastering down on the "forms" and into the cases, bursted out all the windows, reduced the editor to the condition of a hunted fugitive by digging the floor from under his desk wherever he has removed it to, and otherwise upset and disarranged things, besides making a tremendous dust and clatter, and pounding nails and clanking trowels against bricks, and singing out "mor-t-a-r-e;" and they are now studying out what other things they can do to further persecute the printer man. The pressman thinks nothing of finding laths, mortar, brickbats and pieces of plank mixed up with the machinery of the press, and the ink-fountain is frozen over two inches thick every morning, owing to the pressroom having only one wall to it. We trust our subscribers will consider the circumstances under which we now suffer, and forbear to add to our sorrows by blowing us up if their papers happen to be a little late.

[Communicated.]

A HITCH SOMEWHERE.

Mr. Editor: Noticing that in your last report of the meeting of the city government you did not give the names of the police officers chosen in the list of city officers elected, I asked a friend who the officers were. He replied, "They are not yet elected; there's a hitch somewhere. I believe it is over the question of Officer Moore's re-election. He's a democrat, but a good many republicans, including some very heavy tax-payers, want him kept on the force, while others want him left off, so somebody has got to be offended anyhow, and the aldermen have put off the evil day for a week." Last year also, if my memory does not play me an unworthy trick, there was a "hitch" somewhere, which resulted in the choice of a democratic Street Commissioner—and a thoroughly capable official he was, too—and of Thomas R. Moore, also a democrat, as one of the regular police force. This year there was no "hitch" on Street Commissioner, and a republican was elected; but it seems there is a "hitch" as to whether Mr. Moore shall be kept on the force, or dropped. As an outsider, having no personal or political ends to serve, I would respectfully suggest to the city fathers that if they do what they believe best for the city they will do right, and also what is best for themselves in the end. They have re-elected the efficient Marshal and Assistant Marshals, and so far as I have heard—and I am in a position to hear a great deal—the public generally commend their action. I am one of that same "public generally," though a year ago I was apprehensive that the choice then made of a Marshal was not a discreet one. I knew that Mr. Entwistle had made an excellent Assistant Marshal, and that he had the pluck and energy needed for the position of chief of police, but also knew that he was "full of fun," as it is called, and feared he would keep up no discipline at all in the force—and I had seen enough of the evil effects of lax discipline during the "democratic year," when a force of really excellent material deteriorated until even its party friends were disgusted, owing to the lack of a head that would command confidence and respect. But a year's experience has justified the selection made, Marshal Entwistle having fully retained the respect of his subordinates, and without any "putting on of airs," either, and to-day I believe the force is as well disciplined, and as much respected and trusted by the citizens, as any force the city has ever had. [In this connection it may be stated that not a single report against any member of the force for improper conduct or remissness of duty has been made to either the Mayor or City Marshal during the year just ended.] As to Mr. Moore, he has proved himself a good officer, attending faithfully to his business without being unduly officious; this much I know; and I believe the Marshal and Assistant Marshals have only good words to say of the manner in which he has performed his duties. If a better man for the place can be found, he should be put into it; but Mr. Moore is now an experienced officer, is known to be a good one, and his supercedure by an inferior man, or by a man as good as he but lacking his experience, would be a blunder, and a wrong to the property owners of the city. SPECS.

THE VICINITY.

Mr. Edward C. Moody, of York, is stumping the 1st Maine district in support of the greenback candidate for Congress, Mr. Gove.

Last week a Mrs. Chamberlain had her pocket-book, containing $25, stolen while in the depot at Great Falls. Two young women who took the train and went to Dover were suspected by Mrs. Chamberlain, who followed them to Dover and accused them of the theft, which they indignantly denied, and though they were on their way to some other town to seek employment they at once returned to Great Falls, saying they would not go away with any stain even of suspicion against them. Since then Mrs. Chamberlain has recovered all her property except $2.50, which the thief had spent. The culprit was a little French girl, only ten years old, who saw Mrs. Chamberlain's money when she paid for something she bought at the depot restaurant, and dextrously picked her pocket as soon as the pocket-book was returned to it. The theft was seen by a person who said nothing about it for some days, but finally let the matter out and the girl was arrested, when she gave up the wallet, claiming that she found it. She is said to have been engaged at pocket-picking for some time, and it is believed her parents are responsible for her early start in crime.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

SIZE OF PELLETS.

Or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated, Root and Herbal, Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Multum in Parvo Physic.

The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical, and Pharmaceutical Science. No use of any longer taking the large, repulsive, and nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can, by a careful application of chemical science, extract all the cathartic and other medicinal properties from the most valuable roots and herbs, and concentrate them into a minute granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes. Each little Purgative Pellet represents, in a most concentrated form, a much cathartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills found for sale in drug-shops. From their wonderful cathartic power, in comparison to their size, people who have not tried them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect; but such is not at all the case, the different active medicinal principles of which they are composed being so harmonized and modified, one by the other, as to produce a most searching and thorough, yet gently and kindly operating, cathartic.

$500 Reward is hereby offered by the proprietor of these Pellets, to any chemist who, upon analysis, will find in them any calomel or other forms of mercury, mineral poison, or injurious drug.

Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad taste in the mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, High-colored Urine, Irascibility and Gloomy Forebodings, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial powers of my Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, I wish to say that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their action to impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. Recollect that for all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction to all who use them.

They are sold by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

Political.

Hon. James G. Blaine has accepted an invitation to stump North Carolina and the Norfolk district of Virginia.

The anti-Butler papers are busily ventilating the alleged fact that Gen. Butler took a fee of $142,060.58 for his services in connection with the Farragut prize-money. Butler answers that he simply took the money sent him, and that the large sum named "included not only my fees, the court costs and other legal expenses usually allowed, but the fees of all counsel employed, as well as the charges of the commission of arbitration —some $3000 or $4000." But it seems certain that Ben allowed himself to be liberally paid out of the sailors' prize money.

Though the country is certainly dissatisfied and tired of the republican party, democrats should not be deceived into the belief that the people are going to entrust the power and administration of the government to their party upon a platform that repudiates all the long cherished and settled financial principles of the democracy. The democracy can never succeed as the advocates of an irredeemable paper currency. Those States and statesmen(?) that advocate the scheme are seperating themselves from the democratic party, and inviting division and defeat. The party is all right if it stands upon its old-time principles. These bank and paper money schemes are not new questions to the democracy; the party met and settled them long ago, in favor of a stable currency and against the power or right of the government to substitute paper for money.—Dover Democrat.

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday, and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

GREAT THROUGH LINE

AND

UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE

The attention of the traveling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In

Construction AND Equipment

THE

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

The Safety Appliances

in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,

JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,

THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,

AND THE

WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,

forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

Pullman Palace Cars

Are run on all Express Trains

From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,

To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,

WITHOUT CHANGE,

and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.

The Scenery

OF THE

PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE

is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form

A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

WOMAN.

By an immense practice, extending through a period of years, having within that time treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and exactness.

To designate this natural specific compound, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon my own personal observation. As a close observer, I have, while witnessing its positive results in the few special diseases incident to the separate organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe and efficacious remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female system, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, even more, so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not experienced by the time two-thirds of the contents of the bottle are used, I will, on return of the bottle, two-thirds of the medicine having been taken according to directions, and the case being one for which I recommend it, promptly refund the money paid for it. Find I not the most perfect confidence in its virtues, I could not offer it. I do under these conditions; but having witnessed its truly miraculous cures in thousands of cases, I feel warranted and perfectly safe in risking both my reputation and my money on its merits.

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhea, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing Down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, Female Weakness, and very many other chronic diseases incident to woman not mentioned here. In all affections of this nature, my Favorite Prescription works cures—the marvel of the world. This medicine I do not extol as a cure-all, but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain in The PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, postpaid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

THE PORTSMOUTH NAVY YARD.

The Boston Globe publishes the following letter from its correspondent, in this city, relative to the navy yard across the river:

The island on which this navy yard, or at least all the older portions of it, is situated, was originally called Fernald's Island, and was purchased by the Government for a naval station in 1800 of Captain William Dennett, at a cost of $5500. (Tradition says that by a record of the Fernald family, found in an old Bible, the island was a family inheritance, willed to descend to the oldest male heir from generation to generation forever.) The situation is pleasant and healthful in the extreme, the island being on the eastern side of the Piscataqua river, about two-thirds of a mile from Portsmouth, and about two miles in a direct line from the sea, which is three miles distant by the line of the river. The yard is connected with the mainland by a bridge about one-sixteenth of a mile long leading to Kittery; it is easy of access both by land and water. The facilities for reaching it from Portsmouth are by the ferry steamer Emerald, which makes half hour trips during the day, and by small boats, in which the workmen pull across morning and evening. For some time after the island was purchased by the Government the only residences on it were a two-tenement house for the lieutenant, sailing-master, surgeon and naval storekeeper, two one-story buildings for marine barracks, and a house for a sailors' lodge. As the wants of the service increased additional buildings were put up, and now there is needed but a larger foundry to make the accommodations complete for doing all the work required, except making the rigging and cordage for the ships. The area of the navy yard was at first fifty-five acres—that is, the area of Fernald's island; but by the building of quay walls and filling in, this area was increased to sixty-seven acres. In 1865 the Government purchased Seavey's island, situated south of Fernald's island, and separated from it by a strip of water about 100 feet wide, which gives an additional area of 155 acres at high water and 171 acres at low water. Fernald's island is a solid ledge, there being but a few inches of soil to cover it. The grade has been changed by the removal at different times of large quantities of the rock; the drainage is perfect, the land making a gradual slope from the centre to the water on all sides.

The facilities for ships in this harbor are of the best; we have sufficient water at all times of the tide for ships of the largest draught, and there is no use for a dredging machine, as it has been conclusively shown that the depth of water has not decreased in the slightest degree since it was first sounded. Some fault has been found with the swift-running tide, but its advantages far more than counterbalance its disadvantages. By it the river is kept clear of ice in the coldest winters, and no sediment collects in the river's bed, everything being swept out to sea; and there is an hour of slack water at each change of the tide, when vessels, no matter how large, can come up from the lower harbor with perfect safety. The lower harbor is easy of access from the sea, and affords safe anchorage for a larger navy than the United States possesses, 500 sail and more of fishing vessels having not infrequently anchored there for shelter from a storm. The facilities at the yard for mooring are not surpassed by those of any yard in the country; at the yard proper there are 1300 feet of stone quay, and there is a natural basin between the two islands, where four ships can lie abreast, free from ice, wind or tide; and at a moderate expense a full mile of the water-front of Seavey's island can be made available for mooring the largest ships. Besides the extensive mooring privilege and the accommodation for new ship houses, if required, acquired by the Government through the purchase of Seavey's island, a large pond was secured, which, by the building of a short dam, has been converted into a reservoir with a capacity of 7,000,000 gallons, and is full of water most of the time. This water is led by pipes to the other island, and is invaluable for use in the mechanical departments, being pure and soft. This reservoir was stocked with black bass some time ago by the Fish Commissioners, and the fish have largely increased in number and size.

The Department of Steam Engineering has for its head Chief Engineer B. T. Garvin, and is capable of doing a vast amount of work. Over 30,000 feet of floor surface is occupied by machinery alone, and there are buildings for storing iron, copper shop, foundry, boiler shop and blacksmith shop. The store for supplies is in charge of Chief Engineer Thom Williamson. The work of the department is conducted very nearly perfection.

The Equipment Department, under direction of Commander Henry Erben, occupies a rigging loft and two large store rooms, and is in keeping with the other departments in neatness and method of despatching business. The workmen are at present engaged on the rigging and sails of the Kearsarge and Ticonderoga, and doing "outside work" for other departments.

The Department of Yards and Docks is under the supervision of the veteran civil engineer, B. F. Chandler, who has been attached to this station since 1852. No building put up by him has ever shown signs of weakness or opening in the joints, and light and proper ventilation have been properly looked after. Most of the buildings are heated by steam. Gas works were erected not long ago, and all the officers' quarters and yard lamps are lighted with gas. The officers' quarters, which are situated on a knoll fronting the south, are commodious and handsome. A large green plat slopes gently to the river, and is ornamented with a number of handsome trees. The houses stand in a row, with a plank walk and a gravelled road leading by them all. The marine barracks are large and commodious, and, with improvements lately made, are all that can be asked for; they are appreciated by officers and men, and admirably kept. The ship-houses, of which there are three, are costly buildings, constructed in the best manner, and though built many years ago are still in excellent condition. The Franklin ship-house has one disadvantage, in not having a long "run" of launching room for a large ship; still the frigate Franklin was successfully launched from it. From the other two houses a ship can run a mile. One house has in it a partly-built ironclad, so rotten as to be fit only for firewood; the other two are empty.

One advantage which we believe this yard possesses over every other is the entire freedom of its timber dock from worms. There is no record of a worm having ever been found in timber docked there; and a short time since a piece was taken out after lying at the bottom of the dock for forty years, and there was no sign of decay or worm in it. There are six large timber sheds, at present stored with an amount of live oak sufficient to construct two large ships and have some left over, though there is not so much live oak now in the yard as there was at the commencement of the rebellion. The ventilation of this timber is properly cared for.

News and Notes.

The trial of H. H. Kimpton before the police court in Springfield Mass., for his alleged conspiracy to bribe the Legislature of South Carolina in 1872, was postponed another week, Aug. 27th, to await the developments at Boston of the hearing before Attorney-General Train.

An inquest on the boy Michael Stapleton, who was shot at Newburgh, N. Y., by Max Eichler for trespassing on the grounds of the latter's employer, resulted in the jury finding a verdict that Stapleton came to his death by the discharge of a shot gun in the hands of Eichler, while defending the master's property.

Quite an excitement has been created at Readville, Mass., by the mysterious sickness of several operatives in the curled hair factory. Two years ago three persons are said to have died from a painful disease, thought to be caused by blood poisoning from the hair of diseased animals, principally Siberian horses, many of which die from a peculiar malady. A few days ago another operative died and another is now dangerously sick.

Thomas Connelly, another of the employes of Collins & Co., of Philadelphia, on the Madeira and Mamore railroad in Brazil, has returned to New York, and, like the rest, reports extremely cruel treatment. He says that Collins once collected the men together and told them that the first man who quit work would be shot, when a man named Riplett stepped forward and said that their food and all other things were not in accordance with the contract and he would not work, whereupon the foreman deliberately shot Riplett dead, and when the workmen, who were unarmed, moved as if to protect him, several engineers, with Collins, leveled their repeating rifles at them, and they were forced to go to work. Connelly and John Coulter of Philadelphia escaped on a raft to Para, where the American consul cared for them and sent them home.

The Eastern railway loss by the burning of its car shed has been adjusted and settled at $44,000, the Liverpool and London and Globe paying $36,530, the Prescott of Boston $5000, and the Home of Columbus $2500. The road pays a rate of $1.80 for three years and got ninety cents.

Micaiel Reese, the deceased California miser and millionaire, was a slave trader at one time during his career, and made much money out of it. He was too stingy to allow himself even the comforts of life, and his existence ended none too soon. The money he left is worth millions; he was worse than worthless.

The Connecticut river is the cause of much bad blood in the towns of Weathersfield and Glastonbury, Conn, which occupy opposite banks of the stream. Within the last twenty years hundreds of acres have been worn from the Glastonbury side and, as the river changed its course, added to the Weathersfield possessions of the late Thaddeus Welles, who claimed all the new made land under the law of accretion. The old man is dead now, and the Glastonbury land-losers, having decided to test the question, have crossed the river, placed boundaries on the land of the son, James Welles, and taken possession of the property claimed to be theirs. Matters are at a white heat between the parties, and the business of the Hartford county courts will be considerably increased.

The captain and crew of the bark Marion, of Greenock, previously reported burned at sea, are at Halifax. The Marion left Greenock on July 13th for Quebec with a cargo of five hundred tons of coal. On the 12th of August the coal was discovered to be on fire, and every attempt to extinguish the fire failed. On the 23d, on the eastern edge of the Grand Banks, the American bark Charles R. Lewis hove in sight, when the crew of the Marion were taken off and conveyed to Cow Bay, C. B. Fifteen minutes after the the Marion was abandoned she sank.

Ten jurors in the case of the murder of police officer Smith, who was found dead in bed beside a woman who passed as his wife, in Jersey City, rendered a verdict charging Mrs. Smith and an unknown accomplice with having murdered her husband. Jurymen Rapp and Birch presented a verdict against Mrs. Smith and one Bennett.

E. Remington & Sons, the rifle makers, have made a settlement with their creditors by issuing seven per cent. bonds running five years, and secured by mortgages on their armory buildings, etc., at Ilion, N. Y.

Robert Brett, at New York, a veteran seaman, tells a terrible tale of brutality at the hands of chief mate Killman and Capt. Palmer of the ship H. L. Richardson on a recent voyage. Brett was beaten, knocked down, kicked, handcuffed and triced up to a gallows-frame for an hour. His fellow-shipmates corroborate his story. The captain is sued for damages. The mate has escaped.

Ex-Gov. Pease of Texas tells the Hartford Times that since he went to that State in 1855 he has seen its population grow from 20,000 to 2,000,000, a million having been added since the census of 1870. In the six or seven years succeeding the war most of this increase came from the southern States, but during the last few years the northwestern section of the country has furnished the bulk of the immigration. Of the future of this State he, of course, entertains the most hopeful opinions.

New Hampshire News.

A mass meeting of the Patrons of Husbandry was held at Weirs on Tuesday, Aug. 27th. The meeting was not large, but enthusiastic. The opening address was by Worthy Master of the State Grange, Dudley T. Chase of Claremont. George T. Angell delivered an interesting address on "Cruelty to Animals," followed by David M. Clough of Canterbury, and James O. Adams, Secretary of the New Hampshire Board of Agriculture, who made some very interesting remarks relating to the Grange.

The Manchester base ball club played a game with the Reform School nine on Monday, Aug. 26th. While they were playing a sneak thief entered the Manchesters' club room, and stole cash and jewelry to the amount of $75. O'Leary has left the Manchester club.

The "trout" which sportsmen are credited with taking in such enormous quantities in the streams among the White Mountains are unquestionably the young salmon which the Fish Commissioners of New England have been at such pains and expense to propagate, for the purpose of restocking the Connecticut and Merrimack rivers, and it is a shame that they cannot be protected and allowed to come to maturity

Snow fell on Mt. Washington Sunday, Aug. 25th, and ice formed during the night, the mercury standing at twenty-nine above zero. Sunday night was the coldest of the season, and there was a heavy frost at Richford, Vt., where frosts have occurred every month since spring except July. Mansfield, Mass., and the vicinity had heavy frosts on Friday night, Aug. 23d.

Political.

Democratic authorities say that as soon as their party gains control of the United States Senate they will expel Mr. Kellogg of Louisiana. That's nothing; the country will be lucky if they do not expel every Senator who does not vote the democratic ticket.

A correspondent of the Portsmouth Journal calls attention to the fact in 1842, when Harry Hubbard was governor, two legislative sessions of seventy-six days were held, or three more than the number of days of the session of 1878. In 1852 two sessions of seventy-one days were held. It would be well for the democratic newspapers to state these facts when next they throw a brick at the republicans for the length of the session just closed.

Washington correspondents say that the democrats have a new scheme for attempting to revolutionize the Presidential title. It is one which is represented to have received the secret approval of Tilden and of his managers, and is to be presented to the consideration of Congress early in December. It is in effect that a resolution should be passed providing for the assembling of the first session of the forty-sixth Congress on March 4th, 1879, immediately after the expiration of the forty-fifth Congress. The resolution will be urged on the ground that in the present condition of the country it would be advisable not to have a new Congress wait until next winter before assembling. The real purpose of the scheme is to attempt whatever action the revolutionists may deem proper in connection with the report which is to be made by the radical democratic branch of the Potter committee.

Fat People Made Lean.

Physicians and physiologists have long "scratched their heads" and "burned the midnight oil," seeking to devise some means whereby excessive corpulency might be either prevented or controlled. Until recently all "theories," "special directions," and "remedies," have failed. But at last the problem is solved. Allan's Anti-Fat will surely and positively reduce flesh at from three to six pounds per week. No medicine or combination of medicines has ever been discovered that would produce such wonderful results, and at the same time improve the general health. Sold by druggists.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human sufferings, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French or English. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers' Block, Rochester, New York. tsept6

Light, airy, and cheerful, centrally located, and carefully managed, the Colonnade Hotel offers unequaled inducements to Philadelphia visitors.

Without a shadow of doubt the best medicine in the world for coughs, colds, hoarseness, bronchitis, soreness of the throat, asthma, influenza, catarrh, whooping cough and lung disease, is Adams's Botanic Balsam. Price 35 cts.

The fact of the Business is that Sulphur Baths have become unnecessary since the introduction of GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, because that article answers the same purpose, viz., the removal of eruptions, rheumatism and gout. Sold by all Druggists.

P., G. F. & C. R. R. MEETING.

There was a dual meeting of the stockholders of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway railroad in the Elm street ward room at ten o'clock Wednesday forenoon, Gen. A. P. Rockwell in the chair. One was the special meeting adjourned from Aug. 14th, originally called to see if the corporation would vote to place the road in bankruptcy; the other was in pursuance of a call for a special meeting Aug. 28th,

1st, To see if the corporation will accept an Act of the Legislature of New Hampshire, approved August 9th, 1878, entitled "An Act in Addition to the Acts to Incorporate the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad."

2nd, To take such action, if any, under the provisions of such act, as may be deemed expedient.

3d, To transact any other business that may properly come before said meeting.

Mr. E. W. Hooper, of Boston, representing the bondholders, moved to adjourn the last-called meeting until half-past eleven o'clock, and stated that there were parties in the city who if so disposed could settle the existing differences; the motion was carried without opposition, the other meeting adjourning to the same time. At half-past eleven o'clock both meetings again adjourned until twelve. At the latter hour A. R. Hatch asked a further adjournment until two o'clock, stating that parties were in consultation and would possibly come to some arrangement, and the two meetings accordingly adjourned once more.

The numerous delays, meetings, conferences and propositions at last terminated at about four o'clock in the afternoon, when the Eastern manager and trustees on one side, the committee of directors of the Eastern railroad in New Hampshire on another, and the committee of bondholders of the Portsmouth, Gt. Falls & Conway road, each stoutly contending for their respective interests, finally agreed upon the ultimatum of four and a half per cent for the last named two interests, and buried the hatchet subject to the ratification of the New Hampshire road and the Conway bondholders.

The meeting was called to order shortly before five o'clock, when the following votes were passed by a stock count:

Voted, that this corporation accept the act of the General Court of this State approved Aug. 9th inst., entitled "An act in addition to the acts to incorporate the Portsmouth, Great Falls and Conway railroad."

Voted, that the directors of this corporation, in liquidation and payment of all its existing indebtedness, be and hereby are authorized to issue bonds of this corporation to the amount of one million of dollars, bearing interest at the rate of four and one-half per cent per annum payable semi-annually, and to secure the payment of the same by mortgage of the franchise and all property of the corporation, said bonds to become payable in sixty years dating from the 1st day of June, A. D. 1877, and bearing interest from that time, and to be exchanged for the one million of bonds of this corporation now outstanding, and to be in full payment of said bonds and of all other debts due by this corporation to any holder of said bonds.

Voted, that the directors of this corporation be and are hereby authorized to unite with the Eastern railroad in New Hampshire and the Eastern railroad company in cancelling the existing lease and contracts existing between them and this corporation, and to make a new lease of the railroad, franchise and property of this corporation to the Eastern railroad company for a rent equal in amount to the interest on the bonds authorized to be issued under a vote of this corporation adopted this day and to be applied to the payment of said interest as the same may fall due, provided that said lease shall contain the further condition that the stockholders of this corporation shall receive also as rent from the Eastern railroad company such dividends per share upon their stock as the stockholders of the Eastern railroad company may hereafter receive upon their own stock at the same time.

Voted, that all powers to make leases, deeds and other instruments and papers necessary to carry out the foregoing votes and the act of the Legislature this day accepted according to the true scope and intention thereof, be and are hereby conferred upon the directors of this corporation.

Thus after many days the famous suit of the E. R. R. in N. H. against the Eastern railroad, and the suits of the P., G. F. & C. R. R. bondholders, seem in process of adjustment, and E. R. R. certificates of indebtedness must increase in market value as the hazard of losing control of the litigating connecting roads is now removed. On the whole this may be regarded as a good day's work for the Eastern road, and a fair result for the other parties.

P. & D. R. R. MEETING.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Portsmouth & Dover railroad was held in the Common Council room on Wednesday afternoon. The meeting was called to order by the president, Hon. Frank Jones, and the records of the last meeting read by Col. William H. Hackett, the corporation clerk. On motion of Mr. Odion it was voted to proceed to the election of a board of directors for the ensuing year, a committee of three being appointed by the chair to receive, sort and count the votes. The committee reported the whole number of votes cast 1914, all for the following named gentlemen:

Frank Jones, Daniel Marcy, William H. Sise, Albert R. Hatch, of Portsmouth; Oliver Wyatt, Andrew H. Young, Charles E. Sawyer, of Dover; and these gentlemen were declared elected.

Mr. Jones said that all the claims against the road had been settled except that of Mr. Bend of Dover, and suggested that a committee be appointed from the board of directors to settle this claim and make arrangements to turn over the road to the Eastern railroad in New Hampshire.

Ex-Mayor Horton of Dover presented a numerously signed petition for a depot or signal station at Folsom street in that city, on the line of the railroad. Referred to the board of directors.

The meeting then adjourned, and the board of directors organized by the choice of Frank Jones for president, William H. Hackett secretary, and George W. Treadwell treasurer.

CAMPING OUT.

POCAHANTAS POINT,
GERRISH'S ISLAND.

We are now revelling in all the varied incidents of a Bohemian life. Our camp has been organized and disorganized so often that we have become impervious to any change that presents itself. Nothing can mar our pleasure. Everything that happens is a matter of course. Wind or rain, sunshine or fog, or influx of visitors causing a famine in the pantry, are all "discounted," and come and go like passing thoughts.

Camp life has no regular routine. Each one follows his own inclination. Fishing, sailing, gunning, reading, clamming, bathing, a game of base ball or pitch, sleeping, etc., are all indulged according to impulse. The chief point is to enjoy one's self, and those who have a taste for roughing it are easily satisfied.

We claim that our location presents more attractions and convenience than any point on the coast. Fifteen years of experience confirms this statement. The ocean, river and inland views are unsurpassed, and the essential requisites, such as wood, water, clams muscles, lobsters and the varieties of fish, are easily procured. On the western shore we have a view ranging from Fort Point to Cape Ann, while south and east is the ocean. Inland we have dense forests of spruce, through which are paths and roads that carry one back to primitive days.

We predict that in a few years, that where our camp is now pitched will be built a hotel, while on the shore along the coast from this point to Brave Boat Harbor will be erected cottages for summer homes. We do not know whether the Gazetteers make mention of this island or not, but it certainly has domain enough, and many interesting reminiscences since it was first settled, which would give to the lover of historical research ample opportunity to invest his time and talent.

The farm which includes this point has recently been purchased by Mr. Choate Burnham, a wealthy and enterprising citizen of South Boston, and to him are we indebted for our present repast of pleasure. Mr. Burnham has made extensive improvements this season, on the buildings near the point. The old barn which was built some ninety years ago and which the storms of last winter shattered to its down-fall, has been replaced by one of modern style; and the houses, which presented so seedy and forlorn a sight, have been repaired and painted, and now look as fresh as if time had just commenced. Sheltered from the winds by dense woods and high bluffs, this place presents one of the coslest and most delightful summer retreats on the coast. From the look-out on the barn and from one on a hill within a minute's walk from the house, are obtained views abounding with picturesque effect.

This farm contains about one hundred and ninety acres, and has some land under good cultivation, with ample facility for pasturage. Adjoining are the Gerrish farms, including nearly five hundred acres. On one of our strolls we went into the Gerrish mansion, now unoccupied, and we could not help the feeling of reverence which quietly took possession of our thoughts while walking through its desolate and antique rooms. One might revel in reveries of the past, and interweave romance with the realities of life of generations gone. From the windows are seen the ocean, and the sight must have been grand when the winds heralded the approach of the storm king, and in the maddened waves was seen the footsteps of his majesty as he strode over his ocean floor, submerging the shores with crystal spray and toying with the huge boulders like pebbles on the sea beach.

On the eastern end is Sea Point, on which are erected two cottages, generally occupied during the warm months. A cove extends in around this point, affording a good landing for boats. A beach about a quarter of a mile long connects this with Cutts' island, and a walk or sail of half a mile more takes us into Brave Boat Harbor. The entrance is narrow, and in a storm is somewhat dangerous, especially at low tide. Chauncey's creek runs up back of the island, meeting the Piscataqua at Kittery Point and navigable for small boats only at high water. The harbor is well protected from the winds and waves, and is very attractive in its surroundings. It has many visitors, and the lover of nature cannot but enjoy its many beautiful views. We found two Portsmouth parties camping out here, Mr. William D. Fernald and family, and Joseph, Charles and Albert Grover. William Hartshorn from Sagamore road, and Clarence Hall of the north end. At Sea Point, in the sportsman's hut, were P. W. Sprague, W. H. Watts, J. M. and A. B. Keen, from Malden, Mass. In the cottage was a party from Keene, comprising Missrs. Grace Durling, Alice and Grace Nims, Mattie and May Rugg, Lillian Cooper, Abby Adams, Lizzie Alexander, and Fannie Rowe, and Messrs. Harry Abbott and Frank Nims. We exchanged courtesies with these parties which were pleasant to us, and we flatter ourselves that on their return home, among the reminiscences of their visit to the sea a coast few passing thoughts will be given to the aborigines of Pocahontas Point.

During the three weeks we have passed here and which have seemed to condense into as many days, we have had over three hundred visitors. Chicago, New Orleans, St. Louis, New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Portland and other large cities have been represented. In tenting parties, Eliot was delegated by Messrs. Laghton, Hammond, Emery, Andrews, and Shapleigh; Spruce Creek by Greenleaf and Remick; with others from Newmarket, Pittsfield, etc. Near the fort were Ulmer, Buckley, Brooks, Brown, Page, McGlinchy, Waldron and their friends. On Pocahontas Point, Rowe, Shannon, McCarty, Hickey, Smith, Aiken, Dame, Tighe, Walker, Clark, Curtis, Spinney, and several others who stole a day or two to interview the sad sea waves.

Notwithstanding the continued threatened and bad weather for the past month, there are some who have seized the days of sunshine and chowdered on the rocks. On Friday some eight parties were around us, each enjoying themselves, unmolested, according to fancy.

The weirs are quite an attraction. In the morning, when they haul, can be seen a fleet of boats attracted by the novelty of the scene. Sometimes they have ponderous visitors in the way of sharks and horse mackerel, to which they give a ticket of leave, their frolicsome nature being too boisterous for the safety of the netting.

In conclusion we would recommend camping out as a first-class appetizer. We know it from experience. For the first few days a chicken's wing would suffice for a meal. We can now eat our weight in lobsters, fish or anything else, and although we do not profess to be champions we feel that we can do credit to any one's table. We shall accept all invitations to dinner parties on our return.

CAMP.

—A man ordered some spring chickens for dinner, and when he attempted to carve them one of them sprung into his lap. "That settles it," he remarked; "these are undoubtedly spring chickens, but, they have seen a fall or two before this."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
A VIAL OF PELLETS.
Or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated, Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Multum in Parvo Physic.
The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical, and Pharmaceutical Science. No use of any longer taking the large, repulsive, and nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can, by a careful application of chemical science, extract all the cathartic and other medicinal properties from the most valuable roots and herbs, and concentrate them in a minute Granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes. Each little Purgative Pellet represents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills now for sale in drug-shops. From their wonderful cathartic power, in comparison to their size, people who have not tried them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect: but such is not at all the case, the different active medicinal principles of which they are composed being so harmonized and modified, one by the others, as to produce a most searching and thorough, yet gently and kindly operating, cathartic.
$500 Reward is hereby offered by the proprietor of these Pellets, to any chemist who, upon analysis, will find in them any calomel or other forms of mercury, mineral poison, or injurious drug.
Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while taking them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad taste in the mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, High-colored Urine, Unsociability and Gloomy Forebodings, take Dr Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of my Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, I wish to say that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. Recollect that for all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction to all who use them.
They are sold by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

FLOUR.
100 bbls. T. HARRISON'S ST. LOUIS FLOUR!
— FOR SALE BY —
H. F. GERRISH.

Senator Sharon's House.

When Senator Sharon's second daughter "entered society," the other day, at San Francisco, a train of thirteen palace cars took the guests out to Ralston's old residence. Some idea of the magnificence of the house may be gathered from a description of the dancing pavilion. It is 100 feet long, with a polished floor of alternate strips of light and dark California woods and a border of the same. The walls were almost one vast stretch of mirrors, with only space enough between them to give a tasteful relief, and the rarest flowers in costly vases before each. Ottomans framed in ebony and with tops of the most beautiful specimens of Italian marble were placed about the sides of the room. Its ceiling was handsomely frescoed and gilded, and a cut-glass skylight, extending its length, reflected brilliantly the sixty-six jets of three chandeliers. The costumes corresponded with the surroundings, and the feast that was spread had a remarkable collection of fancy pieces of pastry work, representing castles and naval and military scenes.

—Near Lexington, Scott county, Ind., lives a man who is believed to be one hundred and seven years old. He has two sons living, one eighty-two years old, and the other eighty-five years old. They are both respected and honest men, and their testimony is regarded as satisfactory proof of their own ages as well as the great age of their father.

PENNSYLVANIA

RAILROAD.

GREAT THROUGH LINE

AND

UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE

The attention of the traveling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In

Construction AND Equipment

THE

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

The Safety Appliances

in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,

forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

Pullman Palace Cars

Are run on all Express Trains

From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,

To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,

WITHOUT CHANGE,

and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.

The Scenery

OF THE

PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE

is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inviolable rule that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form

WOMAN.

By an immense practice, extending through a period of years, having within that time treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and exactness.

To designate this natural specific compound, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon my own personal observation. As a close observer, I have, while witnessing its positive results in the few special diseases incident to the separate organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a powerful, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female system, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, even more, so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not experienced by the time two-thirds of the contents of the bottle are used, I will, on return of the bottle, two-thirds of the medicine having been taken according to directions, and the case being one for which I recommend it, promptly refund the money paid for it. Had I not the most perfect confidence in its virtues, I could not offer it as I do under these conditions; but having seen it perform such marvelous cures in thousands of cases, I feel warranted and perfectly safe in risking both my reputation and my money on its merits.

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Menstrual Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or falling of the Uterus, Anteversion, and Retroversion, Bearing Down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, Female Weakness, and very many other chronic diseases incident to woman not mentioned here. In all affections of this nature, my Favorite Prescription works cures—the marvel of the world. This medicine I do not extol as a cure-all, but it admirably fulfils a single-purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in Dr. Pierce's Plain Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of the above diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of these affections.

THE PORTSMOUTH NAVY YARD.

The Department of Construction and Repair, under Constructor Theodore D. Wilson, is in the best working order, having all the modern machinery for doing work quickly and well. Work is progressing on the Ticonderoga, Kearsarge and Lancaster, two of which are to be ready for sea in October. Mr. Wilson has made a model of an improved "Puritan" ironclad, and Secretary Thompson was so pleased with it when here that he requested it sent to Washington. In 1852 Government contracted with Gilbert & Secor for a balance dry-dock and basin, with ways, hydraulic engines and all other appurtenances for its successful operation. The floor of the basin in which the dock is moored rests on 3000 piles, and, as showing how clear the river is of sediment, Civil Engineer B. F. Chandler informed your reporter that five years after the dock was built, on going down in the diving-bell to examine the piling, he found the marks of shovels on the bottom as distinct as when first made. The dock and its ways offer facilities for repairing two ships at once, and additional ways for two more ships could easily be laid; one ship is docked and then hauled ashore, and the dock is ready for another. The expense of keeping the dock in repair is small, and it can be used at any season of the year. No accident has ever occurred to any ship while in the dock, or while docking or undocking; and no serious accident has ever occurred to any workman about the dock.

The Ordnance Department, with Commander Edwin M. Shepard in charge, and Gunners Eugene Mack and Andrew Harmon as assistants, is all that can be asked for. The stores and small arms are kept on the second and third floors of the department building, and the officers have been complimented that they are better arranged than at any other yard in the country. The lower floor is occupied as a rigging loft, gun-carriage shop, machine shop, leather room and store-room. The magazine, 103x48 feet on the ground, has a capacity of over 3000 barrels of powder, has been built with due regard to safety, and is well protected from lightning, a copper plate extending clear around the building under ground, to which all the wires lead, and from thence to the water; the roof is so constructed that it could be burned off entirely without any danger of the powder igniting. There are two large shell rooms, and a smaller magazine for filling, all equally well protected. A large gun park, capable of holding a thousand guns, in the centre of the yard, adds much to its beauty. The Department is kept up to the highest standard of efficiency, and is ready for work at a moment's notice.

The office building stands in the centre of the yard; it is a handsome building externally, and so judiciously cut up internally that all the more important officers are within call of the Commandant. The building is crowned with a cupola, having a clock with dials facing the cardinal points of the compass. The large building used for the storage of provisions and clothing has all the needed arrangements for preserving and keeping in order the goods stored there. The cellar is especially well adapted for wet goods, owing to the evenness of temperature at all seasons of the year.

The sanitary condition of this naval station is equal if not superior to that of any other in the world. The slope of the ground is such that sediment cannot lodge, and the sewerage has been carefully and scientifically attended to. Connected with the navy yard is a quarantine station at Wood island, at the entrance to the harbor. The buildings, while of cheap construction, are arranged to give the officers and men there cosey and comfortable quarters, with the full benefit of the winds blowing from any quarter. The guaranting anchorage is close to the island, in smooth water, and wholly out of the way of navigation. There is no danger of any disease, no matter of what nature, spreading from this quarantine station to the surrounding country, and as a yellow fever station there is no other to compare with it.

The records of the Navy Department show that in the building of ships of the same class at different yards, there has been a large percentage in favor of this yard as to cost; and the shipwrights of the Piscataqua region have always been noted for thorough work, whether on naval or merchant ships. In case orders were received, work could be started in all departments within twenty-four hours. The Secretary of the Navy, on his recent visit here, carefully inspected the yard in all its parts and workings, and freely expressed his satisfaction at the manner in which the business was conducted and his sense of the value of the yard as a naval station.

One great disadvantage has been urged against this yard; viz.: that it is so near the sea as to be easily destroyed with shell from an enemy's fleet; but if the yard is within two miles of the sea, there are two forts (one each side of the river's mouth) close down to the sea; and independent of the forts, naval officers of high rank assert that the American torpedo service has been brought to such a point of perfection that no fleet could get near enough to effectually damage the yard.

—Street urchins in New York are made happy by the offer of the Aquarium to pay two cents each to boys for live mice

—A Searsport, Me., man, in order that his cow may be better adapted for fly time, has lengthened her tail by attaching thereto a piece of frayed Manilla rope. She can whisk a fly from her nose every time.

The Yellow Fever.

The yellow fever rages unabated at all infected places, and increased numbers of deaths are reported. The relief movement is also on the increase, a meeting having even been held in Liverpool, England, on Wednesday.

Wednesday evening's despatches from Memphis reported 119 new cases and 62 deaths; the Howard Association medical director sent for ten more doctors, the ten he has being worn out.

New Orleans reported 220 new cases and 57 deaths.

Port Gibson had had 230 cases and 35 deaths to date, with but two or three convalescents.

Canton, Miss., had but 75 whites left in the town, out of a total population of 3500; not a single person has thus far recovered from an attack.

Vicksburg reported 125 new cases and 15 deaths.

A lady from Grenada, arrived at St. Louis, reported but seven well persons left in the town; the local physicians consider the disease to be the plague, and not yellow fever.

Three deaths were reported at Louisville, and two at Cincinnati, all of refugees from Memphis.

On Thursday there were 140 new cases and 49 deaths in New Orleans, and the fever was reported as having a hold on all parts of the city. Seven persons in one Portuguese family died.

Memphis reported 60 new cases and 50 deaths; two Catholic priests were among those who died.

Advices from various cities indicate increasing want of food and ice.

Mr. Roach Talks.

John Roach, the great ship-builder of Chester, Penn., was before Hewitt's Congressional committee on labor one day this week. From the reports as to what he said we judge that though a ship-builder himself he is in favor of allowing American registration to foreign built ships purchased by American citizens. He said that his interest in ship owning was larger than in ship building, and that the cost to-day of building first-class wooden ships in this country is from $37 to $40 per ton. During the late war 1,879,505 tons of our shipping were taken from us and placed under the British flag to prevent its being destroyed. After the war witness said he made every effort to get wooden shipbuilders to start iron ship-building to prove to the world that we could build iron ships. Nothing was done in the matter. When the glorious opportunity occurred during the Franco-German war for Americans to purchase a grand fleet of ships at half the cost of their construction on the Clyde, a bill allowing such purchase was not passed because an amendment was put to it, calling for the payment of half duties on articles used in their construction. From 1871 to 1876 he expended in ship-building over sixteen millions, and fully fifteen millions of that for labor. Fully 5000 men have been employed in the trade. Mr. Roach read a letter from a firm in Glasgow, stating that the price for building first-class iron sailing ships on the Cyde was $70 per ton. He proposed to compete with that price, or even build ships cheaper. The industry here is in its infancy, said witness, and if not protected would soon be crushed out by British capitalists, who have over a billion invested in the business.

A Brutal Scoundrel.

Edward P. Dyball, of Canterbury, was recently arraigned at Concord on three complaints—the first charging him with assault with attempt to murder his wife, the second with aggravated assault upon his wife, and the third for cruelty to animals. The prisoner is described as of medium height, florid complexion, with dark hair slightly mixed with gray; Mrs. Dyball is a very well appearing Scotch woman, of frank and open countenance. The testimony against the prisoner was crushing in force. Mrs. Smith, a near neighbor, testified that Dyball not only attempted to kill his wife by shooting her, but that previous to the firing of the gun he caught her by the hair and dragged her across a large room, tearing whole handfuls of hair from her head, and leaving a bald place on the scalp. After this diabolical work he threatened, in the presence of Mrs. Smith, that he would murder his wife and child. Mrs. Smith's husband corroborated her statements. Mr. Dow and others testified for the prosecution. The defence did not introduce any witnesses. The court held Dyball on the three charges for trial at the supreme court, and placed him under bonds, as follows: First charge, $3,500; second charge, $1,000; and third, $250; making a total of $4,750. Dyball could not procure bonds, and was returned to jail. Mrs. Dyball has had papers prepared to enable her to sue for a divorce, and officers have attached all her husband's property in her behalf. Mr. Foster went to Dyball's barn in Canterbury, Sunday morning, Aug. 25th, and found his cattle tied down with ropes that had cut through the flesh to the bones. Dyball was hung in effigy near his home Sunday night. The figure bore on a placard in large letters the following inscription: "Dyball—the wife beater."

News and Notes.

Forty-three petitions in bankruptcy were filed in the registrar's office in New York on Wednesday, representing $2,750,000 of debts. This sum no doubt covers an immense amount of scoundrelism and swindling.

Gen. Howard had a council with the hostile Umatilla Indians on Wednesday, 300 red men being present, with about 400 settlers, and representatives of the United States, and of Oregon and Washington Territory. Gen. Howard demanded the surrender of all the Indians who have been engaged in murders or depredations, and the Indian chiefs promised they should at once be given up.

A number of recently arrived vessels at New York and ports further south report seeing a vessel of four or five hundred tons, bottom up, about a hundred miles off Cape Henlopen. This is probably the barque Adriatic, which filled and capsized near there some months ago, and has been reported many times.

A despatch from Cheyenne, Wy. T., dated Aug. 27th, says: "The removal of spikes and fish plates a week ago from a rail two miles east of Medicine Bow, near a deep ravine, gave rise to the suspicion that it was done with the view to wreck and rob a train. Deputy Sheriff Widowfield and another named Vincent started on the supposed trail of the would-be robbers, and, not returning, a large party started in search of them Sunday. One of the party has returned and states that the bodies of Widowfield and Vincent were found in a narrow canon of Elk mountain, where they probably met a gang of robbers and were killed, the former receiving two bullets in his neck and the latter four in the chest."

By an accident to an excursion train near Lockwood, Mich., thirty-five persons were injured, three at least fatally. Cause of accident supposed to be a broken rail.

A force of special deputies made an internal revenue raid in Yadkin county, North Carolina, this week, and found thirty-nine illicit still houses, fifteen of them having been in recent operation. The officers destroyed five stills, 143 stands of beer, 15,000 gallons of mash and beer, 500 gallons of pomace, 355 gallons of low wines and twenty gallons of whiskey.

A Florida scientist named Hardee proposes to kill the yellow fever by atmospheric concussion, to be produced by a succession of gunpowder explosions. He says the experiment was attended with entire success last year at Jacksonville, and instances the disappearance of the plague from places liable to it in the South during the war and in Mexico before the American troops.

A tug boat picked up an exhausted sailor in New York bay, Wednesday. He said that he had jumped overboard from a German barque to escape the cruelty of the first and second mates. The police found two other sailors on board the barque, who had been severely beaten. The first mate was arrested.

Mattie Gray, the intelligent and highly respected daughter of Morgan Gray, a wealthy farmer of Middleburg township, Ohio, having been refused permission to marry her father's hired man, named Richens, stole to her lover's room while he and her father were engaged out of doors, took a revolver from a bureau drawer, and shot herself through the heart.

Richard H. Tucker, of Wiscasset, Me., has completed a curious surf boat, which is round and shaped like a saucer, and about fifteen feet in diameter. In the centre is an apparatus for compressing air. The motive power is obtained by driving the air against the water between two parallel keels on the bottom. The boat is a complete success and can be driven five or six miles an hour by one man. She can carry twenty men and go as fast as with one, for the reason that the deeper she is loaded the more pressure is obtained.

An old hag abducted the four-year-old daughter of Mr. Wehalsky from the hall of their residence, 123 Columbia street, New York, took her to another part of the city, stripped her of her clothing and jewelry and then turned her adrift.

New Hampshire Items.

The Fish Commissioners, through their chairman, Mr. Samuel Webber, have ordered 250,000 California shad eggs for the head waters of the Merrimac river this season, of which 100,000 will be placed in Lake Winnipesaukee and the rest in the Pemigewasset river, at the hatching grounds, where they will flourish and grow until such a time as they shall go to the sea. The stocking of the Merrimac with salmon is now considered a success, and the two-year-old salmon, which are quite plenty at the head waters, will go down this fall with the floods, to return over the fishways next spring.

Hubbard Zeulner, a merchant of Fairmount, left home six weeks ago with $1000 to purchase goods in Boston. Nothing was heard from him until Tuesday, Aug. 27th, when he appeared at his father's home near Watertown, N. Y. He says he has been wandering while in a somnambulistic state.

Political.

The young republicans of Nashua have brought forward the name of Hon. John A. Spaulding, present State senator from the Nashua district, as candidate for governor before the approaching New Hampshire State convention.

Gen. Joseph E. Johnston, late of the C. S. A., has been nominated for Congress by the democrats of the 3d district of Virginia.

The New York Tribune epitomizes the Potter committee and its achievements in this pointed line of remark: "Nobody gets a penny of profit from it except the President, whom it was intended to injure. Every theory upon which the democrats based their action has been upset. Every charge with which their speeches have been filled, the testimony of their own witnesses has demolished. Every trail which they try to follow leads them right away from the White House, and results only in the discovery of some new variety of liar, or some democratic scheme for buying up affidavits, or some White Leaguer who fought and bled on the historic 14th of September, but didn't know what he was fighting for, unless it was to defend the right of property in his gun."

The republicans have a new candidate to select, and the competition for first choice is lively. The leading candidates are Hon. Charles H. Bell, of Exeter, and Gen. Natt Head, of Hooksett, both as well known to the people of this State as any men within its borders. Mr. Bell is a lawyer, a scholar, a gentleman, and a stalwart republican. He comes of stock eminent in the civil history of the State, and there is no question but he would fill the position of governor with honor to himself and the State. We know of no reason why he would not take every republican vote and be triumphantly elected. Gen. Head is a representative business man, and his name, for obvious reasons, is perhaps more of a household word in the State than any other man's. As a brick-maker and farmer, as a friend of the soldiers and a worker in the temperance reform cause, he has a strong following. He is a man of the people. He makes friends easily and holds them. He has more roots out among the people of all classes than any man mentionable in the State. He would be a popular candidate and a popular governor. His nomination, like Mr. Bell's, would be a guarantee of his election.—Nashua Telegraph.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

SIZE OF PELLETS.

Or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated, Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Multum in Parvo Physic.

The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical, and Pharmaceutical Science. No use of any longer taking the large, repulsive, and nauseous pills, composed of clumsy, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can, by a careful application of chemical science, extract all the cathartic and other medicinal properties from the most valuable roots and herbs, and concentrate them into a minute Granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes. Each little Purgative Pellet represents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills found for sale in drug-shops. From their wonderful cathartic power, in comparison to their size, people who have not tried them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect; but such is not at all the case, the different active medicinal principles of which they are composed being so harmonized and modified, one by the others, as to produce a most searching and thorough, yet gently and kindly operating, cathartic.

$500 Reward is hereby offered by the proprietor of these Pellets, to any chemist who, upon analysis, will find in them any calomel or other forms of mercury, mineral poison, or injurious drug.

Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad taste in the mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, High-colored Urine, Costiveness, Dilly and Gloomy Foreboding, take Dr Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of my Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, I wish to say that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved uninpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. Recollect that for all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction to all who use them.

They are sold by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

THE CITY.

Ward four republican caucus this evening. See notice.

Willis G. Myers, at his bookstore on Congress street, has for sale a full line of all the standard text-books used in the schools; also inks, pens, slates, and lead pencils, erasers, and all the other articles required by pupils in the public institutions of learning.

A difficult operation in surgery was successfully performed on Thursday by Dr. F. E. Potter of this city and Medical Inspector C. J. Cleborne of the navy, attached to this navy yard, in the removal from the thigh of Mr. John Morrissey, of Church hill, of a very large blood tumor which had connected itself with the femoral artery. The patient was reported to be doing well on Thursday evening.

Capt. Edward M. King, for many years in the employ of Messrs. Hunnewell & Pierce, of Boston, in the Sandwich island trade, died in San Francisco on the 21st of August. Capt. King was a native of this city. In 1865 he was appointed by President Johnson American consul at Canton, China, and held the position during Johnson's administration. On leaving it he removed to San Francisco, where he engaged in business. He was a younger brother of Rev. T. Starr King. He was an excellent scholar, and during his consulate contributed many valuable articles to the press. He was forty-nine years old.

Mr. John A. Rand, the carpenter who broke his leg by a fall Aug. 8th, while at work on the extension of the CHRONICLE office building, was able to move about his house on the 28th by the aid of crutches. This is a pretty good recovery, considering the fact that both bones of the leg were broken just above the ankle, and in the same place where the leg was fractured while Mr. Rand was in the army during the rebellion. His medical attendant, Dr. Potter, we understand is of opinion that the fall would not have broken the limb but for the weakness consequent on the former fracture.

THE VICINITY.

Ex-Gov. Bagley, of Michigan, is at Rye beach.

Howe Call, Esq., of this city, was the principal speaker at a greenback rally at Berwick, Me., on the evening of Aug. 28th.

The morning train from Concord was an hour late in arriving at this city on Thursday. Seventeen passenger cars, all crowded, were taken from Manchester to Newmarket Junction; and ten car loads went from there to the Hedding camp meeting, over the Boston & Maine railroad.

The store of Messrs. Smith & Dow, at the North Hampton depot, was entered by burglars for the fifth time on the night of the 27th inst., and goods to quite an amount taken. Locke & Tarlton's blacksmith shop, near by, was first entered, and the tools with which the entrance into the store was gained were taken from there. A shutter to one of the cellar windows was pried off and a way was then forced into the back store and thence to the front.

County Solicitor Harriman went to Epping on Thursday to prosecute Daniel Smith and William E. McIntosh for selling merchandise and interfering with people at the camp ground, the prosecution being instituted at the solicitation of the managers of the grounds. The men were taken before Justice Shackford, when McIntosh pleaded not guilty, Smith waiving an examination. They were each placed under $200 bonds for their appearance at the Supreme Court.

The republicans of Maine are conducting a lively canvas on an honest money platform, the following being the announcements of speakers at Saco and Biddeford alone, as published Thursday: Ex-Gov. Perham, at Saco Aug. 29th; Hon. Thomas B. Reed, at Biddeford Aug. 30th; Judge Russell, of Boston, at Biddeford Aug. 31st: Hon. Galusha A. Grow, of Pennsylvania, at Saco Sept. 2d; Hon. Henry W. Blair, of New Hampshire, at Biddeford Sept. 4th.

The event of the season at Wells beach has been the recent production of a comedietta entitled "A morning's troubles; or, all at sea," written by Dr. George Vandenhoff, Charles L. Burnham and Harry G. Fisk of New York. The scene is laid at the Atlantic house, Wells beach, and the characters are a jealous old gentleman named Somers who has just married a young wife, the wife's sister, a young naval officer in love with the latter, and "Grills," the Atlantic house waiter, who "has aspirations" and "despises dust," and waits for the advent of some theatrical manager who shall recognize his genius and place him among "the stars of the dramatic firmament." The piece was a great success.

Mr. Joseph Lankton, of Kittery Point, wishes us to say that he was not the man who was in Dover recently, and got drunk and then blundered in front of a team, finishing up by spending a night in the station house. Mr. Lankton assures us he has not been in Dover for years. Those who know Mr. Lankton will not harbor any injurious suspicions concerning him, as he is not accustomed to get drunk or run over by teams. The man who was run over gave his name as Jos. Langdon, and said he belonged in Kittery, but Mr. Lankton knows of no such person, nor do we.

The 1st Congressional district of Maine, which includes Cumberland and York counties, is having it lively politically just now. The republican candidate, Congressman Reed, and other honest money men, are speaking nightly; Mr. Gove of Biddeford, the candidate of the repudiationists, alias greenbackers, with Howe Call of this city, E. H. Moody of York, and others, is trying hard to convince the voters of the district that only worthless money is worth anything; and Gen. S. J. Anderson, who was a blantant secession copperhead all through the rebellion, and now goes in as strongly as Gove himself for repudiation and the unlimited issue of "fiat" money, is also stumping the district.

CITY COUNCILS.

In board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening:

Horace W. Waldron, Charles E. Berry, Samuel Taylor, Edward W. Clough, Oliver E. Locke, Charles R. Green and Frank G. Sherburne were appointed special police officers without pay.

City Clerk notified the board that the appropriation for streets was exhausted.

Gardner J. Greenleaf asked leave to open State street for the purpose of enlarging cellar and entering sewer. Referred to committee on drains.

Committee on burying grounds recommended the appointment of Ivan N. Rugg at North burying ground, John S. Wendell at Pleasant street, and Josiah F. Adams at Cotton's and Point of Graves burying grounds, as superintendents.

Adjourned.

KENT FOR SHERIFF.

Although the CHRONICLE published in its Rye letter the other day, a paragraph which would lead one to suppose that Frank B. Johnson of this city wants to be sheriff of this county, that paper does not seem to favor Johnson. It now blows hot for the nomination of Kent. Of the two men, Kent is the smartest officer and detective, in the eyes of many.—Times.

We would suggest to our neighbor that the CHRONICLE is not edited by the writer of its Rye letter, and that his simple statement as a fact that certain citizens of Rye would like to have Mr. Johnson for sheriff does not necessarily commit this paper to his or any other person's support for that position. Mr. Johnson was a good city marshal, as was proved by his repeated elections up to the time the democrats rotated him out of office. As to whether he or Col. Kent is "the smartest officer and detective" we are not called upon to decide; we know that Col. Kent is thoroughly fitted for the position he now fills, and have no doubt of his nomination and election.

THE OCEANIC FIRE.

The Supreme Court of Massachusetts has just sent down a decision in the case of John R. Poor vs. the Humboldt Insurance Company, and H. K. Merrifield and others, trustees. This decision is of considerable interest to insurance companies and proprietors of summer hotels, as the case arose from the burning of the Oceanic hotel on Star Island on the night of November 11th, 1875, Mr. Poor being then the owner of the place, and the Humboldt Ins. Co. having on the house a risk of $2,500, payment of which was contested on the ground that a warranty contained in the policy had not been complied with. In the policy was written: "Warranted a family to live in said house throughout the year." Plaintiff offered evidence that two men in his employ occupied rooms in the hotel every night from the time it was closed about Sept. 15th, up to the time it was burned, taking their meals and spending their days elsewhere. The defence contended that this did not fulfill the warranty that "a family" should live in the house throughout the year, but a jury found that it did and brought in a verdict for the plaintiff. The case was carried to the Supreme Court on exceptions, and the exceptions have been sustained, upon the ground that "The warranty required the continuous occupation of the house in the manner in which dwelling houses are ordinarily occupied by families. The plaintiff did not offer any evidence which would justify the jury in finding that the warranty was fulfilled." Most, if not all the other insurance companies having risks on the Oceanic adjusted the claims against them not long after the fire occurred, and now they will no doubt be disgusted to think they did not fight it out, that is if the same warranty was in all their policies.

A Healthy Body and a Clear Head.

If indigestion, constipation and biliousness torment the body, the head cannot be clear. These disorders react upon the brain most hurtfully, and produce a cloudiness in the organ of thought not experienced by a healthy man. Happily these brain-oppressing maladies may be entirely expelled by that peerless alterative, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which cheers, refreshes and invigorates the brain and nerves, while it regulates the organs of digestion, assimilation and bilious secretion. It expels the morbid humors which poison the system through the bowels and urinary passages, and exerts a powerfully invigorating influence as well. Its cathartic action is never irritating, violent or painful, but even, natural and progressive. As an appetizer and sleep promoter the Bitters is unrivalled; it mitigates the infirmities of age, relieves the ailments peculiar to the gentler sex, arrests premature decay, and builds up an enfeebled physique.

Fat People Made Lean.

Physicians and physiologists have long "scratched their heads" and "burned the midnight oil," seeking to devise some means whereby excessive corpulency might be either prevented or controlled. Until recently all "theories," "special directions," and "remedies," have failed. But at last the problem is solved. Allan's Anti-Fat will surely and positively reduce flesh at from three to six pounds per week. No medicine or combination of medicines has ever been discovered that would produce such wonderful results, and at the same time improve the general health. Sold by druggists.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French or English. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers' Block, Rochester, New York. 1sep16

Light, airy, and cheerful, centrally located, and carefully managed, the Colonnade Hotel offers unequalled inducements to Philadelphia visitors.

Without a shadow of doubt the best medicine in the world for coughs, colds, hoarseness, bronchitis, soreness of the throat, asthma, influenza, catarrh, whooping cough and lung disease, is Adamson's Botanic Balsam. Price 25 cts.

The fact of the Business is that Sulphur Baths have become unnecessary since the introduction of GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, because that article answers the same purpose, viz., the removal of eruptions, rheumatism and gout. Sold by all Druggists.

HILL'S HAIR & WHISKER DYE, Black or Brown, 40 cents.

The majority of Wall street houses and men are as honest as their neighbors, and many of them have a world wide reputation for soundness and honesty. The old house of Alex. Frothingham & Co., Brokers, 12 Wall st., N.Y., is entitled to absolute confidence. They state that an investment of about $100 made recently returned over $1,000 in less than 60 days. That Insurance Case.

"Marcus Cœlius," Cicero said to his legal friend, lounging lazily one morning on the other side of a screen under the capitol, "what shall it be?"

Cœlius said he would take a little spirits fumenti optimi, straight, and the orator, remarking that that was the size of his, went on:

"I wish you would get out the necessary papers some time to-day, and bring suit for me against the Yellow Tiber Fire and Marine Insurance Company, for the amount of its policies on my villa at Tusculum, and my town house."

Marcus Cœlius looked up in amazement.

"Why," he exclaimed, "when did they burn down? And what was it? Accident? Mob? Some of Clodius' people?"

"No," Cicero said, "they are intact as yet, and in fact I haven't insured them yet, but I am going to do so to-morrow, and I want to bring suit against the company now, so if ever they should happen to burn I won't have quite so long to wait for the money."

Cœlius saw that the orator's head was level, and brought suit that afternoon. Eleven years afterward the villa at Tusculum and the town house were both destroyed by fire. The suit by that time had been in five different courts, and had been confirmed and reversed and remanded, and referred to the master to take proof, and stricken from the docket, and rebutted, and surrebutted, and impleaded, and rejoined, and filed, and quashed, and continued, until nobody knew what it was about, and Cicero was notified, three weeks after the fire, that he would have to prove willful and long-continued absence and neglect, as he could not get a decree simply on grounds of incompatibility of temperament. And when he went to the secretary of the company, that official told him the company didn't know anything about the fire, and had no time to attend to such things. The company's business, said the secretary, was to insure houses, not to run round to fires, asking about the insurance. If he wanted any information on those points, he would have to ask the firemen or the newspaper reporters.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

GREAT THROUGH LINE

The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In

stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

The Safety Appliances

in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,

JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,

THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,

AND THE

WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,

forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and roadbed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

WOMAN.

In an immense practice, extending through a period of years, having within that time treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to women, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and exactness.

To designate this natural specific compound, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon my own personal observation. As a close observer, I have, while witnessing its positive results in the few special diseases incident to the separate organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. Only a medicine, as a positive, safe, and efficacious remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female system, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, even more, so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not experienced by the time two-thirds of the contents of the bottle are used, I will, on return of the bottle, two-thirds of the medicine having been taken according to directions, and the case being one for which I recommend it, promptly refund the money paid for it. Had I not the most perfect confidence in its virtues, I could not offer it. As I do under these conditions, but having witnessed its truly miraculous cures in thousands of cases, I feel warranted and perfectly safe in risking both my reputation and my money on its merits.

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from natural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing Down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, Female Weakness, and very many other chronic diseases incident to woman not mentioned here. In all affections of this nature, my Favorite Prescription works cures—the marvel of the world. This medicine I do not extol as a cure-all, but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state of condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

C. E. MYERS & CO.,

No. 3 BOW STREET.

Daily Chronicle.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 29th.

Despite Secretary Sherman's explicit denials, the positive statement under oath of the versatile Jonks that she was author of the famous Sherman-Anderson letter, and the sworn statement of Weber that he destroyed it with his own hands, we are all at sea again without compass or rudder, over Butler's alleged statement that the letter is still in existence—that he has seen it and is satisfied it is authentic, and that it is to be produced at the next meeting of the Potter committee, to the everlasting confusion and shame of Mr. Sherman. But in balancing probabilities a good many of the old stagers who have grown wiser than the children of light through their experience in politics and with politicians, take into account the animus now actuating Benjamin towards his late party associates; and there seems something so evidently studied and premeditated in the manner and medium of announcing this startling discovery that it has fallen comparatively flat, and will entirely fail of its purpose if that is to create a Republican panic and stampede, insuring a democratic coup d' etat on election day. Besides showing that the Secretary is very little distressed, and has had his equilibrium not at all disturbed by the alleged discovery of this "mare's nest," it seems the unbiased verdict of more than a majority that Sherman "got the bilge" on Thurman, in his Toledo speech, and pinched him badly between the upper and nether millstones of the latter's glaring inconsistencies and gross absurdities, as appears by comparing his Hamilton speech with his financial record in Congress. But the exultant shouts coming up from southern and western democracy over Thurman's ignominious surrender to the inflation and repudiation wing of his party, is ominous. It confirms the belief that should Mr. Sherman misstay when he seeks to go about next January on the resumption tack, the rank and file of the entire democratic party, (with the exception possibly of a portion in New England and New York,) with such allies as they have been able to make among greenbackers, communists, labor reformers, and socialists, have been carefully instructed to raise a united howl for the substitution of treasury notes for the national bank circulation, and that the date of resumption will be indefinitely postponed, provided that element predominates in Congress. Cords of Thurman's speeches are to be sown west and south, but the east will be supplied with campaign literature inculcating very different sentiments.

Gen. Garfield's first campaign speech has attracted quite as much or more attention than Sherman's, among republicans here. Though a majority of them have frequently differed with him in opinion, his sincerity has never been questioned; and personally he has scores of friends, where the mere politician has none. His philanthrophy and the fact that he never affects to occupy a higher plane than the obscurest reputable citizen, has made him many friends outside his party; and the intelligence of his renomination has been received with many evidences of pleasure among patriotic men of all parties and among those indentified with none.

The report of the Chief of the Bureau of Statistics, just submitted, will serve to impart a much more buoyant feeling relative to our recovery from the depression of the past five years, and the present condition of our commerce. From this report it appears our foreign commerce for the year ending June 30, 1878, was larger than it ever was prior to 1873; our exports larger than in any previous year of our history. Since 1876 the excess of our exports over imports has steadily increased, amounting to $257,786,964, June 30, 1878. Last year it was $151,152,094, and the year previous—the first yielding much of a balance in our favor—$79,643,481. Our imports have steadily fallen off since 1873. In 1868 the value of our exports of domestic merchandize was $269,389,900; in 1878, $680,683,798, or an increase of 153 per cent in ten years.

In this connection it is gratifying to know that American exhibitors at Paris are taking much more than their proportional share of prizes and diplomas; and a growing demand for our productions seems assured.

No yellow fever yet, though often rumored. We are doing our best to aid the sick elsewhere, hoping to wholly avoid the infection. KNOX.

The Praying General.

Sherman and Sheridan, men who may be supposed to know something of military affairs and of the capabilities of other military men, have always expressed full confidence in Gen. O. O. Howard, and maintained that he is a brave soldier and capable general. But he neither drinks rum, smokes or gambles; on the contrary, he lives a rigidly moral life, and makes no secret that he fears to offend the Deity; in fact, he even goes so far as to pray. For this reason it must be, for there certainly is no other, that for many years all the daring warriors who conduct brilliant campaigns and fight bloody battles in the back offices of the newspapers, have felt impelled to fling mud at Howard, belittling his services in every possible way, sneering at whatever he accomplishes, and abusing him liberally for not doing with a corporal's guard the work of an army corps. His conduct of the wearisome and difficult Nez Perces campaign, when a four months' chase of well mounted savages over a rugged country by a handful of troops was closed by the decisive defeat of the savages, though highly commended by army generals was derided by the newspaper warriors; and his recent campaign in Idaho, just brought to a successful conclusion in the face of great obstacles, has afforded the newspaper warriors another opportunity of sneering at the "Christian soldier," which they have not failed to improve. The people on the field of operations, however, whose lives and property were at stake, seem to be satisfied with Howard as a general, even if he does pray once in a while, as the following extract from the Statesman of Boise City, Idaho, will show: "It is due to the people of southern Idaho, as well as to Gen. Howard, to say that his conduct of the war is very generally approved. Those who best understand the vast extent and rugged features of the field of operations and the nature and numbers of the enemy he had to encounter fully appreciate the difficulties of the task imposed upon him, and readily and cheerfully agree that under the circumstances he has done all that human foresight could provide for or human energy accomplish."

Our New York Fashion Letter.

MATERIALS.

For the first time in their lives, the Scotch find themselves a fashionable people, for this fall and winter there will be a run upon Highland plaids, which made up in short kilt costumes will be variously fashioned in imitation of the national garb of Scotland. But the patterns are small, and the colors subdued —quiet shades of blue or green; red if introduced being in a narrow streak which gives only slight relief. In very different style comes India camel's hair, which ranks as an elegant and leading fabric. The feature of this class of goods is long hairs lying flat on the surface. Bourrette materials have had their day, and soon will be too old fashioned for a present even to a poor relation; so, my good reader, if you intend wearing out your bourrette costume, don't be too nice about it, and put it right on, and have the good of it while you may. "Suitings" are now the desire of our eyes, and derive their name from a resemblance to the mixed goods worn by gentlemen. This in so far as the grave colored are concerned, but many of the new suitings are quite bright, showing all colors mixed in a hap-hazard way. Other new fabrics display a wool surface covered more or less thickly with small buds and leaves in satin; others again remind one of old fashioned vestings, while we find corduroys brought out especially for vests. Rich materials show small regular figures formed of minute loops which are made by means of fine wires over which the thread is woven. Subsequently of course, they are withdrawn. Handsome styles have a surface of rich wine color which shows through the raised figures above, and just here I may add that various shades of wine color and garnet deepening almost into black will be very fashionable. Among standard black goods, the grand opera cashmeres and alpacas, as also the beaver mohairs and sable brilliantines rank foremost for durability and elegance.

COSTUMES.

A word about new costumes. Here we have the Duchesse polonaise, which combines two different styles, a basque and apron front, with polonaise back. The Esmeralda overskirt is stylish and graceful, being very long with a plastrow down the middle of the front, the side pieces laid in plaits, and the back irregularly draped. The Jessica basque is new and very pretty, and the Lauretta jacket is a charming model for an out door garment in light cloth or en suite with the costume.

MILLINERY.

Owing to kind attention from Messrs. Worthington and Smith, I have obtained information as to elegant styles in fall and winter millinery. Felts are shown again in black, dark colors, and different shades of gray, cream color, and white. Velvet laid plainly on the frame will be much worn, but some bonnets are covered with figured velvet. Shapes are often similar to those of the summer, but in addition there are striking novelties, as for example, that which coming low at the back, close at the sides, and flaring high over the forehead, is a reproduction of what our grandmothers or great-grandmothers wore. Oftentimes it is tied on by a ribbon passing over the crown.

Flowers are disposed in a pronounced bouquet on the top of the bonnet, or in a heavy spray on the side, or again a cluster of ostrich tips in place of the bouquet is very fashionable. But the greatest novelty perhaps are feather bands in which bright plumage is mixed together in cashmere designs. Ostrich plumes are laden with jet or gilt, for gilt is still very fashionable. Ribbons are extremely rich, velvet on one side and satin on the other, or sometimes four colors are combined; two on one side, and two on the other. Pompadour ribbons and brightly flowered corduroy, striped velvet, and tinsel velvet are new for trimming. Reddish wine shades and garnet are the leading colors. LUCY CARYER.

News and Notes.

Gov. Rice of Massachusetts has refused to surrender Hiram H. Kimpton on the requisition of Wade Hampton, the de facto governor of South Carolina, and Kimpton was released from jail on Friday.

A battle in Texas between a company of State troops and a large body of Indians is reported, in which the whites were driven back with the loss of one man killed and several wounded.

Ed Bergen of New Orleans struck Chas. Curtis on Thursday. An hour later Curtis mortally wounded Bergen with a pistol bullet, and then fatally shot himself.

William L. Clute, a prominent commission merchant of Albany, N. Y., is under arrest for grave immorality with two girls, neither of them over sixteen years of age; one of the girls is also under arrest for aiding Clute to outrage the other; and George E. Chadsey is under arrest for producing an abortion on one of Clute's victims, who is very respectably connected.

A Pennsylvania paper sets up the following guide-board as showing the way to good times: "Curse the capitalists; frighten them all you can. Do not let them go into business. If they show any disposition to do so, call a meeting; get up a set of rules and regulations for managing the business so as to break them up as soon as possible, and threaten those who will not go in under the rules, until they gather up their money and leave the country, as they have already begun to do. Nothing helps times so much as to let men know that if they get more by working hard than you do by idleness, you will compel them to divide. They will work all the harder for such encouragement. Go right ahead with your communistic speeches. All that is necessary is to follow it up, and we will soon be all on the ground floor, all equal, all poor."

Frederick Sawyer, formerly United States Senator from South Carolina, and subsequently Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, has been appointed to a small clerkship in the coast survey office of the Treasury Department.

Joseph Emerson, of Worcester, Vt., is under arrest for a brutal assault Wednesday night on a Frenchman named William Penn. Emerson knocked the man down with a stone, stole his shoes, a railroad ticket for Chicago and $15 in money, and left him for dead.

It costs the people of Canada considerable to support their Governor General, who is a mere figure head, sent from the mother country to give "tone" to the Dominion government. Lord Dufferin's vice regal expenses have averaged $120,000 per year since 1872. Three excursions taken by his excellency in this time cost the people $42,000. It is now proposed to spend half a million dollars to get the vice regal residence in order for the reception of the Marquis of Lorne, the new Governor General. It will probably cost half a million a year to support the Marquis and his royal wife—all for show! It is computed that every tenth man in the Dominion is fed at the public crib. It costs $8,000,000 yearly to support the Dominion and Provincial officials.

Political.

Eppa Hunton has been renominated for Congress from Virginia, in spite of the efforts of Columbus Alexander and his friends.

The New York Tribune gives dispatches which reveal the secret orders under which the South Carolina rifle clubs acted in December, 1876, when the country was agitated with the Presidential question.

The following is an extract from a speech made by a democratic lawyer of Charleston, S. C., to colored audiences, which has found its way to republican headquarters: "Each of you represent $900. You would have brought that in 1860. You were freed without your consent, and now if you will vote the democratic ticket we will make the Yankees pay for you and then we will give you half of the money. There stands old Uncle Jim. He has a wife and eight children for which the north will have to pay me $9000, one-half of which I will give him and the balance I will keep. Then he will not be dependent on charities. This, my dear colored friends, is a practical solution of the 'forty acres and a mule' question, and you will some day be lifted from your poverty by your old masters. Only vote the democratic ticket, and we will soon be independent of the contemptible Yankees."

The Washington Republican says: A new political trinity is promised for Massachusetts in behalf of the greenback bantling—Butler, Voorhees and Ewing. There is a traitor, a knave and a demagogue in the coterie, and "you pay your money and can take your choice."

—A shark attacked two San Francisco lawyers who were bathing in the surf, and the Post calls it the "most flagrant case of want of professional courtesy on record."

—Dr. Johnson was once asked, "Doctor, don't you think a man involved in trouble from which he cannot see how he can extricate himself, would be justified in making way with himself by taking his own life?" "No," said the Doctor, "let him go to some country where he is not known; not to the devil where he is known."

—A little boy from New York went into the country visiting. He had a bowl of bread and milk. He tasted it, and then hesitated a moment, when his mother asked him if he didn't like it, to which he replied, smacking his lips: "Yes, ma. I was wishing our milkman would keep a cow."

—The carpet pest is a bug of most varied appetite. Recently a Somerville, Mass., lady found one of extraordinary proportions and put it into a bottle to show acquaintances. On going for the bottle shortly after she found that the bug had eaten its way out through the cork, leaving therein a perfectly round hole.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

SIZE OF PELLETS.

Or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated, Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Multum in Parvo Physic.

The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical, and Pharmaceutical Science. No use of any longer taking the large, repulsive, and nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can, by a careful application of modern science, extract all the cathartic and other medicinal properties from the most valuable roots and herbs, and concentrate them into a minute Granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes. Each little Purgative Pellet represents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills found for sale in drug-shops. From their wonderful cathartic power, in comparison to their size, people who have not tried them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect; but such is not at all the case, the different active medicinal principles of which they are composed being so harmonized and modified, one by the others, as to produce a most searching and thorough, yet gently and kindly operating, cathartic.

$500 Reward is hereby offered by the proprietor of these Pellets, to any chemist who, upon analysis, will find in them any mineral poison, or other form of mercury, mineral poison, or injurious drug.

Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad taste in the mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, High-colored Urine, Unsettled and Gloomy Foreboding, take Dr Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remarkable power of my Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, I wish to say that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. Recollect that for all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction to all who use them.

They are sold by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

THE CITY.

The Mayor's office hour is from twelve o'clock, noon, to one o'clock P. M.

Ella C. Twombly of this city has had her name changed by the Judge of Probate to Charlotte Ella Wood.

Take your purses with you when you go to the Unitarian church to-morrow. Contributions will be taken up in aid of the plague-smitten cities of the south and south-west.

This is the last day for swindlers and honest bankrupts to file their petitions under the national bankrupt act; it is also the last day of vacation, the public schools starting up on Monday.

The horrors and sufferings attendant on the yellow fever epidemic are daily increasing, and generous aid is called for from the smitten districts. Any contributions left with Mayor Sise or with the City Clerk at the city rooms, will be forwarded to any destination designated by the giver.

The steamer Stamford, Capt. Davidson, it is reported will make a series of excursions from this city: n Sept. 13th, to Boston, tickets $1; 14th, harbor excursions afternoon and evening, tickets thirty-five cents for each; on the 15th to Gloucester, tickets seventy-five cents; 16th, to Plymouth, tickets $1; all round trips, with band of music.

The owner of the ship Kate Kellock, before reported abandoned off Cape Horn, has received a telegram from Capt. Ricker as follows: "Kate Kellock, Sandy Point; seriously damaged; hull good; cargo damaged; crew discharged; awaiting orders." Sandy Point we believe is a penal station in the Straits of Magellan, where Chili maintains a garrison and to which its convicts are sent, there being also there a small settlement of free citizens.

Owing to the illness of Mr. Stephen W. Clarke, principal of the High school, and Miss Kate H. Hooper, assistant, their places at the opening of the school will be temporarily supplied by Mr. R. H. Perkins, principal of the Haven school, and Miss Laura E. Giddings of the Peabody school. Mr. Jewett Swazey of Exeter will take Mr. Perkins' place at the Haven school until the latter's return. No substitute has yet been selected for Miss Giddings' position at the State street school.

Sheriff Kent on Friday recovered several bottles of wine and a quantity of cigars that were stolen from Peyret's store the first time it was broken into, sometime about a year ago we believe. The articles were found concealed beneath the steps of Mr. Albert J. Badger's house on Vaughan street, where the plunder was stored by the thieves, Ward and Taylor, on the night of the burglary, most of it being afterward removed by them, the portions found on Friday having been pushed in beyond their reach.

Several of the churches of this city which have been shut down altogether or running on half time for some weeks, will be in full working order next Sunday. At the Unitarian the vesper service will be resumed at half-past seven o'clock, and collections in aid of the sufferers by the yellow fever will be taken up morning and evening; the Sunday school will meet at a quarter before three o'clock. The Middle street Baptist church, having been thoroughly cleaned and newly carpeted, will be opened for the first time for a month or more, Rev. Dr. Alden having returned from his vacation. The Court street Christian church will also resume its regular services. The afternoon service at the Congregational church is suspended until Oct. 1st, and the Reform Club meetings until Sept. 15th.

THE VICINITY.

The fall term of Brackett academy, at Greenland, opens on Monday.

Ex-Gov. Cheney, with his family, returned to Manchester on Friday from the summer sojourn at Straw's point.

The application to the Supreme Court for the appointment of a receiver for the Eastern railroad in New Hampshire and the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway railroad, has been withdrawn, all the differences having been adjusted.

Among the paintings sold at auction in Boston on Friday was one of White Island, Isles of Shoals, painted by Mr. C. Drew.

It is announced that a democratic campaign sheet is to be published in Rockingham county for the coming campaign, by Joseph L. Beckett.

On Wednesday afternoon Patrick Broderick threw himself in front of a moving engine near the railroad station in North Berwick, and was instantly killed.

Salisbury H. Kimball of Kittery informs the Journal that he started on foot from Charleston, S. C., June 5th, arriving at Washington July 2d, and at Boston August 3d, the entire tramp of 1500 miles being accomplished in fifty-nine days, an average of 25 1-2 miles a day.

The Heavy Artillery, that have been in camp at Rye beach all this week, will have a dress parade in the field near the post-office to-morrow (Sunday) afternoon about four o'clock. The Rye cornet band will furnish music, and divine services will be conducted by the chaplain. The company will break camp Monday morning..

The stable connected with the Mansion house at Rochester, and Jonathan Wentworth's stable near by, were burned by an incendiary fire Friday morning at two o'clock. The live stock in both stables was saved. All the other contents of the hotel stable were burned. Loss to the hotel, $1500; partially insured. Wentworth's loss, $1000; no insurance.

The annual meeting of the Rockingham Bible Society will be held in Exeter on Wednesday, September 4th, at the Baptist church. Several eminent men will speak in the morning upon the general work of the society. In the afternoon the following questions will be discussed by several clergymen and laymen: "Is the Bible losing its authority with the people? If so, why? and what is the remedy?" A sermon will be preached by Rev. Dr. Spaulding of Dover, with Rev. J. W. Hubbell of Portsmouth as substitute.

About eleven o'clock Thursday night fire was discovered in Bean's hotel at Raymond, and the hotel with its stables and outbuildings, the store of Shephard & Higley, a millinery store, H. Higley's house, the Concord depot, freight house and wood shed, the latter containing a thousand cords of wood, and the water shed and telegraph office, were destroyed before the fire was checked. Total loss about $20,000; insurance reported at $11,500. Aid was telegraphed for to Concord, and Kearsarge steam fire engine reached Raymond in less than an hour, rendering valuable assistance after it arrived.

WARD FOUR CAUCUS.

The republicans of ward four held their caucus Friday evening, and elected delegates to the several conventions as follows:

State, Ezra H. Winchester, Wm. A. Vaughan, Jr., Joseph Grace, John O. Ayers.

Congressional, William H. Rollins, Charles W. Drown, Joseph E. Ferrald, Oliver H. Locke.

Councillor, Joseph B. White, Chandler M. Hayford, Alonzo Wise, Lafayette V. Newell.

County, Alonzo Wise, George M. Ayers, John S. Rand, William B. Randall.

Senatorial, Michael J. Vaughan, George Humphries, John Nutter, Horace S. Spinney.

The following named gentlemen were chosen a ward committee:

William H. Rollins, Oliver H. Locke, Joseph E. Ferrald, Chandler M. Hayford, John S. Rand, Alonzo Wise, Charles W. Drown, Joseph Stickney, Gardner M. Goodrich, Ezra H. Winchester, 2d, George M. Ayers, Horace S. Spinney, William B. Randall.

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, Aug. 30; Batchelder, J.

Daniel Adams was accused of having been drunk, and the evidence offered unfortunately proving the accusation true, he was ordered to pay a fine of $3, with costs taxed at $5.53. Daniel at once announced his intention of having a trial by jury—he would appeal. The magistrate informed him that before his appeal could be entertained he would have to give bonds in the sum of $100 to prosecute the same. Now Daniel has no $8.53 wherewith to pay his fine and costs; neither does he possess any friend willing to become his surety in $100; but he does possess an abiding faith in his rights under the Constitution of the United States, and he told the magistrate so; the Constitution, he said, guaranteed him a trial by jury, and a trial by jury he was determined to have, and he didn't care if he did have to lay in jail until the Supreme Court should sit, either. But Judge Batchelder obstinately refused to take Daniel's view of his constitutional rights, and that patriotic individual will have a chance to study constitutional law a little more during his month's stay at Brentwood.

John Sullivan, for not having $8.53 to pay a fine and costs for making a brawl and tumult, was also sent to Brentwood.

GREENBACK CAUCUS.

At a caucus of the National Greenback club Friday evening, the following named gentlemen were elected delegates to the National Greenback Convention to be holden at Manchester September 5th:

Ward One, Marcus M. Collis, Elisha Tripp, Herbert K. Sheldon, Nathaniel K. Raynes, William H. Sheafe, William Critchley, Jr., John W. Clark, John H. Rose.

Fat People Made Lean.

Physicians and physiologists have long "scratched their heads" and "burned the midnight oil," seeking to devise some means whereby excessive corpulency might be either prevented or controlled. Until recently all "theories," "special directions," and "remedies," have failed. But at last the problem is solved. Allan's Anti-Fat will surely and positively reduce flesh at from three to six pounds per week. No medicine or combination of medicines has ever been discovered that would produce such wonderful results, and at the same time improve the general health. Sold by druggists.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent in German, French or English. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers' Block, Rochester, New York. tsept16

Without a shadow of doubt the best medicine in the world for coughs, colds, hoarseness, bronchitis, soreness of the throat, asthma, influenza, catarrh, whooping cough and lung disease, is Adamson's Botanic Balsam. Price 35 cts.

The fact of the Business is that Sulphur Baths have become unnecessary since the introduction of GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, because that article answers the same purpose, viz., the removal of eruptions, rheumatism and gout. Sold by al Druggists.

—Two men were working on the spire of a church in New York, when it was struck by lightning, and one of the men was thrown to the ground, sixty feet below, and instantly killed. The other was badly burned, but will recover. The owner of that house evidently didn't want it mended.

—A coal office at Emans, Pa., was broken into, and a large safe was removed and placed on a wood-sled. The robbers then attached one of the firm's horses to it, but the horse proved to be a balky one, and the thieves becoming alarmed ran away, leaving the horse attached to the sled. They were found in the morning near the coal yard with the safe intact.

Joseph L. Carey, of Claremont, commenced work as a brakeman on the Concord & Claremont railroad, Aug. 28th; Next day he fell off a train and his head was cut off. He was forty-five years old, and leaves a wife and eight children.

On Sunday night, Aug. 25th, a house belonging to Horace E. Rowe of Nottingham was broken into, and about fifty pounds of pork and a small quantity of money were carried off. No clue to the burglars.

Capt. E. J. Copp has been selected as register of deeds for Hillsboro' county, vice Major T. B. Crowley, removed.

The celebrated case of the town of Hanover against nine Dartmouth college students was decided in favor of the town at the August term of the Supreme Court. The question was whether the town had the right of action. The suit grew out of the famous book auction riot of the students against J. B. Parker, in November, 1875. The town paid Parker $800 under the statute making the town liable for damages arising from riots. The town then sued the students, and now recovers. Parker has since been through bankruptcy, and is now practising law in Nashua. The riotous students have all graduated.

THE

stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

The Safety Appliances

in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,

JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,

THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,

AND THE

WOMAN.

By an immense practice, extending through a period of years, having within that time treated many thousand cases of these diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and exactness.

To designate this natural specific compound, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon my own personal observation. As a close observer, I have, while witnessing its positive results in the few special diseases incident to the separate organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female system, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, even more, so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not experienced by the time two-thirds of the contents of the bottle are used, I will, on return of the bottle, two-thirds of the medicine having been taken according to directions, and the case being one for which I recommend it, promptly refund the money paid for it. Had I not the most perfect confidence in its virtues, I could not offer it so I do under these conditions; but having witnessed its truly marvelous cures in thousands of cases, I feel warranted and perfectly safe in risking both my reputation and my money on its merits.

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Menstrual Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing Down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, Female Weakness, and very many other chronic diseases incident to woman not mentioned here. In all affections of this nature, my Favorite Prescription works cures—the marvel of the world. This medicine I do not extol as a cure-all, but it admirably fulfills a single purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in DR. PIERCE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of these affections.

BLUE ARMY BLOUSES.

WE have just received a few more of those BLUE ARMY BLOUSES, which have been in such demand for the last twelve months.

C. E. MYERS & CO., No. 3 BOW STREET.

Daily Chronicle.

Old Time Chronicles, No. 173.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

There is a record of an agricultural society for Rockingham county, organized in 1814. It was the first in the State and a charter was granted by the Legislature. It existed for several years. Somewhere about 1820, Hon. William Plumer, Jr., of Epping, gave an address at one of its shows in Exeter which was published. The society at length ran down. In latter years another was organized, and another, we do not know just how many, and all ceased to be. It is a sad reflection that a county which was first in this matter is now behind most others in them.

A State board of agriculture, one of the first in the land, was chartered by the Legislature in 1820. It consisted of the presidents of the existing county societies and one delegate from each. It was organized in 1821. William Badger of Gilmanton was president, and Matthew Harvey of Hopkinton, secretary. Both afterwards became Governors of the State. This board finally died out and the one now in existence was constituted in 1870, half a century after the first commenced.

Agriculture is important; it lies at the foundation of all other industries. The great staples, food and clothing, come of it. God honors it. The first and only created perfect specimen of humanity, Adam, was set to this employment.

The early Romans gave great attention to agriculture. They were much in war, but soldiers on returning from well fought fields of battle, went with delight to the culture of their lands. It is well known that Cincinnatus was called from the plow to the Consulship of Rome, and the Emperor Diocleian when importuned to wear the imperial purple and fill the throne, seemed unwilling and asked, "Have you seen the turnips I raised with my own hands?"

The Chinese are proverbial for their habits of labor and industry. All that can fertilize and enrich the soil, is saved with the greatest care. All the land is under cultivation, not a spot in the Empire being left waste. There a population of 400,000,000 is sustained on a territory not so large as that of many other nations.

A scientific farmer, especially a philosophical one, cannot be an atheist. He sees cause and effect everywhere. He sees fitness, adaption, design, beauty and wonder in all. The chemical formation of plants by a process in the earth, water and air, the oxygen and hydrogen of the atmosphere; the effects of light and heat; the ascent of vapors to form the clouds, which descend in gentle, refreshing rains; the glories and rich plenty of harvest, and then the comforts of winter while snow and tempests are without, all are enjoyable. Astronomy comes to the help of some, who love to contemplate the wonders of Jehovah's hand. The heavens are seen, planets, stars and comets gazed at. The immensity of creation is contemplated. The nearest fixed star is Arcturus in the northwest in summer, so far away that light, that travels with inconceivable velocity, must be at least three and a half years in coming from it to the earth; fifty years in coming from the north star, and from some dim far off stars seen with the telescope, two millions of years.

But some who read will wish us not to scan among the stars and rack the brain. Very well. Here then in New Hampshire, the seemingly rough Granite State, it is calculated that it is capable, if improved, of sustaining a population twice as large as the present.

—A sign posted up in a Wisconsin saw mill reads: "The saws are running—no use to touch them to convince yourselves."

To the Hon. Judge of Probate

FOR THE COUNTY OF ROCKINGHAM.

RESPECTFULLY represents, Woodward Emery, administrator de bonis non with the will annexed of the estate of William B. Wherefore he prays that he may be licensed to sell at public auction so much of the real estate of said deceased as may be sufficient for the payment of said demands.

Sensible Democratic Talk.

Senator Bayard spoke at Newport, Del., Thursday afternoon, on the subject of "Our Present Financial Depression." He said that the reaction following the late civil war, high tariff duties on imported merchandise, and, above all, the uncertain, disordered condition of our money, were the main causes of the present state of depression. Money has a legal and also a market value, and, although the legal value may be prescribed by statute, no Government can establish its market value. In this country there is really no scarcity of money, nor is there any actual need for more money. The sole basis of business is credit. That is the best shield of the poor man, and it demands that the bill first contracted shall be the first paid. With this view of the matter, the Senator said: The payment of bonds not yet due was unwise, and if one-fourth the money paid out of the public treasury to purchase at a large premium bonds not due had been expended in bringing demand notes to par and restoring specie payment, there would not have been a question now as to what our bonds were to be paid in, for it would not matter whether gold or paper were tendered, providing the demand notes of our Government were held to be as good as gold. The Senator then commented on the argument that our greenback currency should be enlarged so as to absorb and replace the national bank currency, and in reply said that, as the national bank capital is taxable while the greenbacks are not, they would thus cut off one source of the revenue, and so produce more untaxed wealth.

The Yellow Fever.

Friday night Memphis reported 57 deaths and 72 new cases. New Orleans, 81 deaths and 169 new cases, Vicksburg, 160 new cases, and 13 deaths up to noon. The fever had appeared at Delhi, La., twenty miles from Vicksburg, where there were six cases and two deaths. The death rate at Grenada had increased. The calls for aid were more urgent than ever.

In Memphis, Saturday, there were 128 new cases and 77 deaths; also five deaths at Camp Joe Williams, Port Gibson had 23 deaths, Vicksburg had 204 new cases and 10 deaths. The fever has made its appearance at Greenville, Miss., and two persons died on Saturday. One refugee from Memphis died at Nashville, Tenn. In New Orleans 20 children under the age of seven years died.

News and Notes.

Daniel W. Dean, one of the Selectmen of Fairhaven, Mass., was badly bitten by a shark, Thursday, which had been caught in his fish pound. In pulling the voracious creature into a boat Mr. Dean accidentally got his left forearm into the shark's mouth. He received eleven severe wounds, severing an artery and drawing out a tendon. The wounds were cauterized by Dr. Atwood.

A British ship which arrived in New York Thursday brought the news that the brig Bribo of France, was cut down by ship George Bell of Nova Scotia, August 10th, and sunk. Two sailors were drowned.

Among the throng of bankrupts who took advantage of the last days of the bankrupt law was Thomas Murphy, ex-collector of the port of New York; liabilities $726,000, of which $690,000 is secured.

George E. Gardner, who arrived in Boston last week in schooner M. E. Lewis, from Africa, was arrested before he could land, on a charge of murder committed in Rhode Island eleven years ago.

The savings bank of Concordia, Missouri, was robbed by three armed men on Thursday. One man asked the cashier, who was alone, to change a $10 bill. While he was changing it, another jumped over the counter, caught the cashier by the arm and placed his hand over the cashier's mouth. They then took what money there was in sight, and putting a pistol to the cashier's head, told him to open the safe. He did so, and the robbers took all the paper money in the safe, between $3,000 and $4,000, refusing to take the silver, of which there was between $2,000 and $3,000. During the robbery a gentleman came near the ba and the robber guarding the door called to him to advance. Instead of doing so, he ran. The robber fired but missed him. They then mounted horses and galloped off. The robbery occupied about ten minutes. They were all mounted on good horses.

Since the Fall River financial irregularities, by a vote of the directors, the president or in his absence one of the finance committee, of the Boston & Maine railroad counts signs all checks drawn by the treasurer, so that though the treasurer is responsible for and has charge of the funds it will be no fault of the directors if a deficit occurs as did several years ago in the treasury of the Eastern.

New Hampshire Items.

The college year at Dartmouth opened Thursday. The Freshman class numbers about sixty in the Academical Department, ten in Scientific, and more are expected. There are also several additions in the upper classes. The prospects for the year are very favorable in every point of view.

A bridge across the Mohawk river in Colebrook was broken down last week by a head of thirty cattle being driven upon it. The cattle were precipitated into the bed of a rocky stream, together with the ruins of the bridge, and two were killed. This is the third bridge at the same locality that has broken down in this way.

George W. Mano, a heavy real estate owner and speculator, and a prominent granger of Benton, filed a petition in bankruptcy on Saturday. His unsecured liabilities are estimated at $50,000; assets nominal.

George H. Stone, a conductor on the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad, was fatally crushed between two engines at Woodsville on Friday.

Fat People Made Lean.

Physicians and physiologists have long "scratched their heads" and "burned the midnight oil," seeking to devise some means whereby excessive corpulency might be either prevented or controlled. Until recently all "theories," "special directions," and "remedies," have failed. But at last the problem is solved. Allan's Anti-Fat will surely and positively reduce flesh at from three to six pounds per week. No medicine or combination of medicines has ever been discovered that would produce such wonderful results, and at the same time improve the general health. Sold by druggists.

A Healthy Body and a Clear Head.

If indigestion, constipation and billousness torment the body, the head cannot be clear. These disorders react upon the brain most hurtfully, and produce a cloudiness in the organ of thought not experienced by a healthy man. Happily these brain-oppressing maladies may be entirely expelled by that peerless alterative, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which cheers, refreshes and invigorates the brain and nerves, while it regulates the organs of digestion, assimilation and bilious secretion. It expels the morbid humors which poison the system through the bowels and urinary passages, and exerts a powerfully invigorating influence as well. Its cathartic action is never irritating, violent or painful, but even, natural and progressive. As an appetizer and sleep promoter the Bitters is unrivalled; it mitigates the infirmities of age, relieves the ailments peculiar to the gentler sex, arrests premature decay, and builds up an enfeebled physique.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French or English. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers' Block, Rochester, New York. taept10

Golden Medical Discovery

CURES DISEASES OF THE

THROAT, LUNGS, LIVER & BLOOD.

In the wonderful medicine to which the afflicted are above directed for relief, the discoverer believes he has combined a harmony more of Nature's sovereign curative properties, which God has instilled into the vegetable kingdom for healing the ills, than were ever before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the great variety of most obstinate diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, it cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all the numerous diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

THE CITY.

August took its leave warmly.

John Pender, Esq., has been chosen chairman of the sub-committee of school district No. 2.

The attention of pensioners is called to the notice of Mr. John P. Cooper, who is widely and favorably known among them.

Hon. Amos Tappan Akerman, of Georgia, ex-Attorney-General of the United States and a native of this city, is visiting here.

The schooner W. H. Y. Hackett, of this port, Dunphy master, arrived at Beverly, Mass., Aug. 20th, from Grand Banks with 1900 quintals of fish.

A correspondent enquires if there was not to be found in Portsmouth a properly qualified teacher to take charge of the Haven school during the absence of Mr. Perkins.

Capt. Clark H. Wells, who was stationed at the navy yard here about ten years ago, and who with his wife has been paying a visit to Commodore Guest, left for Newport, R. I., on Saturday.

Commander Edwin M. Shephard, U. S. N., for some time past stationed at the navy yard, reports for duty at the Naval Adademy next month. The commander and his family have many friends in this city who regret their departure.

We are authorized to say that Ex-City Marshal Frank B. Johnson is not a candidate for the nomination for Sheriff of Rockingham county, has not been, and does not intend to be. He says plainly that he would not take the position were it assured him.

The collection announced to be taken at the Unitarian church, Sunday forenoon, was postponed to next Sabbath. The pastor announced that the terrible suffering of the fever stricken people were increasing, and a collection would be taken at the Vesper service.

The act providing for the assessment and collection of a State tax passed at the late session of the Legislature orders the raising of $100,000, against $400,000 last year. This reduces the apportionment of this city from $20,000 to $5,000, and reduces the rate of taxation about twenty-five cents on $100.

The Times says, "No bankrupt petitions have been filed in this city for months." That is correct, as such petitions are always filed in the office of the Clerk of the District Court at Manchester, where most of the bankrupt business is done and where some of our people go for that purpose. One of the latest applications before the expiration of the law, was from this city.

Robert M. Mason, Esq., who is a son of Jeremiah Mason, who practised law in the office over the First National bank in this city, will be surprised to learn that he has been appointed—by Frank W. Miller's Weekly—the executor of the will of the late Mrs. Mary H. Cutts. Lyman Mason, Esq., a well-known lawyer of Boston, one of the executors named in the will, thinks he is the surviving executor.

A farmer from York was in this city on Friday, trading, and during one transaction a silver dollar was tendered him in change. He tossed it back in disgust, explaining as follows: "'Squire Call of your city preached in our town t'other day, and he said greenbacks was the money. We don't want none of your trash; give us a greenback." And he got it. Our young friend the 'Squire, whose conversion—or perversion—from hard-money democracy to greenbackism so annoys his old party friends, has evidently made one enthusiastic convert in his proselyting tour across the river.

The Granite State base ball club of this city went to Farmington on Friday,—starting from their club room with six of their nine, picking up three outsiders on their way to the depot—to play a game with the Clippers of that place, and came off second best, the game being well contested; the score standing twelve to nine. This is the first game they have lost this season. The boys say that if they had their full nine on this occasion they would no doubt have come home the victors. Pfeiffer of the Granite States made a most difficult line catch.

Mr. James A. Waterhouse has been appointed to a position on the ship watch at the navy yard, vice Enoch J. Connor.

In Boston, Saturday, Eastern railroad stock sold at $14.25, and 3 1-2 per cents at $72.75; Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway stock sold at $10.50; Portland, Saco & Portsmouth, at $85.

James R. Eaton and John Morrisson are to walk from Market square to York Corner and back, starting this afternoon at two o'clock should the weather be favorable. Eaton is to have fifteen minutes start.

During the absence of Miss Laura E. Giddings, who is to supply the place of Miss Kate E. Hooper in the High school, the Peabody primary school on State street will be taught by Miss Nellie Chesley, a graduate of the Portsmouth High school and the Normal school at Salem, Mass.

The U. S. S. Ticonderoga, which has been in the dry dock at the navy yard having her bottom coppered, was floated out Saturday. Mr. John Simpson of this city, while throwing off some of the gear connected with the steam pumps of the dock in the afternoon, had one of his hands so badly jammed that it was feared he would lose a portion of it. Mr. Simpson is rather unfortunate, having broken one of his legs in Boston some time ago.

By an advertisement in another column it will be seen that Col. J. C. Butler is to give a series of his popular and cheap excursions to the Shoals in steamer Appledore, the last one to come off Sept. 12th. Tickets are only seventy-five cents for the round trip, and give the purchaser the privilege of landing at either island; they are to be procured only at Butler & Leighton's store, No. 1 Market square, none being sold at the wharf or on the boat. A large number of excursionists went out on Friday, and judging from the happy faces all thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Late as it is in the season, both the Appledore and Oceanic hotels have many guests; but this is an old story, at least for the Appledore, which is always the first to get filled and the last to be deserted of the summer hotels along the New England coast. The proprietors of the islands propose to remove some of the buildings that obstruct the western view from the Oceanic to other sites, widen the hotel piazza to twenty-five feet, and make other improvements, before the opening of another season.

THE VICINITY.

Abraham Amazeen, of Newcastle, has been granted a pension for his services in the war of 1812.

The Cocheco Manufacturing Co., of Dover, are now manufacturing prints for the English market.

Lewis F. Odlin of Exeter, twenty-nine years old, son of Woodbridge Odlin, Esq., was accidentally killed near Sacramento, Cal., Aug. 28th, by being crushed by the machinery of a steamboat. He had been absent from Exeter about nine years.

The Clipper base ball club of Farmington and the Stars of Epping played a game in Epping on Saturday, the home club winning by a score of eleven to two. The Farmingtons say they can give the Stars a good pull, but the Epping umpire would walk away from the Bostons.

One hundred and sixty-four persons, firms and corporations in Exeter pay a tax of $30 or upwards this year. The heaviest tax is that of the Exeter Manufacturing Co., $1933.75. The heirs of Joseph T. Gilman are taxed $874.04 and the heirs of Nathaniel Gilman $629.52. Abner Merrill & Sons pay $899.37; Woodbridge Odlin $422.81.

Willis A. Hadley, a native of Peterboro, was ordained as an evangelist at Rye beach Aug. 21. Rev. George Dustan was moderator of the council, and Rev. Mr. Robie of Greenland was scribe. The examination of Mr. Hadley was well sustained. The ordination services were in the afternoon. Rev. G. Dustan preached the sermon, Rev. Mr. Hubbell of Portsmouth gave the right hand of fellowship, and Rev. Mr. Haines of Hampton gave the charge to the pastor. Mr. Hadley finds a warm welcome from the people of Rye, and his prospects for usefulness are very good.

About fifty tree-men and crimpers in Strong & Butt's shoe factory in Dover struck on Thursday, the cause being the objection of these men, or their foreman for them, to allowing another gang to do night work with their tools. They proposed to do it themselves. The agent, under this state of things, proposed to discharge the foreman, and gave notice to that effect, whereupon the tree-men and crimpers left in a body and refused to work at all. The strikers were only out a few hours, however, a committee of the workmen easily coming to a satisfactory arrangement with the agent, viz.: the men are to work extra hours morning and night, and be paid twenty-five per cent extra for all overwork.

Gen. S. J. Anderson, the copperhead candidate for Congress in the 1st district of Maine, addressed the citizens of Kittery assembled in Trefethen's hall Friday evening. He was introduced by E. C. Spinney, Esq., of Kittery, who was three-quarters of an hour over the job, and succeeded in clearing the packed hall of a goodly number of its occupants before he got through.

YORK LETTER.

YORK, ME., Aug. 30th.

The meeting of the "greenback party" at the town hall, last evening, was well attended, over 300 persons being present. The meeting was called to order by E. C. Moody, Esq., who in a few well chosen words introduced Mr. Gove of Biddeford as the orator of the evening, who held the audience quite favorably for about an hour. Howe Call, Esq., of Portsmouth, was then introduced, and occupied about thirty minutes. During his remarks a little amusement was thrown in by an uninvited visitor—a bat—flying in, probably in search of light. He was soon killed (tremendous applause.) The York Cornet Band, so fast growing popular, was in attendance and furnished excellent music for the occasion. A friend at my elbow suggests that the party is as blind as the uninvited guest of last evening.

On Wednesday last Messrs. William Garey and George Starkey rode with a Concord buggy to the top of Mount Agamenticus, and drove around there for some time. This is considered a rather perilous adventure. Thoughts are entertained of erecting a public house on the very summit of the mountain, to be provided with an observatory composed of glass of extensive magnifying power, thus enabling the guests to have the surrounding objects of interest brought as it were under their close vision. P.

—If a man's religion is pretentious on Sunday and obscure on week days, you had better do business with him on a cash basis.

—The Cedar (Ga.) Record man is a tender father and a just husband, who bears his half the burden. He says: "Owing to the fact that our baby is sick and we being worried thereby, we are unable to get up as good a paper as we wish."

—A Norwich tenant had been importuned so frequently for his rent that in a climax of exasperation, the other day, he turned on the landlord with the cogent and conclusive retort: "Now you needn't put on so many airs, old man. Why, I owe enough in this town to buy up all your old houses."

Worcester's Pocket Dictionary.

We have just received from the publishers, J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia, a copy of this really valuable little volume. Worcester's Quarto Dictionary is the standard authority of very many of the scholars of America and England, and from it the abridgement now before us has been most carefully compiled. It is a complete vade-mecum for the general reader and correspondent, containing, besides a profusely illustrated vocabulary of over eighteen thousand words, lists of foreign words and phrases, abbreviations, rules for spelling, numerical tables, etc. The publishers will mail this work to any address on receipt of the price, 63 cents.

—Lady Burdett Coutts, of London, who has already given fifteen million dollars in charities, is about to erect homes for 10,000 London poor. The highest rent will be only $2.25 per week.

—A little daughter of a Connecticutt clergyman was left, one day, to "tend door," and obeying a summons of the bell, she found a gentleman on the steps who wished to see her father. "Father isn't in," said she, "but if it is anything about your soul I can attend to you. I know the whole plan of salvation."

— The President has received a call from the youngest tramp on the road, Charley Green, a bright Buffalo, N. Y., boy of eleven years. Charley has checked his way on the railroads all over the northern States, and the President gave him a dollar for one of the five cent chromos he peddles, after hearing his story and giving him lodgings for the night. The young rascal then coolly proposed to stop at the White House for a week, but in an hour he proved such a nuisance that the officer in charge took him to police headquarters with a request that he be sent back to Buffalo.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

GREAT THROUGH LINE

AND

UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE

The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In

Construction AND Equipment

THE

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

The Safety Appliances

in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,

JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,

THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,

AND THE

WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,

forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

Pullman Palace Cars

Are run on all Express Trains

From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,

To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,

WITHOUT CHANGE,

and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.

The Scenery

OF THE

PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE

is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form

A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

INVALIDS' HOTEL.

The very large number of invalid people who daily visit Buffalo, from every quarter of the United States and Canada, that they may consult Dr. R.V. PIERCE, and the widely celebrated Faculty of Specialists in Medicine and Surgery associated with him, have convinced it necessary that the founder of this institution should provide a place on a grand and comprehensive scale for their entertainment and comfort.

ADVANTAGES OFFERED.—The Invalids' Hotel is more complete in its appointments than any similar institution in the world. The building is located in one of the most healthful and desirable portions of the City of Buffalo, and commands a fine view of Lake Erie, Niagara River, and the surrounding country, being situated in the midst of an extensive system of beautiful parks. The Hotel is furnished with a patent safety passenger elevator, to convey patients to and from the different floors; it provides with all kinds of approved baths, and has also connected with it a well-appointed gymnasium and bowling alley for the proper means of exercise.

CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms, whether requiring medical, surgical or mechanical treatment, come within the province of our several specialties.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are the facilities of this infirmary of a superior order as regards the remedial means and appliances for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females. The employment, in moderation, of tonic, chemical, electro-thermal, and other approved baths, is in many cases an invaluable auxiliary to the remedial means to which we resort in such cases. Its friction to the surface, general shampooing, swedish movements, and light calisthenic exercises, to enliven and equalize the circulation of the blood in the system, relieve congested parts, improve digestion, and strengthen the muscles, produce important beneficial results in all cases to which these means are applicable. No experimenting is resorted to in the treatment. The most approved medicines are carefully employed, and the judicious regulation of the diet, to suit the condition of the patient, the thorough ventilation of the sleeping apartment, the cheering influence of music, social intercourse, innocent games for amusement, and all those agencies which tend to arouse the mind of the patient from despondency, and thus promote recovery, are not neglected.

NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty, by which the greatest skill is attained and the most happy results secured.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of the practice in the Invalids' Hotel is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases are very largely treated in this department, and with results which have been highly gratifying to both physician and patients.

EYE AND EAR.—Special attention is given to the delicate operations on the eye and ear, a distinguished oculist and aurist being under engagement to conduct this branch of the practice.

Invalids arriving in the city and desiring to consult us, should come directly to the Hotel. It is easily accessible by carriage, omnibus, or street cars. MILLER'S Omnibus Agents, on all incoming trains, can be relied upon to deliver passengers and baggage with security and dispatch.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE For CATARRH

INSTANTLY relieves and permanently cures this loathsome disease in all its varying stages. It possesses the soothing and healing properties of plants, herbs and barks in their essential form, free from every fibrous contamination, and in this respect differs from every other known remedy. In one short year it has found its way from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and wherever known has become the standard remedy for the treatment of Catarrh. The proprietors have been induced upon the urgent solicitation of national acquaintance who have been cured by this remedy, and who have, at considerable expense and personal trouble, spread the good news throughout the circles in which they move. When you hear a weighty gentleman of portly grace and rotundemeanor say, "I owe my life to Sanford's Radical Cure," you may feel assured that it is an article of great value, and worthy to be classed among the standard medical specifics of the day.

THE benefit I derive from its daily use is to me invaluable. HENRY WELLS, of WELLS, FARGO & Co.

IT has cured me after twelve years of uninterrupted suffering. GEO. W. HOUGHTON, WALTHAM, MASS.

I FOLLOWED the directions to the letter and am happy to say I have had a permanent cure. D. W. GRAY, M. D., MUSCATINE, IOWA.

I HAVE recommended it to quite a number of my friends, all of whom have expressed to me their high estimate of its virtues and good effects with them. WM. BOWEN, 225 PINE ST., ST. LOUIS.

AFTER using two bottles I find myself permanently cured. I have since recommended over one hundred bottles with the greatest success. WM. W. ARMSTRONG, 139 HARRISON AVE., BOSTON.

WE have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for nearly one year and can say candidly that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have yet to learn of the first complaint. S. D. BALDWIN & CO., WASHINGTON, IND.

THE cure effected in my case by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was so remarkable that it seemed to those who had suffered without relief from any of the nasal remedies that it could not be true. I therefore made affidavit to it before Seth J. Thomas, Esq., Justice of the Peace, Boston. GEORGE F. DINSMOOR, DRUGGIST, BOSTON.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's improved inhaling tube, and full directions for its use in all cases. Price, $1.00. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

Samuel Flint, of Lyme, has written to the chairman of the greenback State committee declining a re-nomination for governor, on account of his age.

Charles Marseilles, of the Exeter News-Letter, has purchased the daily and weekly Freeman and weekly Journal of Kingston, N. Y. The two papers will be conducted separately, and he will also retain the proprietorship and management of the Exeter News-Letter.

Impressive services were held Sunday evening in the First Congregational church at Manchester, in honor of Rev. James H. Pattee, recently ordained, who is about sailing for Japan as a missionary.

President Bartlett of Dartmouth college delivered a memorial discourse on the life and character of the late Prof. Edmund Randolph Peaslee, in the Congregational church at Hanover Sunday afternoon, before the students of the college and a large number of citizens and others.

Political.

The greenback candidate for Senator from Sagadahock county, Me., is a director of the Marine national bank of Bath and of a national bank in Richmond.

Dennis Kearney addressed an open-air meeting at Philadephia Friday evening. Between 3000 and 4000 were present. He spoke about two hours, and his remarks were much the same as previously made around the country, though he took occasion to laud the Mollie Maguires and denounce their trial for murder. At his own request a collection was taken up to defray his expenses to Baltimore.

Ex-Senator Matt Carpenter is said to have abandoned all hopes of securing an election to the United States Senate, and reports from Wisconsin indicate the probable reelection of Senator Howe.

In 1860 Gen. Butler was a warm supporter of Breckinridge for the Presidency. He objected to Stephen A. Douglas because Douglas was attempting to make himself President. His pride was so touched by the sad spectacle of a man conducting his own campaign that he lifted up his hands in horror and exclaimed: "When men can make themselves Presidents, then, indeed, has the pride and glory of our country faded."

I am a hard money man and have been since I was old enough to know anything. There is no other kind of money. A promise to pay money is not money. To make greenbacks a substitute for money would be like returning wheat chaff for borrowed pine-boards. It would be giving a stone to the man who asks for bread.—Judge Jere. Black.

The case of John P. Phair, who is in Windsor, Vt., prison under sentence of death, and whose reprieve expires next April, is beginning to again excite more than usual interest. Upon the assembling of the Vermont Legislature in October an application will be made by Phair, through able counsel, for a new trial upon the ground of newly discovered evidence. It is asserted that Phair's counsel have obtained evidence since Governor Fairbanks reprieved him that will show Phair not to be the murderer of Mrs. Frieze near Rutland, for which murder he was convicted. It is also reported that Phair's counsel have evidence showing that Phair was not at Mrs. Frieze's house the night before the morning of the discovery of the murder, and that the evidence of Abrams, the Boston pawnbroker, and the clerk of the Adams house, Boston, will be shown to be that of mistaken identity. It is also stated that the woman, Amelia Brooks, mixed up in the case, has recently fled for parts unknown. This Brooks woman is supposed to know more about the Frieze murder than anybody else. Phair has always protested his innocence of the murder.

A verdant Wisconsin passenger was picked up by two sharpers on the Thursday night train from Worcester, Mass., with whom he played a game of three-card monte, coming out minus $25 in cash, a vest chain worth $65 and another $5, a watch valued at $10, and a Masonic charm worth $30. As they wouldn't give up the latter, he telegraphed to Sheriff Goodrich at Hinsdale, who arrested the couple. On being searched at Hinsdale five watches were found upon the prisoners, the property above named, $94 in good money, and a package marked $900, which on examination had only a $10 bill on the outside, the inside being Confederate money, so done up as to be readily mistaken for a roll of bills of that amount. In the District Court they waived examination and were sent to jail in default of $500 bail each for hearing on Thursday. From papers found on them their names are thought to be A. T. Mitchell and J. T. Oliver. Their victim was a prominent Wisconsin merchant, Sunday-school teacher and church officer.

The Perils of the Rail.

There is danger in railway travelling, to which one is more frequently exposed than to the chance of being killed by collision, broken rail or like casualty. It is the chance of taking cold by the draft of open windows. Cold, did we say? Yes, of our death cold or paralysis or some such permanent disability. It detracts from the pleasure of railway journeys, this disregard for the rights of others we see in the persistent enjoyment of the raised sash. Life insurance companies have made the subject a study. Figures will not lie, if people will. It has been discovered, by carefully arranged statistics and accurately compiled figures under mathematical experts, that ninety-three and a half per cent. of the raised window sashes in our railway carriages are put up by women who have passed the age of forty-seven years, and remained unmarried. These require fresh air. So well established is this fact that commercial travellers and others who journey much by rail, never take a place for several seats behind a female who carries the mark of a spinster of over five and forty years. She invariably raises the sash just as the locomotive, after leaving a station, begins to mount the high horse, and coughingly emits sparks, cinders and smoke without stint. Experience gained by close observation to certain rules and habits in this regard is invaluable to him who travels. It saves discomfort to the wayfarer; perhaps disease and death may be prevented. We never remonstrate with one of these determined spinsters. A hen-pecked husband might as well protest against some act of the woman who lords over him. The sash is up and will be kept up. No matter for the shower of sparks that fall upon the duster of the occupant in the seat behind. Not even the sharp incisive cinder that always hits the eye of the holder of the next place in the rear and comes with the force of a minie ball, is considered; the strong-minded woman wants the window raised, and up it must stay. Medical men trace catarrhs, hay fever, paralysis and their kindred evils, directly to the open car window, but there always have been, and we infer until they are by some unforeseen chain of circumstances fortunate enough to become married, always will be these fiends of the rail who will insist upon the right of making every one around miserably uncomfortable while they enjoy the open window. Not all the severe remarks made behind their backs could, if heard, change the determination of these trespassers upon others' rights. They seem to regard this flagrant abuse of the comfort of other fellow travellers as of no sort of consequence, and while some protest and others change places to escape the infliction, the mature maiden affects indifference to all around her save the open air view from the window. This is one of the serious "set backs" to our railway system, and car builders should devise some method whereby such persons could not have it in their power to do so much mischief to those who have the misfortune to occupy the same car.

The Yellow Fever.

The Surgeon General's official report for last week (the week ending Saturday noon) gives the total new cases in New Orleans as 1204, deaths 333; total cases since the disease appeared, 2877; total deaths, 867. The new cases Sunday numbered 360; deaths 88.

Memphis: number of deaths for the week, 241; total of new cases, 721. New cases Sunday, 104; deaths, 76.

Vicksburg: deaths during the week, 116; total deaths, 186. Total cases, about 800. But ten persons died Saturday, though there were 204 new cases. On Sunday 98 new cases and 25 deaths were reported by eight physicians. The acting mayor of Vicksburg, and several physicians, were taken down Sunday.

Hickman, Ky., reported 50 sick and three deaths on Sunday.

One death occurred in Mobile, Saturday, and one other case of sickness was reported.

At Water Valley, Miss., one man died, and the terrified people fled the town without burying the corpse.

Mrs. Joseph Celle, who with her husband came to New York from Memphis, stopping seventeen days in Cincinnati on the way, gave birth to a child on Monday of last week, ten days after arriving in New York, and was taken with yellow fever Friday night. She was taken to quarantine on Sunday.

On Monday there were 195 new cases in New Orleans, and 77 deaths. Port Gibson reported 400 cases and 35 deaths, out of 550 persons remaining in the town, 1200 having fled. There was one death at Franklin, Ohio.

News and Notes.

The town of Miskolcz, the capital of the circle of Borsod, in Hungary, was almost entirely laid waste Friday night by a storm. One thousand houses were destroyed by the rainfall, and many persons were killed. The population of the place is estimated at 20,000. Four hundred bodies have been recovered, and others are missing.

By a railroad collision near Settingbourne, Eng., Saturday, eight persons were killed and thirty-five severely injured.

A French fishing vessel was wrecked off Folkestone, Eng., Saturday, and twelve men were drowned.

William Enright, who was released from the penitentiary at Laramie City, on Friday, after serving one year for burglary, was shot and instantly killed on Friday night while resisting an officer, who was trying to arrest him for drunkeness.

Hon. J. G. Dickerson, LL. D., Judge of the Supreme Court of Maine, died in Belfast, Sunday, aged 65 years.

Schooner Volante, from Portland for Annapolis, N. S., was run into off Seguin on Thursday night, by an unknown three-masted schooner. The Volante's mainmast was carried away, her cook killed, and her captain knocked overboard and drowned.

Joe King and Joe Rose, Portuguese, were drowned by the capsizing of their boat at Scoutcut neck, Mass., Sunday morning, while they were out for a sail.

Margaret Burke, of Boston, eighteen years old, attempted to hurry up the fire Sunday afternoon by pouring kerosene on it, when the kerosene can exploded and the girl was fatally burned. Her father was so badly burned in trying to save her that the flesh peeled off his hands and arms.

The crews of the life saving stations along the New England coast commenced patrol duty on the 1st inst., two months earlier than in previous years. This gives the crews eight months of service instead of six, as heretofore.

Phantom Footsteps is the name of a new song and chorus by Henry C. Work, author of "Grandfather's Clock" and other popular songs. It has a beautiful melody and the chorus is effective. Send to any music dealer for "Phantom Footsteps," or on receipt of 35 cents it will be mailed post-paid to any address, by the publishers, S. Brainard's Sons, Cleveland, Ohio.

Henry Harr, an insane young man near Galena, Ill., built himself a funeral pyre of cornstalks, and, throwing off all his clothes but the shirt, deliberately walked into the burning mass, chanting a dirge. When his parents found the modern Hercules he was still singing as he lay on the ground, but his legs were so burned that they have been amputated, and there are no hopes of his recovery.

The Howard association, which is nobly doing its best to alleviate the misery of the yellow fever scourge, is an organization which was formed at New Orleans during the prevalence of the same plague in 1853. It took its name from the famous English philantropst, John Howard, and it is a society permanently established to provide nurses, medical treatment and provisions for sufferers by yellow fever.

Fletcher Williams, colored, while assisting to unload horses at the Boston station, Sunday morning, on the Boston and Albany railroad, was run over, and died in the afternoon from his injuries.

Hiram Fixley, fifteen years of age, living near Belmont, N. J., shot his mother dead on Friday. There appears to have been a family altercation, and the boy in a fit of passion, or thinking to frighten the others into quietness, threatened with a shot gun to shoot himself and whoever interfered with him. A struggle ensued, the gun was discharged, and the mother fell dead, shot through the heart.

A grand ball was given at the Ocean house, Newport, R. I., Friday evening, in honor of Admiral Inglefield and the other officers of the British squadron. Prominent among those who attracted attention were Congressman Acklen of Louisiana, and Mrs. Godfrey, the sister of Congressman Willis of New York, whose names were mixed up in the Acklen-Rosser scandal at Washington some weeks ago. Mrs. Godfrey is said to be very beautiful, and was the acknowledged belle of the occasion.

The will of the late William Niblo of New York gives $30,000 to his nurse and $10,000 to each of her children; also $10,000 to each of her three nieces and to the Rev. W. D. Walker of Calvary Chapel. The balance of the estate, valued at $100,000, is left to the Young Men's Christian Association library.

Schooner Mary J. Ward was dismasted and abandoned off Cape Hatteras in December, 1876, loaded with hard pine lumber, and after floating about for eighteen or nineteen months, has recently gone ashore at Inagua, West Indies, where her cargo was saved, and sold. She was built by the Robertson Brothers of Calais in 1870, and owned at that port. This speaks well for Calais built vessels, to hold together for so long time and deliver her cargo in fair condition, after being beat about for so long time in all sorts of weather.

Two brothers, both well-to-do farmers of Buckfield, Me., recently attended the funeral of their mother, long an inmate of the poor farm.

Philadelphia has a tramp law that matches New Hampshire's. "Thirty days in the chain-gang on the streets" is the punishment. Under its operation the city was never as free from tramps as it is now.

A Healthy Body and a Clear Head.

If indigestion, constipation and biliousness torment the body, the head cannot be clear. These disorders react upon the brain most hurtfully, and produce a cloudiness in the organs of thought not experienced by a healthy man. Happily these brain-oppressing maladies may be entirely expelled by that peerless alterative, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which cheers, refreshes and invigorates the brain and nerves, while it regulates the organs of digestion, assimilation and bilious secretion. It expels the morbid humors which poison the system through the bowels and urinary passages, and exerts a powerfully invigorating influence as well. Its cathartic action is never irritating, violent or painful, but even, natural and progressive. As an appetizer and sleep promoter the Bitters is unrivalled; it mitigates the infirmities of age, relieves the ailments peculiar to the gentler sex, arrests premature decay, and builds up an enfeebled physique.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French or English. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers' Block, Rochester, New York. tsept10

Without a shadow of doubt the best medicine in the world for coughs, colds, hoarseness, bronchitis, soreness of the throat, asthma, influenza, catarrh, whooping cough and lung disease, is Adam son's Botanic Balsam. Price 35 cts.

THE CITY.

The thermometer marked ninety-two in the shade at noon on Monday, near the south mill bridge.

Col. Butler's excursion announced for the 10th inst. will not take place, the doctors having the steamer engaged for that day. The other excursions of the series will come off as advertised.

Newell Hayes was arrested in Manchester by City Marshal Prescott, Monday, for stealing a bay mare from Mitchell Revere, of Candia, July 22nd. He was delivered to City Marshal Entwistle at Newmarket Junction, who lodged him in jail in this city. He will be arraigned on Wednesday before Judge Batchelder.

Mr. Henry L. Harlow having, as previously announced, decided to leave the city, much to the regret of hosts of friends, we are pleased to announce that the superb orchestra of which he was the organizer and leader is to remain intact. Mr. Ralph L. Leinewald, the well-known cornetist, is to wield the baton, and will, in addition, have the assistance of Mr. William D. Taylor, formerly leader of the Dover band, as his cornet soloist. The organization will be known as "Reinewald & Taylor's Orchestra," with Mr. Joseph W. Harlow, prompter, as usual.—Times.

John Morrison and James R. Eaton had a walking match from Market square to York corner and back, Monday afternoon, Eaton starting at two o'clock and Morrison fifteen minutes later. The distance is sixteen miles. Morrison arrived back at thirteen minutes past five o'clock, four minutes ahead of Eaton, having passed the latter on the return trip about one mile this side of the turning point. Each man was accompanied by a team to see that the walk was fairly done.

During the shower of Monday afternoon the house of George E. Hodgdon, Esq., on Middle street, was struck by lightning. The bolt struck and partially threw down the chimney, ripped some shingles off the roof, and passed down the inside of the chimney to the ground, throwing out all the stops and filling every room with soot on its way, and leaving behind a sulphurous smell that could be discerned two hours later. Mr. Hodgdon's mother and child were in the house at the time, but fortunately escaped injury.

Our Rye correspondent, "Scribe," in his last letter said many citizens of Rye would like to have Mr. Frank B. Johnson of this city for sheriff of Rockingham county. Thereupon the Times intimated that probably it cost Mr. Johnson a $5 bill for the notice. Mr. Johnson having stated that he would not be a candidate under any circumstances, the Times of Monday suggests that perhaps it "was only one of Kent's dodges to get himself advertised." As it happens, neighbor, neither Mr. Johnson nor Mr. Kent knows who "Scribe" is. Don't be so eternally imputing trickery and unworthy motives to everybody else, or by-and-bye people may begin to suspect that you yourself are no better than you ought to be.

Queer creatures some human beings are. We used to know a man who without a tremor would drink a half-pint of New England rum or face an infuriated bull, and yet could not have been hired to sleep in a grave yard on the pleasantest night of the year, for fear of ghosts. Another instance of this odd terror at an imaginary or trifling danger, on the part of a person who will recklessly seek out real perils to needlessly face, was brought to our notice by a friend on Monday evening. During the little one-horse thunder shower of Monday afternoon a lady of this city took refuge on a feather bed placed on the floor, and stuck there till all "danger" of being struck by lightning was over; then she arose, and finding that the fire had got very low, proceeded to enliven it by pouring kerosene out of a gallon can into the stove! We are ready to insure that lady against being killed by lightning.

By the recent death of Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett a second vacancy exists in the board of trustees established under the will of the late Arabella Rice, for a free public library in Kittery. Mr. Hackett was the treasurer of the fund, which by the decision of the court remains under the control of the New Hampshire courts of equity. The court held that the trustees may reside anywhere. The treasurer is obliged to give a bond in the sum of fifty thousand dollars to the clerk of Rockingham county court for the faithful discharge of his duty. The vacancy in the board of trustees is filled by a nomination, by the majority of the surviving trustees, of a suitable person, who becomes a trustee upon his nomination being approved by the judge of probate for the county of York.

Howe Call, Esq., formerly an eloquent declaimer upon the democratic stump, is speaking in Maine in behalf of the failing fortunes of the greenback party. The reports from the Pine Tree State indicate that the greenback strength is diminishing. Mr. Call should keep on. It may be that he is the best man the opponents of the new party can have in the field. Now and then a jealous democrat used to remark that wherever this democratic Moses opened his mouth in the New Hampshire campaign an increased republican vote was sure to follow.

The effect of the repeal of the bankrupt law will doubtless be seen in a better system of conducting business. In keeping out of business people who without capital seek credit, and after a failure are enabled to undersell their more honest neighbors in trade who have paid in full for their goods, and in removing the many inducements to embark in business without means, training or fitness for its responsibilities, it will be a gain to the business community. Less people will endeavor to make money by trade, and in the end buyers and consumers will be better off, because a more healthful tone will be found in all business relations. Somebody must pay for all the deficiencies in the bankruptcies of the country; and the saving of these, and of the waste of heavy fees of courts, officers, lawyers, assignees, etc., will in the end prove a gain to the community at large.

THE VICINITY.

The New Hampshire Medical Society will make an excursion to the Shoals in steamer Appledore on the 10th inst.

The house of Arthur Custis, at Biddeford, with its contents, was burned Saturday night. Loss $1200; insurance $800.

Captain John H. Higbee, U. S. M. C., is detached from the marine Barracks at this navy yard and ordered to hold himself in readiness for sea service.

Rev. William A. Rand, of South Seabrook, and his brother, Rev. Edward A. Rand, are camping out this week at White Rocks, just off the Seabrook beach.

Rev. Mr. McDaniels of Exeter preached at his church in Exeter and also at the Unitarian church in Hampton Falls on Sunday, his first services since his return from his European tour.

The republican caucus in Hampton Falls was held Saturday evening, Emmons B. Towle presiding. Delegates to the councillor convention in favor of the nomination of Hon. Warren Brown were elected by a very large majority.

Emma Jackson, a colored girl employed at the Sea View house, Rye beach, was suspected of stealing, and on Monday the sheriff was sent for; on searching her trunk a variety of stolen articles came to light, but Mrs. Lougee not wishing to prosecute her she was allowed to go, and took the train for Boston.

The school at South Seabrook will open Sept. 23d. The upper room will be in charge of Moses Yeaton, Jr., and the lower room in charge of Miss Ella A Norton, both teachers being graduates of Portsmouth high school. Miss Norton has already taught her school for two terms, giving entire satisfaction.

A Baptist church has been organized in Cape Neddick, composed of the members of the former church. The sermon was by Rev. E. Worth, Kennebunk; consecrating prayer by Rev. Mr. Palmer of North Berwick; hand of fellowship by Rev. Mr. Johnson of South Berwick; address to the church by Rev. M. Lawrence of Groton, Mass.; introductory services by Rev. Mr. Stetson, the pastor.

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, Sept. 2; Batchelder, J.

Oliver Amazeen, drunk, $8.53, fine and costs.

William Devine, drunk, $9.90.

Mary Cronin, drunk, $9.13.

John McGrath, drunk, $9.90.

Michael Welch, drunk, (new one,) $9.13; on a similar complaint brought Aug. 20th, when Welch was let off on probation on his promise to keep sober, he was further assessed $9.90.

None of this crowd had money enough to pay for their fun, so they all went into the country to board.

John Lydston was complained of for an assault on Celia Harmon. Found guilty, and fined $1, costs $6.90. He was then arraigned for threatening his wife, found guilty, and put under $100 bonds to keep the peace for one year. When leaving the court he made another threat against his wife, in hearing of the judge and solicitor, and without any needless formalities Judge Batchelder immediately ordered him to furnish bonds in the sum of $200 additional, in default of which he went to jail. Mr. Lydston will find out after awhile, if he keeps on, that a court is not a good place in which to exhibit ill-temper and make threats.

PLEASANT SURPRISE.

A committee of the 16th Mass. Regiment Association, the members of which it will be remembered two years since were the guests of Col. Frank W. Hilton of the Rockingham house in this city, where their annual re-union was then held, surprised him on Monday by appearing here under orders from the Association, bringing an elegant antique bas relief stone cameo charm heavily set in gold and appropriately inscribed, as a token of esteem and regard from the members. They had expected to make this presentation at their annual re-union on Thursday last at Holliston, Mass., but Col. Hilton being ill he was unable to be present, and this committee was chosen to come to this city. Sergeant Blodgett made the presentation speech in a few well chosen words, to which Col. Hilton made a fitting response, after which the committee were suitably entertained by him.

A GOOD SHOWING.

The Boston Globe correspondent of this city under date of Aug. 31 gives the following items of interest in reference to the Portsmouth navy yard:

The steam sloop-of-war Vandalia, built at the Boston yard in 1874, cost $532,985.34; the Marion, a vessel of the same class, and only eighty-one tons less displacement, built at this yard, cost $377,597.05, or $155,388.29 less than the Boston-built ship. The Monongahela, repaired at this yard in 1872 and 1873, a vessel of 2100 tons displacement, cost $9703.34 less to built her entirely anew than it did to extensively repair the Kearsarge, a vessel of only 1550 tons, at Mare Island navy yard. These data are taken from the printed reports of the cost of vessels furnished by the Navy Department to the Naval Investigating Committee, and speak volumes for the Portsmouth yard. The yard is still being run as economically as ever, and there is no doubt among the people here that the same amount of work can be done here for from one-quarter to one-third less money than it can be done at Boston; as to the superior workmanship there never was a question. The Ticonderoga was recently taken out of dock to put in her lower masts, bowsprit and boilers; in four and a half hours her masts and bowsprit were in place, and her boilers in twenty-four hours. Three weeks ago orders were received to remove the boilers and engines from the Lancaster, and two days ago the work was completed with the exception of hoisting out the engine frames; and it is expected that the vessel will go into dock next week and be hauled out on the marine railway for extensive repairs. The new boilers for her are now in the yard, and also two eight-inch pivot rifles, altered from eleven-inch shell-guns, to be mounted on her spar-deck. She will probably have a battery of rifled guns on her gun-deck when she goes to sea again, in place of the smooth-bores she last carried. The Ticonderoga has had extensive repairs, and when finished will be stronger than when first built, as her outside planking, ceiling and clamps have all been increased in thickness, and her clamps and ceiling all well edge-bolted; an extra thick deck-strake has been put in, and two strakes of deck-plank halved down over the beams, outside the line of her hatches, for nearly the entire length on the spar-deck. The topgallant forecastle has been lengthened, and the galley moved under it from off the berth deck, thereby adding much to the comfort and health of the crew. The ship will probably be ready for sea October 15th. The cost of fitting out the Alliance at the Norfolk navy yard, in the equipment department, was $62,753.84; the Essex, at the Boston yard, $54,016.56; and the Enterprise, at Portsmouth navy yard, $46,239.87—showing that the vessel fitted out at this yard cost $7776.69 less than the Boston ship, and $6513.97 less than the Norfolk ship—all three being of the same tonnage. This difference was so glaring that under date of November 1, 1877, the attention of commandants of yards was called to it, in order to induce a more rigid economy in the expenditure of the bureau's funds.

—A Tennessee negress avenged herself upon her employer, Mr. Alexander Youree, for a scolding he had given her, by "pouring a bucket of hot water into his left ear."

The Laws of the United States.

It is now expected that the new edition of the Revised Statutes of the United States, which Mr. Boutwell, ex-Secretary of the Treasury, is preparing, will be completed, so far as his work is concerned, about the 1st of October. It then goes to the Secretary of State for his examination and approval. He is required to examine and compare the same, as amended, with all the amendatory acts, and within two months after having been submitted to him, and when the same shall be completed, the said Secretary shall duly certify the same under the seal of the Secretary of State; and when printed and promulgated, the volume shall be legal and conclusive evidence of the laws and treaties therein contained, in all the courts of the United States and of the several States and Territories.

Jeremiah Yocum, a Cape Cod Yankee, turns up a Chinese mandarin, who comes back to his native country as an attache of the recently-arrived Chinese embassy. The story goes that his father, the captain of a whaler, rescued a disabled junk in 1841, containing five Chinese mandarins of high rank, and towed it into port. The captain was loaded down with presents at the time, and when he returned with his orphaned son on the next voyage, the boy was sent to the royal preparatory school at Canton. At seventeen he entered the Imperial college and spent eight years mastering the Chinese language, after which he taught and translated Chinese geography into English. Last year he was made a mandarin and attached to the Chinese mission to the United States.

DOCTOR PIERCE'S ALT. EXT. OR

CURES DISEASES OF THE

THROAT, LUNGS, LIVER & BLOOD

In the wonderful medicine to which the afflicted are always directed for relief, the discoverer believes he has combined in harmony more of Nature's sovereign curative properties, which God has insinuated into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick, than were ever before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the great variety of most obstinate diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, it cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all those numerous diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, bitterness and skin alternated with hot flushes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

PENNSYLVANIA

RAILROAD.

GREAT THROUGH LINE

AND

UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE

The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In stands confessedly at the head of American railways. Its track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

Construction AND Equipment

OF THE

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

The Safety Appliances

in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,

forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

Pullman Palace Cars

Are run on all Express Trains

From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,

To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis.

WITHOUT CHANGE,

and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.

The Scenery

OF THE

PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE

is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form

INVALIDS' HOTEL.

The very large number of invalid people who daily visit Buffalo, from every quarter of the United States and Canada, that they may consult Dr. Hunt, the Surgeon, and the widely celebrated Faculty of Specialists in Medicine and Surgery associated with him, rendered it necessary that the founder of this institution should provide a place on a grand and comodious scale for their entertainment and comfort.

ADVANTAGES OFFERED.—The Invalids' Hotel is more complete in its appointments than any similar institution in the world. The building is located in one of the most healthful and desirable portions of the City of Buffalo, and commands a fine view of Lake Erie, Niagara River, and the surrounding country, being situated in the midst of an extensive system of beautiful parks. The Hotel is furnished with a patent safety passenger elevator, to convey patients to and from the different floors; is provided with all kinds of approved baths, and has also connected with it a well-appointed gymnasium and bowling alley to afford proper means of exercise.

CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms, whether requiring medical, surgical, or mechanical treatment, are within the province of our several specialities.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are the facilities of this infirmary of a superior order as regards the remedial means and appliances for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females. The employment, in moderation, of tonic, chemical, electro-thermal, and other approved baths, is in many cases an invaluable auxiliary to the remedial means to which we resort in such cases. Friction to the surface, general shampooing, Swedish movements, and light calisthenic exercises, to relieve and equalize the circulation of the blood in the system, relieve congested parts, improve digestion, and strengthen the muscles, produce important beneficial results in all cases to which these means are applicable. No experimenting is resorted to in the treatment. The most approved medicines are carefully employed, and the judicious regulation of the diet, to suit the condition of the patient, the thorough ventilation of the sleeping apartments, the cheering influence of music, social intercourse, innocent games for amusement, and all those agencies which tend to rouse the mind of the patient from despondency, and thus promote recovery, are not neglected.

NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty, by which the greatest skill is attained and the most happy results secured.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of the practice in the Invalids' Hotel is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases are very largely treated on this department, and with results which have been highly gratifying to both physician and patients.

EYE AND EAR.—Special attention is given to the delicate operations on the eye and ear, a distinguished oculist and aurist being under engagement to conduct this branch of the practice.

Invalids arriving in the city and desiring to consult us, should come directly to the Hotel. It is easily accessible by carriage, omnibus, or street cars. Miller's Omnibus Agents, on all incoming trains, can be relied upon to deliver passengers and baggage on this department, free.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE For CATARRH

INSTANTLY relieves and permanently cures this loathsome disease in all its varying stages. It possesses the soothing and healing properties of plants, herbs and barks in their essential form, free from every throat contamination, and in this respect differs from every other known remedy. In one short year it has found its way from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and wherever known has become the standard remedy for the treatment of Catarrh. The proprietors have been waited upon by gentlemen of national reputation who have been cured by this remedy, and who have, at considerable expense and personal trouble, spread the good news throughout the circles in which they move. Wish you hear a wealthy gentleman of intelligence and refinement say, "I owe my life to Sanford's Radical Cure," you may feel assured that it is an article of great value, and worthy to be classed among the standard medical specifics of the day.

THE benefit I derive from its daily use is to me incalculable. HENRY WELLS, of WELLS, FARGO & Co.

IT has cured me after twelve years of uninterrupted suffering. GEO. W. HOUGHTON, WALTHAM, MASS.

I FOLLOWED the directions to the letter and am happy to say I have had a permanent cure. D. W. GRAY, M. D., MUSCATINE, IOWA.

I HAVE recommended it to quite a number of my friends, all of whom have expressed to me their high estimate of its value and good effects with them. WM. BOWEN, 25 FIRE ST., ST. LOUIS.

AFTER using two bottles I find myself permanently cured. I have since recommended over one hundred bottles with the greatest success. WM. W. ARMSTRONG, 159 HARRISON AVE., BOSTON.

WE have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for nearly one year and can say candidly that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have yet to learn of the first complaint. S. D. BALDWIN & CO., WASHINGTON, IND.

THE cure effected in my case by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was so remarkable that it seemed to those who had suffered without relief from any of the usual remedies that it could not be true. I therefore made affidavit to it before Seth J. Thomas, Esq., Justice of the Peace, Boston. GEORGE F. DINSMORE, DEVONSHIRE, BOSTON.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for its use in all cases. Price, $1.00. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

C. E. MYERS & CO.,
No. 3 BOW STREET.

Daily Chronicle.

Washington Correspondence.

There is no evidence that the National Capital has ever suffered a visitation from yellow fever, though our little neighbor Alexandria, seven miles below, entertained it several seasons during the last century, and as many during the present one. It was then a city of considerable commerce, foreign and coastwise, and arrivals from the West Indies and the ports down the coast were frequent. It is not over-cleanly now, but its present hygienic condition may probably be regarded as exemplary contrasted with it a century ago. Getting a little lower down and a few miles south from where the Potomac, the Chesapeake, the James and the Elizabeth merge and are lost in the ocean waters of Hampton Roads, are Norfolk and Portsmouth of the last named river. They are practically one town, the St. Elizabeth dividing them. Save that portion of the latter under jurisdiction of navy yard officials, both are said to be in that superfluously filthy condition that is a standing invitation to every form of epidemic. How many sewers they have like that death-trap reported at Grenada, I do not know; but from casual observation it impresses one that the fate of every inhabitant of many localities is as certain and hopeless as that which has overtaken those along the foul gutter forming the only sewer of annihilated Grenada should the fever appear. About twenty-five years ago both communities were terribly stricken by the scourge. That visitation has had little more effect, apparently, in inducing a stricter compliance with the sanitary suggestions of experience and modern research, than an earthquake has on South Americans, who rebuild their cities over the sites of those just destroyed, or than an eruption of Vesuvius has on the average Neapolitan, who constructs him another but over that just overwhelmed by the red-hot lava. Such are some of the influences bordering Washington's and Baltimore's highway to the ocean. River quarantine is practicable and will be enforced should the fever appear about Hampton Roads. But railroad embargo would be impossible unless trains were prohibited from entering town from any direction. There is no truth in the several reports sent hence of yellow fever. We have not had a single case. The city is unusually healthy, very little malarial fever even prevailing. But we are in a condition of nervous dread; aggravated ten-fold by reading the harrowing details sent us every day from the stricken towns of the lower Mississippi. As this is the heart of the great Federal machine that serves for the government of 40,000,000 people, wholesale desertion could not be practiced; and many thousands of employes who would have to take their chances of remaining or losing their places outright, cannot be over-matched anywhere in the country in the sincerity of their prayers that Washington be spared. The organized attempt of the Israelites at relief has been followed by Christian and heathen alike. Masonic and other societies are contributing liberally. The plan has been followed in some of the departments of assessing each employe twenty-five cents twice a month, to be continued during the continuance of the epidemic.

The feeling over the case of Gen. Sherman vs. the Roman Catholic Church, instead of dying out, appears to be extending. It has got into the leading newspapers, and threatens to intensify the feeling of hostility against the very often successful efforts of priests to crowd themselves into the domestic affairs of families, estranging or wholly alienating the different members. Little is known about the matter other than that the General's oldest son, either through the influence of the priests, the mother, or both combined, was induced to quit the study of law to become a priest without consulting the father. The General is represented as crushed under the blow, and to have written a very severe letter to Cardinal McCloskey, who seems suspected of connivance.

Since Government settled down to its Mexican policy less has been heard of the threatening aspect of affairs on the Rio Grande, though matters remain substantially as they were a week ago so far as publicly known.

Only the most languid interest is taken in Potter, Butler or Kearney. The latter seems to have driven away all that at first expressed sympathy for his ruffianly tirades, by his evident lack of even good "horse sense." KNOX.

— Mrs. Mackay, wife of the Bonanza king, has over $250,000 in jewelry, but when her tooth aches she suffers just as much as the woman whose bracelets and diamonds came from the ninety-cincent store.

How it is Done.

Senator Massacre C. Butler of South Carolina is now in Washington, and says there is no doubt the democrats will beat both Smalls and Rainey for Congress this year, and return an unbroken democratic delegation. As Rainey's district has a colored majority of 15,000, there might be some doubt of the democrats carrying it; but the following is an illustration of how similar things have been done in other districts, and how the democrats purpose to do it this year in Rainey's: A democratic meeting was held at Pendleton, South Carolina, recently. After prayer and speaking it was announced that the chairman of the republican county committee, "a wily and vicious negro preacher," had taken advantage of the absence of the democrats at the meeting and had had the presumption to call a republican meeting at a place about ten miles away. As soon as the speaker, General Moise, had concluded, he started with Major Murray and "three companies of red shirts, to take a hand in the affair." They encountered pickets which had been thrown out by the republicans to give warning of hostile approach, who notified the meeting, which forthwith dispersed. This is the mode in which the democrats keep their pledge to protect all classes in their right to vote. The negroes are permitted to vote—the democratic ticket; but are not suffered to hold meetings for the discussion of political subjects, or to vote their own sentiments. And yet we are told that South Carolina has accepted the constitutional amendments and reconstruction laws enacted for their enforcement. The truth is there is no freedom of political opinion in the southern States, nearly all of which would be republican on an honest vote, but are held to the democratic party by illegal violence, not stopping short of murder. On the face of this, we can see no probability of republicans being elected to the House from that section, or of their being counted in, if they are fairly chosen. If the party that saved the Union when the democratic party was straining every nerve to destroy it, is to have any voice in its control for two years from next March, the national House must be carried by the republicans of the north; and New Hampshire has her share of the work to do, and can easily do it, by electing three republican representatives to Congress.

The Yellow Fever.

The Secretary of War on Tuesday ordered the issuing of rations for 2000 people for 20 days at New Orleans; he says he has no warrant of law for this, but has no doubt Congress will approve his action.

W. W. Russell, manager of the Wenham (Mass.) Ice Co., on Tuesday offered to load ten cars daily for five days with ice for the south, if the railroads would forward it free. The railroad authorities in Boston promptly arranged for free transportation to Louisville, Ky.

New Orleans, Tuesday: new cases, 327; deaths, 83. Memphis, 51 deaths up to noon. Hickman, Ky., 12 deaths.

Democratic Reform.

The charge is made against the Democratic National Campaign Committee that it steals its office rent of the government by using five rooms in the Capitol building at Washington, and also uses government envelopes, paste, brushes, etc., and that hundreds of thousands of envelopes have been used by the committee, printed with the necessary franking blank as the government printing office and drawn on requisitions of the democratic clerk of the House. The Republican Committee, on the contrary, rents a house of its own, hires its own clerks and furnishes its own stationery.

News and Notes.

Probably three thousand firms and individuals in the United States went into bankruptcy on Saturday last. It is impossible to estimate the amount of liabilities, which in Chicago alone reach over a million dollars.

A libel suit for $20,000 damages was brought on Saturday against William R. Palmer, editor of the Norwalk, Conn., Democrat, by Deacon Thomas R. Lees of Westport. For want of property Palmer was arrested, and in default of bonds was taken to Bridgeport jail.

The exhibition of the Mechanic Charitable Association of Massachusetts was formally opened Monday forenoon at ten o'clock, in the building erected for the purpose on Columbus avenue, Boston. The Fourth Battalion escorted the governor and staff, Mayor Pierce, the officers and invited guests of the association, to the exhibition building. Addresses were delivered by President Joseph F. Paul, Vice-President Charles W. Slack, Gov. Rice and Mayor Pierce. The governor in person started the big engine which set the exhibition in motion.

The number of persons who lost their lives by the tornado at Wallingford, Conn., was thirty-two.

John Lane, thirteen years old, on Monday afternoon fatally stabbed his brother Timothy at East Cambridge, Mass., in a dispute over a pet rabbit of which both boys were very fond. Timothy died in a few minutes after being wounded. The other brother was locked up.

A grand show of ladies' pets, babies and birds, with liberal prizes for the best display in the various classes of each department, is to be held in Boston Music Hall, commencing Monday, Sept. 23d.

Peter Heidle, a great lumber dealer of Williamsport, Pa., filed with his petition in bankruptcy a memorandum, in which he says: "At the beginning of the present long-continued depression I estimated that I owned real estate to the value of over six millions, and stocks, bonds and other securities to the value of over $1,200,000. It is no exaggeration to estimate my loss on shrinkage in real estate at $5,000,000; on shrinkage in securities including stocks and the like, at $900,000, and I have lost by failures of others the sum of over $1,200,000."

Justice Dugger of Danville, Va., fined Master C. B. Burke, aged fifteen, $2 for being drunk and disorderly, whereupon Master Burke pulled out his revolver and killed the magistrate.

The last few years hog cholera has raged incessantly in central Illinois, causing a loss of fully $200,000, but recently a peculiar kind of beetle has mysteriously appeared in De Witt county, which the hogs eat voraciously and which cures their cholera. The beetles are fast spreading over the country, and the people consider them a godsend.

The President has given ex-guerrilla Mosby the consulship to Hong-Kong instead of the Canton consulship, in accordance with Mosby's preference, and he accepts.

A mail contractor reports that 150 Comanche and Sioux Indians left Fort Hills, Indian Territory, without leave August 24th, and have been heard of near the Panhandle of Texas, where several outrageous depredations have been committed.

Christopher Brienstenfall, seventeen years old, on Saturday night murdered his grandfather, Joseph Gloser, near Detroit, while the old gentleman was in bed. The object of the murder was to get $40. The boy had previously served four years a prison for robbing his grandfather.

Milse Green, a colored man, outraged a young white woman in Prince George county, Md., Aug. 27th, and was lodged in jail at Marlboro the same day. On Monday morning he was taken from jail by a gang of twenty-five men, who hung him to a tree on the highway.

Three of the robbers of the Concordia, Mo., bank, have been captured.

Ex-Gov. Henry Haight of California died suddenly on Monday, in the office of a San Francisco physician.

The public debt statement for August shows a decrease in the debt for the month of $6,475,504.78.

Maggie and Lizzie Lee and Ada Edwards were drowned while bathing in the river at Pembroke, Canada, on Saturday.

The meanest man in the yellow fever belt is one Donovan of Memphis. He was absent at Brownsville, distant fifty miles from home, when his wife and children were stricken down with the fever. He has been of considerable political and social influence in Memphis, but he sacrificed the high esteem in which he had been held by positively refusing to return to his afflicted family. Mrs. Donovan died in giving birth to a stillborn child, and two of the children have since died, but still the cowardly fellow remains away from his orphaned flock and coolly telegraphs instructions for the disposal of the corpses.

We hear of many cases where persons have refused to take the "Trade Dollar" at more than ninety cents; as it is not a legal tender, and was never intended for circulation in this country, people are not obliged to take it at any price. But the State street brokers, who generally know what they are about, will pay ninety-eight cents on a dollar for all that are brought to their counters, and they will not sell short of ninety-nine cents. There seems to be a systematic effort to discredit these coins, but it is not effective in those quarters where people are interested in knowing their real value.—Boston Traveller.

New Hampshire Items.

Dr. Edward Swasey, a dentist, who has an office in Kingston during the summer, but practices in Boston during the winter, is under arrest for forcibly violating the person of Miss Alice L. Heath, a young lady of high reputation.

From present appearances Hon. Charles H. Bell of Exeter is likely to receive the republican nomination for governor. That means that he will probably be the next governor, for if nominated he will beat any man the democrats can put up against him, even though Frank A. McKean should be thrown over for Hon. Frank Jones. Mr. Bell is a gentleman of energy, education and clean record, and a square republican; and will make, if nominated, an invincible candidate and a governor who will fill every position in which he may be placed with honor to himself and the State.

—Captain Boyton performed his feat of swimming down the Seine, having been in the water twenty-two hours. When he landed in front of the Exposition building at Paris he was promply pounced upon by the over vigilant officials, who asked him for his ticket.

THE CITY.

The schooner Cocheco, Capt. Seawards, completed her first round trip on Tuesday when she arrived at this port with a cargo of coal for Dover.

Passed Asst. Paymaster Stephen Rand is detached from duty on board the ironclads at Washington and ordered to hold himself in readiness for sea service.

The U. S. S. Speedwell, at present engaged in the fishing business, arrived at the navy yard Tuesday afternoon from a cruise, to take in coal, provisions, etc.

Messrs. Samuel Dodge, Charles E. Hazlett, Albert H. Sides and William C. Robinson start for a trip to the White Mountains by team this morning, intending to be gone about twelve days.

Mr. Geo. R. Jones, formerly clerk with Paymaster Carpenter, during his attachment to this naval station as Purchasing Paymaster, and now of the United States Coast Survey, was in town on Sunday visiting his old friends and acquaintances.

The members of New Hampshire Lodge of Odd Fellows and their ladies are to have a social gathering in the Lodge room at Pythian hall this evening. The exercises will include speeches by members, singing, etc., and a collation will be served.

Capt. Albert Rand and Engineer William Gertin, of the steamer Appledore, will have a benefit excursion to the Shoals some evening before the boat stops running. They are two first class men, and deserve and will no doubt receive a bumper benefit.

If the city fathers don't know what to do about the selection of police officers, let them elect the old force; it is a good one; the members have clean records, have done their duty without making any fuss about it, and there has been no suspicion of any improper doings in the station since they have been in, which is more than could be said of some of their predecessors. The citizens generally are not wild for a change in the police force.

Mr. T. F. Stackpole, the dry goods merchant of Nos. 7 and 9 Market street, has caused to be passed about town a lot of the official circulars of the signal service branch of the War Department explaining the "cautionary" and "cautionary off-shore" signals, with his business card printed thereon. Mr. Stackpole evidently intends that if he does not get his share of trade it shall not be for lack of letting people know where he is to be found.

The mysterious refusal of the drinking fountain at the post-office to administer water to the thirsty is fully explained by the examination of the pipes, which were found almost solid full of rust. The fountain has been up only two or three years, and had the water been kept constantly running the pipes would have lasted probably for twenty years before rusting out; but the water having to be shut off during the winter on account of the frost, the pipes have been able to rust at their leisure.

Decent people who have been annoyed by the crowd of sidewalk loafers accustomed to congregate on the corner of Congress and Vaughan streets, indulging in obscene language and insulting remarks to passers-by when they dared, were pleased to see City Marshal Entwistle looking after the fellows Monday evening, and compelling them to "move on" and let better people have a chance to do the same. That particular pack of loafers has the reputation of being the worst one on Congress street, and we hope the marshal will keep on until he abates the nuisance so far that a lady can have a reasonable hope of passing that point without being insulted by their vile language and inuendoes.

THE VICINITY.

Mr. Ephraim P. Packer, of Greenland, the well-known butcher who for so many years drove to this city, died Monday forenoon in Greenland, at the age of nearly seventy-six years.

Major Urch has added to the stock in his aquarium at Newcastle bridge a sturgeon five feet and a half long and weighing seventy-five pounds; it was taken in the weir at Gerrish's island, and is very handsomely spotted. The number of visitors to the aquarium this summer has been very large, and Major Urch proposes to make it a still greater attraction by providing this winter for a much larger display of "The wonders of the deep" next season.

Charles Fowler of South Seabrook, who recently died in a fit on Salisbury beach while hastening to procure medical assistance for another person, lived in the second house from that of Enoch Eaton, who was fatally injured on the 1st of last July by falling from a team. To the house between Henry Brown was brought home drowned last Thanksgiving. To the house beyond Enoch Eaton's, Aleck Eaton was brought home drowned in July, 1876. These were all young men, and three of them left families. Fowler was a very worthy and industrious man, and his death is not only a great affliction to his parents but a loss to the community; Richard Fowler, the contestant in the case Town of South Hampton, vs. Fowler, (the noted Seabrook beach case,) is his father.

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, Sept. 3; Batchelder, J.

Paul Beaumpeaumlibug was up, charged with brawl and tumult. Of course he was guilty; a man is all the time guilty of brawl and tumult and conduct calculated to effect a breach of the peace in having such a name as that, even if he does not say a word nor do anything at all. Paul Beaumpeaumlibug was very properly fined $1, with costs taxed at $5.76.

Andrew Yeaton, for drunkeness on a public street, was fined $3, costs $6.90.

THE FIREMEN.

Moses H. Goodrich S. F. E. Co., No. Four, at their regular monthly meeting Monday evening elected the following officers, Foreman J. Frank Shannon having been chosen a member of the board of engineers: John S. Rand, foreman; William E. Pinder, 1st assistant; Edward Watkins, 2d assistant.

At meetings of Sagamore S. F. E. Co., No. 2, and the Hook and Ladder Co., Monday evening, committees were appointed to confer with committees from the other companies relative to a firemen's muster here this autumn. We understand that they have been guaranteed by merchants and others a sufficient amount of money to warrant them in going ahead with the arrangements. No. 4's Co. met Tuesday evening and appointed a committee of conference on the question of a muster, and the other organizations of the department will no doubt take prompt action in the matter.

THE FOG-HORN.

The new fog-horn tower at Whale's-back is raised about to a level with the circular pier on which the original tower stands. The cast iron casing is being filled with stone and cement, of which six hundred tons will be required. It is expected to have the tower ready to receive the machinery about the first of October. The fishermen and others who often have occasion in fogs and heavy weather to run for the sound of the fog-horn, frequently ask why a first-class horn had not been put there, where it is so much needed, while government was about it, instead of a third-class one, which, while so immeasurably superior to the old and useless bell, is still not what is required. An old fisherman, who is also a thorough seaman, recently took the trouble to ascertain how far he could hear the horn, and found that the day he tried it the sound was discernable but a mile and a half dead to windward, and four miles abeam of the lighthouse, and this in moderate weather, such as a small fishing schooner would carry all sail in when close-hauled.

A GOOD LAW.

For some years the villainous defacement of the landscape by the painting of advertisements of lightning hair dyes, cheap and mean wearing apparel, filthy quack medicines and filthier quack doctors, etc., on rocks, trees and fences, has been growing less and less prevalent in this vicinity, though the magnificent scenery of the mountain region is still cursed with the presence of the paint-pot advertising agents, who daub their disgusting announcements everywhere they think the tourists will see them. The newspapers have always denounced this illegitimate method of advertising, of course, for in the first place the newspaper men know the proper place to display an advertisement is in the newspaper, and secondly, most editors have some sense of decency and regard for the rights of the public; but the long-continued denunciations of the press seemed for years to be of little effect. The first really effective move against the paint-pot-advertising abuse that we heard of as being made in this vicinity was when a lady, indignant at the manner in which the fences along Richards avenue and in its vicinity had been prostituted, hired a man, gave him a big paint brush and pot of lead colored paint, and sent him out to paint over all the advertisements he could find in that neighborhood. The next assault on this abuse was when the Portsmouth Bridge Company prohibited the painting of advertisements on their property, and set men to work to paint out all that existed there. Previous to this both the Noble's island and main bridges had been covered from end to end with the nauseous advertisements of quacks and quack medicines; but since then a gentleman can drive a lady over the bridge without the necessity of shutting her up in a close carriage to prevent her sense of modesty being outraged by indecent announcements on the railings. Whenever we think of this action of the corporation we breathe a prayer for its welfare, even if it hasn't any soul. The foregoing we have written as a preface to the following law passed at the late session of the Legislature, and which we hope will be rigidly enforced all over the State, and particularly in this vicinity:

Whoever paints or puts upon or in any manner affixes to any fence, bridge, or other structure, or to or upon any rock or other natural object, the property of another, any words, device, trade-mark, advertisement, or notice, without first obtaining the consent thereto of the owners of such property, shall, upon complaint of the owner or tenant of such property, or the city or town authorities within whose limits the offense is committed, be punished by a fine not exceeding twenty-five dollars for each offense; provided, that this act shall not apply to any notice required by law to be posted in any particular place.

N. H. S. P. C. A.

At the meeting of the society on Monday evening the report of the complaints investigated during the previous month was made. Whole number investigated, ten, viz.: Using old and worn out horses, two; starving horses, three; using badly galled horses, one; beating horse, one; cruelly killing cat, one; maiming dog, one; overloading picnic wagon, one. All the complaints except one were remedied without prosecution.

Master Peter Jenness was made a life member of the society.

A committee of three was chosen to draft suitable resolutions on the death of Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett, one of the vice-presidents of the society.

The committee appointed to draft resolutions on the death of Capt. Wm. F. Parrott reported the following, which were adopted by the society:

Whereas, This society has been deprived by death of a vice-president, Wm. F. Parrott, Esq.,

Resolved, That we hereby express our sense of loss in the bereavement which has taken from our society a constant friend, and from the community a generous and philanthropic citizen.

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the local papers.

A WRECKED TEAM.

The Dover Democrat of Monday says that at an early hour that morning "Mr. J. W. Wingate, who resides on the Dover point road, went out from his house, and as he did so he discovered that a wooden post set firmly in the ground a short distance from his door had been moved as if tipped partly over by some violent blow. On looking over the ground a little he saw tracks of a horse, as if he had run against the post, knocked it out of place, and then jumped over the fence into the adjoining lot. On looking over the fence he saw a horse lying dead upon the ground. He was a gray horse, and apparently a valuable animal a few hours before. He had on a very good harness, and it was evident he was a runaway. Soon after, a carriage in a broken and damaged condition was found by the roadside nearly a mile northerly toward the city proper. Who owned this horse and carriage property is not yet known. But it is thought it came from Portsmouth, that probably somebody hired the team there, visited Dover, had some kind of accident on their return, and the horse ran away, jumped over the fence and broke his neck." The team above referred to belonged to Mr. Charles Cottle, the livery stable keeper at Kittery Foreside, and was hired by Mr. William Garland, an employe in the navy yard fire department, who reports that his team was run into by another one, when his horse ran away, smashed the carriage and killed himself.

When We Demoralize the Stomach

By excesses or imprudence in eating, we cannot hope to escape the consequences for any great length of time. The most robust digestion must succumb to abuses of that important function. But supposing that we have been foolish enough to enfeeble the stomach, is the damage irreparable? By no means. The dyspeptic has only to do two things to insure his ultimate recovery. First, he should adopt an easily digestible diet. Second, he should use with regularity and persistence Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the leading gastric invigorant of the age. The multiform symptoms of dyspepsia, and the almost invariably attendant disorders, biliousness and constipation, will assuredly cease to persecute the sufferer if the above advice is attended to. Who that has suffered the torments that chronic indigestion inflicts will neglect to take advantage of a remedy which, if the most positive evidence of the medical profession and the public is to be received with due credence, is an absolute specific for the complaint.

Fat People's Misfortunes.

Some of the savage tribes enter their dwellings through a hole in the roof, and when a person becomes so fat that he cannot get in, he is regarded as an outlaw. Had this system been adopted in the United States, the "out-laws" would not have made a more active demand for Allan's Anti-Fat than now exists. Hundreds who had lived in constant fear of sudden death have, by its use, been reduced to a comfortable living weight. The Anti-Fat is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. Sold by druggists.

Political.

The New Jersey National-Greenback-Labor convention denounces Butler and approves Kearney's theories.

Republicans should support the party and its grand principles now, and leave local issues to be settled hereafter.

The south has already demanded, during a single session of Congress, about $300,000,000 for internal improvements.

—A vein of gas has been struck at the depth of ninety feet, in a well being dug for Lyman Spencer, at Oneida, N. Y. The gas escaped from the mouth of the well so condensed that it could be seen, and touched with a match, flamed up two feet high, with a heat sufficient to cook beefsteak and corn. There is no sign of the gas becoming exhausted, and Mr. Spencer intends to conduct it to his hotel in pipes.

—The town of Hatchechubbee, Ala., has a mayor of an original turn of mind. There was a barbecue at which it was expected there would be some disturbance, when he hit upon the happy plan of enrolling the little girls to preserve peace. He did so by pinning ribbons on their bosoms, labelled "Police." This had the desired effect. The roughs were so amused at the device that they relinquished all notion of raising a disturbance.

—After the second attack upon the Emperor William, the brothers of the assassin, who were officers in the army, tendered their resignations, but were allowed to retain their places and to change their name from Nobling to Edeling. By a strange coincidence a man in Cologne, who was formerly named Becker, and who, after Oscar Becker had attempted to assassinate the Emperor in 1859, changed his name, happened to select his wife's name, which was Nobling. He will now have to try his luck again, if he insist upon having a name that is free from reproach.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. The GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

DOCTOR PIERCE'S

ALT. EXT. OR.

CURES DISEASES OF THE

THROAT, LUNGS, LIVER & BLOOD.

In the wonderful medicine to which the afflicted are above directed for relief, the discoverer believes he has combined in harmony more of Nature's sovereign curative properties, which God has instilled into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick, than were ever before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the great variety of most obstinate diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By its great and through blood-purifying properties, it cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all the numerous diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from "torpid Liver," or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

PENNSYLVANIA

RAILROAD.

GREAT THROUGH LINE

AND

UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE

The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. Its

Construction AND Equipment

THE

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

The Safety Appliances

in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,

JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,

THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,

AND THE

WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,

forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

Pullman Palace Cars

Are run on all Express Trains

From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,

To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,

WITHOUT CHANGE,

and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.

The Scenery

OF THE

PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE

is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form

A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

INVALIDS' HOTEL.

The very large number of invalid people who daily visit Buffalo from every quarter of the United States and Canada, that they may consult Dr. R. V. PIERCE, and the widely celebrated Faculty of Specialists in Medicine and Surgery associated with him, rendered it necessary that the founder of this institution should provide a place on a grand and commodious scale for their entertainment and comfort.

ADVANTAGES OFFERED.—The Invalids' Hotel is more complete in its appointments than any similar institution in the world. The building is located in one of the most healthful and desirable portions of the City of Buffalo, and commands a fine view of Lake Erie, Niagara River, and the surrounding country, being situated in the midst of an extensive system of beautiful parks. The Hotel is furnished with a patent safety passenger elevator, to convey patients to and from the different floors; is provided with all kinds of approved baths, and has also connected with it a well-appointed gymnasium and bowling alley to afford proper means of exercise.

CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms, whether requiring medical, surgical, or mechanical treatment, or cases within the province of our several specialities.

DISEASES OF WOMEN, especially are the facilities of this infirmary of a superior order as regards the remedial means and appliances for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females. The employment, in moderation, of tonic, chemical, electro-thermal, and other approved baths, in many cases as invaluable auxiliary to the remedial means to which we resort in such cases. Dry friction to the surface, general shampooing, Swedish movements, and light calisthenic exercises, to enliven and equalize the circulation of the blood in the system, relieve congested parts, improve digestion, and strengthen the muscles, produce important beneficial results in all cases to which these means are applicable. No experimenting is resorted to in the treatment. The most approved medicines are carefully employed, and the judicious regulation of the diet, to suit the condition of the patient, the thorough ventilation of the sleeping apartment, the cheerful influence of music, social intercourse, innocent games for amusement, and all those agencies which tend to arouse the mind of the patient from despondency, and thus promote recovery, are not neglected.

NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty, by which the greatest skill is attained and the most happy results secured.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of the practice in the Invalids' Hotel is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases are very largely treated in this department, and with results which have been highly gratifying to both physician and patients.

EYE AND EAR.—Special attention is given to the delicate operations on the eye and ear, a distinguished oculist and aurist being under engagement to conduct this branch of the practice.

Invalids arriving in the city and desiring to consult us, should come directly to the Hotel. It is easily accessible by carriage, omnibus, or street cars. Mr. LEACH'S Omnibus Agents, on all incoming trains, can be relied upon to deliver passengers and baggage with security and dispatch.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1849, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

SANFORD'S

RADICAL CURE

For CATARRH

INSTANTLY relieves and permanently cures this loathsome disease in all its varying stages. It possesses the soothing and healing properties of balms, herbs and barks in their essential form, free from every fibrous contamination, and in this respect differs from every other known remedy. In one short year it has found its way from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and wherever known has become the standard remedy for the treatment of Catarrh. The proprietors have been waited upon by gentlemen of national reputation who have been cured by this remedy, and who have, at considerable expense and personal trouble, spread the good news throughout the circles in which they move. When you hear a wealthy gentleman of intelligence and refinement say, "I owe my life to Sanford's Radical Cure," you may feel assured that it is an article of great value, and worthy to be classed among the standard medicinal specifics of the day.

THE benefit I derive from its daily use is to me incalculable. HENRY WELLS, OF WELLS, FARGO & CO.

IT has cured me after twelve years of uninterrupted suffering. GEO. W. HOUGHTON, WALTHAM, MASS.

I FOLLOWED the directions to the letter and am happy to say I have had a permanent cure. D. W. GRAY, M. D., MUSCATINE, IOWA.

I HAVE recommended it to quite a number of my friends, all of whom have expressed to me their high estimate of its value and good effect with them. WM. BOWEN, 226 PINE ST., ST. LOUIS.

AFTER using two bottles I find myself permanently cured. I have since recommended over one hundred bottles with the greatest success. WM. W. ARMSTRONG, 120 HARRISON AVE., BOSTON.

WE have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for nearly one year and can say candidly that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have yet to learn of the first complaint. S. D. BALDWIN & CO., WASHINGTON, IND.

THE cure effected in my case by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was so remarkable that it seemed to those who had suffered without relief from any of the usual remedies that it could not be true. I therefore made affidavit to it before Seth J. Thomas, Esq., Justice of the Peace, Boston. GEORGE F. DINSMORE, DRUGGIST, BOSTON.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for its use in all cases. Price, $1.00. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

C. E. MYERS & CO.,

No. 3 BOW STREET.

Daily Chronicle.

To my Father, on His Seventy-Sixth Birthday.

DECEMBER 19th, 1877.

To-day within thy crown of years,
Father, another gem appears;
Given from the priceless stores of time,
Finished and set, forever thine.

Circles the wheel unceasing on,
Six years and seven decades are gone,
Since helpless, weak, dependent, blessed,
Thou wert by mother love caressed.
Her eldest born, with what fond pride
She watched the infant by her side!
The silken hair, the ruby brow,
The dimpled cheeks, where are they now?
So many days behind them lay,
Canst thou trace back the traveled way,
Its hopes, its fears, burdens and cares,
Recall and for a moment bear?
Thy life was cast in earnest age
Of thought and deed and thrilling page,
I'm sure sometimes a longing came
To make illustrious thy name;
But over building faithful, true,
'Twas but thyself thy work could do,
Hast thou not won the true success—
Striving humanity to bless
By thoroughness, in word and deed, of which our world is in such need?

Dark clouds there were of grief and pain,
But from them fell not some sweet rain?
Sheds not to-day fragrant perfume
From flowers, that for transplanted, bloom?
And later sorrows like the snow,
May cover sleeping safe below
Our next year's joys, budding, while we only the shrouded earth can see.

"Happy returns!" may many wait Thee yet, this side the golden gate—
"Happy returns!" with her most dear
Beside thee, in the sunshine clear
Of this your Indian summer time,
When faith and love makes life sublime.

And, when at last, the shadows rise,
That hide one from our longing eyes,
Bequeath unto thy children's care,
Greater than gold, or jewels rare,
Thine upright name, to keep it pure—
Inheritance that shall endure.
Thy children's children, thus, appear "Without reproach, and without fear."

—Jennie.

A Western Fish Story.

The pleasing picture of the Iowa heroine, who had two pickerel under harness and was drawn by them up and down a pond in a beautiful little boat, was the sweetest fish story ever clipped with an exchange editor's shears. But who shall say that the ingenuity of the local chronicler has got to the end of its tether and devised the sweetest possible fish story? Here is the Whitehall Times, for instance, with a romance of the queen of the speckled beauties. A man has an artificial trout pond with at least 3000 fish, each weighing from half a pound to two pounds, more or less. He also has a little girl, five years old, who has succeeded in training the fish so that she can go to the edge of the pond and with a handful of crumbs feed them from her chubby hand. They have learned to jump out of the water and snatch worms from her fingers, and they are extremely fond of their little mistress. One day she lost her balance and pitched headlong into the water where it was deep. She says that when she went "way down" she called lustily for help. Her cries quickly attracted her parents, and they were horrified at seeing the little girl floating upon the surface of the pond. The father rushed to the water's edge and reached out for his pet, and he raised her from the water a perfect solid mass of trout was found beneath her. These faithful subjects of the little queen, as she fell, quickly gathered beneath her and thus showed their love for their mistress, by bearing up her body until aid arrived, thus preventing her from meeting a watery grave. 'Tis a beautiful tale, but the next file from the far west may have another still lovelier.

The Crown Diamonds of France.

The exhibition of these jewels in the Champ de Mars has drawn attention to a curious episode in their history. In 1792 the Constituent Assembly ordered an inventory to be made of them, and that task had hardly been completed when, on the night of the 16th of August, they all disappeared. Forty thieves, acting in unison managed to escalade the house in the Place Louis XV. in which the gems were deposited, and effected an entrance by breaking in the window, and carried them all off. Although so many men were engaged in the enterprise only two were caught, but the diamonds could not be found. At that moment a man named Lameiville, a hair dresser, was in the prison of the Conciergerie under sentence of death for coining, but he made his escape. A few days afterward he called upon Sergt. Marceau, a municipal officer who had rendered him some service while he was in prison, and told the policeman that while in confinement he had heard the men talking and had discovered the hiding-place of the precious objects, viz.: in the hollows of two large beams in a garret in a certain street. The Sergeant went himself to search and recovered the whole of them, the Regent, the Sancy, etc. As for Lameiville, he was sent away from Paris for security. Petion, the Mayor of the capital, recommended him to the Minister of War, and he was made an officer in a regiment of the line. According to an inventory drawn up in the reign of Louis XVIII. the jewels were more more than 64,000 in number, weighing 18,751 carats, and were estimated to be worth 20,900,260 francs.—Galignani's Messenger.

—A tramp was politely served with a dinner by Mrs. D. Wood of Bethel, Conn., but when he suggested that cider was more in his line of drink than tea, she drove him out of the house—he muzzle of a revolver.

Frightful Disaster.

The excursion steamer Princess Alice, with over 700 people on board, mainly women and children, while returning to London from a trip to Gravesend at about eight o'clock on the evening of the 2d inst., was run down and almost instantly sunk by a steam collier, the Bywell Castle, bound out in ballast. The loss of life was fearful, between 500 and 650 persons having perished. The Princess Alice was a paddle steamer of 251 tons gross; the Bywell Castle is a screw boat of 2376 tons, and struck the smaller boat amidships, cutting her almost in two. It was at first said that the collier went on her way without attempting to render any assistance, but a passenger by the sunken vessel who scrambled on board the other says her crew threw ropes to those struggling in the water.

The Yellow Fever.

Brownsville, Tenn., fifty-five miles east of Memphis, reported thirteen cases of fever and four deaths on the 3d inst.

Holly Springs, Miss., reported 60 cases of a severe bilious fever, and four deaths, on the 3d. The doctors there deny that it is yellow fever, as the Grenada doctors did when the disease appeared there.

Naval Affairs.

Commodore D. McN. Fairfax is detached from command of the naval station at New London, and placed on waiting orders.

Rear Admiral John C. Howell on the 2d inst. hoisted his flag on the tug Fortune at Washington, as commander of the North Atlantic squadron. He will shift his flag to the Powhatan when she is ready for sea.

News and Notes.

It is reported that among the stocks turned over to the Eliot bank by Mr. R. B. Conant, the late cashier, large amount of the Sierra Nevada Mining Company of California, which has advanced in price within a few weeks from $9 to $100 per share, thereby netting an immense profit to the holders, and more than making up all previous losses by the unfortunate cashier.

The steamer Kitty Boynton, with a large party belonging to St. Mary's Catholic church, returning from the Groveland picnic to Newburyport at eight o'clock on the night of the 3d inst, struck a stone pier at railroad bridge, tearing off the awning, sweeping the settees overboard and smashing the smokestack. Many women fainted. A man named Gilmore was badly injured about the thighs, and another named McCarty received scalp wounds. The alarm was soon spread, and crowds rushed to the scene.

At Boonville, N. Y. on the afternoon of the 3d inst., James Barry, aged twenty-one years, of Utica, while catching in a game of base ball was hit in the stomach by a foul tip. He picked the ball up, threw it back to the pitcher, and dropped dead.

Miss Margaret Higley died at South Canaan, Conn., recently, aged 99. She came of a long-lived family, her grandmother and mother, who were also named Margaret, dying at the age of 100 and 102 respectively.

Bishop McCoskey, Episcopal bishop of Michigan, has been deposed from the ministry for immoral conduct. He is seventy-four years old.

Daniel L. Rogers, a Willimantic, Conn., shoemaker, started for Peekskill, N. Y., last week, with his three little motherless boys, but at New London he got drunk, deserted his children, and falling into the bay was drowned. Before leaving Willimantic he stole $70 of a factory girl's savings. His children have been sent to a distant relative at Waterford.

The death of Colonel Butler P. Anderson, at New Orleans, of yellow fever, has been announced. He was a man of great energy and courage, and was known throughout the entire south as the president of the Howard Association, that has sent its heroic missionaries to all places where human lives were to be saved. He was a noble-hearted man—a hero and a martyr.

Troy, N. Y., has got to pay $20,000 twice over. The police commissioners deposed twenty-three men from the force May 23d, 1876, but the test case of one of the number restores him to police uniform, and requires the city to duplicate the salaries illegally paid to those who have filled the twenty-three vacancies in the interval.

Jennie Jackson, an actress, left New Orleans without friends or money, was smitten by the yellow fever. Her brother, John Jackson, an opulent resident of Melvin, Ill., was telegraphed to for aid. No reply came till after another dispatch had been sent announcing her death, when he inquired what would be the cost of her funeral. A reply was sent to say $150, whereupon he wrote to the mayor asking whether this was a fair charge and whether he ought to send on the money. His sister, whom he had refused thirty dollars she wished to borrow so as to leave the city at the outbreak of the pestilence, was buried in a pauper's grave.

At the Bohemian Garden, near Omaha, Neb., on the 2d inst., three Bohemians and three Irishmen had a desperate fight with knives. One Irishman was mortally wounded and one Bohemian killed outright, and all the other combatants were badly wounded. The survivors fled, but were all captured.

Martha Martin and Charles Lampes of Brooklyn were sitting on a rock in the outskirts of the city on the evening of the 2d inst., when they were attacked by six men, who beat Lampes insensible and outraged the woman. Four of the ruffians were arrested and two of them identified.

All the robbers of the Concordia, Mo., savings bank have been caught and identified.

George Crabtree of Bangor, charged with feloniously assaulting three young girls, has been held for trial in the sum of $5000.

President Hayes visited Chicago on the 3d inst., and was greeted with a citizens' and firemens' procession five miles long.

Vermont had an election on the 3d inst., with the regular republican victory. In the 3d congressional district Backus, bolting republican, is probably elected over Grout, the regular nominee.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 2.

The beginning of another autumn finds Washington in a more than ordinarily good sanitary condition, and our exemption thus far from a single case of yellow fever is a source of great felicitation. The terror with which its march up the Mississippi has inspired thousands is lifted little by little as we near the cool nights that will bring with them a certain antidote against the extension here of the infection. But the terrible details sent up every hour from the south have moved the great heart of this community as the tales of burning cities never did. No great calamity has ever called out such almost uniform manifestations of sympathy, and few are found unwilling to contribute generously in proportion to their means. The bitterness engendered by political strife is forgotten in the dread presence of this relentless destroyer at whose touch whole towns melt away. The noble response of the north and west and of southern communities not included in the area of this terrible visitation, proves that sectional prejudice and feeds based on partisan differences, are little more than skin deep among the great mass of intelligent American citizens; that the law of humanity—of a common brotherhood—is as high above such petty considerations as the heavens are above the earth; and it sweeps away the accumulated hatreds and resentments of decades like chaff, when its current is stimulated by such appeals as those coming up from decimated cities of the lower Mississippi.

The feeling here is that the International Silver Congress was a failure so far as the adoption of the double standard is concerned. Although our representatives are said to be have labored assiduously to that end, weight of opinion seems to have been against the practicability of any such consummation at present, and the prospect of any returns from the money spent in giving several gentlemen a pleasant trip to Paris seems rather remote. But reports that American exhibitors at the Exposition there are taking more than their share of awards and diplomas may prove a partial compensation to those disappointed at the outcome of the Silver Congress. Butler's denial of any knowledge of the Sherman-Anderson letter has served to dispirit sanguine democrats who had been so much elated by previous reports to the effect that he had seen it and that it would be sprung on the public just before the November elections, insuring a republican stampede and a democratic coup d' etat.

Kearney has come and gone. His coming excited no rejoicing, his going no grief. Excepting the call of Cohan and a few of his vagabond gang, he was left undisturbed at his hotel, and he and his "private secretary" found no impediment to locomotion by the crowds attending him on the streets. It was, in short, anything but the triumphal entry into the city of the deliverer of its toiling masses. Reputable people of all classes appeared intent on letting him severely alone. The various labor organizations seemed to wholly ignore him, and he gained only such distinction in this way as Cohen and a few of his ragamuffin disciples could confer. He went early to call at the White House and on such members of the Cabinet as were in town, and was civilly entertained for a few moments at each place, then abandoned. He took advantage of the opportunity offered while looking over the streets of currency Uncle Sam has stored away in the Treasury vaults for a rainy day, to inculcate some of his peculiar financial views to the clerks detailed to pilot him about. But they had no difficulty in controverting them with good sound common sense. He found himself so quickly flooded that he gave up the attempt to debauch Mr. Sherman's "obstructions, bond-holding" resident pimps as a bad job, evidently thinking his audience were of those given over to believe a lie. His speech was simply a rehash of the old one he has repeated so many times since he left his sand lot admirers. F. N. O.

THE CITY.

A large number of swordfish—about twenty—were brought into the market on Wednesday.

Owing to the dense fog outside the harbor on Wednesday the steamer Appledore omitted her customary trip to the Shoals.

Rev. Daniel J. W. Murphy, of Augusta, Me., is paying a visit to Rev. Father O'Callahan of St. Mary's Catholic church in this city.

Mr. W. Quincy Lowd and family, of Jackson, Miss., arrived in this city on Wednesday on a visit to Mr. Lowd's former home.

We understand that there is to be a horse race against time from this city to Boston some day next week. The horse is well known, and is called a good roadster.

A special meeting of the stockholders of the Eastern railroad in New Hampshire will be held in Congress hall on Tuesday, Sept. 17th, to see if they will approve the leasing of the property of the corporation to the Eastern railroad company.

We are pleased to learn from Dr. Whittier that Mr. Stephen W. Clarke, who has been in Concord some little time on account of ill-health, is steadily improving, and will probably be able to resume his duties as principal of the High school in a short time.

Walter C. Harriman, Esq., of this city, county solicitor for Rockingham county and son of Ex-Gov. Harriman, was married in New York on the 3d inst., by Rev. Dr. George R. Houghton, at the residence of the bride's aunt, Mrs. George Hartwill, to Miss Mabel Perkins of this city.

At the second quarterly meeting of the New England Ship Owners' Association, held at Boston on the 2d inst., Hon. Daniel Marcy of this city was appointed one of a committee of three to make the necessary changes in deal and other charter forms, so that freight shall be paid in cash, instead of one-third cash and two-thirds approved.

Sagamore steam fire engine is somewhat out of order. At a trial Wednesday afternoon it was found that she would not draught water any distance worth mentioning. Repairs were made on this steamer at considerable expense about a year ago, and the little work she has done since should not have made her entirely useless as she is now, if repairs had been well done.

Wednesday afternoon a squad of marines on liberty were in this city, among them a lad named McNamara, a musician lately arrived at this station. As the party were going up State street in the evening one of the marines in some way threw the boy against the curbstone in such a manner that his leg was broken. The lad was taken to the navy yard by his companions for surgical treatment.

William Riley, a marine, while on his way to the navy yard from this city Tuesday evening, 3d inst., fell overboard from the Noble's island bridge. He lifted up his voice vigorously, and his cries being heard by Messrs. Charles E. Berry and Thomas Watkins, he was rescued by them after being in the water about twenty minutes, and taken to the police station, where he was kindly cared for.

THE VICINITY.

Eddie Gooch, a little son of George I. Gooch, was drowned Sunday afternoon, 1st inst., at Kennebunkport, while playing near the water. His body was not discovered until two hours after he fell overboard. A little girl who saw him fall into the water first told the news.

The republicans of North Hampton caucussed on Tuesday evening, 3d inst., and chose delegates to the several conventions as follows: State, James R. Leavitt, Frank R. Drake; congressional, Morris H. Smith, John W. Warner; councillor, John L. Smith, Orren B. Leavitt; senatorial, Samuel Rand, Eben H. Dalton; county, Nathaniel Drake, John W. F. Hobbs.

There was trouble in the greenback camp at Saco on Monday evening, the 2d inst. The party to the number of forty-nine persons had a caucus that evening, when Henry Simpson, a democrat of inflation proclivities, was nominated for representative, instead of a regular greenbacker. Those of the Saco greenbackers who used to be republicans expressed great indignation, saying that this action made the greenback movement merely a tender to the democratic party, as the latter hoped by securing both nominations for their candidate, Simpson, to carry the city. But it is hard to tell how the two parties stand in Maine—whether the greenback party is the democratic tail, or the democratic party the greenback tail.

POLICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 4th; Batchelder, J.

Newell Hayes, charged with stealing a mare at Cutlin on the 28th of July, was arraigned; case continued for one week to enable Hayes to procure witnesses.

Eugene Smith was found guilty of drunkenness. He having appeared in court several times before for the same offence, he was fined $5; costs $6.67.

Nathaniel Danielson, for surrounding more liquor than he could well carry off, was assessed $9.90.

BOARD OF INSTRUCTION.

The regular meeting of the board was held Wednesday evening. Present the Mayor, Mrs. Wilson, and Messrs. Locke, Hoyt, Brewster, Knight, Pender, May, Gardner and Vaughan.

The proceedings of the last meeting were read and approved.

Committee on salaries reported that substitutes be paid eighty per cent. of the salaries of principals and grammer masters, $1000 per year.

Communication of Miss Whittem withdrawing her resignation was read and accepted.

Sundry bills were ordered to be paid.

Miss Rand was designated to have charge of the first division of the Bartlett school.

Certain proposed rules for teachers' meetings were presented by Mr. Knight and read, and on motion of Mr. Gardner the subject was referred to a committee consisting of Messrs. Hoyt, Knight, Gardner and Mrs. Wilson.

The committee then listened to a statement of Mr. Cline in behalf of a new map of the State. Subject was referred to the committee on text books.

Adjourned.

ROCKINGHAM UNIVERSALIST ASSOCIATION.

The Rockingham Association of Universalists will meet in Kingston Sept. 11th and 12th, when important matters will be discussed and acted upon. The following programme has been arranged by the committee:

Wednesday: 10:30 o'clock A. M., organize, and receive reports from special committees appointed last year; 2:30 P. M., occasional sermon by Rev. R. I. Sawyer; four o'clock, business session; seven o'clock, praise meeting; 7:30, sermon, and short addresses.

Thursday: nine o'clock A. M., conference meeting; ten o'clock, council called to order to discuss the rules and duties of the association respecting church and missionary work; two o'clock P. M., closing business session; three o'clock, sermon and holy communion.

THE SUFFERING CITIES.

There is a general sympathy in our community with the afflicted citizens of the southern cities, and a readiness on the part of every one to contribute something to relieve the labors and expense attending the nursing of the sick and the burial of the dead. Subscriptions and contributions are being resorted to for the collection of funds for this purpose, and we learn that arrangements are in hand for the presentation of a comedy at Music Hall at an early day for the benefit of this cause. This will give an opportunity for all to contribute in a pleasant way, as the entire proceeds will go to the object.

[Communicated.]

ARCHERY.

It is most pleasant to notice the interest that has been awakened among the younger generation in the ever graceful pastime of archery—for which we are largely indebted to our artist-friend Tenney, and it seems not a little singular that it should so long have been neglected, while in vogue in England years ago. True, school-boys practiced it to some extent with such rude weapons as they themselves could create, instead of the elegant articles now in use, but what a rare sight it would have been at the time to see one of the gentler sex thus recreating herself; as much so as to have seen her engaged at other times in driving hoop or skating, regarded as they once were but as boyish sports, though for what reason none could have told. Who that read Miss Edgeworth's tale of "Waste Not, Want Not," in their earlier years, and who did not, in which that model youth "Ben," with his everlasting piece of pack-thread, figured so widely, does not remember the interest it gave them in archery, and the desire it aroused in them to share in it amid like circumstances; the shooters, under Lady Somebody's patronage, being decked in fancy uniforms, as well as having prizes given to them by her ladyship for the best shots.

At a recent private picnic at Newcastle, the young ladies and gentlemen of the party took with them their archery implements, and in a display of their skill in the art, gave pleasure to the lookers-on as well as themselves. The scene, with the boats at the beach in which a portion of the party had come, might well have recalled in fancy a time when the red men, from their homes on the banks of the Sagamore, came in their birch canoes to the same locality; when the rocky isles in the distance but rarely bore the impress of human footsteps, and such structures, or their use, as the Appledore, the Oceanic and the Hotel Wentworth, were among the undreamed of things of an after time.

The first mention of the bow on record appears in Genesis XXVII., when Isaac tells Esau to take his quiver and bow and go out into the field and procure for him some venison. It was also the earliest weapon of warfare by all the ancient nations as early as Nimrod "began to be a mighty one in the earth." The sculptures of Nineveh that modern discovery have brought to light, show that it was the favorite weapon of the king and his chief fighting men both in war and when enjoying the sports of the chase. Homer describes the bow and the manner of using it, and coming down to a far later time, it was a terrible instrument in the hands of the Normans at the battle of Hastings. The history of the bow and its accompanying quiver of arrows, is a curiously interesting one, and it would be well worth the while of the young who take so much interest in archery now as a pastime, to make themselves familiar with it; as they may readily do from the resources open to them in this age of literature.

New Hampshire Items.

Under the recent statute of the State women can vote at school district meetings. In some of the back towns it is proposed by some of the energetic women who wish to manage school offices that the school district meeting take the place of the sewing circle, that they may vote "early and often."

At the regular meeting of the Manchester city government Tuesday evening Mayor Kelley presented an address asking for an appropriation for the relief of the yellow fever sufferers. A resolution was passed authorizing the mayor to call a public meeting. An appropriation will be passed.

J. F. Twiss, Esq., of Londonderry, has a cat seventeen years old, which has raised 134 kittens, which are distributed from New Hampshire to California.

Mr. John Colbas French, of Langdon, committed suicide by hanging himself in his barn, recently. Mr. French was in good circumstances financially, and no cause can be conceived for the rash act. He was about seventy years of age, and leaves a widow but no children.

It is currently reported that C. A. Sulloway has resigned the office of United States internal revenue collector, to take effect October 1st. He proposes to take an active part in the greenback movement.

George Atwood, son of Stephen Atwood of Nashua, was instantly killed by being run over by freight cars at Woburn, Mass., Tuesday morning, 3d inst. He was freight conductor of an early train.

—Dom Pedro visited the Mississippi jetties of Captain Eades while he was in the United States, and now sends him a pressing invitation to come to Brazil and remove the obstructions from its navigable rivers.

—The pedagogical plate-passer in the White Mountains is surpassed in a Chicago restaurant. While a customer was expressing his views somewhat strongly to a waiter, the proprietor, stepping up, remarked: "Don't talk to him that way. He used to be Governor of Oregon, and such treatment naturally hurts his feelings."

—A son of Senator Christiancy was fined five dollars in a Chicago police court recently for being drunk and disorderly. His step-mother is not strict enough.

—Victoria is reported to have said not long ago, when she had given an order to one of her domestics:—"I am Queen of Great Britain and Empress of India; but I have not power enough to make one of my servants put coals on the fire if she has been hired to look after the bedchambers."

Fat People's Misfortunes.

Some of the savage tribes enter their dwellings through a hole in the roof, and when a person becomes so fat that he cannot get in, he is regarded as an outlaw. Had this system been adopted in the United States, the "outlaws" could not have made a more active demand for Allan's Anti-Fat than now exists. Hundreds who had lived in constant fear of sudden death have, by its use, been reduced to a comfortable living weight. The Anti-Fat is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. Sold by druggists.

When We Demoralize the Stomach

By excesses or imprudence in eating, we cannot hope to escape the consequences for any great length of time. The most robust digestion must succumb to abuses of that important function. But supposing that we have been foolish enough to enfeeble the stomach, is the damage irreparable? By no means. The dyspeptic has only to do two things to insure his ultimate recovery. First, he should adopt an easily digestible diet. Second, he should use with regularity and perseverance Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the leading gastric invigorant of the age. The multiform symptoms of dyspepsia, and the almost invariably attendant disorders, biliousness and constipation, will assuredly cease to persecute the sufferer if the above advice is attended to. Who that has suffered the torments that chronic indigestion inflicts will neglect to take advantage of a remedy which, if the most positive evidence of the medical profession and the public is to be received with due credence, is an absolute specific for the complaint.

Health is an inestimable jewel. The cough that deprives you of it may take your life too. One bottle of Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar will avert the evil, and save you from consumption. Will you weigh Life against a half-dollar? Sold by all Druggists. t oct 4

No hotel in this country or Europe is more thoroughly comfortable for families and ladies travelling alone, than the well-known Colonnade Hotel in Philadelphia, Pa.

—As two ladies were walking along the street one exclaimed, as the sky suddenly darkened: "There's a thunder storm coming on. I'm so afraid of lightning!" To which the other calmly replied: "Very well, my dear; then let us step into this car, which seems to have a good conductor."

—Professor King, the aeronaut, has caught the fever for crossing the Atlantic in a balloon, and will soon begin the construction of a monster air ship. It will be ninety feet in diameter, 285 in circumference, and hold between 300,000 and 400,000 feet of gas. A discovery has been made by which the leakage is reduced to a very small amount. He will start next June.

—A bear robbed of her cubs is generally supposed to be furious and dangerous, but at Reed City, Mich., a bereft mother bruin adopted a missing three-year-old child of one Finn, in their stead. There the neighbors found it, after searching for twenty-four hours, with never a scratch upon it, and the old bear seemed very loth to give up the child of her adoption.

—A certain deacon in one of the churches of Brooklyn does not appreciate "Hold the fort" as much as he did. Some time ago at a Sunday school concert, while marching round the room at the head of a procession of children, he had a forcible realization of his position after the class had sung the words, "See the mighty host advancing, Satan leading on," and immediately retired.

—An astute clergyman at Melbourne, Australia, finding that many of his congregation were defrauding the Lord's treasury by depositing only the smallest silver coin when the plate was passed, quietly placed the coin on one side, instead of sending it to the bank, and the result was marvellous. Small coins became scarce, sixpences and shillings took their place in the plate, and the church coffers were handsomely replenished.

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday, and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or
$2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the old home by the sea, it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —
NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE
Contains more original matter
Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

THE N. H. GAZETTE
Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

In the wonderful medicine to which the afflicted are above directed for relief, the discoverer believes he has combined in harmony more of Nature's sovereign curative properties, which God has bestowed upon the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick, than were ever before combined in one medicine. The existence of this fact is found in the great variety of most continued diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, it cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all the numerous diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS AT $1 PER BOTTLE.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel, in
Construction AND Equipment
THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. The passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must be
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

INVALIDS' HOTEL.
The very large number of invalids who resort to the United States, Canada, from every quarter of the United States and Canada, that they may consult Dr. R. V. Pierce, and the widely celebrated Faculty of Specialists in Medicine and Surgery associated with him, rendered it necessary that the building of this institution should provide a place on a grand and commodious scale for their entertainment and comfort.
ADVANTAGES OFFERED.—The Invalids' Hotel is more complete in its appointments than any other institution in the world. The building is located in one of the most healthful and desirable portions of the City of Buffalo, and commands a fine view of Lake Erie, Niagara River, and the surrounding country, being situated in the midst of an extensive system of beautiful parks. The Hotel is furnished with a patent safety passenger elevator, to convey patients to and from the different floors; it provides with all kinds of approved baths, and is also connected with it a well-appointed gymnasium and bowling alley to afford proper means of exercise.
CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms, whether requiring medical, surgical, or mechanical treatment, come within the province of our several departments.
DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are the facilities of this infirmary of a superior order for the treatment of the numerous diseases and appliances for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females. The employment, in moderation, of tonic, chemical, electro-thermal, and other approved baths, is in many cases an invaluable auxiliary to the other means to which we resort in such cases. Dry friction to the surface, general shampooing, or with movements, and light calisthenic exercises, to enliven and equalize the circulation of the blood in the system, relieve congested parts, improve digestion, and strengthen the muscles, produce important beneficial results in all cases to which these means are applicable. No experimenting is resorted to in the treatment. The most approved medicines are carefully employed, and the judicious regulation of the diet, to suit the condition of the patient, the thorough ventilation of the sleeping apartment, the cheering influence of music, social intercourse, innocent games for amusement, and all those agencies which tend to arouse the mind of the patient from despondency, and thus promote recovery, are not neglected.
NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty, by which the greatest skill is attained and the most happy results secured.
LUNG DISEASES.—This division of the practice in the Invalids' Hotel is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases are very largely treated in this department, and with results which have been highly gratifying to both physician and patients.
EYE AND EAR.—Special attention is given to the delicate operations on the eye and ear, a distinguished oculist and aurist being under engagement to conduct this branch of the practice.
Invalids arriving in the city and desiring to consult, should come directly to the Hotel. It is easily accessible by carriages, omnibus, or street cars. MILLER'S Omnibus Agents, on all incoming trains, can be relied upon to deliver passengers and baggage with security and dispatch.

RADICAL CURE

For CATARRH

INSTANTLY relieves and permanently cures this loathsome disease in all its varying stages. It possesses the soothing and healing properties of plants, herbs and barks in their essential form, free from every fibrous contamination, and in this respect differs from every other known remedy. In one short year it has found its way from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and wherever known has become the standard remedy for the treatment of Catarrh. The proprietors have been waited upon by gentlemen of national reputation who have been cured by this remedy, and who have, at considerable expense and personal trouble, spread the good news throughout the circles in which they move. When you hear a wealthy gentleman of intelligence and refinement say, "I owe my life to Sanford's Radical Cure," you may feel assured that it is an article of great value, and worthy to be classed among the standard medical specifics of the day.

THE benefit I derive from its daily use is to me invaluable. HENRY WELLS, of WELLS, FARGO & Co.

IT has cured me after twelve years of uninterrupted suffering. GEO. W. HOUGHTON, WALTHAM, MASS.

I FOLLOWED the directions to the letter and am happy to say I have had a permanent cure. D. W. GRAY, M. D., MUSCATINE, IOWA.

I HAVE recommended it to quite a number of my friends, all of whom have expressed to me their high estimate of its value and virtues. WM. BOWEN, 225 PINE ST., ST. LOUIS.

AFTER using two bottles I find myself permanently cured. I have since recommended over one hundred bottles with the greatest success. WM. G. ARMSTRONG, 159 HARRISON AVE., BOSTON.

WE have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for nearly one year and can say candidly that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have yet to learn of the first complaint. S. D. BALDWIN & CO., WASHINGTON, IND.

THE cure effected in my case by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was so remarkable that it seemed to those who had suffered without relief from any of the usual remedies that it could not be true. Therefore made affidavit to it before Seth J. Thomas, Esq., Justice of the Peace, Boston. GEORGE F. DINSMORE, DETROIT, BOSTON.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for its use in all cases of Catarrh. Price, $1.00. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

Daily Chronicle.

Our Fisheries.

The press of late has been calling attention to a system of fishing mackerel which it is alleged is followed by American fishermen around our shores, and which if persisted in threatens, at no distant day, to destroy that valuable fish in our waters. To our western contemporary the Alberton Pioneer, we believe, is due the credit of first calling public attention to this subject. Later, Senator Howlan took up the matter, and in a long letter full of practical information on the question with which it deals, showed very clearly that unless the mode of fishing complained of is put a stop to, there is great danger that mackerel will in a few years become extinct around our shores. The Patriot too entered a vigorous protest against the pursuit of a system of fishing which threatens destruction to our mackerel fisheries. It is said that American fishermen are in the habit every spring and early part of summer, of using seines to fish mackerel, which take large and small fish alike. The large fish which alone is fit for market is kept and the young fish which is useless is thrown back into the sea. In this way vast quantities of the young mackerel are destroyed before they are fit for use, for it is said that fish once taken out of the waters in such seines can not live. Nor is the destruction of so many fish, though bad enough, the worst feature of this practice. It is said, and very truly, we think, that no fish can thrive long amidst the dead of its own kind. Thus it will be seen that this objectionable mode of fishing is uselessly destroying the fish in two ways, so that it would seem, unless it is discontinued, that it can scarcely fail in a few years to destroy our mackerel fisheries altogether. This question is of sufficient importance to engage the attention of parliament, if it is competent for parliament to pass a law prohibiting the system of fishing complained of. It appears that this system of fishing is resorted to in order to supply the Boston and New York markets with mackerel, at an earlier period than could be done by using hook and line. In this way a few greedy men may take a little money; but that is but a poor compensation for the total destruction of a valuable fishery. It is to be hoped that the press of the Dominion will take up this matter; for if it is really as bad as it is represented to be, it is matter of national concern.—Summerside, P. E. I., Journal.

A Russian Official.

A story is current in Moscow, apropos of Russian official routine, which, whether literally true or not, certainly illustrates to perfection the character of the prevailing system. An operatic star of some note, connected with one of the principal Moscow theatres, wishing to make a short excursion into the country, went to get her passport countersigned by the local authorities. The presiding official received her politely, and, having learned her business, inquired for her "written petition."

"My written petition!" cried the lady. "I have none; I never knew anything of the kind was required."

"Not required, madam! on the contrary, nothing can be done without it."

"What am I to do then?"

"Nothing easier; be good enough to take this sheet of paper and write according to my dictation."

The applicant obeyed, and transcribed word for word a formal petition, requesting leave of absence from the city for a stated time, which was then duly signed, folded, and sealed.

"And now," quoth the man in the office, "you have only to deliver it."

"To whom, pray?"

"To whom?" echoed the official, with a slight smile at the absurdity of the question; "to me, of course."

The document was accordingly handed across the table. The great man adjusted his spectacles, broke the seal, gravely read over his own composition from beginning to end, folded and pocketed it with methodical slowness, and then turning to the impatient artiste, said with an air of official solemnity:

"Madam, I have read your petition, and regret to tell you that I am unable to grant it."

—Time untied waits for no man.

— A Scotch clergyman has pointed out a remarkable misprint occurring in all editions of Shakespeare's works and never before noticed, by which the bard is made to say: "Books in the running brooks, sermons in stones, and good in everything," when what he really said was undoubtedly "stones in the running brooks, sermons in books, and good in everything."

—A contract has just been made for the erection of a mausoleum of brick, stone and iron to preserve the remains and Valentine's recumbent statue of General Robert E. Lee. The building, which is to be about the shape and size of the chancel of an ordinary Episcopal church, is to be built on the grounds of Washington and Lee University at Lexington, Va. The chapel to which it is to be attached contains General Lee's office as president of the college, which is preserved in the same condition in which he left it.

—A ragged, unkempt tramp went shuffling into a lawyer's office one day, and asked if Mr. ——, the jurist, was in. He was. Well, the pedestrian wanted a lift. He was dead broke, without a nickel, and was troubled with an aching void in his stomach. The legal light expressed some surprise as to why he came to him for help. "Why, you see, colonel," said the pedestrian, "I'm kind o' related to you. I used to be acquainted with your divorced wife." The request was based upon such unique grounds that the jurist bestowed upon his charity client a solid silver half-dollar.—Boston Courier.

The Pestilence.

Wednesday night's reports from the plague stricken cities showed the yellow fever still raging and the distress continually increasing. In Memphis there were 93 interments of persons dead from the fever, and the county undertakers reported about 60 others dead but not yet buried. The citizens' relief committee had employed a corps of thirty negroes to help the county undertakers bury the dead; it was suggested that burning the bodies might become necessary. The mayor being down with the fever, the president of the common council is acting. Flour and salt meats for the destitute poor are earnestly asked for by the committee of relief. Postmaster Hodges and Dr. W. R. Hodges died Wednesday.

In New Orleans, 100 deaths and 272 new cases were reported up to six o'clock P. M. It is stated that fully 12,000 persons are now sick in that city. Among the new cases were Maj. N. Burbank of the Picayune, and two Sisters of Mercy; among the deaths Mrs. Mattie Norvell, whose husband, C. P. Norvell of the Democrat, and their only child, died a week before.

In Vicksburg there were 2000 sick, and the doctors and nurses were utterly unable to respond to the calls upon them. Dead bodies were found under conditions showing that they died wholly unattended.

The disease at Hickman, Ky., previously said to be a bilious fever, was announced to be yellow fever.

At Canton, Miss., 100 cases were under treatment; 15 new cases and four deaths were reported before nine o'clock in the forenoon.

Grenada reported no improvement; new cases, 12; deaths, eight, including Dr. Gillespie and his mother.

Greenville, Miss., begged for nurses and doctors; also for aid for the poor. New cases, 19; deaths 19.

Holly Springs reported over 60 cases of fever and six deaths. The despatch said: "The stores are closed, and people who could get away have gone. There is great need of nurses and physicians. The latter are broken down and two are sick with the fever. Many cases will die today. Gloom, despair and death rule the hour. The situation is simply appalling, and the outside world are appealed to for help. The telegraphers are going to leave."

The board of health of Cairo, Ky., decided to establish a rigid quarantine against refugees from all infected places, and against passengers by railroad or steamboat who cannot show certificates that they have not been in fever infected districts for thirty days.

Washington specials say that Private Van Dyke of the signal corps volunteered to take temporary charge of the Vicksburg signal station, where two observers have been taken down with fever. Van Dyke was promptly promoted to be sergeant for this soldier-like conduct, and started south. He has had the fever.

Greenback State Convention.

The Greenback State Convention met in Manchester on Thursday. George E. Hodgdon, chairman of the State committee, called the convention to order, and permanent officers were chosen as follows:

President, C. A. Sulloway of Manchester.

Vice Presidents, Nathaniel Wiggin of Greenland, George G. Griffin of Auburn, James H. McIntire of Rochester, Calvin Jenkins of Barnstead, A. F. Wood of Wakefield, G. W. Drew of Concord, A. J. Sherburn of Pittsfield, Thos. Conner of Manchester, W. P. Phelps of Nashua, George Carpenter of Swanzey, D. J. Chase of Claremont, H. H. Clough of Hanover, J. W. Johnson of Enfield, C. M. Weeks of Woodsville, J. G. Crawford of Lancaster, Lafayette Moore of Northumberland.

Secretaries, N. K. Raynes of Portsmouth, Patrick H. Coleman of Concord, A. J. Burt of Manchester.

A nomination for governor was made on the first ballot, the declaration being as follows:

Whole number of votes	351
Necessary for a choice	176
John T. Hulme of Concord had	4
David M. Clough of Canterbury	10
Andrew C. Wallace of Manchester	60
Warren G. Brown of Whitefield	281

And Warren G. Brown was declared the nominee of the greenback party for governor.

A full set of resolutions was passed, which we shall print hereafter.

More Democratic "Reform."

It is charged that the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee is sending through the mails as a part of the Congressional Record, the recent interview with Representative Blackburn of Kentucky, in which the latter undertakes to answer Mr. Windom's speech on appropriations. It is needless to say that this interview never appeared in the Record, as it is not two weeks old, and that to send it through the mails as such is a gross violation of law.

News and Notes.

The New York Herald advocates the nomination of Robert Bonner of Ledger fame as candidate for mayor of New York. Such a good horse-man would be expected to make a good run.

An old man named Wilson, residing in Wallowa valley, Cal., was recently murdered while out hunting. His head and limbs were cut off and the body otherwise mutilated, evidently to throw suspicion on the Indians, but Wilson's son-in-law, Joseph Coffman, has been arrested for the crime. The evidence against him is almost conclusive. The object was robbery.

W. C. Rogers and J. Jarvis Jones of New York were arrested in that city on Wednesday. They are the stationers who according to Boss Tweed's testimony before the aldermanic committee, furnished all connected with the Tammany-Tweed city government with "blankets, saddles, jewelry," etc. Corporation counsel Whitney sues for $942,959.70, the amount of twelve warrants paid to defendants, and all alleged to be fraudulent. There are besides affidavits showing the bills to be gross overcharges. Judge Potter fixed bail in $250,000. The defendants have claims pending against the city for about $2,000,000, which have been audited.

The British bark Onaway, from New York bound to Trieste, put into Malta on the 3d ult., in consequence of a mutiny on the 1st ult., when she was about twenty-eight miles from Cape Passano. Two of the crew assaulted the chief mate, and a general scuffle ensued. The chief mate, boatswain, steward and one seaman were dangerously wounded. The master defended himself with a revolver and shot one of the assailants, a Greek, who was seriously wounded and jumped overboard, and was followed by his comrade, also a Greek. The captain has undergone a court inquiry and been acquitted.

The Mobile telegraphers quietly rebuked the Mobile millionaires by sending north the following despatch:—"The telegraph operators of Mobile and vicinity to-day sent $100 to New Orleans for the benefit of sick telegraph operators. The rich citizens of Mobile remitted to Memphis to-day $200 for the benefit of the sufferers."

William Taylor, a colored man, who murdered a white girl named Alice McDonnell, was taken from the Sheriff at Sandusky, Ohio, Wednesday evening, by a mob, and hanged to a lamp-post. The body of the murdered girl was found in a field a few miles from the city.

Orville Grant, the Ex-President's brother, has been placed in an insane asylum.

The Grand Central hotel, at Omaha, Neb., was burned Wednesday night. Loss $400,000. Three firemen were killed and others injured.

On Wednesday, as the workmen at the State prison at Concord, Mass., were engaged in lining the cell of Jesse Pomeroy with iron, he succeeded in escaping into the corridor through its door. He was seen at once, however, and promptly returned by the officer in charge. Had the cowardly and ferocious young brute been hung at the time he should have been, no person would be troubled watching him now.

Frederick Gerikin, proprietor of St. Lawrence Hall hotel, Montreal, has failed. Liabilities $300,000. His secured claims amount to $375,000. The difficulties arise from over-speculation in real estate. A settlement has been effected.

Major Anderson of the Tenth Infantry, at Fort McKavitt, Texas, has written to Gov. Bishop of Ohio, requesting the command of a regiment of Ohio volunteers in case of war with Mexico. He says: "From what I know is now passing upon this border I believe there is nothing more probable."

New Hampshire Items.

In quite a number of towns in the interior of the State the republicans have elected delegates to the State convention favorable to the nomination of Gen. Natt Head for governor. Well, he'll do. Either Natt Head or Charles H. Bell can carry the State against anybody the democrats can put up.

Gov. Hartranft of Pennsylvania, with his party, arrived at Concord Wednesday afternoon from the White Mountains. He was received at the depot by Gov. Prescott and escorted by two militia companies and a band, and driven about the city, after which they proceeded to the Eagle Hotel. In the evening the Governor was serenaded and responded.

Mr. Bishop, the guide at the Profile House, recently loosened a rock that weighed at least three tons on Canon Mountain, about twenty rods north of the Old Man of the Mountain. It went plunging down toward the Pemigewassett, cutting off trees a foot in diameter, and making a complete path through the woods in its descent. It filled the air with stones and made a terrific noise. Persons in that neighborhood who were in the woods ran for their lives.

Albert Pushee, a prominent farmer of Lyme, recently died from blood-poisoning. The disease originated from a felon that came on one of his fingers in June, it not having been properly attended to.

T. Kittridge Hall of Easton has absconded to escape prosecution for adultery with a girl fourteen years old, daughter of Horace Morse. Hall succeeded in escaping the officers who were after him, and fled, leaving his wife behind.

Warner has three women farmers who do a thriving business; Misses Roxie and Betsey Lowd, sisters, who cultivate a farm of about sixty acres, and Miss Lizzy Whitcomb, who has one of a hundred acres. They personally superintend the farm work, and do not hesitate even to take hold of a scythe, hoe and plow, and are seen nearly every fair day in the field hard at work; own fine stock, and have money in the bank.

A building at Tilton owned by Augustus Barnes and occupied by H. E. Dearborn, grocer, was destroyed by fire Thursday morning. Loss $2000; insured. J. F. Moulton's building was damaged $1000; insured.

Political.

Kearney started from San Francisco on his present eastern tour with $2000 in his pocket, raised by subscription among his deluded followers to pay the expenses of his evangelizing pilgrimage to the shrine of the Widow of Essex. He cannot have spent this sum in a proper manner since then, but he has nevertheless begged alms like any other tramp since his late departure from Boston, and his begging has not been in vain. Possibly he finds this demagogue-agitation business to be more profitable than that of a boss drayman.

Congressman Scales of North Carolina has confidence in a democratic victory which will result in the repeal of the law passed at the solicitation of an old democrat named Jackson in order to protect the servants of the federal government. In a recent speech he advised his constituents to forcibly resist the federal official who attempt to destroy their stills, and in case they are destroyed, to bring suits for damages in the federal courts. This sounds like a new notice of rebellion against the federal authority.

Now the brave officers and soldiers of our regular army on the Mexican frontier are a set of "blackguards" according to the Baltimore Gazette. They will never be forgiven by the Gazette and its Confederate friends for having, first, conquered the slave-holders' rebellion, and, second, survived the bounding—bounced Banning's iniquitous enmity. It is true they are engaged just now in defending the national honor on the Rio Grande; but the Gazette says of them: "Instead of sending his army blackguards into Mexico to provoke a war, Mr. Hayes should open hostilities with Hayti."

THE CITY.

The evening excursion of steamer Appledore for the benefit of Capt. Rand and Engineer Gertin will come off Monday next.

The fall term at Smith's academy commenced Monday, with a larger number of scholars than at any time since the establishment of this excellent institution.

Don't forget Col. Butler's popular excursion to the Shoals to-morrow, per steamer Appledore. There will be only one more of them—on Thursday of next week. See advertisement.

Tickets for reserved seats at the the theatre for the benefit of the yellow fever sufferers, will be ready for delivery to-morrow morning at Dr. Preston's. Buy them by the dozen and give them away.

The "Governor" cigars sold by Butler & Laighton for five cents each—six for a quarter—are the best cigars in the market for the money, and good enough for almost anybody to smoke these times. They draw well, burn well, and in taste and smell are as well-flavored as almost any of the ten-cent brands.

We recently stated that this city's apportionment of the State tax would be $5000 instead of $20,000, the Legislature having reduced the tax from $400,000 to $100,000. It is now said that the Legislature fixed the amount to be raised at $400,000, the same as last year, the error occurring through a typhographical blunder in printing the newspaper supplements containing the laws.

Capt. Mayne of London, Eng., managing director of the Direct United States Cable Co., and Mr. George P. Ward, superintendent, were in this city Thursday in consultation with Collector Howard and captains of fishing vessels relative to the removal of the cable leading from Rye beach across the fishing grounds, to some other locality where there will be no danger of its being hooked up by the anchors of the fishing craft. It was decided to run the cable further off shore, or to the south from Rye beach, before turning to the eastward. Messrs. Mayne and Ward were entertained by Ex-Gov. Straw at his summer residence at Straw's point, Rye beach, on Wednesday.

The levee by the members of New Hampshire Lodge of Odd Fellows at Pythian hall Wednesday evening was a very enjoyable affair to all present. The exercises consisted of singing by the glee club and speeches by several members of the order, among them James F. Hartshorn, Alonzo F. Craig, Moses H. Tilton, Nathaniel D. Miller, Thomas Kennedy and John H. Locke. The presiding officer invited all to a collation in the banquet hall, and the invitation was promptly accepted. The social festivities were kept up to a late hour, when they were closed by the company singing "America" and giving three cheers for Noble Grand Charles E. Simpson. Past Grand Master Betton, of Kansas, was present, having arrived in this city by the Pullman train; and he was one of those who enlivened the occasion with speeches.

THE YELLOW FEVER SUFFERERS.

Congressman Jones received, recently, a dispatch from one of his fellow members residing in the infected part of the country, and at once started a subscription toward the relief of the suffering and impoverished people. The paper is being circulated among our business men, and all should freely contribute according to their means toward this worthy object. There is no time to hesitate or deliberate upon the question. The scourge has compelled a prompt action upon our part. Let us subscribe as liberally as possible, and speed the funds toward the scene of desolation. No postponement of the imperative duty of giving toward the relief of these people should be thought of. People may talk of hard times, reduced incomes and low state of finances, but the present exigency calls even for self-denial to relieve the sadly distressed people. We hope every one, not only those having large means, but persons of small incomes and moderate purses, will show their interest in this most deserving charity, by making some contribution, even if small. But let all give, and give freely in spirit. To some persons it is an effort to be charitable, and it costs a pang to be liberal, but the reward will come in the belief that "inasmuch as ye did it to the least of these," etc. Other cities have sent liberal contributions to this object, and Portsmouth should not be slow in coming forward with a helping hand toward her sister cities in their hour of distress.

POLICE COURT.

THURSDAY, Sept. 5; Batchelder, J.

Frank Smith and John Barrett, two "simple drunks," were each adjudged guilty. Smith was assessed $9.90, and Barrett $9.13.

DEMOCRATIC DELEGATES.

The following delegates were elected to the several conventions by the democrats of ward three at their caucus on Thursday evening: State—Uriah Blaisdell, Winthrop Hoyt; Congressional—Charles A. Sinclair, Edward D. Coffin; Councillor—Jeremiah Sanborn, William S. Willey; Senatorial—Frank W. Rand, Jerome C. Butler; County—James G. Locke, John Rafter.

AN EVIL NEEDING ATTENTION.

Three boys, attending one of the grammer schools in the city, and from their appearance sons of reputable parents, were seen to throw stones at and knock pears from trees in the garden at Glen Cottage, on Thursday just before school hours; and then one of the trio jumped the fence and stole the fruit knocked off the tree by the missiles. There has been much complaint of the increased daring of boys in entering gardens in broad day light and stealing fruit, directly in sight of the occupants of the house, and our police should need no detective to secure these offenders. Their actions are open and notorious. Aside from the annoyance of garden owners being subjected to this kind of raiding, the morals of our youth are rapidly being impaired by the unpunished and apparently unheeded frequency of these occurrences. There should be detailed a public officer whose special duty it should be to look after these juvenile offenders, and protect the property of those who take pains to cutivate fruit in the hope that they may be protected by the government they are taxed to maintain. Will our city fathers heed the suggestion?

CITY COUNCILS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening:

The monthly bills were presented, approved, and ordered paid.

The bill of City Solicitor Hackett was presented, accompanied with a communication. Solicitor requested to appear before the board and explain.

Committee on drains were empowered to lay drain petitioned for by James M. Locke and others.

George Bilbruck asked price of lot of land near the city farm, with intention of purchasing same. Referred to committee on city land and buildings.

Alderman Laighton moved that the board proceed to the election of police officers, night watchmen and constables. After dilatory proceedings by some of the aldermen the motion prevailed, and the following officers were elected: Peter Pray, Joseph B. White, Charles H. Besselievre, Charles P. Abbott, Thomas R. Moore, William Nowell.

Committee on claims recommended that John Woods' bill for damage to cellar by the overflowing of a drain be paid. Adopted.

The committee to whom was referred the matter of the mill-pond nuisances made a report that the south mill-pond water-privilege could be purchased of Mr. Barnard for $5000, and the proposal would lay open for thirty days. The report was laid over to the next meeting.

Resignation of Robert E. Rich as inspector of petroleum and its products was received and accepted, and Benjamin Plummer was elected to fill the vacancy.

In convention of both boards Samuel S. Whidden was elected road surveyor of District No. 4; Daniel Littlefield and James A. Rugg, surveyors of lumber and measurers of wood; Hiram F. Williams Horace Waldron, Charles R. Green, weighers.

THE VICINITY.

Mr. N. E. Hanson, a grocer of Dover, has failed, with liabilities of $15,000. The assets consist mainly of book accounts, and will it is thought pay about forty cents on a dollar.

Mr. William Allen of Kennebunk and his wife were riding home from Alfred, recently, when the harness broke going down hill, the horse ran away, both occupants of the carriage were thrown out and Mr. Allen was very seriously injured.

Lincoln Hook and Ladder Company of Dover had a clam-bake at Dover point on Thursday, at which the honorary members of the company, foremen of the Dover engine companies, editors of all the city papers and captains of the two military companies, were invited guests.

"Professor" Ladd of Boston and Mr. Connolly of Marlborough, Mass., had a ten-mile walking match in Eagle hall, Dover, on the evening of the 3d inst. Ladd won through a foul, claimed by him and allowed by the umpire, who was his brother. Connolly challenges Ladd to another walk of ten miles for $50 a side, the winner to have all gate or door money in addition.

Some time in July, Col. Joseph Cushing of Dover, who owns a farm on the Dover point road, hired a decent looking man who came along, to work on his farm. On the night of the 2d inst. the decent looking tramp disappeared, the colonel's valuable gold watch disappearing at the same time. Col. Cushing entertains suspicions derogatory to the character of his late employe.

When We Demoralize the Stomach

By excesses or imprudence in eating, we cannot hope to escape the consequences for any great length of time. The most robust digestion mus succumb to abuses of that important function But supposing that we have been foolish enough to enfeeble the stomach, is the damage irreparable? By no means. The dyspeptic has only to do two things to insure his ultimate recovery. First, he should adopt an easily digestible diet. Second, he should use with regularity and persistence Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the leading gastric invigorant of the age. The multiform symptoms of dyspepsia, and the almost invariably attendant disorders, biliousness and constipation, will assuredly cease to persecute the sufferer if the above advice is attended to. Who that has suffered the torments that chronic indigestion inflicts will neglect to take advantage of a remedy which, if the most positive evidence of the medical profession and the public is to be received with due credence, is an absolute specific for the complaint.

Health is an inestimable jewel. The cough that deprives you of it may take your life too. One bottle of Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar will avert the evil, and save you from consumption. Will you weigh Life against a half-dollar? Sold by all Druggists. t oct 4

WM. B. HUSSEY,

No. 49 CONGRESS STREET, :: PORTSMOUTH.

—One of most interesting of the many centres of attraction in the Paris exposition is a little counter behind which girls are engaged in making artificial pearls. They are such beautiful and perfect imitations that it requires an experienced eye to distinguished them from the genuine. The effect of mother-of-pearl is obtained by combining pulverized shells with the glass; the hollow globules when blown are then filled with wax, which produces the lustre of the oyster pearl. These pearls are in great demand, the annual production being valued at 2,000,000 francs.

The report of the American Consul at Amsterdam upon the labor and wages of Holland would appear to justify the statement of Kearney that America is the workingman's heaven, at least when compared with the Dutch country, which, however, presents evidences of general thrift such as few other countries can show. Farm laborers get from fifty to sixty-five cents a day in the busy season of harvest, and female servants get from $25 to $75 per annum. And yet even at these meagre wages the recipients think it better to put up with a little during this depressed period than to strike for considerable and get nothing.—Boston Post.

—She was an angel blonde, and tripped into a butcher shop where a handsome butcher stood. "Have you a heart?" she said, blushing timidly. "Have I a heart, miss?" responded the butcher. "Do you think that I can watch you day after day, and see your eyes drooping as they meet mine, that I can feel your velvet breath on my cheeks as I stoop over to serve you, and not have a heart?" Oh, maiden, am I not all heart, and you ask me have I one!" "Yes," she sighed faintly, "this is beautiful, this is divine, but it ain't the kind I want this morning; so give me a bullock's heart, quick, and trim it for stuffing, or my old man'll be raising Cain if his dinner ain't cooked."

DOCTOR PIERCE'S
ALT. EXT. OR
Golden Medical Discovery
CURES DISEASES OF THE
THROAT, LUNGS, LIVER & BLOOD
In the wonderful medicine to which the afflicted are above directed for relief, the discoverer believes he has combined in harmony more of Nature's sovereign curative properties, which God has instilled into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick, than were ever before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the great variety of most obstinate diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, it cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a good constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all the numerous diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.
If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, bilious fever or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS AT $1 PER BOTTLE.

The Safety Appliances

THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

INVALIDS' HOTEL.
The very large number of invalid people who daily visit Buffalo, from every quarter of the United States and Canada, that they may consult Dr. R. V. Pierce, and the whole celebrated Faculty of Specialists in Medicine and Surgery associated with him, rendered it necessary that the functions of this institution should provide a place on a grand and commodious scale for their entertainment and comfort.
ADVANTAGES OFFERED.—The Invalids' Hotel is more complete in its appointments than any similar institution in the world. The building is located in one of the most healthful and desirable portions of the City of Buffalo, and commands a fine view of Lake Erie, Niagara River, and the surrounding country, being situated in the midst of an extensive system of beautiful parks. The Hotel is furnished with a patent safety passenger elevator to convey patients to and from the different floors; is provided with all kinds of approved baths, and has also connected with it a well-appointed gymnasium and bowling alley to afford proper means of exercise.
CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms, whether requiring medical, surgical, or mechanical treatment, come within the province of the Invalids' Hotel.
DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are the facilities of this Infirmary offered to advice as regards the remedial means and appliances for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females. The employment, in moderation, of tonics, chemical, electro-thermal, and other approved baths, is in many cases an invaluable auxiliary to the remedial means to which we resort in such cases. Dry friction to the surface, general shampooing, gymnastic movements, and light calisthenic exercises, to enliven and equalize the circulation of the blood in the system, relieve congested parts, improve digestion, and strengthen the muscles, produce important results, result in all cases to which these means are applicable. No experimenting is resorted to in the treatment. The most approved medicines are carefully employed, and the judicious regulation of the diet, to suit the conditions of the patient, the thorough ventilation of the sleeping apartment, the cheering influence of music, social intercourse, innocent games for amusement, and all those agencies which tend to arouse the mind of the patient from despondency, and thus promote recovery, are not neglected.
NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty, by which the greatest skill is attained and the most happy results secured.
LUNG DISEASES.—This division of the practice in the Invalids' Hotel is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchitis, Throat, and Lung Diseases are very largely treated in this department, and with results which have been highly gratifying to both physician and patients.
EYE AND EAR.—Special attention is given to the delicate operations on the eye and ear, a department of surgery in which a gentleman of acknowledged skill and surpassing success is now engaged to conduct this branch of the practice.
Invalids arriving in the city and desiring to consult us, should come directly to the Hotel. It is easily accessible by carriage, omnibus, or street cars. Mr. LER'S Omnibus Agents, on all incoming trains, can be relied upon to deliver passengers and baggage with security and dispatch.

RADICAL CURE

For CATARRH

INSTANTLY relieves and permanently cures this loathsome disease in all its varying stages. It possesses the soothing and healing properties of plants, herbs and barks in their essential form, free from every obnoxious contamination, and in this respect differs from every other known remedy. In one short year it has found its way from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and wherever known has become the standard remedy for the treatment of Catarrh. The proprietors have been waited upon by gentlemen of national reputation, who have been cured by this remedy, and who have, at considerable expense and personal trouble, spread the good news throughout the circles in which they move. When you hear a wealthy gentleman of intelligence and refinement say, "I owe my life to Sanford's Radical Cure," you may feel assured that it is an article of great value, and worthy to be classed among the standard medical specifics of the day.

THE benefit I derive from its daily use is to me inestimable. HENRY WELLS, of WELLS, FARGO & Co.

IT has cured me after twelve years of uninterrupted suffering. GEO. W. HOUGHTON, WALTHAM, MASS.

I FOLLOWED the directions to the letter and am happy to say I have had a permanent cure. D. W. GRAY, M. D., MUSCATINE, IOWA.

I HAVE recommended it to quite a number of my friends, all of whom have expressed to me their high estimate of its value and good effects with them. WM. BOWEN, 225 FINE ST., ST. LOUIS.

AFTER using two bottles I find myself permanently cured. I have since recommended over one hundred bottles with the greatest success. WM. W. ARMSTRONG, 159 HARRISON AVE., BOSTON.

WE have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for nearly one year and can say candidly that we never sold a medical preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have yet to learn of the first complaint. S. D. BALDWIN & CO., WASHINGTON, IND.

THE cure effected in my case by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was so remarkable that it seemed to those who had suffered without relief from any of the usual remedies that it could not be true. I therefore made affidavit to it before Seth J. Thomas, Esq., Justice of the Peace, Boston. GEORGE F. DINSMORE, DRUGGIST, BOSTON.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for its use in all cases. Price, $1.00. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

C. E. MYERS & CO.,

No. 3 BOW STREET.

Daily Chronicle.

[Communicated.]

John Niblo,

So long known to the people of New York and strangers from elsewhere, has as appears by the public journals, passed from the stage of life at a good old age, and left behind him something handsome in this world's wealth. Who that ever visited New York in former years does not remember Niblo's Garden, with its rough, white-washed enclosure that gave so little promise of the fairy scene within? While the northern section was open for moonlight promenades amid flowers and shrubbery, the southern part was enclosed, thus rendering it alike comfortable in every variety of weather. A scene of enchantment seemed to open to the visitor on entering this portion of the extensive grounds. The walks, lined with flowers in great profusion and of every hue, were arched by a dazzling array of gas-jets, that, reflected in mirrors at their termination, gave each separate promenade the appearance of being almost endless in extent. Here and there, each in its appropriate place where it would give the best effect, finely executed transparencies were seen, embracing moonlight scenes, marine views, etc. A more elegant and refined place of recreation could not well be devised, and as there was nothing to attract the rude and vulgar, the visitors were always composed of the same well-bred class. The entertainments in the saloon, tasteful and spacious in extent, chiefly musical, were of a superior order, none but the best artists, both vocal and instrumental, being employed, and the displays of fireworks, manufactured upon the premises, were nowhere surpassed. As the population had increased, so had the audiences from what they had originally been, and a building in the form of a theatre was added, where operas, vaudevilles, and pantomimes by the never-equalled Ravel troupe were given; the old saloon being devoted to promenade and refreshments. No place of refined amusement, where there was nothing to offend the eye or the ear during the long period of its existence, ever had associated with it more delightful memories. One unfortunate day a fire broke out in the pyrotechnic department, that laid in ashes the whole establishment, leaving nothing remaining but the bare walls of Niblo's hotel, that formed part of the front on Broadway. That immense structure, the Metropolitan hotel, now covers the entire space once occupied as Niblo's Garden, but a good-sized theatre is embraced within its broad limits, that bears the magic name of "Niblo's," as New York could no more dispense with a "Niblo's" than with Broadway or the Central Park. The Pestilence.

On Thursday, New Orleans had 288 new cases and 104 deaths. At Memphis the death rate was undiminished, there being 48 yellow fever interments up to noon. At Vicksburg there were 38 deaths up to noon, and the despatch said "God only knows when it will stop." At Grenada not a house remained without at least one fever case, and no one taken with the fever has yet recovered. From Canton, Holly Springs, Baton Rouge, Hickman, and other places, the same cry of anguish was repeated. Jackson, Miss., was still free, but the people were in the greatest terror.

New Orleans reported 289 new cases Friday; deaths 61; weather clear and warm. Hickman, Ky., had 30 new cases. Canton had 16 new cases.

Greenback State Convention.

Nathaniel Wiggin of Greenland, Chas. S. Eastman, and Chas. W. Weeks of Haverhill, were nominated by acclamation for railroad commissioners.

The resolutions prepared by a committee were read. During their reading three groans were given for Gen. Gilman Marston, the author of the tramp law, and "three cheers for the resolution denouncing the accursed tramp law." The resolutions, which were unanimously adopted, are as follows:

Resolved, That as we consider an interest-bearing national debt contrary to the spirit of a free government; we therefore demand prompt payment of all out-standing bonds at maturity, according to original contract, and oppose any further issuance of bonds by the government.

Resolved, That we demand immediate repeal of the resumption act.

Resolved, That we demand an equal and just taxation of all individual and corporate property.

Resolved, That we demand a thoroughly honest and economical administration of public affairs.

Whereas throughout the entire country the value of real estate has depreciated, industry has been paralyzed, trade depressed, and business, incomes and wages reduced, unparalleled disaster inflicted upon the poorer and middle classes, fraud, embezzlement, bankruptcy, crime, suffering and pauperism increased, and

Whereas, this unfortunate state of things has been brought about by class legislation dictated by bankers and bondholders, through limiting of the legal-tender quality of greenbacks, transforming of currency bonds into coin bonds, demonetization of silver dollars, exemption of government bonds from taxation, contraction of the currency through proposed forced resumption, therefore

Resolved, That the general government alone should issue money for the benefit of all and not through or for the enrichment of national banks, bankers and bondholders.

Resolved, That we demand the repeal of the national bank act, immediate withdrawal of all national bank notes, and substitution therefor of a full legal tender paper money.

Resolved, That we demand issue by the general government of a full legal tender paper money sufficient for the wants of trade, regulating its volume by wise and judicious legislation.

Resolved, That we demand that the salaries of officers of the government, State and national, shall be so fixed that remuneration shall be a fair equivalent for services rendered.

Resolved, That we demand that no subsidies shall be granted by the general government to individuals or corporations.

Resolved, That we demand that public lands be reserved for the benefit of actual settlers.

Resolved, That we demand in the interest of humanity and decency a modification of the iron-clad tramp law enacted at the last session of the legislature, as we do not believe in its present provisions, which constitute poverty a crime.

Resolved, That we view with alarm the rapidly increasing influence of a railroad power upon the legislature of our State, whose unholesale granting of free passes to representatives, its interference with important matters of legislation, which enforces too frequent adjournment involving heavy expenses to the State; and we therefore demand a strict enforcement of the statutes in relation to the reception of passes by members of the legislature, and that members shall receive compensation only for the time in which they are necessarily in the service of the State.

Resolved, That we believe that capital should make its contracts with labor, recognizing its rights and necessities, and that women and minor children should not be employed in our manufacturing establishments over ten hours per day.

Resolved, That we demand that the statute relating to trustee process be so far amended and repealed that a reasonable amount of laborers' wages shall be exempt from attachment.

Resolved, That this convention sincerely condemns all acts of lawlessness, violence or disorder, and has no sympathy or affiliation with that class who, to right their imagined wrongs, would erect the standard of communism in our midst, and assail alike life and property.

Resolved, That in this respect we deem it our duty as good citizens to seek the accomplishment of our ends through the ballot-box alone.

Resolved, That since past experience and observation has taught us that we cannot trust the accomplishment of these measures to either the republican or democratic parties, we hereby pledge ourselves to a cordial support of the State and local candidates of the national greenback party.

Resolved, That we bid God-speed to the temperance reform movement now going forward in our State and nation.

News and Notes.

Five firemen were killed and six badly hurt by the burning of the Grand Central hotel at Omaha, Nebraska.

Mrs. Richard Shay of North Adams, Mass., a few days ago attempted to kindle a fire with kerosene, with the usual success. She owes her life and that of her infant to the prompt action of two or three young men who, seeing her clothing on fire, rushed in and smothered the flames with blankets.

Eleven persons were injured, some of them very seriously, by the recent collision of steamer Katy Boynton with a pier of the railroad bridge at Newburyport.

New Hampshire is the only New England State which has no general insolvency law.

Five miners were crushed to death Thursday by a fall of rock in the Andover Iron Company's mine at Hibernia, N. J.

Mary E. Stannard, of Madison, Conn., twenty-two years old, was found dead in a blackberry pasture on the evening of the 3d inst., with her throat cut. It is believed she was murdered.

Schooner Elizabeth S. Lee put into Dutch island harbor on Thursday, having been in collision with the U. S. S. Constellation about ten miles off Block Island. The schooner's jibboom and bowsprit were carried away, but the wreck was saved, and no other damage was done. Capt. Lee, of the schooner, says that at the time of the collision the schooner's fog-horn was sounding, and that an officer of the Constellation acknowledged seeing the schooner's lights before the collision occurred. The frigate at once lowered her boats and rendered all possible assistance. The national ship was somewhat injured about the mizzen chains, but not seriously.

The dead body of a woman was found in the Back Bay basin at Boston on Wednesday, and an autopsy proved that she was murdered while attempting to defend herself from outrage. Up to Friday night her identity had not been established.

The cause of the terrible disaster to the excursion steamer Princess Alice, on the Thames, is believed to be that both vessels were rounding a sharp bend of the river, occasioned by the projection of a point of land, whereon the powder magazine of the Woolwich arsenal is situated. To turn this point the Princess Alice had crossed over to the right bank, and was thus out of her proper course. Her lights were probably obscured by the powder magazine, and being much smaller and lower than the Bywell Castle, the latter was upon her before the danger was perceived. The latest reports place the number of lives by the collision at about 650, as first stated.

New Hampshire Items.

All differences between Hon. John G. Sinclair and the Waumbek Lumber Company have been referred to Joseph Burrows and Nathan H. Weeks of Plymouth and Geo. Foster of Bedford. The hearing commences Sept. 10th, at Bethlehem. The Providence stockholders of the company oppose Sinclair's claim. Sinclair was a former treasurer and manager of the company.

The store of H. E. Woodberry, former postmaster at Amherst, was broken into Thursday night, the safe blown to pieces and robbed of $200 in bank bills, and damage done to the store and safe to about the same amount. The burglars got in at a window, and are supposed to be parties from Manchester, as they were traced that way.

The Twelfth Regiment New Hampshire Volunteers held its thirteenth annual reunion at Meredith Village on Thursday. There was a grand ball in the evening, winding up a most enjoyable time. This regiment went to Virginia for three years' service, with 1040 men, returning with 160 after participating in nine line battles.

Another Call for Bonds.

The Secretary of the Treasury on the 4th inst. issued another call for the redemption of 5-20 bonds of 1865 (consols of 1865.) The call is for $5,000,000, of which $2,000,000 are coupon and $3,000,000 registered bonds. The principal and interest are to be paid at the Treasury on and after the 4th of December next, and interest will cease that day. The following are descriptions of the bonds:

Coupon bonds, dated July 1st, 1865, namely, $50, Nos. 74,001 to 75,000, both inclusive; $100, Nos. 136,001 to 138,000, both inclusive; $500, Nos. 95,001 to 97,000, both inclusive; $1000, Nos. 184,001 to 189,000, both inclusive.

Registered bonds, redeemable at the pleasure of the United States after the 1st of July, 1870, as follows: $50, Nos. 2451 to 2485, both inclusive; $100, Nos. 19,101 to 19,120, both inclusive; $500, Nos. 11,201 to 11,226, both inclusive; $1000, Nos. 38,001 to 38,400, both inclusive; $5000, Nos. 11,601 to 12,000, both inclusive; $10,000, Nos. 22,551 to 22,880, both inclusive.

Protecting Bathers.

Bathers are not allowed to get drowned at the French seaside resorts with that freedom which characterizes our own watering places. Thus at Dieppe from six o'clock in the morning till eight at night, boatmen sit in their boats in front of the Casino, and watch the movements of the bathers in the surf. Should a daring swimmer venture out a dozen feet beyond the group who dabble about near the shore, the oar of the boatman quietly plies oceanwards and keeps the swimmer within reach of its rescuing aid. Baigneurs accompany all ladies and children into the water, and even clutch the hands of men who cannot swim. When not in the water, these biagneurs are sitting on the beach ready to plunge in should necessity arise. Many of these men are decorated with the cross of the Legion of Honor, and others with various medals gained for bravery in relation to the rescue of their fellow-beings. At nightfall gates are closed and various barriers put up about the bathing ground, which is patrolled all night long by a discharged soldier, uniformed, medalled and armed. Positively, no drowning is allowed.

—The unhappiest visitor in the mountains is a New Jersey man, who has come up to look at some land—350 acres, for which he traded last year a very fine colt. The trade was made on the Jersey flats, and the Jerseyman had never been to the mountains. He tells the story pathetically, and ends with, "Stranger, that 350 acres is a leetle more than perpindicular!"—White Mountain letter.

—Shrewd clerk, with an eye to his percentage: "Take an accident insurance ticket, sir?" Passenger, nervously: "Wha' for?" Clerk: "Well, sir, nothing has gone wrong 'twixt this and London for the last fourteen months; and, by the haverages, the next smash-up on the hup line is overdue exactly six weeks and three days!" Old gent forks out with alacrity.—London Fun.

Fat People's Misfortunes.

Some of the savage tribes enter their dwellings through a hole in the roof, and when a person becomes so fat that he cannot get in, he is regarded as an outlaw. Had this system been adopted in the United States, the "out-laws" could not have made a more active demand for Allan's Anti-Fat than now exists. Hundreds who had lived in constant fear of sudden death have, by its use, been reduced to a comfortable living weight. The Anti-Fat is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. Sold by druggists.

When We Demoralize the Stomach

By excesses or imprudence in eating, we cannot hope to escape the consequences for any great length of time. The most robust digestion may succumb to abuses of that important function But supposing that we have been foolish enough to enfeeble the stomach, is the damage irreparable? By no means. The dyspeptic has only to do two things to insure his ultimate recovery. First, he should adopt an easily digestible diet. Second, he should use with regularity and persistence Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the leading gastric invigorant of the age. The malaborious symptoms of dyspepsia, and the almost invariably attendant disorders, biliousness and constipation, will assuredly cease to persecute the sufferer if the above advice is attended to. Who that has suffered the torments that chronic indigestion inflicts will neglect to take advantage of a remedy which, if the most positive evidence of the medical profession and the public is to be received with due credence, is an absolute specific for the complaint.

Health is an inestimable jewel. The cough that deprives you of it may take your life too. One bottle of Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar will avert the evil, and save you from consumption. Will you weigh life against a half-dollar? Sold by all Druggists. 1oct4

Pike's Toothache Drops cure in 1 minute.

The fact of the business is that Sulphur Baths have become unnecessary since the introduction of GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, because that article answers the same purpose, viz., the removal of eruptions, rheumatism and gout. Sold by al Druggists.

HILL'S HAIR & WHISKER DYE, Black or Brown, 50 cents.

No hotel in this country or Europe is more thoroughly comfortable for families and ladies travelling alone, than the well-known Colonnade Hotel in Philadelphia, Pa.

Adamson's Botanic Balsam does not dry up a cough and leave the cause behind, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs and allays irritation thus removing the cause of the complaint. It is pleasant to take and works to a charm. Price only 25 cents. Sample free.

E. G. PIERCE, JR., P. M.

THE CITY.

Hon. Charles H. Bell of Exeter was in town on Friday.

Butler's popular excursion to the Shoals comes off to-day. See advertisement.

Major David Urch of this city was chairman of the committee on credentials at the greenback State convention, and has been invited by the State central committee of that party to stump the State in the coming campaign.

Messrs. Charles E. and Peter E. Johnson, fishermen of this city, set their trawls one day this week, and on hauling them found that every hook had been bitten off by dogfish. Quite a number of other fishermen report a similar experience.

We invite the attention of our readers to the notice of Mr. Monroe's in another column, in regard to music and voice-culture. An opportunity is now afforded, on very reasonable terms, to all those desiring thorough cultivation of the voice, by one of the best professional teachers of Boston.

The annual reunion and clam-bake of the Veteran Artillery Association will occur at Dover point on Tuesday. The tickets will be fifty cents each. Clam-bake at three o'clock. Dancing on the lawn, etc. An extra train will run in the evening. Fare twenty-five cents both ways.

Messrs. William Conn, Howe Call and George E. Hodgdon of this city are members of the greenback State central committee. The committee organized by the choice of George E. Hodgdon, chairman; John T. Huime of Concord, secretary; Andrew C. Wallace of Manchester, treasurer. William Conn was chosen one of the executive committee.

A mad dog created some little excitement about the city on Friday, by running around town and snapping at several people, fortunately not succeeding in biting any, so far as we have heard. He at length ran into a house on Sheafe street, but the occupants got out of his way with prudent alacrity; he then ran into the yard of the house and jumped through a window into the cellar, where he was shot by the police.

Capt. Staples, of the new schooner M. E. Eleredge, in a letter says she has so far shown herself a first-class vessel in every respect, sailing and working most satisfactorily. She made the run from this port to Spencer harbor, N. S., in sixty hours, with a light breeze, which is considered a splendid run. In tacking the after sails are not used to help her around, and she is absolutely sure in stays. Capt. Staples says she is the best working vessel he ever saw.

The lines for the building to be erected by Hon. Frank Jones on the site of the burned National house were run on Friday, and work on the foundations will commence on Monday. The building is to be four stories high. On the lower floor will be three fine stores; the second story will be fitted up for offices, and the third and fourth stories for halls. The walls are to be twenty inches thick, with an air space. It is the intention of Mr. Jones to make it as strong and handsome a private building as there is in the city.

Ship Kate Kellock of Liverpool, commanded by Capt. Charles C. Ricker of this city, from San Francisco for Liverpool (before reported,) was towed into Punta Arenas, in the Straits of Magellan, by a Chilian war vessel. When taken in tow she was dismasted, her decks had been swept, and boats and spars carried away. Her hull was tight, there being only two or three feet of water in the hold, and this had been taken in down the hatches. The vessel was left safe at anchor under the lee of the island, in about forty fathoms of water.

We rejoice to see that Portsmouth has at last waked up to the necessity of doing something to aid in the relief of the plague-stricken people of the south and southwest. A subscription paper has been opened—subscribe liberally! The cry for help is piteous; therefore let all, both rich and poor, put down their fifty cents for tickets to the theatre in Music Hall Monday night. No matter whether you go or not, buy your tickets at Preston's this, Saturday, morning. If you go you will enjoy a good laugh over the irresolute, fear-stricken Mr. Omnium, and the overbearing, haughty, would-be mother-in-law Mrs. Polster. Everybody says the play is great fun. Don't try to soothe your conscience by buying one ticket when you know you will be repaid doubly by the evening's entertainment. But buy ten and twenty, give them to the children, servants and poor relations. *

Grand Master Henry A. Farrington, Grand Secretary Joseph Kidder, and other distinguished members of the order of Odd Fellows, will visit Piscataqua Lodge, No. 6, of this city, Monday evening. A large number of brethren of the different lodges of the city will attend, with their ladies.

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, Sept. 6; Batchelder, J.

Hannah Griffin pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness; fined $3, costs $6.90.

John Griffin, a marine and the husband of Hannah, pleaded not guilty to a similar charge, and the complaint was nol. pros'd.

Jeremiah Manning, another marine, was also complained of for the same offence. The complaint was sustained, and Manning was assessed $11.04. He wished to appeal, but not being able to furnish bonds was sent to Brentwood.

A PLAIN, BLUNT FARMER.

The Nashua Telegraph, in its report of the meeting of the greenback State convention, has the following:

Mr. Geo. E. Hodgman, chairman of the greenback State committee, presided and made some opening remarks in which he took occasion to style himself "a plain, blunt farmer," and congratulated the assemblage on the outlook of the campaign. "We see," said Mr. Hodgman, "our money taken from us to pay the interest on bonds and we announce that we are seeking redress from the wrongs we suffer because of legislation in favor of the moneyed monopolist and against the people."

The chairman of the greenback State committee is Mr. George E. Hodgdon, of this city, not Mr. Hodgman; but then "a rose by any other name would smell as sweet." And he is "a plain, blunt farmer," is he? Ger-ra-cious! We always thought he was a lawyer, who never did a real day's work in his life.

DEMOCRATIC DELEGATES.

The democratic caucus of ward two was held Friday evening, and delegates elected as follows: State, Albert R. Hatch, Frank W. Hilton, Daniel E. Leavitt, William T. Frye, Calvin Page, Andrew P. Wendell, William Downs, Richard T. Call; Congressional, Charles H. Downs, Albert Hayes, George B. French, I. Nelson Goodrich, Samuel R. Gardner, Thomas H. Odion, Henry Peyser, James McClure; Councillor, George E. Marden, W. Dudley Varrell, John L. Frisbee, William Marvin, Jr., William J. Frazier, Dennis H. Trefethen, Richard McDonough, Herman Manson; County, Benjamin M. Parker, Hiram F. Williams, Andrew Lowd, John S. Wendell, George W. Lord, Robert H. Hall, John Dixon, Thomas E. Call, Jr.; Senatorial, John R. Reding, Ebenezer G. Adams, Samuel W. Moses, George W. Hall, Frank Williams, James C. Goodrich, Darius Williams, Jefferson C. Rowe.

ROCK. DIST. MED. SOC.

An adjourned meeting of the Rockingham County Medical Society was held at Bunker's hotel in Epping on the 4th inst., when the unfinished business of the society was brought up and disposed of, after which the society adjourned sine die. A charter was then presented from the State Medical Society by the petitioners for the organization of a district society under the authority of the New Hampshire State Medical Society, to be known as the Rockingham District Medical Society, and the members of the disbanded society proceeded to organize by the choice of the following officers: President, Dr. C. S. Downs; vice president, Dr. T. O. Reynolds; secretary and treasurer, L. J. Gibbs; executive committee, Drs. J. C. Eastman, T. M. Gould and H. B. Burnham. It was voted that the by-laws, rules and regulations of the late Rockingham County Medical Society, embracing the code of ethics of the American Medical Society, be adopted for the government of the new society, which then adjourned to meet at Kingston on the first Wednesday in December.

A SLIPPERY FELLOW.

Bill Coombs, the notoriously slippery customer who escaped from Exeter jail in 1876, and was recaptured some weeks ago by Sheriff Kent and again lodged in that jail, recently made another attempt to get out. The jailor had suspected that Coombs was up to something for some days, and watched him closely; and on returning to the jail one evening from spending the day abroad, he found that Coombs had sawed off two bars in his cell door, got into the corridor, and sawed off two bars in the door of the cell occupied by the "Gladding boys," confined for trial on numerous charges of stealing harnesses and anything else they could lay their thieving hands on. The bars in Coombs' cell had been sawed off for two or three days, it is supposed, and put back, being held in position with shoe-maker's wax, which being near the color of the iron concealed the work. Further investigation shew that a large number of holes had been drilled through the iron plate of a door with a quarter-inch drill, and also that other schemes to break out had been tried. The only tool discovered was a piece of iron in the shape of a bow, probably used as a saw to cut the bars. The jailor has no doubt that Coombs planned the escape of the woman who got away a week or two ago; but he will have hard work to get out again himself, as he has been placed in a cell newly fitted with steel bars, and containing no furniture at all.

THE VICINITY.

Stratham, with four churches, was recently without public divine service for four Sundays in succession.

Josiah B. Wiggin of Stratham, and Herbert F. Norris of Epping, have been appointed Auditors for Rockingham county during the ensuing year.

The box-manufacturing department of the steam mill of Wardell & Rand in Greenland is running on full time, and the grist mill doing a fair share of work.

The mammoth excursion steamer Empire State, having the Ninth Battalion band on board, made another trip to the Shoals on Friday from Boston. This is probably her last trip to that point for the season.

Mr. Alfred Moore, while at work recently on one of the buildings on Star island, Isles of Shoals, lowering the floor, was very severely injured by a fall occasioned by the giving way of some of the gear.

The fifty-fourth annual meeting of the Newmarket Manufacturing Company was held at the office of the company on Thursday, and the following directors were chosen: William D. Pickman, Benjamin W. Stone, Benjamin H. Silsbie, William B. Howes, Nathaniel Silsbie, John Webster and George W. Kittridge.

As an officer from this city was taking a consignment of prisoners to Brentwood on Friday, when between Stratham and Newmarket Junction one of the prisoners, a marine named Manning, slipped his handcuffs and jumped off the train while it was in motion, doing some very fanciful ground and lofty tumbling when he struck. He was seen to get up and run away, and as he was not worth stopping the train for he escaped.

The Boston Journal of Friday evening says: "Arrangements have been made for holding at the Granite State Park, Dover, N. H., a consolidated exhibition, cattle-show and fair, representing the industries of Rockingham, Strafford, Belknap and Carroll counties, New Hampshire, and York county, Maine. The exhibition will open on Tuesday, October 4th, and continue four days. Premiums amounting to $5000 are offered, and there will also be special purses amounting to $2000, to be competed for by trotting horses. Great efforts are making to have a first-class affair.

Can the Truth Overtake a Lie?

Investigation discloses the fact that the lady reported in the Associated Press dispatches, about Aug 10th, to have died in Chicago after two weeks' use of some reputed remedy for corpulency, had not taken Allan's Anti-Fat, but had used a preparation put up by a regular physician in Luzerne, Pa. Allan's Anti-Fat is manufactured in Buffalo, N. Y., by the undersigned. We have already sold over 100,000 bottles of it. It has therefore been taken by thousands, and we challenge proof that it has ever harmed anybody, unless the reduction of obese persons from twenty to sixty pounds, leaving them healthy and strong, is considered a misfortune. Furthermore, we hereby offer $5000 reward for evidence showing that it contains poisonous or injurious ingredients. We also offer $5000 if we cannot prove that it has reduced numbers of persons as stated herein, and always without injury. It is said a lie will outtravel the truth any time; but we trust that those newspapers that have misled the public by saying that physicians attributed the lady's death to the use of Anti-Fat (which is only put up by us, the term "Anti-Fat" being our trade-mark), will correct the false impression they have conveyed, by publishing this refutation. It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. DOCTOR PIERCE'S ALT. EXT. OR

CURES DISEASES OF THE

THROAT, LUNGS, LIVER & BLOOD.

In the wonderful medicine to which the afflicted are above directed for relief, the discoverer believed he has combined in harmony more of Nature's sovereign curative properties, which God has instilled into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick, than were ever before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the great variety of most obstinate diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, it cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all the numerous diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

PENNSYLVANIA

RAILROAD.

GREAT THROUGH LINE

AND

UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE

The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In

Construction AND Equipment

THE

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

The Safety Appliances

in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,

forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

Pullman Palace Cars

Are run on all Express Trains

From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,

To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,

WITHOUT CHANGE,

and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.

The Scenery

OF THE

PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE

is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form

SANFORD'S

RADICAL CURE

For CATARRH

INSTANTLY relieves and permanently cures this loathsome disease in all its varying stages. It possesses the purifying and healing properties of plants, herbs and barks in their essential form, free from every known contamination, and in this respect differs from every other known remedy. In one short year it has won its way from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and wherever known has become the standard remedy or the treatment of Catarrh. The proprietors have been asked upon by gentlemen of national reputation who have been cured by this remedy, and who have, at considerable expense and personal trouble, spread the good news throughout the circles in which they move. When you hear a wealthy gentleman of intelligence and refinement say, "I owe my life to Sanford's Radical Cure," you may feel assured that it is an article of great value, and worthy to be classed among the standard medical specifics of the day.

THE benefit I derive from its daily use is to me invaluable. HENRY WELLS, of WELLS, FARGO & CO.

IT has cured me after twelve years of uninterrupted suffering. GEO. W. HOUGHTON, WALTHAM, MASS.

I FOLLOWED the directions to the letter and am happy to say I have had a permanent cure. D. W. GRAY, M. D., MUSCATINE, IOWA.

I HAVE recommended it to quite a number of my friends, all of whom have expressed to me their high estimate of its value and good effects with them. WM. DOWEN, 225 FIFTH ST., ST. LOUIS.

AFTER using two bottles I find myself permanently cured. I have since recommended over one hundred bottles with the greatest success. WM. W. WARMINGTON, 159 HARRISON AVE., BOSTON.

WE have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for nearly one year and can say candidly that we never did a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have yet to learn of the first complaint. S. D. BALDWIN & CO., WASHINGTON, IND.

THE cure effected in my case by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was so remarkable that it seemed to those who had suffered without relief from all other remedies that it could not be true. I therefore made it my duty to make it before Seth J. Thomas, Esq., Justice of the Peace, Boston. GEORGE F. DINSMORE, DRUGGIST, BOSTON.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for its use in all cases. Price, $1.00. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

BLUE ARMY BLOUSES.

WE have just received a few more of those BLUE ARMY BLOUSES, which have been in such demand for the last twelve months.

C. E. MYERS & CO.,

No. 3 BOW STREET.

Daily Chronicle.

A REMARKABLE INSTANCE OF BUSINESS SUCCESS.

On a cool autumn day, a good while ago, a native of the land of Burns, as his accent betrayed, and with a squint of the most terrific description, (of which he affected, when in after years his fortunes were greatly mended, to be somewhat proud,) entered the building at the head of Boylston square in Boston, that was then the printing establishment of the once well known publishing firm of Wells & Lilly, and asked for employment; though a man of thirty, and recently a school teacher, as he said, among the blue noses of Nova Scotia, as there was nothing else to offer him at the moment, he acknowledged his readiness to sweep out the rooms, bring coal and wood from the cellar, water from the pump in the square, and do the errands to the book-store of the firm in a street down town. While performing these humble duties, the boy who served as copy-holder, being absent, he was substituted in his place, when it was found that he could read proof as well as hold copy for the proof-reader, and he was advanced as his assistant when such aid was needed. Ere long he was given a place in the wareroom, where the printed sheets were dried, pressed and folded for binding, and where he remained for some time. Emigrating to New York, he found employment as a newspaper writer, and made the venture of buying out a weekly that was about expiring, giving his "nots" for it, as he pronounced the word in his Caledonian dialect; but it soon died a natural death, as such things are always doing, and as a consequence he was unable to pay his "nots." For a few years following he did writing for the daily papers, but being anything rather than a pleasant companion, he did not long remain in any establishment, and disappearing from New York, was not seen there again until 1885, when how he got out a well-filled penny sheet, destitute [as he was of cash, probably mystified himself afterwards as much as any one else who knew him. Besides the market the news-boys made for his paper, it was sold from a vacant cellar on Wall street, over an old counter that had been left there by a former tenant. So low was the exchequer of its proprietor, a woman who kept a lodging-house in Broadway refused him one of her rooms until a young man who set type for his paper, and was not much better off than himself, became security for his weekly rent. The paper took; there was originality about it, such as it was, and not long was it ere he was able to have a printing office of his own as well as a place of publication. Twice was he burnt out in the year that followed, but came forth each time like a Phœnix from its ashes. Such an instance of newspaper success, started as it was without a cent of capital, was never known before or since. The other papers attacked it for its loose principles, coarse jokes, and, not seldom, want of decency; called it "the Satanis press," and its editor the "Mephistopheles of journalism." He took it all as a joke, styled it a "moral war" got up against him by those who envied him his success, and predicted that he would live to see most of his opponents, with their sheets, under the sod, —which time, very curiously did come, not only for penny journals, then common, but for the "respectable sixpennies," as he styled the older and larger ones of Wall street. He doubled the price of his paper from one cent to two, and still it sold. "Anything for notoriety" was his motto, or seemingly so, and among other means he took for winning it, was that of attacking in his columns the proprietor of a leading daily of the city, exposing some unfortunate stock speculations by which he had lost largely, who, for his ingratitude after the kindness he had shown him in former years, gave him a cowhiding in Wall street, for which he had him arrested and put under bonds to keep the peace against him for six months, and continuing his assaults on him in his paper daily until the time was up, he received another chastisement in the same locality, and still another before coming to the conclusion that he was in danger, by continuing the contest, of getting flayed alive. Nor were these the only instances of punishment he received from others whom he had as wantonly abused in his columns. Fifteen to twenty times was he publicly whipped in the streets; in two instances by women connected with the theatres; at another time by the keeper of a reading room in the old Tontine Building, whom he had maligned without even knowing him by sight until he felt his cowhide laid across his back. His first pecuniary success to much extent as a journalist, and that furnished him additional faculties for extending his business, arose from a weakness he had for blackmailing. One of his victims, a man of wealth, was in danger of utter financial ruin before his family discovered the large drafts he was making upon him, and put a stop to his proceedings. He laid the popular singers, dancers, etc. under contribution, especially Fanny Elssler, until they were taught by the press at large of how little value was the influence of his sheet upon the public mind. Before the associated press was formed, he tried all sorts of tricks to steal the news of the other papers, but when the organization took place he was allowed to become a member of it, and before long he was ready to go as far as the farthest in its enterprises. Apart from his early wrong doings in other ways, he was a most generous employer, and honest to the last degree in all his business transactions with his fellow men. When the new building for his journal, that, with the lease of the ground, had cost a million of dollars, was completed and occupied, a son of Portsmouth presented to him a bill of a hundred thousand dollars for the new presses furnished for it by his employers, the Messrs. Hoe. After glancing over it for a moment, and a few growls in his rough way at a minor item, he handed the bearer checks for seven-tenths of the whole amount, and told him to come in sixty days for balance.

If the full history of his at first diminutive journal, beginning from nothing, its subsequent immense income and outlay, the crooked ways at first, the straighter and better ones as it progressed, its before unimagined enterprise, until reaching a grand and honorable success, could be written out, it would be such as never before of its kind was dreamed of. A huge pile of stone that bears his name, and which he regarded as his monument, stands upon the spot where most of his fortune was made; and, impervious to the tooth of time as the Egyptian pyramids, every reason exists to imagine that passing centuries will find it there. When the grim monster called for him to take his departure, he left behind him in value five millions of dollars, the foundation of which could be traced to that mouldy cellar and dilapidated counter in Wall street, where Jauncey court now is, both of which are as palpable to the "mind's eye" of the writer, with the memory of having purchased a copy of the first issue of the journal referred to, as was the father of Hamlet to his son through the same medium.

A Sad Case.

There appeared on a recent night, at the police station in Nashua, an old man seeking food and shelter for the night. He had once been a merchant in Nashua, and was supposed to be prosperous, but he had changed his business, lost his property and friends, and had become discouraged, poor and destitute. He was sent to the county farm as a pauper. An investigation of his case by the county commissioners disclosed, not that he was a man of dissolute habits, or thriftless ways, but that in his business career he neglected one great precaution, — he failed to advertise. His unfortunate fate should be a warning to those who in these days seek to do business and omit the fundamental requirement of success in a mercantile career.

A Happy Man.

The recent heavy rise in some of the California mining stocks has made poor men rich, and rich men richer. "Sierra Nevada," the most notable of these mines at present, was a few months ago a drug in the market. It went from $32.50 to $48.50 per share on the 31st ult. On the 2d inst., it jumped to $71, and on the 3d to $93, closing at $92.50. After the closing of the board for the day, it sold at $100 a share. On that day, a New York man who had purchased 1000 shares of the stock four months previous, and had been back but a few hours from an extended tour in Europe, sauntered down Wall street, and was attracted by a bulletin on which were displayed the stock quotations of the San Francisco Mining Board, for the day. He stared in bewilderment as he noticed that "Sierra Nevada" was quoted at $93. Almost stunned he stood amazed. He had 1000 shares in his safe, which had cost him $3.50 per share. In no very dignified manner he struck out for his office, secured the stock and rushed into the Branch Bank of Nevada. A crazier man never set foot into the bank. Choking with excitement, he asked how much the bank would give for 1000 shares. "Ninety-three thousand dollars," was the bland reply. "I'll take it," almost yelled the owner of the shares, and when he received the check in payment, he burst out into the most exuberant expressions of joy, saying as he left the Bank: "By Jove, I made a clean $89,500 that time—and I don't want any more money in this world. I've got enough." Had he waited a few hours he could have had $7000 more for the 1000 shares. This incident is literally true, and is related by an eye-witness.

News and Notes.

The body of the woman found dead in the Back Bay basin at Boston has been identified as that of Annie Curtis, a widow. There is no doubt that she was outraged, murdered, robbed and thrown overboard. The police had learned enough on Friday to give them strong hopes of soon having the murderers in custody.

The loss of life by the sinking of the excursion steamer Princess Alice on the Thames river is now placed at 700.

Rev. H. H. Hayden, a Methodist licensed preacher of North Madison, Conn., has been lodged in jail, charged with the murder of Mary E. Stannard, whose dead body was found in a berry-pasture in that town last week. Hayden is twenty-eight years old, is married and has three children, the youngest but a few weeks old. He owns a farm adjoining that of Mr. Stannard, the girl's father. The girl was at one time in service in his family, and it is charged that he held illicit relations with her at that time. She was evidently stunned by a blow on the head, and her throat afterward cut.

The Newburyport Savings Institution is a creditor of Nathan Mathews for $120,000, probably partially secured by mortgages. Too many eggs in one basket.

Nathan Mathews, the bankrupt real estate operator in Boston, made his best investment when he gave Harvard College a hundred thousand dollars.

Secretary Sherman has decided to force the ten millions of standard silver dollars into circulation by redeeming, until further notice, all the national bank currency that may be sent to Washington for redemption, in sums of less than ten thousand dollars, in standard silver dollars.

At the last biennial election in Vermont, in 1876, the republican majority for Governor was 23,735. That was a Presidential year. The republican majority now is about 19,000.

Harry G. Cortis, a young man, while bathing at Greenport, L. I., was carried to sea by the tide and would have been drowned but for a daughter of Ambrose T. King of Paterson, N. J., who pulled out to him in a boat and towed him ashore. The young lady was quite cool until she saw the young man safe ashore; then she fainted.

The quarterly payment of pensions began on Wednesday. Gen. John A. Dix, of New York, lost his certificate, and was in consequence unable to draw, and will be until he makes application for and has a duplicate issued to him.

John Ahern, a soldier at Fort Scuyler, died Tuesday the 3d inst. Last July he went to New York with considerable money, and was found unconscious on the street, with a wound in the head, concerning which he was ignorant. A post mortem examination revealed that he had lived a month with a bullet in his brain.

It is stated that the loss to the revenue by sugar frauds in New York for years past has reached over $5,000,000 per annum. Many refiners and importers who refused to go into this fraudulent combination have been driven out of the business.

Naval Matters.

Admiral John C. Howell, who took command of the North Atlantic squadron Sept. 1st, has appointed as fleet officers Chief Engineer David D. Macomb, fleet engineer; Medical Inspector John Y. Taylor, fleet surgeon; Pay Inspector Cuthbert P. Wallach, fleet paymaster.

Passed Assistant Paymaster Stephen Rand, Jr., is ordered to the Quinnebaug at League island.

Naval Constructors Thomas E. Webb and Phillip Hichborn are ordered to Norfolk temporarily, for the purpose of surveying the Juniata in all matters pertaining to her construction.

Carpenter George E. Anderson is ordered to the training ship Minnesota, at New York.

Lieut. Comdr. Charles W. Tracy is ordered to report at Washington Sept. 11th, for examination for promotion by a special board.

Despatches have been received by the Secretary of the Navy from Commander T. O. Selfridge, commanding the Enterprise, dated mouth of the Madeira river, July 24. She entered the Madeira June 17, and arrived at the foot of Uros Island, 200 miles from its mouth, on the 21st. The pilot would not assume the responsibility of going further, and so the surveys beyond that point were conducted in the steam launch. The steam launch left June 25, in charge of Lieut Blockinger, accompanied by Lieut. Perkins and Mr. Sparrow, draughtsman. In the meantime Comdr. Selfridge personally triangulated and made a survey of the rapids of Uron, assisted by Lieut. Nichols and Ensign Hunt. The dangers of the passage are greatly exaggerated, as there is a good channel of seven fathoms through the rocks. The steam launch returned July 20. An excellent chart of the Madeira has been made from its mouth to the Falls. The total length of the Madeira from its mouth to the Falls of Antonio is 578 miles. The lower Madeira can be navigated by steamers of not more than 18 ft. draft, as late as the middle of July. The whole work has been prosecuted successfully, and the Enterprise was getting ready to return to the United States. Health of officers and crew good.

Major Thomas P. Treadwell, of the ordnance department of the United States army, has been promoted to be lieutenant-colonel.

Extensive experiments were had at the torpedo station at Newport, R. I., on Thursday. After the experiments the class was detached and paid by Paymaster Joseph Foster. In the class were Commanders Charles C. Carpenter of this city, Oscar F. Stanton, George C. Remey, with several lieutenant commanders, lieutenants, etc. The non-arrival of the Tallapoosa, detained by bad weather since she left Portsmouth several days previous, caused a scarcity of powder for use in the experiments. The board that witnessed the experiments expressed themselves as highly pleased with the result, and complimented the class upon the interest they had taken in their studies. Capt. Carpenter, since his detachment at Newport, has returned to his residence in this city, and is placed on waiting orders.

More than $10,000 was contributed on Friday in New York city toward the relief of the yellow fever sufferers. The total amount received up to Friday in that city alone amounted to over $130,000.

New Hampshire Items.

The State fair is to be held at Manchester Oct. 8th, 9th, 10th and 11th.

Manchester is to have a lyceum course the coming winter, with Col. Rob. Ingersoll and Theodore Tilton for end men.

Somebody in Manchester undertakes to say that the high school in that city is not the best school in the world.

The New Hampshire Unitarian State Association has appointed several delegates to attend the national conference of the Unitarian and other Christian churches at Saratoga next week. Delegates will be entertained at the United States Hotel at reduced rates, and excursion tickets will be sold on the railways from Boston to Saratoga. It promises to be a large gathering.

Political.

John B. Clarke of the Mirror avows that he is for Natt Head for Governor.

Robert Bonner declines to stand the nomination for Mayor of New York. It is asking too much for a newspaper man thus to compromise his self-respect.

Mr. Evarts predicts that the republicans will gain several Congressional districts in New York, and elect Mr. Conkling's successor.

The recent greenback convention was able to produce more resolutions in proportion to the members in attendance than any convention gathered in the State for some time.

The Concord, Eastern, Boston & Maine, and indeed most of the railroads in the State, will carry delegates to the Republican State convention which meets at Concord on Monday by selling round trip tickets for fare one way.

Hon. John A. Spaulding of Nashua, who has served one term as State Senator, declines a renomination on account of health and his private business. He made an excellent Senator, and the State will meet with a loss in his withdrawal. But Nashua has "Moore" left.

Conkling and Blaine think it is a good time to cease warfare on the President and to work for the republican party. It is also a good time for the President and his followers to cease warfare on Conkling and Blaine, and work for the republican party.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

CONSUMERS should bear in mind that the incomparable "Royal" is now the only Baking Powder in the market made from pure Grape Cream Tartar, imported exclusively for this powder direct from the wine-growing districts of France. An old experienced housekeeper writes that, although she has to pay a few pennies more for the "Royal," finds that it goes so much further and works so much better, that it is economy to use it. Another says she uses the powder in puddings, cakes, and all sorts of pastry, without eggs. An old lady writes that it makes the only biscuit her dyspeptic husband can eat. This is because the best and most wholesome materials are used. Approved by the New York Board of Health, and by such eminent chemists as Dr. MOTT, New York; Dr. HAYES, Boston; Prof. GENTH, Philadelphia, etc. Sold in tin cans only. disept1 6 70

RIVER COMMERCE.

A smart old lady in Eliot picks many quarts of berries every day in the season, and brings them in a boat to Portsmouth, where she carries them around town for sale. She reminds us of Ben P. Shillaber's excellent poem entitled "The Portsmouth Boys at Home," read at the reception of the Sons of Portsmouth in 1853, wherein, alluding to the produce exposed for sale in the old Spring market, he sings of

"the fertile country's pride
That Naiads ere the morning's gleam
Had ferried down the rapid stream."

DEMOCRATIC DELEGATES.

In ward four the democrats caucussed on Friday evening, the following being the delegates chosen: State, Daniel Marcy, Henry F. Wendell, Henry F. Hartshorn, James W. Lefavour; Congressional, Albert B. Trefethen, Alonzo K. W. Green, William S. Hazel, George S. Leach; Councillor, George Perkins, Charles W. Norton, Albert Shedd, Edward Watkins; Senatorial, Benjamin Atwell, Benjamin M. Bailey, William G. Marshal, George W. Watkins; County, John C. Marden, Charles Senter, Josiah Grover, Joseph R. Holmes.

REAL ESTATE CONVEYANCES.

The following transfers of real estate in this vicinity have been recorded in the office of the register of deeds:

HAMPTON.

Lewis Simmons, of Manchester, to H. G. Conner et als., of Manchester, land, $27.

Lewis Simmons, of Manchester, to H. G. Conner et al., of Manchester, salt marsh, $12.

Joseph T. Weare, of Hampton, to John J. Page, of Hampton, land, $15.

KINGSTON.

Benjamin F. Cram, trustee for Amos Wood, of Kingston, to Frank Cram, of Kingston, land, $150.

NEWCASTLE.

John P. Tarbell, of Boston, to Sarah E. Campbell, of Newcastle, land and buildings, $3000.

NORTH HAMPTON.

Joseph S. Hobbs, of Boston, to Abraham D. Hobbs, of North Hampton, land, $200.

Abraham D. Hobbs, of North Hampton, to Joseph S. Hobbs, of Boston, land, $400.

PORTSMOUTH.

Charles H. Mendum, of Portsmouth, to Benjamin Cheever, of Portsmouth, land, $1.

Francis M. Hatch, of Portsmouth, to Mary E. Eldredge, of Portsmouth, land and buildings, $1.

A TIMELY SUCCOR.

The trustees of the Knights of Honor have received a check for two thousand dollars to be paid to the widow of Jeremiah Raitt, a deceased member. This is the first death in the Lodge since its formation two years and a half since. The Lodge has eighty members. The Grand Lodge has paid out over $300,000 to the widows and heirs of deceased members during the past year.

RELIEF FOR THE SUFFERERS.

The first subscription paper for the relief of the yellow fever sufferers amounted to $500. Hon. Frank Jones on Saturday morning started a second subscription and devoted a portion of the day to soliciting donations. In a few hours he had raised between four and five hundred dollars, so that $1000 will probably be forwarded to-day to Memphis or such place as may be regarded as more suitable by the earnest projectors of the charity. Charles H. Mendum, Esq., devoted no little time to this worthy object, a labor well appreciated by his friends in this community.

The two contributions in the Unitarian church for the benefit of the yellow fever sufferers amounted to $315.

[Communicated.]

A REFUTATION.

Mr. Editor: The speech reported to have been made before the Greenback State Convention of New Hampshire by the Nashua Telegraph, in which the speaker referred to himself as "a plain, blunt farmer," was made by Charles E. George, Esq., of Barnstead. Mr. George is a highly educated, refined and gentlemanly man, who has brought up a large family, a dozen or more, by the labor of his hands on the farm. He is an uncle to George E. Hodgdon, Esq., and has been prominent always as a democrat. He was introduced by Mr. Hodgdon, hence comes the mistake; although Mr. George is well known in the interior of this State. He studied law in the office of the late W. H. Y. Hackett in this city.

DELEGATE.

THE CITY.

Probate Court in this city on Tuesday.

Music Hall invitingly opens its doors to-night.

The Mechanics' Fire Society partook of one of Hilton's excellents banquets at the Rockingham on Friday evening.

The fog-horn at Whale's-back can be heard with a fair wind as far to the west of us as Hampton Falls.

Fishing schooner Daniel Marcy, Capt. Cahoon, arrived at Doane's wharf on Saturday from Bay Chaleur, with 400 barrels of mackerel.

The Granite State base ball club contemplate another trip to Farmington this week, when they will play the third game with the Clippers of that place.

This is an excellent season for peaches in this vicinity, but it is a bad time for pears when boys jump fences and steal the fruit before it has ripened.

Yacht "Petrel" of the Portland Yacht Club arrived in the harbor Saturday morning bound to the westward. Experienced heavy weather off Cape Neddick, carrying away jib, etc.

The benefit excursion of Capt. Rand and Engineer Gertin, of steamer Appledore, announced for this evening, is postponed to Wednesday evening on account of the performance at Music Hall in aid of the yellow fever sufferers.

The new city government fully determined to repair the side walk in front of the Chesley mansion on Congress street, but an exhausted appropriation warns the Fathers not to be hasty. It would cost as much as two dollars to save people from the annoyance of unexpected foot baths at that long standing nuisance, but the public must wait until we pay for the mill-pond.

The greenbackers were enthusiastic over the resolution in their convention condemning the reception of free passes by members of the legislature. But we will bet a trade dollar against one of the national bank notes they wish to put out of sight that if any of the delegates from Portsmouth should ever again be elected —but we will not pursue the subject further.

A portrait most life-like, of the late Rev. Tobias H. Miller of this city, preacher, editor and philanthropist, fresh from the studio of Ulysses D. Tenney, is on exhibition at Myers' bookstore. As a work of art it is admirable, while in every feature it is true to life. While looking at the portrait one seems almost to hear the very voice of "Uncle Toby." Mr. Tenney is to be congratulated on his remarkable success—or rather successes in portrait painting.—Journal.

Damon Lodge, No. 6, K. of P., John S. Tilton, C. C., have accepted an invitation to participate in a celebration parade and excursion down Portland harbor. The arrangement has been made by which the Knights leave for Portland on the Pullman train on Monday evening at 9:08, and arrive home at 7:20 P. M., Tuesday. A large number of Knights are expected to be present, including Lodges from Dover, Great Falls and other places.

It is said that a well-known greenback orator of this city was interrupted in the midst of one of his harangues in Maine recently by an enquirer from one of the back seats who asked, "Say, Mister, if I water milk shall I get as good cheese from it?" The ambitious speaker allowed that it was of politics that he was speaking, and referred him of the enquiring mind to the committee of the next county fair.

We trust there will not be standing room at Music Hall this evening for the multitude who desire to give a mite toward increasing the relief fund for our distressed and stricken fellow-countrymen. The play is "tip-top," full of fun and frolic—but that is not the point. We want an opportunity to give a little if we have not much to spare; give one dollar if you cannot give a hundred. Don't be behind every city in the country; our sister city of Concord is already ahead of us. The cry is pressing, let the relief be freely given. Secure your seats early at no extra price at Mr. Preston's this morning.

Hon. Frank Jones has had a surveyor, endeavoring to make a proper line upon which to locate his proposed new building at the corner of Congress and Fleet streets, the site of the old Mansion house. It is said that the building will be an ornament to the city, and built in the substantial manner which characterizes the structures put up by our energetic townsman. What a fine spot this would be for rooms for a Free Public Library! Let us see. Is there not a fund locked up somewhere that some time in the sweet by and bye is to be used to establish a public library where our great-great-great-grandchildren will repair and bless their enterprising and benevolent ancestors that projected this needed boon to Portsmouth?

THE VICINITY.

A large boarding house is to be erected at Concord point, Rye beach, this fall.

North Hampton is one of the places at which meetings will be held some time in the winter to discuss agriculture under the auspices of the State board.

A Boston man named Hall has purchased a lot of land at Kittery Point, where he intends to put up a henery and raise chickens by thousands.

The rate of taxation in Kennebunk this year is $1.70 on $100, against $1.50 last year. The increase is largely due to an increase in the State tax.

Nathaniel Wiggin of Greenland will accept the nomination of the greenback State convention for railroad commissioner. This is a good indorsement as far as it goes.

The Kennebunk Star says: "An interesting quartette of greenbackers, from Biddeford, spoke to a small crowd at Wells village, one evening last week. The party consisted of two young members of the York county bar, one of whom has had an eventful experience of twenty-four hours as a democratic journalist; an ex-government employee; and a member of one of the Biddeford 'bars' before the Maine Law."

The republicans of Seabrook held their caucus last week, organizing with the following officers: president, C. H. Sanborn; vice president, George A. Weare; secretary, J. N. Brown; chairman ex. com., Albert Collins. Delegates to the several conventions were chosen as follows: State, C. Buswell, A. A. Locke, J. N. Brown, J. W. Fogg; Congressional, C. H. Sanborn, R. Collins, George A. Weare, R. L. Gove; Councillor, C. H. Sanborn, R. Collins, G. A. Weare, R. L. Gove; Senatorial, John N. Brown, S. L. Brown, J. R. Mahar, A. A. Locke; County, John N. Brown, R. L. Gove, J. W. Fogg, Robert Collins.

VAN AMBURGH'S SHOW.

Van Amburgh's Consolidated Show arrived in Augusta yesterday morning, and after a street parade gave an exhibition in the afternoon before a large audience, composed chiefly of women and children. The menagerie is the most varied and extensive that has ever passed through the South and the circus is certainly one of the best that has ever visited Augusta. Each performer has a specialty, and in his own particular line is master of the situation. One of the prevailing features of the show is a skein of jugglery, woven cleverly through the performance, and the different feats of balancing were remarkably well rendered. The woman with the iron jaw was a model of the kind. In her jaw she manipulated chairs lifted barrels of water, and held a rope which lifted her form to the top of the tent. Her exhibitions of power were capital, and, did she add to this muscular jowl a leather tongue, she would make a mother-in-law before whom a world of men might quail. The bareback riding of Master Charley Watson was the best ever seen here from a youth of his years. The audience could not spot him long enough to applaud his agile antics, so rapidly did he vacillate from the ground to his steed. The female trapeze performer was graceful and fearless in every movement, and the dual horseback exhibitions well worthy of praise. The bareback riding was very fine by several equestrians who excel in this exercise, and the jugglery performance very fine. The show, altogether, is well worth seeing.—Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle.

This big show will exhibit here on Monday, Sept. 16th.

—A little Cincinnati girl, when asked what God had made her for replied: "To wear a red fedder in my hat." Many an older person of her sex has, to all appearance, pretty much the same conception of Heaven's designs.

—Pittsburg fails to understand why it is that there is a discrepancy of over $8,000 between the accounts of the city treasurer and controller. The treasurer explains that the difference is only apparent and results from the controller not knowing how to keep his books.

—Mr. Edison's peculiarities were strikingly illustrated recently as a plaster cast of his head was being taken. While the work was in progress he employed his time in experimenting as to the sound conductivity of the wet and drying plaster, and in communicating with those about him by a telegraphic instrument which he could not see.

—A Presbyterian missionary writes from Idaho, where he seems to have caught the war spirit, in this militant tone: "I find that not only the Bible, but also a good rifle or revolver is a good companion for the missionary. A lady friend at Princeton wrote me a few weeks ago, that she would gladly send me something if she only knew what it should be. When I answer, the letter may contain the following: 'Please forward a Springfield rifle. I carry a Colt revolver, but that is not sufficient.'"

—Talking about the solution of the problem of fence or no fence, let me tell you that the matter has been settled in certain townships in this county, and no fence has become the order of the day. Driving north from Champaign City, Ill., by the time you have gone two miles fences have disappeared, notwithstanding hundreds of town cows wandering on the streets not two miles off. And this has been going on for three or four years, without any reasonable chance for a return to the old fencing fashion. Town people have learned to care for their cows or take the consequences, and slipshod farmers to herd their vagabonding stock, or it goes to the pound.—Prairie Farmer.

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday, and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. Or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated, Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Multum in Parvo Physic.

The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical, and Pharmaceutical Science. No use of any longer taking the large, repulsive, and nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can, by a careful application of chemical science, extract all the cathartic and other medicinal properties from the most valuable roots and herbs, and concentrate them into a minute Granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes. Each little Purgative Pellet represents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills found for sale in drug-shops. From their wonderful cathartic power, in comparison to their size, people who have not tried them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect; but such is not at all the case. Our different active medicinal principles of which they are composed being so harmonized and modified, one by the others, as to produce a most searching and thorough, yet gently and kindly operating, cathartic.

$500 Reward is hereby offered by the proprietor of these Pellets, to any chemist who, upon analysis, will find in them any calomel or other forms of mercury, mineral poison, or injurious drug.

Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad taste in the mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, High-colored Urine, Unwieldiness and Gloomy Forebodings, take Dr Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remission of any Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, I wish to say that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. Recollect that for all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction to all who use them.

They are sold by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

THE

stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

The Safety Appliances

in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,

JARNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,

THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,

AND THE

WOMAN.

By an immense practice, extending through a period of years, having within that time treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and exactness.

To designate this natural specific compound, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon my own personal observation. As a close observer, I have, while witnessing its positive results in the few special diseases incident to the separate organism of woman, singled it out as the ultima ne ne plus ultra gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female system, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, even more, so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it, for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not experienced by the time two-thirds of the contents of the bottle are used, I will, on return of the bottle, two-thirds of the medicine having been taken according to directions, and the case being one for which I recommend it, promptly refund the money paid for it. Had I not the most perfect confidence in its virtues, I could not offer it as I do under these conditions; but having witnessed its marvelous cures in thousands of cases, I feel warranted and perfectly safe in risking my reputation and my money on its merits.

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing Down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, Female Weakness, and very many other chronic diseases incident to woman not mentioned here. In all affections of this nature my Favorite Prescription works cures—the marvel of the world. This medicine I do not extol as a cure-all, but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

RADICAL CURE

For CATARRH

INSTANTLY relieves and permanently cures this loathsome disease in all its varying stages. It possesses the soothing and healing properties of plants, erbs and barks in their essential form, free from every ibrous contamination, and in this respect differs from very other known remedy. In one short year it has ow its way from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, nd wherever known has become the standard remedy or the treatment of Catarrh. The proprietors have ow in their possession and personal trouble, spread he good news throughout the circles in which they ove. When you hear a wealthy gentleman of intelligence and refinement say, "I owe my life to Sanford's Radical Cure," you may feel assured that it is an article of great value, and worthy to be classed among the tandard medical specifics of the day.

THE benefit I derive from its daily use is to me its valuable. HENRY WELLS, of WELLS, FARGO & CO.

IT has cured me after twelve years of uninterrupted suffering. GEO. W. HOUGHTON, WALTHAM, MASS.

I FOLLOWED the directions to the letter and am happy to say I have had a permanent cure. D. W. GRAY, M. D., MUSCATINE, IOWA.

I HAVE recommended it to quite a number of my friends, and they all say it exceeds their highest estimate of its value and good effects with them. WM. BOWEN, 226 FIRST AV., ST. LOUIS.

AFTER using two bottles I find myself permanently cured. I have since recommended over one hundred bottles with the greatest success. WM. V. ARMSTRONG, 159 HARRISON AVE., BOSTON.

WE have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for nearly one year and can say candidly that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have yet to learn of the first complaint. S. D. BALDWIN & CO., WASHINGTON, IND.

THE cure effected in my case by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was so remarkable that I feel bound to those who had suffered without relief from any of the usual remedies that it could not be true. I therefore made affidavit to it before Seth J. Thomas, Esq., Justice of the Peace, Boston. GEORGE F. DINSMORE, DRUGGIST, BOSTON.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for its use in all cases. Price, $1.00. Daily Chronicle.

Can the Truth Overtake a Lie?

Investigation discloses the fact that the lady reported in the Associated Press dispatches, about Aug 10th, to have died in Chicago after two weeks' use of some reputed remedy for corpulency, had not taken Allan's Anti-Fat, but had used a preparation put up by a regular physician in Luzerne, Pa. Allan's Anti-Fat is manufactured in Buffalo, N. Y., by the undersigned. We have already sold over 100,000 bottles of it. It has therefore been taken by thousands, and we challenge proof that it has ever harmed anybody, unless the reduction of obese persons from twenty to sixty pounds, leaving them healthy and strong, is considered a misfortune. Furthermore, we hereby offer $5000 reward for evidence showing that it contains poisonous or injurious ingredients. We also offer $5000 if we cannot prove that it has reduced numbers of persons as stated herein, and always without injury. It is said a lie will outtravel the truth any time; but we trust that those newspapers that have misled the public by saying that physicians attributed the lady's death to the use of Anti-Fat (which is only put up by us, the term "Anti-Fat" being our trade-mark), will correct the false impression they have conveyed, by publishing this refutation. Colorado's Moss-Agate Fields.

The agate covers large areas of the middle park, scattered over the surface in chips and larger fragments, and occurring, also, in massive ledges. Only a very small percentage of it, however, contains the curious and delicate crystallization of iron known as moss. Curious notions prevail relative to this substance. Formerly it was a common opinion that the "moss" was fixed in the stone by a photographical process, and I have often been shown specimens which the finders averred contained faithful pictures of clumps of bushes, groves of trees or an extended landscape visible from the point where they were picked up. The agate is hard, tough and susceptible of a high polish. Specimens are valued according to the perfection and beauty of the moss clusters contained and the clearness of the stone apart from the moss.

The great agate field is south of the Grand and west of Williams river, on a high sage plain. It is six or eight miles in length, and nearly as great in width, though agates are not found all over this area. It has been culled and picked over by hundreds of people, and thousands of jewels worn to-day all over the United States bear settings from this "agate patch." Some agates are found north of the Grand directly opposite, and the largest and finest specimen I ever saw was picked up there in 1863. There is an agate patch—or several of them, small in extent—on the divide between Troublesome river and Corral creek, north of the Grand. Two or three years ago a small deposit of them was found near Fraser river, in the eastern edge of the park, not far from where the Berthoud pass and Rollins wagon roads come together.

In all the localities thus far described the "moss" is black or dark brown—the usual color. Near Grand river, on the north side, and about three miles west of Hot Sulphur Springs, is a small area where red moss agates are found—that is, the "moss" is red, or reddish brown, instead of black. Nearly opposite, across the river, near Beaver creek, is another "patch" of the same kind. Red moss agates are very rare and curious. No search has ever been made in any of these localities beneath the natural surface of the ground for valuable agates. Those gathered have been picked up on the surface, generally in broken fragments of stone that showed the moss naturally.—Cor. Denver News.

—The fat and jolly Makaula, chief of the Bacas of south Africa, obeys orders. Among the statements he recently made to a correspondent was this: "Blyth told me to go and look for Smith Pommer and find him, and bring Smith Pommer to him. I went, I looked for Smith Pommer, I found him and killed him, and brought him to Kokstad, and I put him down at Blyth's feet, and said, 'There's Smith Pommer.'"

The Yellow Fever.

Accounts from the yellow fever smitten localities are the most appalling thus far chronicled. At Memphis it is estimated that 3000 are now sick with the dread disease, and the destitution among the masses is terrible. There were 100 deaths reported Sunday, and many persons died whose cases were not recorded. The mortality at New Orleans reached 136 Sunday, and new cases still prevail.

Gov. Bishop of Ohio has appointed Friday, Sept. 13th, as a day of prayer for the relief and deliverance of the yellow fever smitten districts from the pestilence.

News and Notes.

The dead body of an unknown man about twenty-five years old was found buried just under the surface of the ground in a piece of woods at Deering, Me., Sunday, by a man and boy who were berrying. The body was dressed in black pants and coat, and calico shirt, and was wrapped in a quilt. The man was evidently killed by a blow from some heavy instrument, his skull being crushed in. Wheel tracks found in the woods near by indicated that the murder was committed in some other place, and the dead body conveyed in a carriage to the spot where it was found.

Fall River has another sensation, caused by reports of irregularities at the Manufacturers' Gas Company, of which Mr. Charles P. Stickney, until within a few weeks, has been treasurer. The defalcation is said to be $100,000, and it is reported that Stickney has attempted suicide.

Secretary Sherman states that he now has sufficient gold in the treasury for resumption purposes, and will be ready to carry out the provisions of the resumption act Jan. 1.

The son of the Shoshone chief Washakie arrived at Camp Brown, W. T., on Friday, and reported a fight, Sept. 5th, on the Clark's fork, between a detatchment of troops and Crow Indians and about twenty lodges of hostile Bannocks. The Bannocks were defeated, their chief and their squaws, children and a large number of horses being captured. One soldier, a citizen and a Crow scout were killed. One soldier was wounded and many of the Bannocks were killed.

Political.

The ways of the greenback men are mysterious, but by no means past find-out. One of their latest discovered tricks is to send from New York to the west or other remote sections of the country forged circulars ostensibly issued by the American Bankers' Association of New York "advocating withholding patronage or favors from all applicants who are not willing to oppose the greenback or government issue of paper money" and other similar nonsense. Mr. Buell, the secretary of the bankers' association, warns the press not be taken in by these forged circulars, the first knowledge of which upon the part of the alleged authors was derived from the newspapers in which it appeared.

General Butler is the largest individual tax-payer in Lowell, now that Dr. J. C. Ayer is dead. His tax bill this year is $1836. The Norwich Bulletin says he is perfectly willing to divide it among the workingmen.

—A new purse has been invented in London. When you open it it appears simply to be an ordinary portmonnaie, but by touching a spring at the side, the trigger of a small revolver drops into your hand; a portion of the end of the purse opens out, discharging the muzzle, and you suddenly find yourself with a most useful protector.

—A large piece of the Roger Williams rock at Providence has been blasted out, and it will be raised above high tide water, as a monument of the landing of Roger Williams.

—One of the cruelest jokes perpetrated by the Chicagoans on their rival city is a story that a St. Louis belle, while bathing at Long Branch recently, was attacked by a shark, which bit off her small toe, but was choked to death in the attempt to swallow it.

—Rev. C. F. Grant, a Baptist evangelist in the harness at San Antonio, Tex., precipitately cleared out on being recognized by a visitor from Canada as Rev. George Holmes, who had deserted a wife and children there, and swindled his church out of several hundred dollars.

—Resurrectionists have rifled Indian graves near Davenport, Ia., filled sixteen years ago, and carried off sixteen skeletons, which the medical colleges snap up at thirty dollars each. One of the grave robbers has been identified as a doctor of the town, but there will be no criminal prosecutions.

—A St. Louis youth became anxious to revenge himself upon the manager of a billiard table manufacturing company, who had him dismissed for inefficiency, and hired a local ruffian to throw pepper in the manager's eyes, gag him and introduce him to the Mississippi river after dark. The local ruffian took what money the young man had and then furnished the intended victim with details of the plot, whence the young man's arrest.

When We Demoralize the Stomach

By excesses or imprudence in eating, we cannot hope to escape the consequences for any great length of time. The most robust digestion must succumb to abuses of that important function But supposing that we have been foolish enough to enfeeble the stomach, is the damage irreparable? By no means. The dyspeptic has only to do two things to insure his ultimate recovery. First, he should adopt an easily digestible diet. Second, he should use with regularity and persistence Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the leading gastric invigorant of the age. The multiform symptoms of dyspepsia, and the almost invariably attendant disorders, biliousness and constipation, will assuredly cease to persecute the sufferer if the above advice is attended to. Who that has suffered the torments that chronic indigestion inflicts will neglect to take advantage of a remedy which, if the most positive evidence of the medical profession and the public is to be received with due credence, is an absolute specific for the complaint.

Fat People's Misfortunes.

Some of the savage tribes enter their dwellings through a hole in the roof, and when a person becomes so fat that he cannot get in, he is regarded as an outlaw. Had this system been adopted in the United States, the "out-laws" could not have made a more active demand for Allan's Anti-Fat than now exists. Hundreds who had lived in constant fear of sudden death have, by its use, been reduced to a comfortable living weight. The Anti-Fat is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. Sold by druggists.

Health is an inestimable jewel. The cough that deprives you of it may take your life too. One bottle of Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar will avert the evil, and save you from consumption. Will you weigh Life against a half-dollar? Sold by all Druggists. t oct 4

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

CONSUMERS should bear in mind that the incomparable "Royal" is now the only Baking Powder in the market made from pure Grape Cream Tartar, imported exclusively for this powder direct from the wine-growing district of France. An old experienced housekeeper writes that, although she has to pay a few pennies more for the "Royal," finds that it goes so much further and works so much better, that it is economy to use it. Another says she uses the powder in puddings, cakes, and all sorts of pastry, without eggs. An old lady writes that it makes the only biscuit her dyspeptic husband can eat. This is because the best and most wholesome materials are used. Approved by the New York Board of Health, and by such eminent chemists as Dr. MOTT, New York; Dr. HAYES, Boston; Prof. GENTH, Philadelphia, etc. Sold in tin cans only. dtsep10 79

THE ROLL OF HONOR.

Early last week Hon. Frank Jones received a despatch from Congressman H. Casey Young, dated at Memphis, Tenn., as follows:

We are fearfully afflicted, and need help; the fever increases with great rapidity, and I earnestly request the kind offices of my colleagues in soliciting subscriptions to aid our suffering people.

Mr. Jones is always prompt to act, and did so in this case; five hundred dollars were soon subscribed, and on Monday afternoon the total footed up $1247.50, Charles H. Mendum, Esq., having actively aided Mr. Jones in the good work. The list of contributions is as follows:

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 6, 1878.

The subscribers, (citizens of Portsmouth, N. H.,) would express their sympathy to the people in the city of Memphis, Tennessee, now suffering under the yellow fever pestilence, by contributing to their aid the sum set against their names:

Mr. Jones on Monday telegraphed to Mr. Young at Memphis to draw for a thousand dollars.

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, Sept. 9; Bufford, J.

A large and varied assortment of Sabbath breakers appeared before the court, and received due attention.

William Jones and Daniel Saunders, who were caught playing cards in a field near the Creek, Sunday, were each fined $1, costs $8.04.

Henry Moulton and James Keenan, charged with having been drunk, pleaded guilty; $9.90 each, fine and costs.

Daniel McCarthy and James Murphy were complained of for creating a brawl and tumult on Bow street, Sunday evening. The charge was not proven against Murphy, and he was discharged. McCarthy was adjudged guilty and ordered to pay $9.90, which he did.

Daniel Sullivan and his wife, Mary Sullivan, were complained of by B. Stowe Laskey for selling liquor on Sunday. The evidence of the prosecution was that Laskey went into Sullivan's place on Sunday and called for a glass of rum, paying ten cents for it; afterward he called again and tendered a piece of tobacco in payment for another glass, this tender of payment being declined, though Laskey was given the liquor which he craved. Sullivan said that he was met by Laskey, who said he was sick and wanted a glass of liquor, offering the tobacco in payment; this Sullivan refused to take, but told his wife to give Laskey the liquor, which she did. As the liquor was sold or given away by the wife by consent and direction of the husband, Mrs. Sullivan was discharged. Sullivan was fined $3, costs $5.76, from which he appealed, and gave bonds in the sum of $100 for his appearance at the October term of the Supreme Court.

Michael Keefe, William Welsh and Timothy Lynch, arrested by officer Turner at the Creek for engaging in a game of bowls on Sunday, were let off on payment of costs, this being their first offence.

THE TORNADO AT RYE.

To those who have not driven through Love lane and that portion of the South road in Rye where the tornado of a month since expended its strength there is a surprise in store. The uprooting of tall pines and firmly set apple trees, and the snapping off from high and lofty trees of their tops, the result which is seen in track of the tornado, is wonderful to behold. Near the residence of David Jenness, Esq., a well known summer boarding place on the South road, a large part of a high pine tree over thirteen inches in diameter was broken off by the wind, and blown over two hundred feet to the opposite side of the road, where it is now shown on the spot where it landed. Indeed, one can hardly credit the fact that such a tornado travelled through this part of the town, except he goes through the woods of Mr. Amos Brown and his neighbors, and witness the result. The ten strike at G. Harrison Jenness' bowling alley might have been occasioned by the fault of the architect of that modest structure, but the uprooting and demolition of the sturdy monarchs of the forests can only be attributed to that mighty force which "rides on the whirlwind, and directs the storm."

"DOES INSURANCE INSURE?"

The recent decision of the Massachusetts Supreme Court in a suit upon a policy of insurance upon the Oceanic hotel at the Isles of Shoals, in which it was stipulated that a family should reside when the ordinary occupants were not living in the building, that two men occupying the premises and sleeping therein for the express purpose of prevention of accident by burning, etc., was not a compliance with the terms of the policy, and that the assured could not recover under these circumstances, will induce holders of policies of unoccupied seaside mansions to read the fine print in their policies and see if they are complying with the terms of the contract of insurance. There is a great temptation on the part of many to wrong insurance companies by destroying insured property and overstating losses. On the other hand, the insurance companies have the shrewdest adjusters, the sharpest lawyers, and the best detectives in the country. If a man gets anything out of an insurance company that does not belong to him, he must be excessively smart; and the constant strain to prevent their companies from being defrauded makes every one, from the humblest agent in a country village to the highly remunerated president in the office on Broadway, sharp; indeed, we might say as Major Joe Bagstock remarked, "sly, sir, devilish sly." But right is right. What is "nominated in the bond" both parties must be governed by. The written and printed parts of a policy are construed by the courts, or ought to be, as they read, and not as one or the other party supposed they meant; and persons effecting insurance cannot be too particular to see what is in the contract, and in everything, great or small, comply with it to the remotest degree.

THE CITY.

The greenback conventions for Rockingham county and the 24th (Portsmouth) Senatorial district, will be held in this city.

Isa H. Leveen of this city, one of the graduates of the High school, class of '78, has been admitted to the senior class of Phillips academy at Andover, Mass.

Portsmouth, Gt. Falls & Conway railroad bonds seem to have grown stronger in the Boston market, sales at auction on Saturday being quoted at $75.25. Portland, Saco & Portsmouth railroad is quoted at $85 5-8.

A large fleet of western bound coasters sailed from the lower harbor on Sunday forenoon. The sight of the numerous vessels as they slowly crawled along with a light breeze between Rye beach and the Shoals, was enjoyed all day by the visitors at both places.

Miss Helene Freeman will this (Tuesday) afternoon attempt the feat of walking 42 miles in 10 hours in Franklin Hall, commencing at one o'clock and ending at eleven. All interested in witnessing this feat of rapid walking and physical endurance can do so on payment of the admission fee, 25 cents. See advertisement. Any lady wishing to consult Miss Freeman in regard to physical culture can do so this forenoon at the Rockingham house, and to-morrow until two o'clock.

At the close of the meeting of Piscataqua Lodge, I. O. O. F., Monday evening, a Grand Representative's Regalia and Jewel was presented to Grand Representative A. F. Craig by members of the order, the presentation speech being made by Past Grand Buzzell, and appropriately responded to by Grand Rep. Craig. Bro. Craig starts to-day to attend the meeting of the Grand Lodge of the United States at Baltimore.

Agamenticus, by E. P. Tenney. This interesting book, published by Messrs. Lee & Shepard, of Boston, is eagerly purchased by every one who lives in this vicinity, or who first saw light in the region round about, and possesses a degree of historic taste. Our neighboring town of York, first chartered in 1641, was part of the plantation of Agamenticus. This was the name first given to the place afterward known as the city of Gorgeana, named for Sir Fernando Gorges, and a name retained until 1652. The city relapsed into a town after a decade, and in 1716 was made the shire town of York county, then called Yorkshire. But it is our purpose to speak of Mr. Tenney's work, which is not a history, but a series of sketches founded upon historic incidents of this long famous place, (and written, as we are led to believe, with due regard to facts,) and he gives an interesting account of early life in Agamenticus. The work is neatly prepared in a style of excellence that the publishers so uniformly exhibit, and makes a book of 267 pages; sold at $1.25. It will be found at the book stores of Myers, and Goodrich, and will be enjoyed by all whose good tastes lead them to relish literature of this order.

Mr. B. F. Thorndike will give one more of his "Illuminated Myrioramic Armory Entertainments" at Mercantile Hall, this evening at 7:45 o'clock, complimentary to the teachers of the public schools and the Board of Instruction.

We are asked to announce that a meeting of the Woman's Temperance League will be held at Grange hall on Thursday afternoon at half-past three o'clock; a full attendance is requested.

A match game of base ball played at the Plains, Saturday, by the Star and Riverside clubs, was won by the Stars, nineteen to twelve.

THE VICINITY.

The Knights of Pythias of Dover have invited the members of the order in Saco and Biddeford to visit them on the 12th inst.

An enterprising peanut vender has his stand on the corner of Franklin street, Biddeford. One evening last week a deputy sheriff found five gallons of liquor at his place. The contraband was confiscated, and the fruit merchant locked up.

Mrs. Polly Chambers, of Kittery Point, who died Saturday morning at the age of ninety years and four months, was a pensioner, her husband having served in the war of 1812. There are two persons, and possibly more, in Kittery, older than Mrs. Chamberlain, viz.: Maria Williams, aged ninety-two years, and Robert Newson, aged one hundred.

Wm. Ross, an elderly man of Dover, got drunk Friday night, wandered out on the Boston & Maine railroad bridge over the Cocheco river, tumbled overboard, and was found Saturday morning on the bank of the river nearly dead from cold and exhaustion, with his dog watching beside him. His face was badly bruised, but none of his bones were broken. Mr. Ross might almost as well not have got drunk.

The grand jury at Dover reported Friday night, just before the adjournment of the court, and were discharged. One hundred and twenty-three indictments were found, of which ninety-six were for the sale of liquor, or keeping the same for sale. George L. Wentworth, of Rollinsford, had sixteen indictments found against him for illegal sale, and one for a second offence; he was also indicted for obstructing an officer in the execution of his duty.

A fellow giving his name as Darius B. Hanscom and his residence as Suncook, was held in $500 by the police court at Dover, Saturday, on a charge of horse stealing. Hanscom hired a horse and carriage of Wm. R. Brown, a stable keeper of Dover, last July, and ran off with it to Sherbrooke, Canada, where he was found at work in a copper mine, and brought back to Dover. Brown's horse will be recovered, and also an inferior carriage for which the one stolen by Hanscom was traded.

KITTERY.

The vote in Kittery on Monday was badly mixed. For governor it was: Connor, repub., 424; Garcelon, dem., 188; Smith, greenback, 21. For congressman the greenback candidate, Gove, was sold out, receiving but a single vote to Reed's 421 and Anderson's (dem.) 211; Reed's majority 219, a repub. net loss of 13. For senators the rep. vote was 425; dem., 189; greenback, 20. For sheriff, R. M. Stevens, nominated by the dems. and endorsed by the greenbackers, had 544 votes; John Hall, rep., 88! There appears to have been a prejudice against John Hall entertained by the republicans of Kittery. County attorney: Burbank, rep., 425; Emery, dem. and g. b., 209. Treasurer: Goding, rep., 425; Hammond, dem., 189; G. B. Nute, g. b., 20. Commissioner: Brackett, rep., 425; Lord, dem., 189; Goodwin, g. b., 21. Representative to legislature: D. M. Shapleigh, rep., 422; J. H. Norton, dem., 189.

ELIOT.

In Eliot, for governor, Connor had 160 votes, Garcelon 207, Smith 31. On congressman Reed was scratched, and Gove—as in Kittery—sold out to the democrats, the vote being: Reed 131, Anderson 261, Gove 2—a democratic net gain of 100. Senators, rep. vote 161; dem. 207; g. b., 22. Attorney: Burbank 161, Emery 227. Sheriff: Hall 162, Stevens 227. Treasurer: Goding 161, Hammond 193, Nute 22. Commissioner: Brackett 161, Lord 206, Goodwin 22. Representative to legislature: Albert Lord, rep., 177; Howard Staples, dem., 207.

SINGING AND VOICE CULTURE.

Mr. G. F. MONROE,

Director of Music at the South Parish,

RESPECTFULLY announces to the citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity, that he is prepared to receive Pupils in Singing and Voice Culture. Mr. MONROE refers to the following gentlemen: Rev. James DeNormandie, Mayor Sise, Dr. Wm. R. Preston, Capt. Chas. H. Rollins, Judge Fogg, Mr. Wingate N. Ilsley. tn7

—The Supreme Court at San Francisco has rendered a decision covering the protested tax cases, by virtue of which an account of $300,000 held by ex-Collector Austin, pending the decision, will be turned into the United States Treasury.

—Captain R. H. Pratt, of the army, is making arrangements to go to the Sioux country to bring east about fifty Indian children of that tribe to be educated. They will be entered at the Hampden (Va.) normal and agricultural institute; the males will be taught agriculture and a good common school education, and the females will be instructed in parallel branches of usefulness. The expense will be borne by the Interior Department. A number of young women from the Kiowa and Comanche tribes will also be entered at the Hampden institute.

—Thomas B. Valentine, who located lien land-scrip on the Fort Dearborn reservation at Chicago some two years ago, has made a similar location on 155 acres of land lying within the limits of the Pueblo survey at San Francisco, along the southern boundary; and Joseph P. Meux, of Shelby county, Tennessee, has located with Valentine scrip Mission Rock, off the city front, covered with wharves and warehouses and worth a quarter of a million, but both applications have been rejected by the United States Register.

—At the period when Byron was playing the dandy and the eccentric in London there was another lord, a crazy old peer, the Earl of Portsmouth, to wit, who had a monomania not only for driving hearses, but for getting into mourning coaches and following the funerals of dear brothers departed wholly unknown to his lordship. These excursions he used to call "black jobs," and he was wont to boast of the luncheons to which he had been invited in his character of a sham mourner. The crazy peer's "black jobs" were brought to a sudden pull-up by a commission de lunatico inquirendo.

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday, and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

Or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated, Foot and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Multum in Parvo Physic.

The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical, and Pharmaceutical Science. No use of any longer taking the large, repulsive, and nauseous pills, composed of chalp, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can, by a careful application of chemical science, extract all the cathartic and other medicinal properties from the most valuable roots and herbs, and concentrate them into a minute Granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes. Each little Purgative Pellet represents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills found for sale in drug-shops. From their wonderful cathartic power, in comparison to their size, people who have not tried them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect; but such is not at all the case, the different active medicinal principles of which they are composed being so harmonized and modified, one by the others, as to produce a most searching and thorough, yet gently and kindly operating, cathartic.

$500 Reward is hereby offered by the proprietor of these Pellets, to any chemist who, upon analysis, will find in them any calomel or other forms of mercury, mineral poison, or injurious drug.

Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance of diet, avocation, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad taste in the mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, High-colored Urine, Unsociability and Gloomy Forebodings, take Dr Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of my Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, I wish to say that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sensative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. Excellent then for all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction to all who use them.

They are sold by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

PENNSYLVANIA

RAILROAD.

GREAT THROUGH LINE

AND

UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE

The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In

Construction AND Equipment

THE

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

The Safety Appliances

in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in recognance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,

JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,

THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,

AND THE

WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,

forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

Pullman Palace Cars

Are run on all Express Trains

From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,

To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,

WITHOUT CHANGE,

and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.

The Scenery

OF THE

PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE

is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form

A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

WOMAN.

By an immense practice, extending through a period of years, having within that time treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and celerity.

To designate this natural specific compound, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon my own personal observation. As a close observer, I have, while witnessing its positive results in the few special diseases incident to the separate organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and efficient remedy for the class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female system, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, even more, so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under a POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not experienced by the time two-thirds of the contents of the bottle are used, I will, on return of the bottle, two-thirds of the medicine having been taken according to directions, and the case being one for which I recommend it, promptly refund the money paid for it. Had I not the most perfect confidence in its virtues, I could not offer it on so under these conditions; but having witnessed its truly miraculous cures in thousands of cases, I feel warranted and perfectly safe in risking both my reputation and my money on its merits.

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing Down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, Female Weakness, and very many other chronic diseases incident to women not mentioned here. In all affections of this nature, my Favorite Prescription works cures—the marvel of the world. This medicine I do not exhibit as a cure-all, but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

New Hampshire Items.

There never were more people in the mountain region in the early part of September than at the present time. The prospect is good for a large business during this month.

Ten hundred and forty passengers went from the summit of Mt. Washington to the Glen House, by coaches, to Sept. 1st, the number being about one-third more than during the same time last year.

Jimmy Blanchard of Milford, the famous representative of Charley Ross, pleaded guilty of stealing, and was sentenced to three years in the State prison, but the sentence was finally changed to the Reform school during his minority; if not well behaved then the original sentence to be enforced. Jimmy hinted, and no doubt believes, that he will escape from the school before long.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 7th.

About every other sentiment and feeling here has given way to one of deepest sympathy for the yellow fever sufferers of the lower Mississippi. While the number of its victims was confined to about the figures of epidemics of the past, we still found time for other topics, though contributing with liberal hand. But the terrible details of its marked increase since last Sunday, the unusually malignant character it has taken within the past week, the prospect of an early failure of anything like an adequate supply of physicians through the death or complete prostration of the little army of medical men heretofore relied on to stand in the breach, the reduction in the corps of undertakers and grave-diggers in New Orleans, Vicksburg, Memphis, Port Gibson and other devastated towns, though death and panic to a point so low that the dead are accumulating on their hands, are all contingencies so terrible as to make the most heroic shudder. Though we have not been backward in giving since the first appeal for help came, there has been a lack of organization and concerted effort to obtain the large amount of money and supplies that would be given if a thorough canvass were made and reasonable assurances given that our offerings would be honestly applied. But the despairing call now coming up to us from those stricken communities, against whom the very elements seem to have conspired, has moved us to remedy the defects named. Several male and female nurses with yellow-fever experience have volunteered from the various departments. The moderate pace marking the fever's progress up the Mississippi and its apparent disinclination to leave the river and attack communities farther back, strengthens the hope entertained that Jack Frost may beat it in the race to reach the National Capitol.

Butler's canvass attracts more attention just now, perhaps, in Washington political circles, than anything else. It is evident that he is desperately in earnest and will scruple at nothing deemed necessary to his success. To those thoroughly conversant with his antecedents, the hypocrisy of his present pretensions are so apparent as to furnish an antidote to the mischievous dogmas he is proclaiming. But there is a large element among Massachusetts workingmen that have been prepared by the several years of depression and business paralysis to accept just such stuff as Butler is presenting under the most inviting cover. They vote for the man nominated by their party without particular enquiry or care as to his fitness for the position he aspires to fill, just so long as they are well paid for their labor and are prosperous. When this ceases to be the case they are almost immediately ready to break away from party lead. And the demagogue most apt in making them believe they are oppressed by the "bloated capitalist" and that he is the only one fully understanding their cases and able to deliver them, is most likely to lead them captive and secure their votes. While many democrats of the State seem willing to turn over their organization to help Butler defeat the republicans, some of the old "war horses" refuse to thus play second fiddle to a man they have spent years in abusing like a pickpocket, and it will be as impossible for Butler to bring a full democratic vote to his support in Massachusetts as it would be to unite national democracy on him for Hayes' successor.

A little trick of "reform democracy" has just been made public here. It is to the effect that their National Campaign Committee is using several rooms in the Capitol for partisan work, and a large number of employes of the Government to save room rent and clerk hire. Government stationery is also being used with a liberal hand, and the whole business is not one whit above the practices of the sneak thief. KNOX.

Republican State Convention.

The Republican State Convention was held in Phenix Hall, Concord, on Tuesday, the attendance being very large. The convention organized with Hon. Charles H. Burns of Wilton for president. Ezra H. Winchester of this city was the vice president for Rockingham county, J. Horace Kent one of the secretaries, and William H. Gardiner one of the doorkeepers. President Burns on taking the chair made a ringing speech for honest money, honestly keeping faith with the nation's creditors, and thereby maintaining the nation's honor and credit. The first ballot for a candidate for governor resulted as follows:

Whole number of votes	700
Necessary for a choice	351
B. F. Hoyt of Epping had	1
James L. French of Moultonboro	1
Edward L. Spaulding of Nashua	4
Charles H. Bell of Exeter	282
Natt Head of Hooksett	412

And NATT HEAD of Hooksett was declared the republican nominee for governor, amid great cheering, the nomination being then made unanimous. Granville P. Conn and David E. Willard were nominated for railroad commissioners by acclamation, and James E. French of Moultonborough was chosen as the third candidate on a ballot, by a vote of 451 out of a total of 588. A set of out-and-out hard money resolutions were adopted.

The Maine Election.

The election in Maine, Monday, brought out a very large vote, and was fruitful in surprises, the greenback vote being much larger than its opponents had feared or the greenbackers had hoped; and the democratic party, despite its abject surrender of old-time democratic principles, and its shameless truckling and bargaining with the repudiationists, being almost rubbed out of existence, the democratic vote being little better than "scat." The heavy greenback vote defeated a choice of governor by the people, and that duty now devolves upon the legislature, which is probably so constituted that the republican candidate will be elected. The republicans have elected three congressmen; Reed in the first district, Frye in the second and Lindsey in the third. Ladd, repudiation democrat, is elected in the fourth district; and Murch, repudiator and labor agitator, has probably defeated Eugene Hale in the fifth.

It is some satisfaction that Anderson, the demo-greenback candidate for Congress in the first district, is defeated, as he is not only an inflationist and repudiator but a rank Bourbon copperhead as well; Gove, the greenbacker, beat Anderson; Reed's purality is about 1600. The democrats and greenbackers of York county elected Emery for county attorney and Stevens for sheriff, the republicans electing the rest of the county ticket. The result of the election may be summed up by saying that the republicans made a gallant fight for honor and honesty, deserved victory, and have been partially defeated; the greenbackers made a shrewd fight for dishonor and dishonesty, deserved defeat, and won a partial victory; the democrats rolled all over in the mud, showed their willingness to do anything however base for the sake of winning a temporary advantage, deserved a crushing defeat, and got it.

A Warning to Tramps.

Lest the earnest sympathy expressed for tramps by the greenback State convention should lead that worthless class of criminal bummers to flock into this State in greater numbers than ever, it may be well to notify them that the first trial at Nashua under the new tramp law occurred Monday, when John Roark, a beggar, vagrant and tramp, was arraigned. The jury was out twenty-five minutes and returned a verdict of guilty. Roark said he had nothing to say before being sentenced. He was then sentenced to fourteen months in the State prison. State prison convicts have to work, and as that is the feast now provided for the fellows who steal chickens and rob clothes lines for a living all summer, and purposely get caught at some petty offence in the autumn, so as to spend the winter in comfortable idleness in jail at the public expense, they will be likely to hereafter seek more hospitable localities for their winter quarters until the "infamous tramp law," as the greenbackers call it, is repealed.

News and Notes.

During a recent drunken carousal at Hampton, Conn., John Hall, a negro, was kicked and beaten so badly by his white wife that he died in two days.

The mystery attending the murder of the woman whose body was found in the Back Bay basin at Boston over a week ago, is deeper than ever. It was believed the body had been fully identified as that of Mrs Annie Ryan, or Curtis, but on Sunday Mrs. Curtis appeared and denied that she was dead. The chances of the murderer's detection and the identification of his victim are now considered to be very slight.

A letter from Disco, Davis's strait, 12th of July, says that not one vessel of the Arctic whaling fleet caught a single fish. It was expected the season would prove a complete failure. No vessel has been able to pass through Melville Bay, which is unprecedented. The bay from the neighboring heights appeared completely blocked with ice, and all efforts to penetrate it have been abandoned. The whalers say this is the worst year for ice and southerly winds they ever saw.

The body found in the woods at Deering, Me., was on Monday identified as that of Harry Williams of Naples. Charles E. Prescott of Windham was arrested, and confessed that he killed Williams while drunk, kept the body in a barn all night, and buried it in Deering woods next day.

The steamship Great Eastern has, it is said, been purchased by a company, who intend using her as a cattle-boat to ply between Texas and London. She is now being fitted out at Milford Haven, and is to have new engines and boilers, manufactured by the Clyde iron works, at a cost of $500,000. Refrigerators will be built in her for the purpose of carrying fresh beef. It is estimated that she will carry 2200 head of cattle and 3600 head of mutton.

An Interesting Book.

Charlotte Cushman: Her letters, and memories of her life: edited by her friend Miss Emma Stebbins. As the summer days have gone, and the cooler season of autumn advances we are glad to "welcome peaceful evenings in" by a glance at our books. One of the most interesting works that has been given to the readers of our day is Miss Stebbins' sketches of her friend Charlotte Cushman—not a "life," not a commonplace recital of personal efforts, professional triumphs and foreign adventures, but the tribute of one woman to the memory of another,—a work concerning an artist at the head of her profession, by another artist. The selection, from the vast material which such an eventful life as Charlotte Cushman's presented to a biographer, of those incidents and that correspondence which would most certainly do justice to her friend, was a labor well performed. Miss Stebbins eighteen years ago egecuted a bust in marble of Miss Cushman. The subject sat for this at the request of her early friend, R. D. Shepherd of New Orleans, formerly a co-owner with our townsman, Hon. Daniel Marcy, in several ships built in our harbor. Mr. Shepherd was a friend of Miss Cushman's father, and in her youth, gave his daugiter two years of the best musical culture then to be obtained in Boston. Her subsequent dramatic career, her trials and successes all are told, with a wonderful degree of interest. This work, not a mere biography, but a gleaning here and there of interesting events, with extracts from the excellently written letters of Miss Cushman, presents a rare opportunity of enjoyment, not only for every true woman in the land, who is proud of the triumph of another woman over the circumstances that surround her, but there is in it much that every student of human nature can appreciate and enjoy. From the celebrity of her subject much was expected of the results of this authorship, but although there may have been readers disappointed in kind, they must certainly admit that they have been compensated in degree, by the excellent taste displayed by the gifted friend in her memoir of this eminent Boston woman. The work is published by the extensive house of Houghton, Osgood & Co., in an 8-vo. volume, and sold by booksellers at $2.50. It contains a portrait of Miss Cushman from a photograph; and a heliotype of the bust of the author, who seems to have been as successful with the pen, as in years past with her chisel.

Encouragement for the Feeble.

So long as the failing embers of vitality are capable of being rekindled into a warm and genial glow, just so long there is hope for the weak and emaciated invalid. Let him not, therefore, despond, but derive encouragement from this and from the further fact that there is a restorative most potent in renewing the dilapidated powers of a broken down system. Yes, thanks to its unexampled tonic virtues, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is daily reviving strength in the bodies and hope in the minds of the feeble and nervous. Appetite, refreshing sleep, the acquisition of flesh and color, are blessings attendant upon the reparative processes which this priceless invigorant speedily initiates and carries to a successful conclusion. Digestion is restored, the blood fertilized and sustenance afforded to each life-sustaining organ by the Bitters, which is inoffensive even to the feminine palate, vegetable in composition, and thoroughly safe. Use it, and regain vigor!

Does the World Move?

The Rev. John Jasper, of Virginia, says: "De sun do move, for in de mornin' it shines on dis side oh de house, wile in de evenin, on dat side oh de house. Now, if he don't move, how com he dar?" Notwithstanding Mr. Jasper's logic, we yet believe the world moves. When Mr. Jasper's ideas constituted the popular belief, people thought that to die of small-pox or cholera was simply fulfilling one of nature's laws. Now, through vaccination, small-pox is averted, while cholera, cholera morbus, dysentery (flux), and diarrhœa are readily cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Compound Extract of Smart-Weed. Does not such evidence tend to prove that "the world moves?" As an external remedy for cuts, bruises, sprains, swellings, bites and stings of insects, the Compound Extract of Smart-Weed has no equal. Veterinary surgeons have also employed it with marked success.

An old experienced housekeeper writes that, although she has to pay a few pennies more for the "Royal," finds that it goes so much further and works so much better, that it is economy to use it. Another says she uses the powder in puddings, cakes, and all sorts of pastry, without eggs. An old lady writes that it makes the only biscuit her dyspeptic husband can eat. THE CITY.

The ladies' social circle of the Universalist church will give an entertainment, consisting of music and tableaux, at the vestry on Friday evening, in aid of the yellow fever sufferers. Tickets twenty cents.

The comedy "Marriage a lottery" was well played at Music Hall, Monday evening, to an interested and appreciative audience. The yellow fever sufferers will receive several hundred dollars from this entertainment.

Mr. Sewell W. Webber on Tuesday exhibited a Duchess pear weighing twenty-three ounces. It came from a tree in the garden of the late Samuel Cleaves, on which there are forty pears that will average a pound each.

The Eastern railroad is issuing excursion tickets to the Fabyan house and return, good to and including the 16th, for $5 each. This is as fine a month as there is in the whole year for visiting the mountains or the sea-side.

Don't forget the moonlight excursion to the Shoals this evening, in steamer Appledore. The moonlight is magnificent just now, and the ride either out or back will be worth more than the price of a round trip ticket, $1. Besides, there will be a dance in the fine hall of the Appledore house.

A grand concert in aid of the southern sufferers will be given in Music Hall on Thursday evening, when Miss Edith Wendell, the talented young vocalist of this city, Miss Caldwell of Newburyport, Miss Etta Starbird of Weymouth, Mass., Reinewald & Taylor's orchestra, and E. A. Tilton, pianist, will appear. Tickets twenty-five cents to all parts of the house; no reserved seats. See advertisement.

The 3d session of the Bible School Institute of the Rockingham Christian Conference, will be held in the Christian church on Court street, commencing this afternoon at two o'clock and continuing through Thursday. Essays upon various subjects will be read and discussed. This evening at 7:30 o'clock Rev. C. A. Beck of Haverhill, Mass., will speak on "The importance of Bible School work." All are welcome.

A horse belonging to Mr. Edward D. Coffin took fright on Penhallow street, Tuesday, from being struck on the hind legs by a sign on the cart he was harnessed to, and ran away. He successfully knocked over three posts, cleared himself from the cart by diving between a fourth post and a building, and then ran up Daniel street to Market square, where he was caught. The injury done was not extensive.

A Lewiston correspondent of the New Era, the repudiation paper of Portland, says that Howe Call, Esq., of this city, addressed an audience of 10,000 in the park at Lewiston last Saturday evening. He also says that at the same time Hon. Wm. P. Frye commenced an address in Lewiston city hall to an audience of 1500, but that his hearers all left him as soon as the greenbackers commenced to cheer. Ten thousand is a very large audience.

A friend hands us the following which he clipped from a paper, suggesting that if we publish it the members of the Portsmouth archery club may get valuable hints from it: "The young ladies who form the lovely half of archery clubs will be interested to know how Indian squaws shoot. The noble red man lives on venison, which he secures with the bow and arrow, of course, and therefore his wife must be a good shot. A Nevada newspaper tells how a Piute squaw shoots: 'She will throw herself on her back, clap both feet to the bow, draw the arrow with both hands, and letting drive, send it clean through the body of the deer.'"

The annual reunion of the Veteran Artillery Association was held at Dover point on Tuesday, and was a very pleasant occasion. The clam-bake was excellent, and ample justice was done to its merits. After the feast the veterans held a business meeting, at which officers were chosen as follows: William H. Sise, captain; John H. Wells, 1st Lieut.; Oliver M. Knight, 2d lieut.; William Kennedy, 3d lieut.; Elbridge G. Pierce, Jr., 4th lieut.; John C. Stevens, quartermaster; John Nutter, treasurer and paymaster; Edward B. Prime, secretary. This was followed by wheeling a barrow blindfolded, both ladies and gentlemen indulging in it, creating much sport. There was dancing on the green to the music of Turner's quadrille band, and other amusements, until train time, and a moonlight ride home ended the festivities of the day. Mr. George R. Saville, the proprietor of the Dover Point hotel, paid every attention to the comfort and pleasure of the party.

Miss Helene Freeman, the pedestrian, on Tuesday walked forty-two miles in ten hours at Franklin hall, starting at four minutes past one o'clock P. M., and finishing at seven minutes before eleven, having eleven minutes to spare. Her slowest mile was made in sixteen minutes, the quickest in nine; the last mile was walked in nine minutes and a half. Actual walking time, eight hours, twenty-seven and a half minutes. Her walking is fair and square, and at the end of her task she was warmly applauded by those present, including many ladies. She seemed not at all fatigued.

THE HARBOR'S MOUTH.

The netting of the weir at Pocahontas point, Gerrish's island, was taken up on Monday.

Pocahontas point is now deserted, the last tent to stand—and it was the first one to go up—having been struck Monday evening, the veteran camper who occupied it not feeling able to remain longer, much to his regret, as he considers the last half of September and the first half of October the best time of the year in which to camp out. A party from Newmarket, who camped about four hundred yards from Pocahontas point a week or so ago, also pulled up stakes this week, and the Gerrish's island shore is now bare of tents.

On the other side of the river, at Dow's woods, a couple of tents still remain, tenanted by a couple of men each; and the frame building at Newcastle erected by a party of young men from this city is not yet wholly deserted, though its population is small to what it has been throughout the summer.

On Saturday, as the workmen at Whale's-back were lifting a tub of granite chips from their boat, the craft capsized, throwing the men into the heavy surf. One of them barely escaped from drowning, the stones falling over him on the upsetting of the boat. They were fortunately all good swimmers, and received no injury.

The foundation of the new foghorn tower at Whale's-back, which consists of two sections of iron, each ten feet high, received its last load of cement and granite on Saturday. The next section above, twelve feet in diameter, will be used as a store room, and will form a base for the engine room, which will be placed in the fourth section, and will be twenty-four feet in diameter. The engineers hope to have the tower finished by the first of October.

THE SHOALS.

The season at the Oceanic, Isles of Shoals, is about ended, and the hotel will probably close the last of this week. The house has been successful beyond the most sanguine expectations of its proprietors; Mr. Rymes has shown that he knows how to keep a hotel, and the name the house has won this year among its patrons will be worth money when the summer travel begins another season. It is possible that before then considerable extensions and improvements will be made on the hotel, including a hall for dancing. There seems no reason why the Oceanic should not under its present management become quite as popular a place of resort as the Appledore, many people regarding the natural attractions of Star island as superior to those of Appledore. The Appledore house, always one of the last to close of the coast hotels, will keep open this year later than usual; the steamer Appledore will run until the 15th inst., and when she is taken off the route the steam yacht Mollie will be put on. The Mollie will make regular trips until the first of October, and even later if there is business enough to make it an object to keep the hotel open. She is a staunch little boat, perfectly safe, and found her way to the Shoals from this port, and back again, a good many times last winter.

THE STATE COMMITTEE.

The following are the Rockingham county members of the Republican State Central Committee:

J. Horace Kent, William E. Hadley, Portsmouth; Edwin G. Eastman, George E. Lane, Exeter; George C. Gordon, Salem; Charles Sanborn, Sandown; Samuel A. Haley, Newmarket; Benjamin W. Hoyt, Epping; Amos C. Chase, Kingston; Edwin Plummer, Auburn; Albert Little, Atkinson; James F. Gove, Raymond; Emmons B. Philbrick, Rye; William Clark, Londonderry; Warren Brown, Hampton Falls.

A VETERAN VOTER.

The oldest voter in the town of Eliot, Me., is Hon. Andrew Leighton, who though eighty-six years old and quite feeble in health, still retains his mental faculties in a remarkable degree of preservation, and is able to read the finest print with the naked eye.

Mr. Leighton in his early days was a whig, and represented his native town in the State legislature in the years 1836 and 1845. In the year 1847 he was elected to the State Senate, being the first free-soiler ever elected to that body, and the only one at that time. The democrats had it all their own way at that session, as there were but two whigs in the Senate at that time. Mr. Leighton was again elected to the House in 1855. He has voted at every election since (and including) Monroe's, though being a whig he of course did not vote for that gentleman.

Ms. Pierrepont Hammond, an active worker in the republican party, had the honor on Monday of conveying this veteran voter to the polls, as he has done for several years past, he always attending to the wants of the feeble, and doing his best to see that the republicans of Eliot poll the largest possible vote.

THE VICINITY.

Mr. George Shapleigh, of Eliot, a day or two ago accidentally inflicted on his arm with a farming tool a wound which it was feared would prove serious, but he is now recovering from its effects.

Mr. Benjamin Kennard, of Eliot, while riding through Langton's hollow in Kittery one day recently, was thrown from his team, striking on his head and shoulders and receiving severe injuries.

William Ross, the elderly man who fell from the Boston & Maine railroad bridge in Dover one night last week, and laid out all night, died on Sunday from the exposure and the injuries received by the fall.

Mr. John Locke, of Walton road, Seabrook, has purchased the old "stone house" at Seabrook village, paying therefor $390. The house is three stories high, and the mortar used in its construction must have cost about as much as Mr. Locke paid for the entire structure and its site.

Samuel H. Goodall, Esq., of Boston, and a brother, have been camping out on Seabrook beach, near Richard Fowler's fish house, for several weeks, laying out the beach in twelve-rod lots, preparatory to its division between Richard Fowler, the winner in the somewhat noted legal contest for the title to the beach, and Mrs. Kimball of Amesbury, Mass. Mrs. Kimball is the widow of a former landlord of the Atlantic house at Salisbury beach, who purchased of Ananias Fowler all his right and title in the property. Oliver Eaton, Esq., of Seabrook, is to receive a twenty-four rod lot for his services in hunting up old records, etc., to be used in the law suit concerning the title to the beach.

—A new Duluth (Minn.) city ordinance gives the awful warning that "any cow, of either sex, hereafter found sporting a bell or ringing the same within said limits, shall, upon the conviction thereof, be subject to a fine or imprisonment, or both, at the discretion of the court."

—A sister of Sam Bass, residing in Indiana, has written to the sheriff of Williamson county, Texas, asking if her brother, the distinguished desperado, really did say he was going to hell. An affirmative reply was given.

—Kearney wishes the "wages of Ah Sin" was death.

Political.

The Boston Post of Tuesday says: "It will be noticed that some of the delegates chosen last evening in this city to the Democratic State Convention were instructed to vote for Gen. Butler. Upon what principle this was done is past comprehension. The call was addressed to democrats only. Butler is not a democrat and does not pretend to be. On the contrary, he flaunts the flag of defiance in the face of the friends of the democratic party and is its most dangerous foe this side the bad place. Had he been a citizen of Boston and attempted to participate in a democratic caucus, he would have been as much an intruder as the chief of the prohibition party, or his friend Dennis Kearney. This being so, to instruct delegates to vote for him was as untenable as it would have been to instruct delegates to vote for Rice, Talbot or Long. If our caucus system is to be converted into a ridiculous farce, let us all understand it and act accordingly. No party can thrive long without the observance of good faith, and the sooner this is understood the better for all concerned." The Post doesn't like Butler, nor favor his nomination by the democrats; but all the same will it eat crow as soon as he is nominated.

—"Keep your patients alive," said an old doctor to a graduating class of medical students: "dead men pay no bills."

—William Poole, a boatman, of Birmingham, England, aged forty-six, has been convicted of drunkenness ninety times and paid $1,000 in fines.

Established 1756.
The Gazette is published every Thursday, and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.
It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

PENNSYLVANIA
RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel in
Construction AND Equipment
THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are of the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

ANTI-FAT

ALLAN'S ANTI-FAT is the great remedy for Corpulency. It is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. It acts on the food in the stomach, preventing its conversion into fat. Takes according to directions. It will reduce a fat person from 2 to 5 pounds a week.
In placing this remedy before the public as a positive cure for obesity, we do so knowing its ability to cure, as attested by hundreds of testimonials, of which the following from a Mr. Wm. J. Coleman, Ohio, is a sample: "Gentlemen—Your Anti-Fat was duly received. I took it according to directions and it reduced me five pounds. I was so elated over the result that I immediately sent to ACKERMAN'S drug store for the second bottle." Another, a physician, writing for a patient from Providence, says: "Four bottles have reduced her weight from 199 pounds to 152 pounds, and there is a general improvement in health." A gentleman writing from Boston, says: "Without special change or attention to diet, two bottles of Allan's Anti-Fat reduced me four and one-quarter pounds." The well-known Wholesale Druggists, SMITH, DOOLITTLE & SMITH, of Boston, Mass., write as follows: "Allan's Anti-Fat has reduced a lady in our city seven pounds in three weeks. A gentleman in St. Louis writes: "Allan's Anti-Fat reduced me twelve pounds in three weeks, and altogether I have lost twenty-five pounds since commencing its use." Messrs. POWELL & PLIMPTON, Wholesale Druggists, of Buffalo, N. Y., write: "TO THE PROPRIETORS OF ALLAN'S ANTI-FAT: Gentlemen—The following reports from the lady who used Allan's Anti-Fat. 'It (the Anti-Fat) had the desired effect, reducing the fat from 200 pounds a week until I had lost twenty-five pounds. I hope never to regain what I have lost. Your Anti-Fat is an unexcelled blood-purifier. It promotes digestion, curing dyspepsia, and is also a potent remedy for rheumatism. Sold by druggists. Pamphlet on Obesity sent on receipt of stamp.

WOMAN
By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.
To designate this natural specific, I have named it
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while ministering to relative results in the special diseases peculiar to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or culminating gem of my medical career. On its merits as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician, and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it, I offer of the moment for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)
The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not extol this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.
Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to WOMAN, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

RADICAL CURE

For CATARRH

INSTANTLY relieves and permanently cures this loathsome disease in all its varying stages. It possesses the soothing and healing properties of plants, herbs and barks in their essential form, free from every virulent contamination, and in this respect differs from every other known remedy. In one short year it has run its way from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and wherever known has become the standard remedy for the treatment of Catarrh. The proprietors have often waited upon by gentlemen of national reputation who have been cured by this remedy, and who have, at considerable expense and personal trouble, spread the good news throughout the circles in which they move. When you hear a wealthy gentleman of intelligence and refinement say, "I owe my life to Sanford's Radical Cure," you may feel assured that it is an article of great value, and worthy to be classed among the standard medical specifics of the day.

THE benefit I derive from its daily use is to me invaluable.
HENRY WELLS, of WELLS, FARGO & CO.

I has cured me after twelve years of uninterrupted suffering.
GEO. W. HOUGHTON, Waltham, Mass.

I FOLLOWED the directions to the letter and am happy to say I have had a permanent cure.
D. W. GRAY, M. D., McGregor, Iowa.

I HAVE recommended it to quite a number of my friends, all of whom have expressed to me their high estimate of its value and good effects with them.
WM. BOWEN, 225 Pine St., St. Louis.

AFTER using two bottles I find myself permanently cured. I have since recommended over one hundred bottles with the same results.
WM. W. ARMSTRONG,
159 Harrison Ave., Boston.

WE have sold Sanford's Radical Cure for nearly one year and can say candidly that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have not to learn of the first complaint.
S. D. BALDWIN & CO., Washington, Ind.

THE cure effected in my case by Sanford's Radical Cure was so remarkable that it seemed to those who had suffered without relief from any of the usual remedies that it could not be true. I therefore made affidavit to it before Seth J. Thomas, Esq., Justice of the Peace, Boston.
GEORGE F. DINSMORE, Devonshire, Boston.

Each package of Sanford's Radical Cure contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

No. 3 BOW STREET.

Daily Chronicle.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 9th.

The more we hear of the success of American exhibitors at Paris the more we are amazed that so much has been accomplished with so little aid from the Government. It is a matter of especial congratulation that after the Philadelphia Exhibition had made our products so well known to all classes of people abroad, and thus increased the demand for them so wonderfully, we should be able to secure so complete a foreign endorsement of their value. There is no apparent limit to the market abroad for many of our manufactures. All that they have needed was to be made known and this is just what these International Exhibitions have done for them. I cannot help believing that whenever Congress is hereafter asked to aid in affairs of this kind men of all parties will freely vote all the money necessary to make our exhibit complete. The unwillingness to do so heretofore has always seemed strange to me.

The chemist of the Agricultural Department is experimenting — he says with success—upon means for producing sugar from common corn or maize. The one thing that throws a disagreeable doubt upon the real value of what he claims to have achieved is the fact that a "patent" substance is required in order to produce successful results. Experiments on a large scale will be carried on, and the success or failure of the process made known. The value of the discovery if it shall prove a success, can hardly be estimated.

Sec. Schurz has re-affirmed and enlarged the scope of his late decision relative to the undisposed balance of public lands granted railroads after a lapse of three years. The plea of the railroad attorneys was that mortgaging the lands was disposing of them within the meaning of the law, and that they are therefore not open to pre-emption at $1.25 per acre as stipulated by Government when the lands were conveyed to aid in the construction of said roads. Whatever may be thought of Mr. Schurz as a party man or as Secretary of the Interior Department, the plain and straightforward manner in which he meets the sophistries of the agents of these overshadowing monopolies will be regarded as very conclusive and can hardly fail of public commendation.

Every little while Secretary Sherman attempts a new device to rid the Treasury of the rapidly accumulating silver dollars in it. The time he spends in thus trying to find a way to get them into general circulation is pretty good evidence of his perplexity from a source that had not been anticipated, and unless successful it may in time prove a source of real evil in several ways.

The failure of the Silver Congress is a source of some mortification to those who advocated it as a fitting finale to the remonetization work accomplished at the last session of Congress; and it is not relieved by the sneering comments of their opponents. The fact is plain enough upon a candid review of the situation, that the object of the American representatives was impracticable under existing circumstances; and the representatives of the different nations came about as near to an agreement as we could have reasonably expected in view of the action several of them had but recently taken on the silver question. KNOX.

The Republican Platform.

The following is the platform adopted by the Republican State Convention:

Whereas, the republican party can point with pride and confidence to its record in war and to its legislation in peace as the enduring monuments of its patriotism and statesmanship, and claim them as the pledges of unequalled and undiminished capacity for future service, and the grounds of popular confidence and support; and

Whereas, the country has reached a period demanding the largest experience, wisdom and courage in the conduct of national and State affairs, and cannot afford to commit its destinies to the keeping of a party that for twenty years has shown itself incapable and unworthy of the great trusts and cares of the State and nation; therefore

Resolved, That we will give to the present administration our cordial support in all just measures tending to purify and elevate the public service, to secure and perpetuate interstate amity and confidence, to guard and maintain the political rights of individuals and classes, to preserve the plighted faith and to perpetuate the honor and prosperity of the nation; and we heartily commend that management of the finances under which the last fragment of the premium on gold is disappearing, the borrowing rate steadily diminishing, and the long depression in business and industry vanishing before a sure return of confidence and prosperity.

Resolved, That our good name and welfare as a people demand that our financial pledges, made in the hour of national peril, should be maintained inviolate, and our public debt be paid, principal and interest, according to the spirit and letter of the law.

Resolved, That as repeated efforts and failures have proved it to be beyond the power of governments to impart value to irredeemable paper and maintain its currency as money, and as our legal tender notes were issued under a solemn promise that they should be redeemed dollar for dollar in gold and silver at the earliest practical moment after the restoration of peace, and as the time for the fulfilment of this pledge has now arrived, and specie payment has been reached, we denounce all efforts to delay the day of resumption and to inflate the currency by any additional issue of irredeemable paper as destructive to all business interests, unwise, dishonorable and fraudulent as public measures.

Resolved, That we believe in no questioning of the President's title, no trifling with an issue irrevocably and justly settled, and no further use for the useless Potter committee.

Resolved, That there should be no payment of outlawed Southern claims and no pensions to rebel soldiers.

Resolved, That we believe in the equal taxation of all property and in exemption for none.

Resolved, That an average of ten hours of daily toil is enough for man, woman or child, and in the absence of a contract this ought to be deemed a legal day's work.

Resolved, That we believe in equal rights and the equal exercise of those rights for all citizens of the republic.

Resolved, That we believe in an honest and unintimidated ballot, and a fair field for all political parties, at the south as well as the north, without which suffrage is a sham, and the constitution a rope of sand.

Resolved, That as a party we welcome and bid God speed to the temperance reformation and will give it such material support as shall be at our command.

Resolved, That we tender our profound and heartfelt sympathies to our plague-smitten brethren at the south in the fearful and widespread division of disease which is now bringing unutterable desolation and sorrow to their homes, and we pledge to them such practical aid as Providence has placed in our power.

Resolved, That the thanks of the republicans of this State are due to Gov. Prescott for his faithful and efficient administration of State affairs.

Resolved, That the republicans of New Hampshire will give to Gen. Natt Head, our candidate for Governor, and to Granville P. Conn of Concord, David E. Willard of Orford, and James E. French, our candidates for Railroad Commissioners, to-day nominated, our earnest and hearty support, and pledge our best efforts to secure their triumphant election.

The Maine Election.

The returns from Maine, up to Wednesday evening, indicated that the vote for governor would foot up about 124,000, of which 58,000 are for Connor, the republican candidate, 37,000 for Smith, greenbacker and sorehead-republican, and 29,000—just half Connor's vote—for Garcelon, democrat. This showing puts the straight democrat 29,000 behind the republican, and 8,000 behind the greenbacker. The open and shameless trading of the reform democracy did not work well in Maine.

Connor's vote is 5000 larger than he had last year; the democratic vote is 13,000 less; the greenback vote is 32,000 more than last year.

Reed, repub., has 4000 plurality in the 1st congressional district, which comprises York and Cumberland counties. York county gave Reed 5806 votes; Gove, straight greenbacker, 3677; Anderson, greenbacked copperhead and general demagogue, 3152.

The Senate stands 20 republicans to 11 greenbackers and democrats; the Portland Advertiser claims 22 to 9. The House will be close, with the outlook in favor of a republican majority over the coalition.

The defeat of Congressman Hale is conceded by the republicans.

Poor Stickney.

Stickney, the latest-detected swindler of Fall River, Mass., is now said to have stolen at least $60,000 from the Manufacturers' Gas Co., of which he was treasurer. In addition, it is reported that two firms of coal-dealers with whom he was formerly associated have been ruined by his operations. Stickney is another of the high-toned class of scoundrels and thieves to which Chace and Hathaway belonged. Now it is reported that Stickney's health is very poor. It is singular that such fellows can go on stealing by wholesale, and living a lie and a fraud, for years, without any detriment to their health, and as soon as they are found out their health will become so impaired as to win them much public sympathy. The trouble no doubt is that they live too high, and a moderate diet—such as is served in State prison, for instance—persisted in for say twenty years, would be a good thing for their health and other people's bank accounts.

Extensive Benefits.

Many people, we think, are unaware of how much is annually done by the order of Odd Fellows in the way of furnishing relief to members, or the families of deceased members, and the following extract from the report of the Grand Lodge of the United States for the year 1877 will give them an idea of what is done by the order in this direction:

Amount paid for relief of members, $1,180,551.28; for relief of widowed families, $163,029.04; educating orphans, $15,220.08; for burying the dead, $277,-658.91; for special benefits, $52,764.81. Total, $1,689,224.12.

New Hampshire Items.

Harvey Booth, only child of Lucius Booth of Keene, was accidentally shot by a companion while out hunting on the afternoon of the 10th inst., and killed instantly. He was sixteen years old.

The assignees of the Carroll County Five Cent Savings Bank at Wolfeboro', which was closed about one year ago, have declared a dividend of twenty-five per cent., to be paid depositors on Monday, the 16th.

A house and barn owned by Paul D. Rand, situated in New Durham, were entirely consumed by fire on the night of the 10th inst. A small quantity of the contents was saved. Loss about $2000; insured $1000.

One Roark, a persistent vagrant and bummer of the most worthless brand, was recently convicted by a jury at Nashua, and sent to State prison for fourteen months, where he will no doubt do more work than he ever did before in his entire life. The greenback State convention gave "three groans for the infamous tramp law" and its author, and passed a resolution demanding the repeal of that severe but necessary law for the protection of the property and persons of decent people from the depredations of prowling vagrants, thieves and criminals. A member of the committee on resolutions at the greenback convention was one of the jurymen who convicted this Roark.

News and Notes.

Fifty dozen cameos were seized on Monday by the postmaster of New York, while being sent through the mails to evade duty.

Patrick Collins of Providence, aged sixteen years, stabbed his elder brother, James Collins, in a drunken quarrel Monday night. The former was considerably intoxicated, and James attempted to take him home, when he pulled out a jack-knife and stabbed him in the leg and shoulder, causing two quite serious wounds. Patrick escaped arrest.

Over 600 bodies have been recovered of persons drowned by the disaster to the excursion steamer Princess Alice. The majority have been recognized. Eighty-three bodies not identified were buried at Woolwich.

Steamship Sarmatian, of the Allan line, made her last run from Londonderry, Ireland, to Bede island light, in five days—the quickest time ever made from the continent of Europe to the continent of America.

Thomas H. Belden, a Hartford pawnbroker, went to Rocky Point Friday with the excursion from that city. While at the point he gave the world the measure of his mental capacity by telegraphing to his partner that he was drowned. News was sent to his aged mother, and there was considerable commotion among his friends, who afterwards learned that they were cruelly imposed upon by the pawnbroker himself.

Charles Elias Prescott, the murderer of Harry Williams, whose dead body was found in the woods at Deering, Me., is a tall, gaunt, ungainly, wild looking fellow. He kept the body in a barn all night, then took it into Portland in his wagon, covered with a quilt, changed horses, and afterward drove out to Deering wood, where he buried it. Prescott was born in Bangor and is twenty-two years old. He has led a roving life and been a seaman. Himself and his victim had committed petty robberies together, and kept their plunder at a house in Casco until they could sell it. The post-mortem rhew that Williams' skull was battered to pieces, but there was no bullet wound. The homicide was evidently the result of a quarrel.

Political.

The prohibition convention of Massachusetts on Wednesday unanimously nominated Rev. Dr. A. A. Miner of Boston for governor, George C. Ewing of Holyoke for lieut. governor, and a full State ticket.

The greenback convention of Massachusetts on Wednesday nominated Benjamin F. Butler for governor.

The greenbackers of New Hampshire in State convention have declared in favor of inflation, irredeemable "fiat" money, and repudiation. The republicans in State convention—and in a convention held right on the heels of the election in Maine, in which the greenbackers wiped out the democratic party and partially defeated the republicans—declared in favor of good money, either of paper or metal, and of maintaining the nation's honor and credit by an honest payment of the nation's debts. The people will now look with some interest to see if the democrats of New Hampshire will follow the example of their brethren in Maine, and put a soft money plank in their platform, or speak out boldly in favor of the "mint-drops" of the Jacksonian era.

The democrats of Springfield, Ohio, nominated a colored man for a county office this week.

—A grocer advertises in the following terse manner: "Hams and cigars—smoked and unsmoked."

—No one has been able to explain why it is that a man feels he is more likely to get up in time in the morning by keeping his watch or clock half a hour fast.

—"Papa," said a bright boy who had just come home from a sleight-of-hand entertainment, "I wish I was a conjurorant." "Why, my son?" "I would turn you into a rat, call up the cat, and wouldn't I have fun?"

—A night watchman in a factory was arrested the other night for shooting the cats of families residing in the vicinity. When asked for an explanation, he said the cats made such a noise that he couldn't sleep more than half the night.

—Among the glittering decorations Bismarck wears on his left breast, is conspicuous a dingy silver medal awarded him twenty years ago for saving the life of a servant who had fallen overboard from a vessel. He is very proud of this medal, as becomes a brave man who has never feared to place himself in the front of conflict.

Does the World Move?

The Rev. John Jasper, of Virginia, says: "De sun do move, for in de mornin' it shines on dis side ob de hous, wile in de ebenin, on dat side ob de hous. Now, ef he don't move, how com he dar?" Notwithstanding Mr. Jasper's logic, we yet believe the world moves. When Mr. Jasper's ideas constituted the popular belief, people thought that to die of small-pox or cholera was simply fulfilling one of nature's laws. Now, through vaccination, small-pox is averted, while cholera, cholera morbus, dysentery (flux), and diarrhœa are readily cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Compound Extract of Smart-Weed. Does not such evidence tend to prove that "the world moves?" As an external remedy for cuts, bruises, sprains, swellings, bites and stings of insects, the Compound Extract of Smart-Weed has no equal. Veterinary surgeons have also employed it with marked success.

Encouragement for the Feeble.

So long as the failing embers of vitality are capable of being re-kindled into a warm and genial glow, just so long there is hope for the weak and emaciated invalid. Let him not, therefore, despond, but derive encouragement from this and from the further fact that there is a restorative most potent in renewing the dilapidated powers of a broken down system. Yes, thanks to its unexampled tonic virtues, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is daily reviving strength in the bodies and hope in the minds of the feeble and nervous. Appetite, refreshing sleep, the acquisition of flesh and color, are blessings attendant upon the reparative processes which this priceless invigorant speedily initiates and carries to a successful conclusion. Digestion is restored, the blood fertilized and sustenance afforded to each life-sustaining organ by the Bitters, which is inoffensive even to the feminine palate, vegetable in composition, and thoroughly safe. Use it, and regain vigor!

A well-timed and judicious concession to the popular demand for reduced rates has added very greatly to the former excellent popularity of the Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

CONSUMERS should bear in mind that the incomparable "Royal" is now the only Baking Powder in the market made from pure Grape Cream Tartar, imported exclusively for this powder direct from the wine-growing district of France. An old experienced housekeeper writes that, although she has to pay a few pennies more for the "Royal," finds that it goes so much further and works so much better, that it is economy to use it. Another says she uses the powder in puddings, cakes, and all sorts of pastry, without eggs. An old lady writes that it makes the only biscuit her dyspeptic husband can eat. This is because the best and most wholesome materials are used. Approved by the New York Board of Health, and by such eminent chemists as Dr. MOTT, New York; Dr. HAYES, Boston; Prof. GENTH, Philadelphia, etc. Sold in tin cans only. dtsep18 79

THE CITY.

The greenback county convention will be held in this city on Monday next.

Steamer Mollie is having slight repairs made to her machinery at Noble's island.

The Mayor has ordered the police officers to wear full uniform while on duty.

Lieut. Walton Goodwin has been ordered to this naval station to ordnance duty, to report Sept. 21st.

The U. S. S. Lancaster was taken into the dry dock at the navy yard on Wednesday. She is to be taken out on the ways and thoroughly overhauled.

The steamer Appledore brought in a large number of passengers o n her trip from the Shoals on Wednesday evening, including many members of the New Hampshire Medical Society, and ladies accompanying them.

The steamer Emerald will make an extra trip this evening to accommodate people from the navy yard and Kittery who wish to attend the concert in aid of the yellow fever sufferers, leaving the yard at 7:30, returning at the close of the entertainment.

Col. J. C. Butler's last popular excursion to the Shoals for this season comes off to-day; round trip tickets 75 cts. each, for sale only at Butler & Laighton's store, none being sold at the wharf or on the boat. Tickets good for either Appledore or Star islands.

The Bible School Institute continues its session in the Court street Christian church to-day, opening at nine o'clock A. M., and at two o'clock P. M. In the evening Rev. D. P. Pike of Newburyport will speak upon the "Books and modes of instruction." All are welcome.

The concert at Music hall this evening should draw an audience limited only by the capacity of the house. The price of tickets is put at the low price of twenty-five cents, admitting to any part of the house; the proceeds of the entertainment are to go to the fever-smitten districts of the south; and the concert will be an enjoyable one. Miss Edith Wendell is well known as one of the most promising of Portsmouth's young vocalists, and Miss Caldwell of Newburyport is equally well known as a pleasing reader. Reinewald & Taylor's (late Harlow's) orchestra is an old and favorite institution, and Mr. Tilton as a pianist needs no introduction. Go to the concert, spend a pleasant evening and contribute a trifle to aid those who so sadly need help just now.

Full particulars have at length been received of the disaster to the British ship Kate Kellock, commanded by Capt. Charles C. Ricker of this city, about two months ago reported abandoned off Cape Horn, and later said to be safely at anchor in the Straits of Magellan, but badly damaged. The vessel was boarded June 17th by a heavy sea which swept her decks, carrying away wheel and all compasses, and breaking all skylights. The mainmast also went below the decks, breaking all pumps with it. Between that date and the 25th about 5000 sacks of flour and wheat (about 300 tons) were thrown overboard. The other masts went about this time also. A jurymast was rigged, and the vessel anchored under Noir island, Straits of Magellan, June 28th. On the 30th the chain parted, and the vessel ran under the lee of some islands, and anchored in a land-locked bay about twenty-five miles from Noir island. The second mate and three men left the ship in a boat July 14th to try and reach Sandy Point, to obtain assistance to get the remainder of the crew off the ship. She had only starboard anchor and chain, no spars, no hawsers, no spare anchors and no boats; thirty inches of water in the hold, and all pumps broken. The hull remained sound and making no water; all the cabins and deck-houses were all washed away. The ship's company were all well. The boat was picked up by steamer Potosi, and a Chilian warsteamer has since towed the disabled ship to Sandy Point.

POLICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 11; Batchelder, J.

Thomas H. Smith, who has for some time been sojourning at the Brentwood hotel provided by the county, considering "the season" sufficiently near its close to justify a gentleman in returning to his permanent residence and usual avocation, left his summer retreat on Monday, the 9th inst., and came to this city. It seems that his usual avocation is the hoisting in of stimulants, for he was found by the police not many hours after his arrival with a large quantity concealed about his person. He was locked up, but was let out when he got sober, Tuesday morning. A few hours later he was again fallen in with by the police, drunk way through; and Wednesday morning he was brought before the court, and notwithstanding his statement that he "should like to have one day to himself" was fined $3, costs $6.90. Brentwood in default.

MORE NAMES FOR THE ROLL.

Mr. Editor: Permit us to add to the "roll of honor" the following contributions in behalf of the yellow fever sufferers, all in connexion with the dramatic entertainment of Monday evening:

The proprietors of Music hall;
Reinwald & Taylor's orchestra;
The several publishers of our newspapers;
The principal job printers of our city;
The services of hackmen and job waggoners;
The ladies and gentlemen who assisted at the play;

From which the nett sum of $178.95 will be added and sent to our stricken brothers and sisters of the south.

J. P. BARTLETT,
R. C. GRANT.

GOOD FOR THE BOYS.

At a meeting of Sagamore Engine Co., Wednesday evening, a contribution of $21 was raised to be sent to New Orleans for the relief of the firemen of that city and their families.

N. H. S. P. C. A.

The committee appointed to draft suitable resolutions of respect to Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett reported the following, which were unanimously adopted at the last meeting of the directors of the Society:

Whereas, a Vice President of this Society, the Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett, has been removed by death:

Resolved, that we hereby lament the decease of an officer who has, from the formation of this Society, shown a warm interest in its prosperity;

Resolved, that we sympathize with our fellow citizens in the loss of one who has filled high offices of public trust and usefulness;

Resolved, that these resolutions be published in local papers.

DRAINS AND HOSPITALS.

Editor Chronicle,—Sir: I beg to call your attention to a statement in your issue of Aug. 30th respecting the sanitary condition of the Portsmouth navy yard. The health of the navy yard happens to be good, thanks to individual exertions, use of disinfectants, and the natural salubrity of the climate; but you must be joking, Mr. Editor, grimly joking, when you assert* that "the sewerage has been carefully and scientifically attended to." The veriest tyro in sanitary engineering would smile at the "science" displayed in an effete system of wooden drains, unventilated mains and connection pipes, insufficient or irregular grades, and defective trapping. Thirty years ago, when sanitary science was in its infancy, such a system might have been excusable; but in the present state of our knowledge it appears criminally defective. As to the quarantine buildings, they are on a par with the hospital, and the less said about them the better. To call them "cosy and comfortable," seems very much like irony, or else the presiding genius of the CHRONICLE has been shamefully quizzed by a waggish spirit from the yard. Distance—aided by a little paint and whitewash,—lent enchantment to your view; but visit these wretched abodes of the sick, Mr. Editor, and judge for yourself† if rickety buildings falling into decay from age, wooden structures not much better than sheds, through which daylight may be seen in every direction, exposed to the fury of the elements and liable to be blown down or washed away by a storm, are fit habitations for human beings. As a quarantine or hospital station this is equal if not superior to any other on the coast; but bracing air and the "full benefit of the winds blowing from any quarter" are useless without proper buildings and good sanitary engineering. HYGEIA.

* We didn't assert any such thing. The article our correspondent refers to was copied from a Boston paper, and due credit given. The fact is that we know nothing about the sewerage of the yard, good or bad; but with its natural advantages for perfect drainage we should fancy it would require some skill in engineering to make drains so badly that they would not work.

† We have seen those buildings a good many times, and must acknowledge that however serviceable they may be, they are not fair to look upon. It is quite likely that better buildings are needed; but we do not believe in costly, permanent buildings for hospitals for contagious diseases. Wooden buildings, built substantially enough for comfort, and to be burned up after being employed as small-pox or yellow fever hospitals, is the plan we would advocate were we to advocate any plan in particular—which we don't, as we have no special knowledge on the subject.—Ed. Chron.

BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY.

On the 27th ult. Miss Sarah Carter of Kittery, Me., celebrated her eighty-second birthday. A large number of ladies, gentlemen, and some children of the 2nd Christian church and society, of which she was a charter member—thirty-five years ago—neighbors and friends, gathered at her house about two miles from the Foreside. They carried with them provision of various kinds preparatory to doing justice to such an important occasion.

In due time the table was loaded with the rich viands, so generously furnished by the lady visitors, and all were invited to partake of the same, which they did with credit to themselves and to the occasion. More than sixty persons will remember the occasion with pleasure. After the day had passed and the evening shadows had gathered around the old house, a nice little sum of the needful was collected and placed in the hand of the hostess, as a token of kind regard entertained for her by all present. Then the hand-shaking commenced, and with a "God bless you," the company withdrew, leaving the aged pilgrim in the very house in which she was born, to her own meditations. She is hale in body, joyful in spirit, with a fair prospect of becoming a centenarian, which may the Lord grant. BY ONE PRESENT.

THE VICINITY.

The sale of tickets at the Eastern railroad station at North Hampton for the month of August was greater than for that month in any previous year, reaching nearly $2500.

A fire at Keenbunkport on the 10th inst. destroyed the frame storehouse of Lyman Mitchell, and partially burned the schooner Sunrise, lying at her dock. Loss $800; insured.

At about twelve o'clock Tuesday night, 10th inst., a house in Kittery known as the Gordon house, situated on the road to York and owned by Mr. Wallace Main, was burned. Cause, a hot chimney which had burned out the day before.

An attempt was made a few nights since to burn the cottage house opposite the residence of Mrs. Johnson on the York road in Kittery. Combustibles were set on fire, but fortunately failed of the intended purpose. The dwelling was occupied by a woman and two children.

In York county the republicans elected eight of the fifteen representatives to the legislature. Five representatives were elected by the greenocrats or demobackers—we are not sure which they call themselves. One "straight" democrat was elected, and one "straight" greenbacker.

A frame building on Gooch street, Biddeford, occupied by James M. Andrews as a marble-polishing shop, was partially burned on the morning of the 10th inst. by an incendiary fire. Loss small. The supposed incendiary was arrested, and also a woman believed to be accessory to the crime.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Cocheco Manufacturing Co. will be held at Dover on Wednesday, the 25th inst., the same day that the congressional and councillor conventions of the republicans are to be held. There will probably be quite a crowd of persons visit Dover on that day.

Can the Truth Overtake a Lie?

Investigation discloses the fact that the lady reported in the Associated Press dispatches, about Aug 10th, to have died in Chicago after two weeks' use of some reputed remedy for corpulency, had not taken Allan's Anti-Fat, but had used a preparation put up by a regular physician in Luzerne, Pa. Allan's Anti-Fat is manufactured in Buffalo, N. Y., by the undersigned. We have already sold over 100,000 bottles of it. It has therefore been taken by thousands, and we challenge proof that it has ever harmed anybody, unless the reduction of obese persons from twenty to sixty pounds, leaving them healthy and strong, is considered a misfortune. Furthermore, we hereby offer $5000 reward for evidence showing that it contains poisonous or injurious ingredients. We also offer $5000 if we cannot prove that it has reduced numbers of persons as stated herein, and always without injury. It is said a lie will outtravel the truth any time; but we trust that those newspapers that have misled the public by saying that physicians attributed the lady's death to the use of Anti-Fat (which is only put up by us, the term "Anti-Fat" being our trade-mark), will correct the false impression they have conveyed, by publishing this refutation. Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday, and sent to Subscribers at the low price of

$1.50 per year, paid in advance, or

$2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home while on those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea." It is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

PENNSYLVANIA

RAILROAD.

GREAT THROUGH LINE

AND

UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE

The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In

Construction AND Equipment

THE

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

stands confessedly at the head of American railway s. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

The Safety Appliances

in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,

JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,

THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,

AND THE

WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,

forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

Pullman Palace Cars

Are run on all Express Trains

From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,

To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,

WITHOUT CHANGE,

and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of CARS. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.

The Scenery

OF THE

PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE

is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must be

A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

ANTI-FAT

ALLAN'S ANTI-FAT is the great remedy for Corpulency. It is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. It acts on the food in the stomach, preventing its conversion into fat. Taken according to directions, it will reduce a fat person from 2 to 5 pounds a week. In placing this remedy before the public as a positive cure for obesity, we do so knowing its ability to do so, as attested by hundreds of testimonials, of which the following from a lady in Columbus, Ohio, is a sample: "Gentlemen—Your Anti-Fat was duly received. I took it according to directions and it reduced me five pounds. I was so elated over the result that I immediately went to ACKERMAN'S drug-store for the second bottle." Another, a physician, writes of a patient from Pittsburgh, Pa., I, says, "Four bottles have reduced her weight from 199 pounds to 162 pounds, and there is every improvement in health." A gentleman writing from Boston, says: "Without special change or attention to diet, two bottles of Allan's Anti-Fat reduced me four and one-quarter pounds." The well-known Wholesale Druggists, SMITH, DOUGLITLE & SMITH, of Boston, Mass., write as follows: "Allan's Anti-Fat has reduced a lady in our city seven pounds in three weeks." A gentleman in St. Louis writes: "Allan's Anti-Fat reduced me twelve pounds in three weeks, and altogether I have lost twenty-five pounds since commencing to use." Messrs. FOWLE & PLIMPTON, Wholesale Druggists, of Buffalo, N. Y., write: "To THE PROPRIETOR OF ALLAN'S ANTI-FAT: Gentlemen.—The following report is from a physician who uses Allan's Anti-Fat. 'It (the Anti-Fat) had the desired effect, reducing the fat from two to five pounds a week until I had lost twenty-five pounds. I hope never to regain what I have lost.' Allan's Anti-Fat is an unexcelled blood-purifier. It promotes digestion, scurvy dyspepsia, and is also a potent remedy for rheumatism. Sold by druggists. Pamphlet Obese 11f sent on receipt of stamp.
BOTANIC MEDICINE CO., PROPRS, Buffalo, N.Y.

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the virginal, married, single, first cut of the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits I rest with safety, as a reflectual remedy for the class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)

The following are among the diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Nervous Irritation, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not extol this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and contains valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

RADICAL CURE

For CATARRH

INSTANTLY relieves and permanently cures this loathsome disease in all its varying stages. It possesses the soothing and healing properties of plants, roots and barks in their essential form, free from every obnoxious contamination, and in this respect differs from every other known remedy. In one short year it has won its way from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and wherever known has become the standard remedy of the treatment of Catarrh. The proprietors have been waited upon by gentlemen of national reputation who have been cured by this remedy, and who have at a considerable expense and personal trouble, spread the good news throughout the circles in which they move. When you hear a wealthy gentleman of intelligence and refinement say, "I owe my life to Sanford's Radical Cure," you may feel assured that it is an article of great value, and worthy to be classed among the standard medical specifics of the day.

THE benefit I derive from its daily use is to me a constant delight.
HENRY WELLS, of WELLS, FARGO & CO.

IT has cured me after twelve years of uninterrupted suffering.
GEO. W. HOUGHTON, WALTHAM, MASS.

I FOLLOWED the directions to the letter and am happy to say I have had a permanent cure.
D. W. GILAY, M. D., MCGREGOR, IOWA.

I HAVE recommended it to quite a number of my friends, all of whom have expressed to me their high estimate of its virtues and thanks for introducing them.
WM. BOWEN, 226 FIFTH ST., ST. LOUIS.

AFTER using two bottles I find myself permanently cured. I have since recommended over one hundred bottles with the greatest success.
WM. W. ARMSTRONG,
159 HARRISON AVE., BOSTON.

WE have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for nearly one year and can say candidly that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have yet to learn of the first one dissatisfied.
S. D. BALDWIN & CO., WASHINGTON, IND.

THE cure effected in my case by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was so remarkable that it seemed to those who had suffered without relief from any of the usual remedies that it could not be true. I therefore made affidavit it to before Seth J. Thomas, Esq., Justice of the Peace, Boston.
GEORGE F. DINSMORE, DRUGGIST, BOSTON.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for its use in all cases. Price, $1.00. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers through out the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

Daily Chronicle.

Tramps in Vermont.

The Vermont Record, in commenting upon the outrage committed upon a little girl at Brattleboro' recently, says:

The crime committed last Saturday within the limits of the village of Brattleboro', has thoroughly aroused the indignation of the people of the town, not only against the guilty perpetrator of the deed, but against tramps in general. It may be that something of this kind was needed in order to awaken the people to the enormity of the tramp nuisance. How narrowly we escaped another Josie Langmaid tragedy, no one can tell, but there will be no safety for our daughters when away from home alone. The people in this part of the world have not been accustomed to a state of society in which it is unsafe for a girl to go out into the orchard or to pick berries, in the middle of the day. It has been the pride and boast of New England that the people here dwell in safety with unbolted doors, with no thoughts of fear, with no need of weapons of defense. That this is not true of Vermont at the present time, has been made clear by recent events. What shall be done? New Hampshire has a law which makes beggary a crime punishable by hard labor in the State prison for fifteen months, and any insolent demonstration punishable by five years in the State prison, with a reward of $10 to the man who makes the arrest. This law is none too severe. If the Vermont legislature does not pass a similar bill at the next session they will be recreant to their duty. Such a law we must have, for the vagrants are coming over from New Hampshire in swarms.

A Lonely Place.

I have often heard people say of such and such a place that they are so lonely, and the women in particular have complained that they never see anybody, never go anywhere, and that they might as well be dead. But what would you think of this place for loneliness? Altogether there are six of us—one lady, quiet and young—four employees, one away most of the time, or perhaps two or three away; often during the day all gone, and when night comes each has his special duty to perform and is out of sight, or is seen only for a moment. So the sun goes down over the mountains covered with grass to the top; other mountains with cedars on the north side, and one looks down the narrow valley which opens a little, a mile or so to the north—looks along the wagon road where only one track has been made this year, as if some one were coming tired and ready for a warm supper, looks out through the gap in the range as if a four-horse team might be discovered in a hurry to make the five or six miles before dark; but not a soul is seen, nothing moves, unless it be Indian ponies, a boy riding behind to seek a fresh range; and the sun slants its long shadows by the desolate stockade and among the four Indian houses, where supper is cooking over a fire out doors.

If there were a neighbor five miles away, or ten or twenty miles, it would be quite cheerful, and one could ride over for a visit once a month and receive one as often, but it is sixty-five miles to the nearest house, where, by the way, no family is now living; the woman has gone east because it was so lonely. The lady here came two years ago; the one who left two weeks ago had been here four years, and never been out once; but she got a fashion paper once a week, and how she felt when she reached the railroad nobody will probably ever know.—Cor. Greeley Tribune.

Fingers for Forks.

Miss Edwards, in her book of Nile Travels, gives a lively description of her dinner with the British Consul at Luxor, a very learned and cultivated Arab, named Mustapha, who spoke English and several other languages fluently. For her amusement he had the dinner served in thoroughly Oriental style.

Each dipped his own spoon in the soup, dived in the stew, and pulled off pieces of fish or lamb with his fingers. Having no plates, we made plates of our bread. Meanwhile, Mustapha Aga, like an attentive host, tore off an especially choice morsel now and then, and handed it to one of his guests.

To eat gracefully with one's fingers is a fine art; to carve with them skillfully is a science. None of us, I think will soon forget the wonderful way in which our host attacked and vanquished the turkey—a solid colossus, weighing twenty pounds, and roasted to perfection.

Half rising, he turned back his cuff, poised his wrist, and, driving his forefinger and thumb deep into the breast, brought out a long, stringy, smoking fragment, which he deposited on the plate of the writer.

Thus begun, the turkey went round the table amid peals of laughter, and was punished by each in turn. The pilaff, which followed, is always the last dish served at either an Egyptian or Turkish dinner.

After this, our spoons were changed and the sweets were put upon the table. The drinks throughout were plain water, rice water, and lemonade. Some native musicians played in the ante-room during dinner, and when we rose from the table we washed our hands as before.

—If our bad unspoken thoughts are registered against us, and are written in the awful account, will not the good thoughts unspoken, the love and tenderness, the pity, beauty, charity, which pass through the breast, and cause the heart to throb with silent good, find remembrance, too?—Thackeray.

Democratic State Convention.

The Democratic State Convention met in Phenix hall, Concord, at a quarter past eleven o'clock Thursday forenoon. Hon. Hosea W. Parker of Claremont was president, with a vice president from each county, Hon. Daniel Marcy representing Rockingham county. Henry F. Wendell of this city was a member of the committee on resolutions. Hon. Frank A. McKean of Nashua, the gubernatorial candidate of last spring, was renominated by acclamation. The platform was reported by Hon. Harry Bingham, from the committee on resolutions; it should have been reported by Major Joey Bagstock, for, so far as the financial planks, the most important ones just now, are concerned, a more wishy-washy mess of milk-and-water twaddle was never reported to a political convention. There is absolutely no declaration for or against honest money, inflation, repudiation, fair dealing or anything else. The republican party is the only party that will contend for honest money and national honor in the pending campaign.

Hadley B. Fowler of Bristol, and David H. Young of Manchester, were nominated by acclamation as candidates for railroad commissioners. Edwin A. Peterson of Greenland was nominated as the third candidate, on the first ballot, he having 251 votes to 28 for Arthur L. Meserve of Bristol, and 26 for Joseph D. Roberts of Milton, and one for John T. Hulme of Concord.

The Mechanics' Fair.

The thirteenth exhibition of the works of industry and art under the management of the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association is now open. The exhibition is held in a building erected specially for the purpose, on Columbus avenue, Boston, and the doors will be open from nine in the morning to nine at night every day (Sundays excepted) until Nov. 2d. The display this year is more extensive and varied than ever before, and even the dullest person can find a day's interest inspecting it, while the intelligent man or woman could profitably spend a week there. Every convenience is provided, and a band plays every evening. The halls are illuminated at night with the electric light.

Another Disaster in England.

American recklessness, as exemplified in accidents resulting in the loss of many lives, was formerly a favorite topic for comment by the English papers; but for several years past America has been exceeded by England in the number and horror of fatal disasters. It is but a few days since an excursion steamer was run down and sunk on the Thames, and between 650 and 700 persons were drowned; and now comes the report that by an explosion on Wednesday, the 11th inst., in the Abercome colliery near Newport, Wales, many miners lost their lives, the number being estimated at 280. The explosion occurred soon after noon. Those on the bank knew it by the rumbling noise and the ascent of dense volumes of smoke. All the people in the district rushed to the pit mouth in consternation. The scenes of distress were indescribable. There were 371 men in the pit, eighty of whom were gotten out alive, though many of them will probably die. The mine at once took fire, and no hope remained of the ability to rescue any more of the men in it. The fire could be extinguished only by flooding the pit, but the operation was delayed until the last vestige of hope for the safety of any other of the miners was gone.

The Treaty with Samoa Ratified.

Government has received despatches that the U. S. S. Adams, Commander Frederick Rodgers, from Panama, 10th of May, arrived at Apia, Samoan islands, on the 28th of June, with M. K. Mamea, Samoan ambassador, J. G. Colmesnil, secretary to the ambassador, and others. A delegation of the Samoan government visited the ship officially and congratulated Mamea upon his safe return. On the 2d of July Commander Rodgers paid a visit to the government, accompanied by Mr. Goward, special agent of the State department, and several officers of the vessel. The treaty between the United States and Samoa, ratified by the United States in January, was ratified by the Samoan government on the 2d of July. Speeches of congratulation were exchanged and a grand meeting called at Apia on the 17th of July of representatives of all the islands for the purpose of proclaiming the treaty.

New Hampshire Items.

The store of Alfred E. Jaques, postmaster of Wilton, was broken into Wednesday night, the safe blown open, and $60 worth of gold pens, $175 in cash, and a large lot of postage stamps stolen. Dr. Trenvitt, a druggist, and Michael Kennedy, a watchman, exchanged shots with the burglars, but no damage was done, and the thieves got away.

W. F. Parker of Nashua has had the measles every year for 20 years. They break out at exactly the same hour of the same day each year, and his case is a puzzle for the doctors.

A block of eight summer residences at Lenox, Mass., was burned Thursday. All the houses were occupied, and about seventy people were turned out by the fire. The block was valued at $30,000; insured $22,000, besides something on the furniture. The occupants lost a great deal of personal property, one lady losing $5000 worth of diamonds. The fire was caused by the explosion of a spirit lamp which the nurse of Mrs. C. H. Livermore's child was using to warm some milk with.

Gen. George B. McClellan and family are guests at the Maplewood in Bethlehem.

News and Notes.

The New York Weekly Times will be sent to any address, from Sept. 18th to the first of January next, for twenty-five cents, either singly or in clubs. No one need be without a metropolitan paper on the score of cost, at that rate of subscription.

The low fare to New York by the "New Line" has been a great success, the elegant steamers City of New York and City of Boston carrying a large crowd each night. The fast train from Boston to Allyn's Point, eighty-three miles without a stop, is a great convenience to passengers, and the longest route without stop in New England. The New York and New England road is entitled to the thanks of the travelling public for this great convenience, as well as for the unprecedentedly low rate of $1 from Boston to New York, or from "Gotham" to the "Hub," while a first-class supper may be had for fifty cents.

The St. Paul Press on Wednesday received from Bismark the following despatch: "The brother of Senator Dorsey, who returned from Keogh by the Custer trail to-day, reports that he reached Keogh about the 5th; that Gen. Miles and an excursion party were surrounded by Bannocks in Yellowstone Park, and twenty-seven of the escort killed. A lot of Cheyenne Indians and two companies of mounted infantry were sent from Fort Keogh to his relief. Mrs. Miles, a daughter of Gen. Sanborne of St. Paul, and other ladies, are in the Miles party." The Press says the story is not credited in St. Paul, though the sender of the despatch is a leading citizen of Bismarck and generally trustworthy.

The United States local inspectors of steam vessels recently received an official letter from James Brady, collector of the port of Fall River, informing them that steamer Empire State had violated the laws relating to excursion steamers by having on board an excess of passengers. The steamer was authorized to carry 1960 persons on any river or any harbor in Massachusetts or New Hampshire, or 1160 a distance of fifty miles from any port in this district. From information received it was known that 2760 passengers were landed at Rocky Point by the vessel, which sailed from Fall River the 15th ult., the number being 802 in excess of what she was allowed by law. The license of Captain John Phillips as master of steam vessels was therefore revoked.

The enormous magnitude of the liquor trade of Great Britain is best shown by the extraordinary fact that the sales exceed the entire aggregate of the coal and iron trade of the kingdom.

Edward Cassidy and John Connors, masked burglars, have been convicted by a New York jury of boarding a sloop in the east river and robbing her, on the 16th of August last. The former was sentenced to twenty years and the latter to fifteen years at hard labor in the State prison.

Political.

The democratic congressional convention for the second New Hampshire district on Thursday nominated Alvah W. Sulloway for Congress, by acclamation.

The republican convention of the third congressional district of New Hampshire unanimously nominated Major Evarts W. Farr of Littleton for Congress. He accepts.

The Boston Post has considerable to say about "the overwhelming defeat of the Maine republicans." It has apparently not yet heard that there wasn't enough left of the democratic party to be defeated, the democrats not throwing one-quarter of the total vote of the State.

By the way, the republicans of Maine didn't wave the bloody shirt any in the recent campaign. They had been noted in all former contests for the vigor with which they flourished the ensanguined under-garment, and never were beaten. This time they are beaten, only less badly than the democrats. The conciliators who have been yelling for years that the "stalwarts" were destroying the republican party, should look into this matter and explain it.

In one of the democratic wards of Portland, where, contrary to the custom of years, no republican checker or counter was allowed, sixty republican tickets were found with democratic representatives pasted over the republican. No one can explain how it came about that sixty republicans should cast such tickets, and the impression prevails that the ballots were changed while the counting was going on, in order to elect the democratic redback representative ticket. The choice of governor may depend upon those sixty votes.

The Charlotte (North Carolina) Bulletin says: "Anybody to oust Grant! will be the password in the South in 1880, and we have no doubt that the democratic party will cheerfully swallow Gen. Butler (spoons and all,) as it did Horace Greeley, in hopes to effect that object."

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

CONSUMERS should bear in mind that the incomparable "Royal" is now the only Baking Powder in the market made from pure Grape Cream Tartar, imported exclusively for this powder direct from the wine-growing district of France. An old experienced housekeeper writes that, although she has to pay a few pennies more for the "Royal," finds that it goes so much further and works so much better, that it is economy to use it. Another says she uses the powder in puddings, cakes, and all sorts of pastry, without eggs. An old lady writes that it makes the only biscuit her dyspeptic husband can eat. This is because the best and most wholesome materials are used. Approved by the New York Board of Health, and by such eminent chemists as Dr. MOTT, New York; Dr. HAYES, Boston; Prof. GENTH, Philadelphia, etc. Sold in tin cans only. dtsept10 79

THE CITY.

See advertisement of entertainment in Universalist vestry this evening, in aid of the yellow fever sufferers. Tickets only twenty cents.

Higgin's Tramp Combination will appear at Music hall on Friday evening, 20th inst., in the comic play of "Tramp: or the stolen child."

Prof. O. S. Fowler, the noted phrenologist, gives a free lecture in Franklin hall this evening, and another to-morrow evening. See advertisement.

The picnic of Portsmouth Grange, postponed yesterday on account of the bad weather, will take place to-day (Friday) at the Hayes farm if pleasant, or if not, the first fair day.

Hon. Peter Marcy of New Orleans, now visiting his brother, Hon. Daniel Marcy, and other relatives in this city, has sent a check for one thousand dollars to New Orleans, for the relief of the yellow fever sufferers in that city.—Times.

Mr. Robert E. Rich has resigned the position of librarian of the Portsmouth Athenæum, and left town to reside in Boston. Dr. A. B. Sherburne has been appointed librian by the directors of the Athenæum.

Miss Parloa, who has already done such good work in teaching the art and mystery of cooking, in this city and elsewhere, is in Paris, studying the science of the French cuisine, as a preparation for her winter campaign in Boston.

A special meeting of the Eastern railroad stockholders will be held in Tremont Temple, Boston, on Monday, Sept. 30th, at eleven o'clock A. M., to take action regarding new leases of the Eastern railroad in New Hampshire and the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway road, etc. Another "railroad day."

Seymour Wilcox Tullock, C. E., of the graduating class of 1877, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N. Y., has resigned his position as assistant in civil engineering in the University of Wisconsin, and has been admitted as a student in Racine College—a church university—preparatory to entering the ministry of the Protestant Episcopal church. He is a son of Hon. Thomas L. Tullock.

Col. John H. George, in his plea to make the towns and not the railroads pay the taxes, said incidentally, "The city of Portsmouth I suppose to be probably the wealthiest city in the State; it is the oldest, we know. The assessors assessed this kind of personal property, (money, stocks, bonds, etc.,) in Portsmouth in 1875 at $304,000, and in 1876 at $334,000. Now I should be very much surprised if in the city of Portsmouth, there were not single individuals that had more of this kind of property liable to taxation than the $334,000, the aggregate assessed for money at interest, including stocks, bonds, etc. I am not stating that the fact is so, but I say I should be very much surprised if the fact were not so; but that is so much better than Rochester, although only half as much as assessed in Dover, still they do make a fair pretence in Portsmouth."

THE VICINITY.

Oscar G. McIntire, a graduate of the Biddeford high school, has been appointed principal of the high school at Goffstown, in this State.

On a recent date was held at Barrington the third reunion of the descendants of John Cater, who was born in Kittery, (that part now Eliot,) then Province of Massachusetts, in 1737.

The third annual town fair at Rochester is to be held Sept. 17th, 18th, and 19th, Gov. Prescott, Gen. Natt Head, Senators Wadleigh and Rollins, and other notables are expected to be present.

A disgusted democrat of Saco was heard to remark, on the morning after the late election in Maine, that the democratic party had been struggling for twenty-six years to whip the republicans and failed, but now comes along a "rag baby" and whips it the first time it tries!

A tramp was recently employed by Mr. John F. Hoag, of Stratham, to work on his farm. Mr. Hoag left his farm one day this week in charge of the tramp, and on returning found that his trunks and bureau drawers had been broken open, and all his money and a large quantity of quartz specimens which he had collected in California had been stolen. The thief stole a boat and crossed the river to South Newmarket, and has not been heard from since.

The vote in the town of York was mixed. Connor's majority over the democratic and greenback vote combined, was 26; Reed's majority over Gove and Anderson, 24; yet James A. Bragdon, dem., was elected town representative by a majority of eight. Edward C. Moody, one of the greenback candidates for senator, ran 109 votes ahead of his ticket, he having 159 to 50 for each of the other two candidates; this shows that Mr. Moody is not without honor in his own country, notwithstanding his numerous political somersaults. Josiah A. Stover, democratic candidate for senator, ran just 100 votes behind his ticket.

POLICE COURT.

THURSDAY, Sept. 12; Batchelder, J.

Newell Hayes, charged with stealing a horse from Mitchell Reeves of Candia, was brought up, the case having been continued from Wednesday, Sept. 4th, to enable Hayes to procure witnesses, which he had failed to do. Hayes waived an examination and was bound over in the sum of $500 for his appearance at the Supreme Court in October. In default of sureties he went to jail.

The committee on gaslights recommended that a gaslight be placed on Water street in front of South warehouse at the city expense. Accepted and adopted.

The act passed at the last session of the legislature relating to the defacing or injuring property was read and it was voted that the law be published in the city newspapers.

Voted, That the request of the City Marshal for whitewashing and cleansing station house be referred to committee on police with power.

Message was received from the Common Council notifying the Board that they had passed under suspension of the rules the following resolution:

Voted, That the Mayor be authorized and empowered to purchase in behalf of the City of Portsmouth all the right, title and interest which Joseph G. Barnard of said City of Portsmouth has in and to the "South Mill Pond," so-called, in said Portsmouth, together with the South Mill, machinery, and appurtenances thereto belonging, for a sum not exceeding five thousand dollars.

The resolution was considered under suspension of the rules, read by its title, passed to a second reading and adopted by a unanimous vote.

Voted, That the grade of Pleasant street in front of house of John E. Colcord be raised to correspond with the sidewalk.

Adjourned.

LOOK OUT.

Old Prob. sent along a warning at two o'clock this morning that "a specially severe storm is expected" to strike here.

Encouragement for the Feeble.

So long as the failing embers of vitality are capable of being re-kindled into a warm and genial glow, just so long there is hope for the weak and emaciated invalid. Let him not, therefore, despond, but derive encouragement from this and from the further fact that there is a restorative most potent in renewing the dilapidated powers of a broken down system. Yes, thanks to its unexampled tonic virtues, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is daily reviving strength in the bodies and hope in the minds of the feeble and nervous. Appetite, refreshing sleep, the acquisition of flesh and color, are blessings attendant upon the reparative processes which this priceless invigorant speedily initiates and carries to a successful conclusion. Digestion is restored, the blood fertilized and sustenance afforded to each life-sustaining organ by the Bitters, which is inoffensive even to the feminine private, vegetable in composition, and thoroughly safe. Use it, and regain vigor!

Does the World Move?

The Rev. John Jasper, of Virginia, says: "De sun do move, for in de mornin' it shines on dis side ob de hous, nine in de ebenin, on dat side ob de hous. Now, if he don't move, how com he dar?" Notwithstanding Mr. Jasper's logic, we yet believe the world moves. When Mr. Jasper's ideas constituted the popular belief, people thought that to die of small-pox or cholera was simple fulfilling one of nature's laws. Now, through vaccination, small-pox is averted, while cholera, cholera morbus, dysentery (flux), and diarrhœa are readily cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Compound Extract of Sma ;Weed. Does not such evidence tend to prove that "the world moves?" As an external remedy for cuts, bruises, sprains, swellings, bites and stings of insects, the Compound Extract of Smart-Weed has no equal. Veterinary surgeons have also employed it with marked success.

Health is an inestimable jewel. The cough that deprives you of it may take your life too. One bottle of Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar will avert the evil, and save you from consumption. Will you weigh Life against a half-dollar? Sold by all Druggists. 1 oct 4

Katy Mason, the young woman known as "Alice Trevylan, the female detective," died in Newport, R. I., on the 10th inst. On her death bed she confessed that while a happy school-girl, scarcely sixteen, with home and friends and everything to live for, she had been wronged by a resident of Newport who was the father of a family, and who was as old as her own parent, now dead. She told the story of how he had taken her to ride, and the means he had resorted to to accomplish his purpose. The facts in the case have long been known, and now that she has substantiated them with her last words there is no little indignation in Newport.

Can the Truth Overtake a Lie?

Investigation discloses the fact that the lady reported in the Associated Press dispatches, about Aug 10th, to have died in Chicago after two weeks' use of some reputed remedy for corpulency, had not taken Allan's Anti-Fat, but had used a preparation put up by a regular physician in Luzerne, Pa. Allan's Anti-Fat is manufactured in Buffalo, N. Y., by the undersigned. We have already sold over 100,000 bottles of it. It has therefore been taken by thousands, and we challenge proof that it has ever harmed anybody, unless the reduction of obese persons from twenty to sixty pounds, leaving them healthy and strong, is considered a misfortune. Furthermore, we hereby offer $5000 reward for evidence showing that it contains poisonous or injurious ingredients. We also offer $5000 if we cannot prove that it has reduced numbers of persons as stated herein, and always without injury. It is said a lie will outravel the truth any time; but we trust that those newspapers that have misled the public by saying that physicians attributed the lady's death to the use of Anti-Fat (which is only put up by us, the term "Anti-Fat" being our trade-mark), will correct the false impression they have conveyed, by publishing this refutation. THE stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, on steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

The Safety Appliances

in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,

JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,

THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,

AND THE

WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,

forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

ANTI-FAT

ALLAN'S ANTI-FAT is the great remedy for Corpulency. It is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. It acts on the food in the stomach, preventing its conversion into fat. Taken according to directions, it will reduce a fat person from 5 to 5 pounds a week.

In placing this remedy before the public as a positive cure for obesity, we do so knowing the ability to cure, as attested by hundreds of testimonials, of which the following from a lady in Columbus, Ohio, is a sample: "Gentlemen:—Your Anti-Fat was duly received. I took it according to directions and it reduced me five pounds. I was so elated over the result that I immediately sent to ACKERMAN'S drug-store for the second bottle." Another, Kingston, writing for a patient from Providence, R. I., says: "Four bottles have reduced her weight from 190 pounds to 172 pounds, and there is a general improvement in her health." A gentleman writing from Boston, says: "Without special change or attention to diet, two bottles of Allan's Anti-Fat reduced me four and three-quarter pounds." The well-known Wholesale Druggists, SMITH, DOOLITTLE & SMITH, of Boston, Mass., write as follows: "Allan's Anti-Fat has reduced a lady in our city seven pounds in three weeks." A gentleman in St. Louis writes: "Allan's Anti-Fat reduced me seven pounds in three weeks, and altogether I have lost twenty-five pounds since commencing its use." Messrs. POWELL & PLIMPTON, Wholesale Druggists, of Buffalo, N. Y., write: "TO THE PROPRIETORS OF ALLAN'S ANTI-FAT: Gentlemen.—The following report is from the lady who used Allan's Anti-Fat. 'If the Anti-Fat had the desired effect, reducing the fat from two to five pounds a week until I had lost twenty-five pounds, I hope never to regain what I have lost.'" Anti-Fat is an unexcelled blood-purifier. It promotes digestion, curing dyspepsia, and is also a potent remedy for rheumatism. Sold by druggists. Put up in Ounce tity sent on receipt of stamp.
BOTANIC MEDICINE CO., PROP'RS, Buffalo, N.Y.

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based on my personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. In its merits as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I buy and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has proved cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotence, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not extol this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfils a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats intimately of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

RADICAL CURE

For CATARRH

INSTANTLY relieves and permanently cures this loathsome disease in all its varying stages. It possesses the soothing and healing properties of plants, roots and barks in their essential form, free from every obnoxious contamination, and in this respect differs from every other known remedy. In one short year it has found its way from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and wherever known has become the standard remedy for the treatment of Catarrh. The proprietors have been waited upon by gentlemen of national reputation who have been cured by this remedy, and who have, at considerable expense and personal trouble, spread its good name throughout the circles in which they move. When you hear a wealthy gentleman of intelligence and refinement say, "I owe my life to Sanford's Radical Cure," you may feel assured that it is an article of great value, and worthy to be classed among the standard medical specifics of the day.

THE benefit I derive from its daily use is to me priceless.
HENRY WELLS, OF WELLS, FARGO & CO.

IT has cured me after twelve years of uninterrupted suffering.
GEO. W. HOUGHTON, WALTHAM, MASS.

I FOLLOWED the directions to the letter and am happy to say I have had a permanent cure.
D. W. GILAY, M. D., MUSCATINE, IOWA.

I HAVE recommended it to quite a number of my friends, all of whom have expressed to me their high estimate of its value and good effects with them.
W. M. BOWEN, 225 FIRST ST., ST. LOUIS.

AFTER using two bottles I find myself permanently cured. I have since recommended over one hundred bottles with the utmost success.
WM. W. ARMSTRONG,
159 HARRISON AVE., BOSTON.

WE have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for nearly one year and can say candidly that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have yet to learn of the first complaint.
S. D. BALDWIN & CO., WASHINGTON, IND.

THE cure effected in my case by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was so remarkable that it seemed to those who had suffered without relief from any of the usual remedies that it could not be true. Therefore most effulgent it to before Seth J. Thomas, Esq., Justice of the Peace, Bennington.
GEORGE F. DINSMORE, DRUGGIST, BOSTON.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for its use in all cases. Price, $1.00. The many matters that have come forward to engage public attention since the adjournment of Congress seem to have crowded the fishery award out of sight. But Mr. Evarts weeks ago and in accord with the expressed desire of Congress, addressed a letter to the British government, stating the grounds for the general sentiment existing throughout the country that the award was excessive. No reply has been received. A recent order from Mr. Sherman's department directs collectors of customs to obtain reports from all masters of fishing vessels arriving in their districts, showing the quantity and kind of all fish taken by the vessels within three miles of Canadian shores. It is presumed that the object is to obtain more definite data with which to reinforce the protests already made against exacting payment of an award that is almost uniformly dissented from as without foundation in equity.

While the action of Gov. Rice of Massachusetts in refusing to give up Kimpton on the requisition of Wade Hampton seems to have been very comforting to Senator Patterson's friends, the partisans of Hampton profess to be in no wise discouraged by the adverse decision in question. It is intimated that Kimpton will be kept under surveillance, and nabbed at the first favorable opportunity. The reasons given for Gov. Rice's refusal to surrender Kimpton were because the granting of the warrant lies in the Governor's discretion; that Kimpton's alleged crime was committed in 1872 and that no attempt was made to punish him until six years later; that there is now no apparent disposition to try him on the indictment; that overtures have repeatedly been made (once or more since his arrest) offering him immunity if he would return to South Carolina and volunteer as a witness against other alleged criminals; and that the indictment appears to have been found for an ulterior purpose.

We have got around again to that point of the circle in which we revolve, where the Mexican question was last dropped; and from the sanguinary manner and talk of the unassigned majors, colonels and generals always banging about our hotels and prompt to respond to any chance invitation to imbibe, we are to have war whether Mexico is agreed or not. There seems a settled purpose on the part of those responsible for the protection of our frontier that raiding shall cease. But in the face of the disposition manifested by Diaz, particularly during the past few weeks, to remove all cause of complaint on our part, war will not probably be insisted on just to gratify a handful of arrant braggarts.

The astonishing combination of greenbackers, nationals and democrats which took the place of the democratic party in Maine, has apparently succeeded in electing two members of Congress out of five, and in getting control of one branch of the legislature. To state what the combination was is to prove its ephemeral character, and, as the election leaves the republicans with a majority of the representatives, the two Senators and an unimpaired organization, reflecting republicans can look upon the result with some complacency. KNOX.

The Republican Platform.

The Providence Journal, speaking of the platform adopted by the Republican State Convention, says, "the response of the republicans of New Hampshire, in State convention assembled, to the news from Maine, was as clear, bold, defiant, as it was prompt. To the popular craze in Maine the republicans of the Granite State yield not a jot nor tittle. The platform is distinct, it is sound and it comprises all the issues. Upon that of the currency nothing more need, and nothing better could, be said. Our pledges made in the hour of national peril are to be redeemed according to the letter and spirit of the law. The currency is to be a constitutional, and therefore sound and safe one. If this is nothing more than was to have been expected, it comes nevertheless in good time. If any republicans anywhere have been inclined to silence as to financial issues; if they have been willing to see that done which they would not do themselves; if they have, without endorsing, and yet without discouraging, heard the proposition for that inflation which means repudiation, let them review their position. The republican party to-day stands for and is the bulwark not simply of national honesty, but of national peace and safety. The standard of justice and integrity must not be trailed. It needs the entire strength of the party to uphold it. The result in Maine will be, probably, that the republicans will be more united, that the democratic party will be more or less disintegrated, and that it will need the union of all conservative men to maintain the honor of the government, and the tolerable welfare, not to say the prosperity, of the people."

Naval Matters.

A special naval board, of which Rear Admiral Wyman is president, convened on the 10th inst. at the Washington navy department for the purpose of examining Lieut. Commander Charles W. Tracy for promotion. Examinations of candidates for promotion will be made by this board until the meeting of the regular board of examiners, which will occur as soon as the order has been issued by the Secretary.

Senator Kellogg of Louisiana has sent a letter to the Secretary of the Navy enclosing the letter recently published by Lieut. Commander Kelis, in which Mr. Kellogg is sharply denounced as a liar and coward in connection with the subject of rations donated to the destitute of New Orleans. Mr. Kellogg demands investigation, and says he believes Kelis to be a blackguard, gambler and drunkard, and that he has been of late making threats that unless something was done for him he would make some disclosures injurious to the republican party, and would seek to injure Kellogg personally. Senator Kellogg says he never had any connection or anything like intimate acquaintance with Kelis. The navy department had anticipated action by writing to Kelis to furnish a copy of his letter. The regulations of the navy prohibit conduct on the part of any naval officer which may "tend to the destruction of good morals," and also the sending or acceptance of challenges.

Orders have been received to have the U. S. S. Ticonderoga ready for sea as soon as possible. She will be the flagship of Commodore Robert M. Shufeldt, now Chief of the Bureau of Equipment and Recruiting. We are informed that she will have a roving commission and will have a band, etc.

News and Notes.

Another account of Gen. Miles' reported fight with the Indians has been received. A courier extra has reached Bozeman, Montana, from Capt. Browning, who says: "We learn that on Sunday last Gen. Miles had a battle with the Bannocks on Soda Butt creek, near Clark's Forks. Thirteen Indians were killed and the rest of the party, thirty-seven in all, were captured. Gen. Miles' loss was Capt. Andrew S. Bennett killed and one soldier mortally wounded. Gen. Miles' force numbered twenty-one men and five scouts."

Twenty tons of silver ore, valued at $800,000, were sent from the Sub-Treasury to the Philadelphia mint Thursday to be coined into silver dollars.

A beautiful daughter of George Compton, hotel keeper at Dingman's Ferry, Pa., while visiting Big Bushkill Falls with a party, peered over the edge of the rocks into the seething water, 120 feet below, suddenly lost her balance and fell headlong into the rocky abyss. She was fatally injured.

Manager Kendall of the steamer Empire State denies that the law has been violated. He says that that the steamer is authorized to carry 2960 passengers on the outside or ocean trips, and 300 more, or 3260 passengers on the inland trips, so that, as the sworn number of passengers on the trip alluded to was only 1843, there was no violation of the law. He further says that Capt. Phillips has received no notification of the revocation of his license.

Recent investigations show that more money is paid for beer in almost every large city in the country than for bread, amounting in New York last year to about thirty million dollars, for that which not only "is not bread," but is positively injurious.

Arrangements were completed in New York, Wednesday, for a struggle of speed and endurance, for $2000 and the Astley champion belt, between John Huges of New York and Daniel O'Leary, the champion walker. The contest takes place in New York next month.

About seven weeks ago, Mr. Isaac W. Navy, the oldest lamp-lighter in Boston, was bitten in the right thumb by a cat. He thought nothing of it at the time, but the thumb did not begin to heal until about two weeks ago, when it discharged a small piece of bone. Sunday night, 8th inst., he felt a pain in his arm and a general feeling of lassitude, and Monday morning he was worse and found it impossible to drink a glass of water. Acting under medical advice he went to the Massachusetts General Hospital on Monday, and on Wednesday evening he died in convulsions, having steadily grown worse after having felt the first twinge.

George French, a half crazy colored man who was born on the Newton, Mass., poor farm and has always lived there, on Thursday put in all the milk pans Paris green enough to kill everybody on the farm. His object was to kill another pauper named Needham, whom he dislikes, and whom he once before attempted to poison by putting gunpowder into some sugar, the mixture of course being harmless. His Paris green experiment was fortunately discovered before any person had partaken of the poisoned milk.

Thomas Monahan, the Troy, N. Y., thief who shot and killed policeman Thomas Quinn in an attempt to escape from custody, was on Friday convicted of manslaughter at Pittsfield, Mass., and sentenced to State prison for fifteen years. Monahan was one of the gang of horse-car highwaymen of Troy.

New Hampshire Items.

The second annual fair of Belknap county closed Thursday with a good attendance, and was a complete success.

"Aunt Sophy," a negress, bought out of bondage forty years ago, and well known by all the residents of Hanover during this time, died Thursday. Papers are in existence to prove that she was at least 100 years old, and may have been older.

The house of Ephraim Morse at Lancaster was burned Thursday afternoon, together with most of its contents. Loss $1500; insured $850. Cause of the fire unknown.

The annual meeting of the New Hampshire branch of the Woman's Board met at Concord on Wednesday at two o'clock in the Pleasant street Baptist church. There was a large attendance. The treasurer reported $15,000 contributed in the last five years. Pledges were more than redeemed. The work is flourishing in the State. There is a large constituency in Manchester and Nashua. Mr. and Mrs. Pettee, from Manchester, have gone to Japan as missionaries; also Mr. and Mrs. Cary, from Nashua. Mrs. Knight was chosen president, and Mrs. Edward Goddard of Claremont secretary.

Three incendiary fires occurred in Nashua and vicinity Thursday night. Wingate Mequestion's barn in Litchfield, across the river, was totally destroyed. Loss $1200.

The General Association of Congregational Ministers closed its annual session at Concord Thursday afternoon. The treasurer's report shows that the total receipts of the year have been $9038.30: of this amount $777.94 has been sent to the American Home Missionary Society in New York. The remainder is for use in this State. President Bartlett of Dartmouth College, and Rev. Dr. Leeds, made interesting speeches. Sermons were preached on various topics by prominent clergymen, and the discussions occupied nearly the entire session. The next anniversary will be held at Lebanon.

Political.

A Mr. Hussey of Rochester, a delegate to the recent State convention of the democrats, not being satisfied with the wishy-washy twaddle adopted as a platform and wishing to commit the party openly to inflation and repudiation, offered a set of radical greenback resolutions, the consideration of which the convention dodged—as it did with all other questions of real interest. Among Mr. Hussey's resolutions was the following: "Resolved, That we demand the repeal of the national bankrupt act." Why in the world the democratic convention didn't adopt this resolution, and speak out plainly on at least one point, we cannot see; for the law ceased to exist on the last day of August, and the convention did not meet until the 12th day of September, and to demand the repeal of a law that had been already repealed for two weeks could have done no harm.

The Maine House of Representatives, complete, consists of 65 republicans, two democrats elected by republicans, 27 democrats and 57 greenbackers.

A Puzzled Sailor.

Capt. Fengar, of the United States revenue cutter Ewing, tells a good story. Coming to anchor in Annapolis harbor one dark Sunday night he found a schooner lying there with no light on her mast. The captain of the schooner, fearing that he would be reported and fined at once put off in a boat, and coming alongside of the cutter hailed the officer of the deck:

"Say, Cap, can't you lend me a lamp for my white lantern? Mine dropped out and fell overboard last night."

"We don't keep a lamp shop," growled the lieutenant.

"Then what shall I do? Somebody may run me down in the dark, and anyway I'll get reported."

"Do?" said the lieutenant, "why don't you take a lamp out of your red or green lantern? You are not using either."

"But it's a white light I want," said the skipper. "A red one won't do."

"Well, put it into your white lantern, you lubber."

The skipper did not seem satisfied but pulled back to his vessel, took the lamp from his red lantern, lighted it and put it into the white one, and then the officer of the deck on the cutter heard the following exclamation across the water from the puzzled sailor:

"Well, I'll be gol darned ef that aint the most curis thing I ever seen."

—General Williams, the new Kentucky Senator, is said to owe his success in life largely to his brilliant and accomplished wife.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

CONSUMERS should bear in mind that the incomparable "Royal" is now the only Baking Powder in the market made from pure Grape Cream Tartar, imported exclusively for this powder direct from the wine-growing districts of France. An old experienced housekeeper writes that, although she has to pay a few pennies more for the "Royal," finds that it goes so much further and works so much better, that it is economy to use it. Another says she uses the powder in puddings, cakes, and all sorts of pastry, without eggs. An old lady writes that it makes the only biscuit her dyspeptic husband can eat. This is because the best and most wholesome materials are used. Approved by the New York Board of Health, and by such eminent chemists as Dr. MOTT, New York; Dr. HAYES, Boston; Prof. GENTH, Philadelphia, etc. Sold in tin cans only. dtsept10 79
